The determination of the government to suppress the revolutionary movement was not taken too soon. Today is the anniversary of the beginning of Indian mutiny which took place 50 years ago, and forbearance on the part of the authorities have been interpreted as a sign of weakness and timidity.

The sedition had spread widely, owing to the seditious preaching of Lajpatral, among the Sikhs of the recently irrigated colonies of the Punjab, where the plague has depopulated immense districts.

Seek to Enter Kalamazoo.

Kalamazoo, Mich., May 10.—That the Grand Trunk railroad is seeking an entrance into this city was not denied by E. H. Fitzhugh of Montreal, Quebec, first vice-president of the road, who is in this city with other high-up officials. It is said the Grand Trunk is dickering with the Lane & Lay Belt line people, who have been unusually active of late in endeavoring to secure railway crossing rights. The Lane and Lay Belt line, while not in active operation, holds an enviable franchise, which extends through the business heart of the city. The railway crossing board is here looking over the situation.

France Not Satisfied.

Paris, May 10.—An official note issued last evening, set forth that the reply of the Moorish government by France's demands, growing out of the murder of Dr. Mauchamp at Morocco city, March 23, while showing a disposition to give satisfaction is not acceptable, as it only partly agrees to the French demands. The French troops, therefore, will continue to occupy Oudja. The instructions have been sent to the French minister, M. Regnault, to accept any kind of a fair offer looking to a settlement.

AGREE TO DISAGREE.

House and Senate Split Over Constitutional Convention Measure.

TWO BILLS BROUGHT UP

House Substitutes Another for That Offered by Senate—Each, However, Provides That Convention Shall Be Partisan.

Lansing, Mich., May 10.—The house and senate have agreed to disagree as to necessary legislation to provide for a constitutional convention, but have agreed that it is to be a partisan convention, which means that party men will form a new constitution which the people of the state must either accept or make the expenditure of perhaps $200,000 useless.

Wednesday the senate passed its bill providing for a convention of 60 delegates, five from each congressional district. Thursday the house passed a bill providing for a convention of 100 members, one from each representative district. Neither plan provides for a non-partisan convention.

Hot Race Won by Senate.

As a result of the action taken a conference committee will be necessary, and it is possible that the committee will have a somewhat touchy time. For a week or so a hot race has been on to see which body could report out and pass first, a bill providing for the constitutional convention. The senate won out in the race by a neck, and now the house is retaliating in a way that may lead to open hostilities and more delay in legislative work.

The house bill was framed by Rep. I. S. Monroe, of Gogebic. Under the house bill the upper country will have 12 delegates, while under the senate bill there would be only five men here to protect the copper iron and other interests of that section. It is a question just how far the two houses will be able to show a conciliatory spirit in the matter. The house members are strongly of the opinion that the convention should be composed of at least 100 delegates.

The senate bill was taken up first, read, and then the Monroe bill substituted for it in the house. At that juncture Rep. Waters offered a non-partisan bill as a substitute for the substitute. When he saw the house was prepared to turn his bill down, he told his colleagues he had been elected on a platform calling for a non-partisan constitutional convention.

Will Cost the State $200,000.

"The formation of a new constitution will cost the state about $200,000 including the expenses of the election," said Waters. "Now if the constitution is drawn along party lines, the democrats, aided by disgruntled republicans can defeat it and all that money will be wasted."

At one stage of Water's talk on his substitute Rep. Dave L'Esperance attempted to raise a point of order and force the Washtenaw man to take his seat, on the point that there was no question before the house.

"The chair thinks there is no question before the house," said Rep. Jos. Greusel, who was presiding over the committee of the whole. Clerk Pierce whispered something to the chairman; and Mr. Greusel continued very gracefully, "except the substitute. The gentleman from Washtenaw will proceed in order."

Bill Was Hurried.

Every member seemed disinclined to devote much time to the bill and it was hurried through committee. Then it was promptly taken up wor final passage. our of the five in the democratic minority broke into the limelight by casting their votes against the bill. They were Reps. Willitts, Thompson, Farmer and Trabble.

After the bill had been passed by a vote of 82 to 4, Rep. Watts discovered that no provision had been made for alternate delegates, but he was too late with his amendment.

As passed the house bill provides for the nomination of candidates in representative districts either by the primary or convention system, as is now in use in those districts. The delegates will be elected in October and the convention will meet in November, the members drawing $7 a day during the session.

A narrow escape.

G. W. Clovd, a merchant, of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape 4 years ago when he ran a jimson burr into his thumb. He says "the doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's arnica salve which cured the wound." 25c at C. A. Wright's.

Resolutions.

One by one we are called to pass to pass home from which no traveller returns and of late our ranks are being broken more often than in former years which makes us realize the the truth, "the young may die but the old must die." And now the summons has come to another member of the Rebekah lodge.

Our beloved sister, Adah Hughes, after a few hours illness, was called to her eternal rest. In her death the lodge feels they have lost an interesting and earnest worker and we mingle our sorrow with the grief stricken husband and father, who will miss her as no others can. Yet we feel that our loss is her eternal gain, therefore be it resolved

That, a copy of these resolutions be given to the husband, Myron Hughes, and also spread on the records of the lodge.

ROBBERY AT FLINT.

Valuables Taken From Home of E. O. Wood.

Flint, Mich., May 10.—Drippings, evidently from a tallow candle, attracted the members of the E. O. Wood family, of this city, Thursday morning, which were a mystery until shortly it was discovered that the house had been robbed of valuable jewelry and money during the night. E. O. Wood is president of the supreme division of the Knights of the Loyal Guard.

Mr. Wood said he would be unable to give even an estimate of the stolen jewelry, but said that there were several large diamonds, two watches and a sum of currency, secured from a small safe. The burglar gained entrance through a window and invaded the sleeping rooms without arousing any of the household. The police have absolutely no clue and are convinced a professional crook did the job.

The home of W. A. Patterson, the wealthy carriage man, was entered also, but the intruder was frightened away by Mr. Patterson, who says he was awakened by someone turning on a light in his room. He says he called out and heard scurrying footsteps.

Shot From Ambush.

Au Sable, Mich. May 10.—At Oscoda Wednesday night about 9 o'clock, a woman known as Mrs. Laplonte, wife of a respectable teamster, whose name she had ceased to bear, and Joseph Trucott, whose companion the woman was, were both seriously shot as the two were leaving a small shanty on the lake shore. Two shots were fired in quick succession from ambush. Nine buckshot penetrated the woman and eight entered the body of the man. The former died after a few gasps. The man is still alive. Jealousy is the motive suspected. Sheriff Curry has arrested Eugene Munday on suspicion. Munday, it is claimed, was enamored of the woman. He is a teamster.

Boy is Missing.

Traverse City, Mich., May 10.—W. D. Schutt was in town Thursday looking for his 14-year-old son, who disappeared Saturday night. The boy had never been away from home over night before and the father fears he has met with an accident. The boy had expressed himself as being tired of the farm.

Gladys May Smith.

Gladys May, little daughter of Chester E., and Florence Stewart Smith, was born at Napoleon, O., May 31, 1904. Had she lived about five weeks longer she would have been three years of age.

Even this short life had its sufferings which she bore with an unmurmuring patience, that might well have characterized one of elder years

Peace came at last at break of day on Friday morning, April 26, at Belle Center, O. At the Patterson family reunion held two years ago in Tecumseh, four generations were represented of which she was the only one of the fifth. The first having passed away. Her last few days before she fell asleep in Jesus are well told in the following lines:

He watched her breathing through the night—
Her breathing soft and low,
As in her breast the wave of life
Kept heaving to and fro.

So silently we seemed to speak,
So slowly moved about,
As we had lent her half our powers,
To eke her living out.

Our weary hopes belied our fears
Our fears our hopes belied,
We thought her dying when she slept
And sleeping where she died.

For when the moon came, dim and sad
And chill with early showers,
Her quiet eyelids closed:—she had Another morn than ours.

Funeral service was held Sabbath afternoon at the home conducted by Rev. I. M. Knipe and Rev. J. Williams. Interment in Fairview cemetery.

Basket Ball.

This coming Saturday the Tecumseh high school basket ball team will play the first game of the season here with Addison at 11 o'clock. This is not only the first game of the season but also the first basket ball game ever played by the girls of the T. H. S.

Addison has an old team and a very swift game is expected. Everybody come and support the team for they need all the support they can get. The team stands as follows:—Captain Grace Albert, forward; Lydia Babcock, forward; Fern Lowe, guard; Florence Te-Grotenhuis, guard; Marion Rosacrans, center; Ella Hastings, center.

Love may be ever so great, but must also be wise, to grow.

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free

ROUND ABOUT US.

The city of Chelsea means to fasten the lid down tight. A bill was introduced in the State Senate by Senator Peek of Jackson, which will place further restriction on the sale of liquor in that city. The principal features of the bill are: "No more than four saloons are allowed until the population is over 8,000 and after that only one to the thousand inhabitants. Every man to receive a license of the four who are permitted to sell liquor must have ten respectable men to recommend him as one of good reputation. If the one recommended is not law abiding in the opinion of the village council they may refuse to grant a license. The council can in addition to the state tax of $500 put on a special tax up to $500 which will go into the village treasury." The bill is ordered to take effect May 1, 1907. —Chelsea Standard.

Prof. H. M. James, with his celebrated Milan H. S. ball team, went in high glee to Belleville Friday afternoon to "do up" the team in that supposedly slow little town. But alas, for human calculation. Some time late in the afternoon a telephone message from the obscure village brought the news to Milan that defeat was ours, and that the score stood 12 to 3 in favor of Belleville. The young ladies of our school had arranged a reception to be given the "conquering heroes" as they came home laurel crowned: but as the evening wore away and still they came not, despair could be seen written on their anxious faces. About 9 o'clock the boys came and the reception was given in the Ford building. A fine lunch was served, games were played, and the boys, living in the triumph of the evening, forgot the defeat of the afternoon.—Milan Leader.

The First Nails.

The first nails were undoubtedly the sharp teeth of various animals. Then it is believed pointed fragments of flint followed. The first manufactured metal nails were of bronze. The nail with which Jael killed Sisera was a wooden tent pin, probably pointed with iron. Bronze nails have been found in the Swiss lake dwellings, in several places in France and in the valley of the Nile. Until the nineteenth century iron nails were forged, a blacksmith being able to make only two or three dozen a day. The first cut nails were made by Jeremiah Wilkinson in Rhode Islahd in 1775. The first patented nail machine was by Perkins, 1795, and its product of 200,000 nails a day was considered so enormous that some persons deemed the result due to supernatural agency.

Negro Irwin Convicted.

Owosso, Mich., May 10.—Samuel Irwin, the negro who gave Marshal Brewster the scrap of his life in the union depot at Durand some weeks ago, was Thursday found guilty in the circuit court of resisting an officer and threatening to kill. Judge Miner did not impose sentence. Irwin is the most forbidding-looking fellow ever seen in the jail here, and all parties concerned will feel easier when he is behind the bars in Detroit or Ionia, where he is pretty apt to be sent.

Big Gold Nuggets Found at Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 10.—Two gold nuggets have been found in the Larder Lake district by Murdock McLeod, a local mining man, it is claimed, which weigh 25 pounds each. The find has created intense interest among mining men, who claim much more gold will be found in the country east of the Soo. It is also reported that gold has been discovered north of the Soo in the Lake Superior country.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years" writes N. A. Adams, Hemletta, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. Pickney's village council has passed the local option ordinance prohibiting the sale of liquor in that village for the coming year, at least. The only saloon in the place is now carried on in connection of the hotel, run by Landlord N. H. Caverly formerly of the National here. It is said that that town will also be without the hotel or other place, to accommodate the traveling public.—Dexter Reporter.

THE MASK OF HEALTH.

Few People are really as well as they look. Cause and remedy.

Many people in Tecumseh both men and women, who believe themselves to be in perfect health, are often in the greatest danger.

Indigestion, which is so common a trouble, is the principle cause of the greater share of the general poor health. It has misleading symptoms that seem to have no reference to the stomach, such as headache, sleeplessness, specks before the eyes, pains in the back and side etc.

The success of physicians everywhere with the prescription that is now embodied in Mi-o-na stomach tablets has made this remedy in the last few years the acknowledged specific for the treatment of stomach diseases. The secret of this success lies in the fact that Mi-o-na is prepared expressly to strengthen the digestive organs and its use for a few days puts the whole system in such shape that it can care for all the food that is eaten without distress.

Simply take a Mi-o-na stomach tablet before each meal and on retiring and it will so strengthen the stomach that you can enjoy a hearty meal without pain.

C. A. Wright gives an absolute guarantee that your money will be refunded unless Mi-o-na cures. He takes the whole risk and the remedy costs nothing unless it cures you.

COAL

Georgia Minstrels.

Georgia Minstrels appear at the New Bradley opera house, Tuesday, May 14 the public will see the most expensive colored show ever organized. If any doubt of the absolute truthfulness of this statement exists, it will be forever dispelled when the performance is given.

It must be confessed now that there were doubts in the minds of the management about their being able to make the giving of so vast and expensive show with any profit and as a matter of fact the business ordinarily done by other shows would not have been profitable, but it was immensely profitable and packed houses rule every where.

The program is a lengthy one and made up of great variety. The street parade at noon is a novelty—two bands in daily parade.

First Game of Championship Series of County Interscholastic Baseball.

This team will be strictly up to the requirements in scholarship and they should be encouraged in keeping only those that are up in their standings on the team by all who wish to see good champion high school sport and still have athletics a secondary instead of a primary object in high school life.

The Electric Lights

For the streets are in full service now, having been out but one night with all the trouble with the dam, really the Electric Light Co. is deserving of great credit. The private lights are also running well.

My best friend.

Alexander Benton, who lives at Fort Edward N. Y., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is my best earthly friend. It cured me of asthma 6 years ago. It has also cured my son's wife of consumption. The first bottle ended the terrible cough and this accomplished the other symptoms left one by one until she was perfectly well. Dr. King's New Discovery's power over coughs and colds is simply marvelous." No other remedy has ever equaled it. Fully guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

The man with the hair lip always wants to do the talking.

LITTLE POCKET PHYSICIAN.

Thousands who have been cured by Hy-o-mei call the inhaler that comes with every outfit the "Little Pocket Physician," as it is so small that it can be carried in the pocket or purse.

There is really no excuse whatever for anyone having catarrh now that Hy-o-mei is so readily obtainable. If you have any doubt about its value, C A. Wright will let you have a complete outfit, with the understanding that unless it cures catarrh, it will not cost you a cent.

Do not delay longer the use of Hy-o-mei if you suffer with catarrh. This is a purely local disease and Hy-o-mei goes right to the spot where the catarrh germs are present, destroys them, soothes and heals all inflammation and makes a permanent and lasting cure.

The complete Hy-o-mei outfit consists of the "Little Pocket Physician" and a bottle of Hy-o-mei and costs only $1 00, making it the most economical as well as the only guaranteed treatment for the cure of catarrh. Remember that Hy-o-mei cures catarrh without stomach dosing, applying the medication and healing where the disease germs are present.

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

ROUND ABOUT US.

The city of Chelsea means to fasten the lid down tight. A bill was introduced in the State Senate by Senator Peek of Jackson, which will place further restriction on the sale of liquor in that city. The principal features of the bill are: "No more than four saloons are allowed until the population is over 8,000 and after that only one to the thousand inhabitants. Every man to receive a license of the four who are permitted to sell liquor must have ten respectable men to recommend him as one of good reputation. If the one recommended is not law abiding in the opinion of the village council they may refuse to grant a license. The council can in addition to the state tax of $500 put on a special tax up to $500 which will go into the village treasury." The bill to ordered to take effect May 1, 1907. —Chelsea Standard.

Prof. H. M. James, with his celebrated Milan H. S. b ll team, went in high glee to Belleville Friday afternoon to "do up" the team in that supposedly slow little town. But alas, for human calculation. Some time late in the afternoon a telephone message from the obscure village brought the news to Milan that defeat was ours, and that the score stood 12 to 3 in favor of Belleville. The young ladies of our school had arranged a reception to be given the "conquering heroes" as they came home laurel crowned; but as the evening wore away and still they came not, despair could be seen written on their anxious faces. About 9 o'clock the boys came and the reception was given in the Ford building. A fine lunch was served, games were played, and the boys, living in the triumph of the evening, forgot the defeat of the afternoon.—Milan Leader.

The First Nails.

The first nails were undoubtedly the sharp teeth of various animals. Then it is believed pointed fragments of flint followed. The first manufactured metal nails were of bronze. The nail with which Jael killed Sisera was a wooden tent pin, probably pointed with iron. Bronze nails have been found in the Swiss lake dwellings, in several places in France and in the valley of the Nile. Until the nineteenth century iron nails were forged, a blacksmith being able to make only two or three dozen a day. The first cut nails were made by Jeremiah Wilkinson in Rhode Island in 1775. The first patented nail machine was by Perkins, 1795, and its product of 200,000 nails a day was considered so enormous that some persons deemed the result due to supernatural agency.

Negro Irwin Convicted.

Owosso, Mich., May 10.—Samuel Irwin, the negro who gave Marshal Brewster the scrap of his life in the union depot at Durand some weeks ago, was Thursday found guilty in the circuit court of resisting an officer and threatening to kill. Judge Miner did not impose sentence. Irwin is the most forbidding-looking fellow ever seen in the jail here, and all parties concerned will feel easier when he is behind the bars in Detroit or Ionia, where he is pretty apt to be sent.

Big Gold Nuggets Found at Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 10.—Two gold nuggets have been found in the Larder Lake district by Murdock McLeod, a local mining man, it is claimed, which weigh 25 pounds each. The find has created intense interest among mining men, who claim much more gold will be found in the country east of the Soo. It is also reported that gold has been discovered north of the Soo in the Lake Superior country.

Wonderful eczema cure.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years" writes N. A. Adams, Hemletta, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors but no benefit resulted. We read of Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until our boy was cured." Best of all blood medicines and tonics Guaranteed at C. A. Wright's. 50c.

Pickney's village council has passed the local option ordinance prohibiting the sale of liquor in that village for the coming year, at least. The only saloon in the place is now carried on in connection of the hotel, run by Landlord N. H. Caverly formerly of the National here. It is said that that town will also be without the hotel or other place, to accommodate the traveling public.—Dundee Reporter.

THE MASK OF HEALTH.

Few People are really as well as they look. Cause and remedy.

Many people in Tecumseh both men and women, who believe themselves to be in perfect health, are often in the greatest danger.

Indigestion, which is so common a trouble, is the principle cause of the greater share of the general poor health. It has misleading symptoms that seem to have no reference to the stomach, such as headache, sleeplessness, specks before the eyes, pains in the back and side etc.

The success of physicians everywhere with the prescription that is now embodied in Mi-o-na stomach tablets has made this remedy in the last few years the acknowledged specific for the treatment of stomach diseases. The secret of this success lies in the fact that Mi-o-na is prepared expressly to strengthen the digestive organs and its use for a few days puts the whole system in such shape that it can care for all the food that is eaten without distress.

Simply take a Mi-o-na stomach tablet before each meal and on retiring and it will so strengthen the stomach that you can enjoy a hearty meal without pain. C A. Wright gives an absolute guarantee that your money will be refunded unless Mi-o-na cures. He takes the whole risk and the remedy costs nothing unless it cures you.

Georgia Minstrels.

Georgia Minstrels appear at the New Bradley opera house, Tuesday, May 14 the public will see the most expensive colored show ever organized. If any doubt of the absolute truthfulness of this statement exists, it will be forever dispelled when the performance is given.

It must be confessed now that there were doubts in the minds of the management about their being able to make the giving of so vast and expensive show with any profit and as a matter of fact the business ordinarily done by other shows would not have been profitable, but it was immensely profitable and packed houses rule every where.

The program is a lengthy one and made up of great variety. The street parade at noon is a novelty—two bands in daily parade.

LITTLE POCKET PHYSICIAN.

Hsomel is guaranteed by C. A. Wright to cure catarrh.

Thousands who have been cured by Hy-o-mei call the inhaler that comes with every outfit the "Little Pocket Physician," as it is so small that it can be carried in the pocket or purse.

There is really no excuse whatever for anyone having catarrh now that Hy-o-mei is so readily obtainable. If you have any doubt about its value, C A. Wright will let you have a complete outfit, with the understanding that unless it cures catarrh, it will not cost you a cent.

Do not delay longer the use of Hy-o-mei if you suffer with catarrh. This is a purely local disease and Hy-o-mei goes right to the spot where the catarrh germs are present, destroys them, soothes and heals all inflammation and makes a permanent and lasting cure.

The complete Hy-o-mei outfit consists of the "Little Pocket Physician" and a bottle of Hy-o-mei and costs only $1 00, making it the most economical as well as the only guaranteed treatment for the cure of catarrh. Remember that Hy-o-mei cures catarrh without stomach dosing, applying the medication and healing where the disease germs are present.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

THE STOMACH.

My but peoples' stomachs do cause a lot of trouble. I offered to wager some doctors in St. Paul, Minn., that one half of all sickness is caused by the stomach. After I assured them that my medicine did nothing but put the stomach in shape and they had spent a day listening to what people who called on me had to say, they had to agree with me. They heard people come in and tell me that for years they had been near the grave with Bright's disease, or lung trouble, or kidney complaint and all manner of diseases and that the New Discovery had cured them. Of course these people were mistaken, it was nothing but their stomachs. As a matter of fact when the stomach gives out most everything else is thrown out of order too.

C. H. POWELL.

When a person feels tired and dull and despondent, is loosing flesh and don't sleep well, has a poor memory, a bad taste in the mouth, a coated tongue, and other troubles he's liable to believe a lot of things are the matter with him. Nine chances to one it's his stomach. I've seen Cooper's New Discovery bring back health to too many people in just this shape to believe anything else. Here's a letter about it:

"I suffered for a long time without knowing just what was the matter with me. I seldom felt like eating. I lost greatly in weight. My digestion was extremely poor and when I did eat I invariably suffered afterward. I was constipated and frequently suffered from nerve racking, violent headaches. When I heard of what the Cooper remedies were doing for others I resolved to try them."

"Relief came with the first bottle. My appetite and digestion improved rapidly. I am no longer constipated nor do I have those dreadful headaches. I sleep well and am gaining flesh." C. H. Powell, 13 Harrison Addition, Duluth, Minn.

We are selling immense quantities of these medicines and our customers express great satisfaction.

Henry Keyser, retired, living on Pottowatamie street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I still hold the same good opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills as I did 5 years ago when I gave a statement recommending them. For a number of years I was bothered with a weakness of the bladder and my back ached all the time.

Sharp pains would attack me so suddenly at times that I would have to grasp something for support. I could not rest well at night and in the morning felt tired. I got Doan's Kidney Pills and used them, receiving great benefit as they rid me of the backache. I advise every sufferer from kidney trouble to give them a trial.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's,—and take no other.

'Frisco's Losses in Dollars.

New York, May 10.—The San Francisco conflagration of April, 1906, swept away not only every dollar of profit previously made by the insurance companies out of underwriting since 1860, but cost them $79,708,174 besides, according to a statement by President George W. Burchell, of the National Board of Underwriters, at the annual meeting of that organization here Thursday. President Burchell said carefully compiled figures showed the total property loss by the catastrophe to have been in round numbers $350,000,000. The loss to insurance companies was $175,508,530, and in addition to this was a large amount of reinsurance in foreign companies, which would make the total loss to insurance companies throughout the world between $220,000,000 and $225,000,000.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Miss Aileen Clemow, aged 26, granddaughter of the late Senator Clemow, and a society belle committed suicide in Ottawa, Thursday. She was found in her room with a bullet hole through her head. She was in poor health and was going to a sanitarium.

May Floyd, of Covington, Ky., was killed Thursday evening by Dan Upling, whose love for the girl was unrequitted. The assassin then turned the weapon upon himself, firing a shot through the temple, as a result of which he will die.

Louisiana has just experienced one of the greatest rail falls in the state's history. Rains of two to six inches precipitation at one downpour have largely stopped agricultural work. Heavy hail and windstorms have blown down hundreds of small buildings.

Eight persons were injured, none fatally, and several others were severely shaken up in the wreck of an express train, bound from Boston to St. John and Halifax, which was thrown from the tracks by a defective rail, at a point on the Maine Central railroad, two miles west of Winn Station, Maine, late Thursday.

Foul play is suspected in connection with the finding of the body of Edward Wetherall, an aged and wealthy farmer, in a well in his home near Stockport, O., Thursday afternoon. At the coroner's inquest it developed that Wetherall and his young wife, 35 years of age, have not been living together happily. The coroner removed the stomach of the dead man and will send it to Columbia to have its contents analyzed.

One Killed; Many Hurt.

Chicago, May 10.—One woman was killed and three score other persons were injured Thursday, in a wreck on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad at the crossing of that line with Hamlin avenue in the southwestern part of the city. The woman whose life was lost was Mrs. Mary Miller, widow of Thomas Miller, formerly a freight traffic manager of the Burlington road. Mr. Miller died 18 months ago. Fully forty passengers were injured, but in so light a manner that they did not report their injuries to the police. The train was No. 114, which runs between Aurora, Ill., and Chicago. It consisted of four cars, all well filled with passengers. The cause of the accident is not known, but it is believed to have been the spreading of the rails, although by some of the passengers it was said that something was out of order with the tender of the locomotive.

Corey Avoids "13" Hoodoo.

New York, May 10.—Mabelle Gilman and W. E. Corey will be married just after midnight of May 13; that is to say, at 12:15 o'clock on the morning of May 14. Thus will the hoodoo "13" be avoided, a point which has been worrying the superstitious friends of the bride and groom to be ever since May 13 was announced as the date of the wedding. The guests will gather informally at the Gotham at 11 p. m. After the ceremony supper will be served and then Mr. and Mrs. Corey will take an automobile to the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm, which sails at 7:30 o'clock in the morning, thus beginning their honeymoon by a voyage to the chateau near Paris which Mr. Corey recently purchased and fitted up for his bride.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 27, 1906.

Gentlemen:
I have been troubled with eczema for fourteen years, I tried hundreds of salves, lotions, washes, mineral baths and x-ray treatments. I had just expended $30.00 with a skin specialist without success when I was told to try your treatment. I followed directions faithfully and in less than four weeks the spot had entirely disappeared.
Yours truly,
JOHN T. KEALEY.

Volcanic Eruptions Increase.

Messina, May 10.—The eruption of Mt. Stromboli was more violent on Thursday, and the apprehension is growing. The violence of the present disturbance is declared to be without precedent, even the oldest inhabitants of the Lipard islands never seeing such a threatening condition. Almost all the people of Stromboli island have made their escape. Ashes from the volcano have destroyed everything on the island. The detonations are heard at all the other islands of the group with remarkable distinctness, and produce an effect of terific roaring. Fears are held that the entire island of Stromboli may be shattered and engulfed. At the same time the activity of Mt. Etna, on the eastern coast of Sicily, has increased. The people living in the vicinity of Mt. Etna are panic-stricken. They are flocking to the churches to pray for the intercession and protection of the Virgin and their patron saints.

Lewis Trial Begins.

Jackson, Mich., May 10.—The trial of Patrolman Isaac Lewis, charged with killing Police Captain Holzapfel, was commenced in the circuit court Thursday afternoon. The regular panel was exhausted and court was adjourned till today, when other jurors will be summoned.

Dies While Laughing.

Battle Creek, Mich., May 10.—While reading a newspaper and laughing at its funny pictures, Charles Miner, a farmer, aged 74, fell dead Thursday. He had just eaten dinner and was enjoying his paper when death came without warning. Heart disease was the cause.

The Guard of the Christmas Gems

By James Raymond Perry

Copyright, 1905, by James Raymond Perry

BUT, after all, not forgetting the rocking horse charger, as gentle as he was spirited, or the belt and sword—that gilt hilted, bright bladed affair—or the fascinating air gun that would shoot crimson tipped darts with marvelous accuracy—not forgetting, indeed, any of the many delightful presents—the fact remained that quite the most enchanting thing on the Christmas tree was the wonderful dancing fiddler. He was barely a foot high and proportionately slender, but for all that he was a very lifelike little manikin. And the way he could dance and fiddle was a caution! His fiddling was pantomime; the little violin which he held so lovingly against his neck and which he scraped so industriously with his bow made no sound, but his dancing was quite the real thing, even if it was a kind of shuffle instead of the "light fantastic" kind. All you had to do to make him fiddle and dance was to wind up a spring tucked away somewhere under his little coat and off he would go as lively as you please.

Robbie at once named the dancing fiddler Sambo, because Sambo was the reputed name of a dusky fiddler who in summer often came up on his street with fiddle and song and a shuffly dance to catch the pennies of the pecunious youngsters dwelling there. This little Christmas Sambo was not nearly as dark as the big summer Sambo, but he was quite dark nevertheless—after the style of a sun browned Italian. His garments, too, were gaudy and in keeping with the character. He had quite speaking dark eyes—this little manikin—and so well had his maker done his work that when Sambo got to scraping and dancing you had a droll sense that beneath his crimson waistcoat a tiny human heart must beat. He was that lifelike, you see.

Though Robbie belted his sword on at once he let it hang unnoticed at his side, and though he kept the air gun close by him he gave it but scant attention, so busy was he winding up the spring and watching Sambo fiddle and dance. Whether the little heart under the crimson vest finally rebelled at having to work so hard on Christmas eve—of all nights—or whether for other and more mechanical reasons, it is a fact that at last, after being freshly wound, the tired little fiddler refused to budge. Shake him as you would, not a scrape would he give to his bow or a shuffling push to his feet. Robbie viewed him with reproachful eyes.

"You probably wound him up too tight, Robbie," explained Mr. Wallace. "Just leave him till morning. Perhaps he'll be rested then and ready to dance some more. It's time little tots were abed now."

"WOULD NEVER THINK OF LOOKING FOR IT HERE."

Reluctantly Robbie accepted the situation. He wished that among other presents might be one that carried with it permission on Christmas eve to sit up all night. When you have a Christmas tree only once a year you ought to have it for the whole of one night! It was pure waste of time and money to go to bed and leave it, still all a-shimmer, with candles not yet half burned out, before the clock even struck 10! But that was one of the ways of the world. Grownup folks, like papa and mamma, were very nice—very nice, indeed—because they made the Christmas tree for you and loaded it with dancing fiddlers and speckled chargers and guns and swords and all the rest, but for all that they didn't understand economy in such matters, and when he grew up and made Christmas trees for his children it should be an all night affair. There were some matters that needed reforming, and he would see that they got reformed when he grew up.

Robbie roused again when his father and mother softly entered the nursery a half hour later.

"Burglars would never think of looking for it here," he heard his mother say in a low tone. "Oh, Robert, aren't they beautiful! And you're such a fear to give them to me!" she added. And Robbie, again quite wide awake, saw his mother hold up to the light a string of very pretty beads—very, very pretty beads, Robbie thought, for they sparkled in the light very much as he had seen some dewdrops sparkling in the sunshine away back last summer—sparkled with such beautiful little flashes of blue and violet and orange and crimson that you almost wanted to shut your eyes to keep out the dazzle.

The string of beads must have been something very nice, Robbie was sure, for his mamma's exclamations of pleasure when they were handed to her from the tree had attracted his notice for a moment, in spite of the lively stunt Sambo was at the time performing. He had seen the beads sparkling then and had thought he would like to have some just like them. They would look pretty tied around the speckled charger's neck. His mamma had put them round her neck, and they had looked very fine there, and they would look fine round the speckled charger's neck, even if his neck wasn't as round and white and pretty as mamma's. So for a moment Robbie was just a bit envious. Then he had looked back at Sambo, manfully scraping at the fiddle and dancing to its silent time, and his envy slipped away. Sambo was worth a hundred strings of beads, and papa had given Sambo to him instead of to mamma, so mamma ought to have the beads, and he was glad she'd got them, but a little sorry for her that she hadn't got a Sambo instead. Sambos must cost a great deal of money, though, and papa, rich as he was, couldn't be expected to buy two Sambos for the same Christmas. So it had been only a passing shadow for Robbie, so light and fleeting that it had scarcely dimmed the brilliancy of the Christmas tree at all.

But now Robbie was more certain than ever that the beads must be something very choice, else his mamma would not be so particular about hiding them away from robbers.

"I know where I'll put them," he heard her say as the box lid snapped down and shut in the beautiful beads—"In the fireplace right down in this corner. There! And this spray of holly thrown over it quite hides the box. No burglar would think of looking there for it. And tomorrow, Robert, you must put them in the safe deposit vault. It's too valuable a necklace to keep here in the house."

"Just look at Robbie! He's taken his sword and gun to bed with him!" she added, coming nearer the cot. "Why, you're awake, dearie, aren't you?" she smiled. Then she bent over and kissed him a second good night—such a beautiful, beautiful mamma she was when she got down close to kiss him!—and after they had smiled into each other's eyes and she had laid her soft cheek against his for one delicious moment she and papa went out, and it was dark again. But the dark was very nice and nothing whatever to be afraid of. Afraid! Why, there was his faithful gun right where he could lay his hand on it! It was on it this very minute! And just beyond was his trusty sword! And right there by the bedpost waited the speckled charger ready to flee with him if necessary. And over there by the chimney, standing guard, was Sambo, as true a sentinel as ever scraped a noiseless fiddle! So there was nothing at all to be afraid of, even if it was dark. And there were such sweet thoughts in his mind now that there would have been no room for fear even if there had been anything to be afraid of—thoughts wherein the speckled charger, the faithful gun and trusty sword and even the genial Sambo himself retreated into the background, while in the foreground, very near, was the vision of a lovely face with the tenderest and most beautiful eyes looking into his. So had he dropped to dreams again, forgetting the dear toys in the dearer love for his mamma.

He awakened a second time to behold a very different vision. At first he almost believed it was one of those horrible nightmares of which he had had not more than one or two during his short life. But even while almost believing it was one he knew quite well that it wasn't. He knew it was a man—a real, live, dreadful man—standing there within a foot of the bed and flashing a queer little beam of light around the room. The light behind the lantern was so dim that Robbie could scarcely make out the face of a man at all, but that only added to his conviction that the face was truly horrible, and he knew very well what the man was and what he was there for.

Robbie hadn't lived all his little life in a city house without knowing what a burglar was. True, he had never seen one before, but Charlie Stuart had told him only last week about one Charlie's father had seen, and he knew this was one because Charlie had said they carried those queer little lights with them. And now this one had come for those pretty beads. He felt quite sure of it because of what his mamma had said when she put the box in the fireplace—that no burglar would think of looking there for it. Robbie wondered if this burglar would think to. But, of course, he wouldn't, for hadn't his mamma said particularly that one wouldn't? Still he might, and they were such pretty beads, and his mamma had seemed to like them so much. It would be a shame if he should find them and carry them off and mamma should never see them again!

Robbie reached softly for his gun. Yes, there it was! And there, just beyond it, was the sword. And then suddenly he couldn't see the beam creeping up and down and round the room, but in place of it a quite small but dazzling light was right in front of his wide staring eyes, and he heard a voice not at all pleasant or kind, though it was low, saying: "Don't yer make a noise, kid! Not a sound, or I'll"— The unfinished threat was quite as terrible as if the burglar had gone into minute particulars of what he would do. But that unusual light in front of his eyes and the voice had completely unnerved Robbie, and he had no intention of making a noise—in fact, he couldn't have made one if he had tried. So when the burglar whispered hoarsely, "Where's them sparklers hid?" Robbie was speechless. For another instant the bright light stared him in the face and then wavered away and wandered off over the room.

"DON'T YER MAKE A NOISE, KID!"

"I don't s'pose the kid knows," Robbie heard the man mutter. Now was the time for him to reach for his gun and send the burglar scampering, but sword and gun were quite forgotten in the fearful fascination of watching the wandering beam of light and the dim figure behind it. Into this corner and that the beam fell, the speckled charger suddenly coming into relief and then disappearing as the ray rested on it a moment and then passed on.

"Moight 'a' hid 'em in the fireplace," speculated the burglar softly, and Robbie's heart sank. The pretty beads would be lost after all.

"Ah! What's that?" the man whispered sharply. Something by the fireplace had clicked in the stillness—a sharp click like that of a revolver, and swiftly the beam of the lantern sought the spot. At the same instant Robbie's eyes caught dimly the gleam of a raised weapon in the burglar's other hand.

Robbie's gaze followed to where the trembling beam rested. Whether, having heard the burglar mention the fireplace and knowing the concealed jewels were now in extreme peril, Sambo had concluded it was time for him to take a hand in the affair, or whether for other and less sentimental reasons, it is certain he had become an actor in the scene, for, with a click of his wound up spring, off he had started, and down there on the tiled hearth in the wavering light of the lantern he was industriously scraping away at his noiseless fiddle and vigorously shuffling through his grotesque dance.

The burglar uttered a relieved little laugh. "Sure, I thought 'twas some one," Robbie heard him mutter. The man stood for a moment watching the droll manikin, a grin on his rough features. Then he moved toward the fireplace again.

It cannot be asserted positively that the presence of the burglar and the peril of the pretty beads now caused the heart of the faithful Sambo to burst with emotion, but certainly a strange thing happened, for just as the burglar was again stepping toward the fireplace the silent fiddling ceased, and there was a buzz and whir and vibrant twang as if a dozen clock springs had suddenly started to rattle and hum in unmusical chorus. Something in little Sambo's bosom had given way and released the coiled springs that controlled him, and it was these that were making a wild tattoo as they unwound with a rush against wall and tiling. The commotion had not ceased when there was the sound of some one bounding out of bed in the next room, and, with a half smothered oath, the burglar turned and fled to the window through which he had climbed.

A narrow escape.

G. W. Cloyd, a merchant, of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape 4 years ago when he ran a jimson burr into his thumb. He says "the doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's arnica salve which cured the wound." 25c at C. A. Wright's.

Stolen Stage Names.

The peerage has its troubles, like all of us. A writer in a paper written by marchionesses for marchionesses is rather plaintive. "I hope," she says, "that all those with influence will do all they can to encourage the present tendency of young women on the lyric stage to use their own names instead of borrowing artificial ones from the peerage. One young person took a fancy to the name of my eldest girl and wore it with her tights for a season or two, to the mingled amusement and annoyance of the family." There is certainly some foundation for this complaint. It is never pleasant to have one's name worn by other people, especially with the publicity inseparable from the stage. It was a curious custom, this of borrowing names for theatrical purposes, and it is perhaps so well that it is dying out. There was seldom any reason for it. Of course if a man wished to play Romeo and his name was prosaic or repulsive we can understand him going to call himself "Percy Montgomery" or "Frank de Vere." But for the ordinary person there is no such need. One of our humorists, who in his youth spent some time on the provincial stage, has put it on record that he adopted what he considered a suitable stage name and liked it until he came across a man of that name who had adopted his (the humorist's) name for stage purposes. — London Globe.

Webster's Fine Talk to a Fish.

I had a chat once with old John Atteaquin, then a patriarch among the few survivors of the Mashpee Indians. He had often been Mr. Webster's guide and companion on his fishing trips and remembered clearly many of their happenings. It was with a glow of love and admiration amounting to worship that he related how this great fisherman, after landing a large trout on the bank of the stream, "talked mighty strong and fine to that fish and told him what a mistake he had made and what a fool he was to take that fly and that he would have been all right if he had left it alone."

Who can doubt that patient search would disclose somewhere in Mr. Webster's speeches and writings the elaboration, with high intent, of that "mighty strong and fine" talk addressed to the fish at Mashpee?—"Fishing and Shooting Sketches," by Grover Cleveland.

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

To Our Citizens:—

Memorial day is near at hand and the people of this great nation are preparing to again honor the soldier dead in recognition of the priceless services they rendered their country in times of war To honor their memory with flowers and proper ceremony is a just and loving tribute in which all citizens can and should participate.

At no time in our history with peace, plenty and prosperity on every hand, can we better afford to show our appreciation and to offer this tribute than at the present time. To this end a meeting of our citizens is hereby called for Friday, May 17, at 7:30 p m. in the council rooms to make arrangements for the proper observance of Memorial day in our village. All citizens are requested to attend and it is hoped that special effort may be put forth this year to make this day a success.

Brant J. Bangs.

Brant J. Bangs was born in Macon, Mich., May 10, 1863. He was the oldest son of Thomas J. and Helen Merritt Bangs. Soon after this they moved to Williamston and lived a few years when they came to Tecumseh, where most of his life has been spent. His father died Sept 18, 1900, and in the spring of 1903 Brant and his mother moved to his farm in Macon This was followed by his mother's death Sept. 30, 1904.

Last February he had the misfortune to break his ankle. After weeks of confinement to the house he was able to be out on crutches and spent Easter with friends in Tecumseh. In about two weeks he was taken ill and suffered a stroke of paralysis from which he never rallied, passing away May 6th. His aged grandmother, Mrs. Merritt, who since his mother's death has been an inmate of his home, lives to grieve for the beloved grandson, with his brother, Luther E. Bangs, of Indianapolis, Ind., and his sister, Miss Jessie I. Bangs, of Adrian, who was at his side during his last illness.

Quiet and unassuming, those who best knew Brant Bangs knew best his worth. In his business relations of unquestioned honesty, in his family unselfish and devoted, a true friend, ever ready to do a kindness, his cheerful disposition made him loved by all. The respect in which he was held was attested by the crowd of sorrowing neighbors and relatives and friends from Tecumseh and elsewhere, who gathered at his home, where the funeral was held May 8th, Rev. M. Scarlett conducting the service.

As the afternoon shadows lengthened he was laid to rest beside his father and mother in Brookside cemetery, where so often it had been his care to place floral offerings to their memory and where in turn it was the sad office of friends to cover his grave with fragrant flowers

Do Birds Sympathize?

Animals experience grief over the loss of their young, but not over the death of one of their number. Death itself seems to have no meaning to them. When a bird seems to mourn for its lost mate its act is probably the outcry of the breeding instinct which has been thwarted. Do the birds and mammals sympathize with one another? When one bird utters a cry of distress the birds of other species within hearing will hasten to the spot and join in the cry—at least in the breeding season. I have no proof that they will do it at other times. And I do not call this sympathy, but simply the alarm of the parental instinct, which at this season is very sensitive. The alarm cry of many birds will often put four footed animals on the lookout. The language of distress and alarm is a universal language which all creatures understand more or less. But I doubt if sympathy as we know it—the keen appreciation of the suffering or the misfortune of another, which implies power in a measure to put ourselves in that other's place—even in its rudimentary form, exists among the lower orders. — John Burroughs in "Human Traits In Animals" in Outing Magazine.

Courtship In Baltimore.

Observations extending over forty years convince us that in Baltimore most courtships are begun about the middle of October, when the evenings grow chilly and sitting in the parlor becomes comfortable. Just before Christmas there are often halts, due principally to a certain reluctance costly to venders of Christmas gifts. But after the holiday season there is commonly a rapprochement, and along toward Jan. 30 there arrives the period of preliminary and tentative osculation. The middle of February sees Clarence advance to the strangle hold, and by mid-March Angeline is giggling with her prospective bridesmaids over the details of her trousseau. April and May are spent by Clarence with the money sharks, floating a money loan to finance the honeymoon. With the first stroke of June—Mendelssohn—"Ain't she pale?" "Let no man put asunder!" "Lohengrin"—rice—old shoes—Atlantic City—Niagara falls!—Baltimore Sun.

BASE BALL.

Tecumseh high school played a fast and interesting game of ball with the Adrian high school team on local grounds last Thursday afternoon, the latter winning by a score of 4 to 1. Until the 8th inning it was Tecumseh's game, the score standing 1 to 0, the locals having made one run in the 5th. In the 8th Adrian tallied 3 runs by wild throwing, two errors and again in the 9th one run. The pitching of Wilson was superb throughout the entire game and had it not been for the one bad inning would undoubtedly have scored a shut out against Adrian high.

Taking advantage of the light fall of snow Saturday morning, Henry Stahl hitched his sharp gaited driving horse to his cutter and enjoyed circling around the sod track in his back lot where he practiced last winter. Cutter riding on May 4, in this latitude is decidedly unusual.—Brooklyn Exponent.

Owing to the misunderstanding of a boy whom Mrs. Mary Straight of Coldwater, had dispatched to notify the gas house that there was a leak in her gas stove, the messenger turned in an alarm of fire and the fire department was soon on the scene of trouble. Finding that the fixing of gas stoves was out of their line they departed no doubt thinking of the boy who gave the alarm and the words of the poet who said "Blessings on thee, little man."—Hudson Post.

The Actor and the Man.

Great painters, sculptors, musicians and actors are careful not to lose their heads in the tumult of their emotions. Edwin Booth, so far as is known, never threw himself into his character but on one occasion, and then he was playing Bertuccio in "The King's Fool." It is related that he came off the stage at the conclusion of the performance convinced that he had surpassed all of his previous efforts and that he was excited, thrilled, tingling with the emotions of the character into which he had blindly cast himself, but his daughter, Edwina Booth, who had been sitting in a stage box, told him she had never seen him act so badly. For that one performance Booth deliberately had chosen to be a man and not the artist.

The Lovers.

First Friend—I see Jack and Molly have made it up again. Why was the engagement broken off? Second Friend—They had a quarrel as to which loved the other the most.

Basket Ball.

Basket ball has been taken up in earnest by the Girls' Athletic Association of our high school and Saturday morning they played their first game with the Addison high school team and won by a score of 18 to 9. The game was played on the plot just east of the ball grounds at Athletic park and was witnessed by a fair number of enthusiasts including about fifteen Addison rooters.

The game was a straight clean one and an interesting contest from start to finish. Both teams did some good work, the captains of both teams were good at throwing baskets and Marion Rosacrans starred at center. Two fifteen minute halves were played and at the end of the first half the score stood 9 to 5 in Addison's favor, but the change of baskets and the timely suggestions of Mr. Mitchell and others sent Tecumseh into the second half with the determination to win and they were successful in taking seven points in the fifteen minutes while Addison made none during the second half.

The girls are justly proud in winning their first game and from an experienced team and they are hoping for the loyal support of the city in their efforts to put a good team into the field. They intend playing Deerfield in the near future and hope also to go to Morenci to participate in the district contests June first

A LETTER

The Herald is in Receipt of the following letter from

J. B. COLLER

Lake Superior, May 2, 1906.

DEAR HERALD:—I thought I would write you tonight and let you know how we are. Earl and myself are sitting at the dining room table, writing. We are having a good time, only today we had quite a heavy sea and Earl was sea-sick and I had to wait on the men and before I got through I turned up my toes for about two hours, but are all well now.

It is four weeks Monday since I left home, was at Toledo two weeks and five days. We left Toledo at 7:10 Saturday, April 27 for Cleveland to pick up a bardge of coal, returned and went through Detroit about 10 o'clock, up the St. Claire lake and river, which was a fine sight. We were in sight of land most of the way until we went through "Sailors' Grave" that is Saginaw bay, here the sea was a little rough.

We arrived at St. Mary's river Tuesday, May 30 at 9 o'clock and was stuck in the ice for a short time. At one time there were 23 boats all in a bunch frozen. We might have been there yet if we haden't had a good captain. We used up a lot of coal trying to get loose, making the boat go backwards and forwards until he got an opening and since then the machinery has not stopped only as we went through the Soo. This was a great sight.

When we went through the locks there were three large boats in at once. I could not describe that massive stone and cement works. After going through we encountered more ice, but didn't stop us, and as far as the eye could see there was ice 12 to 20 inches deep. If we had some of it in Tecumseh "ice would be cheaper." Today we passed Kewcenaw point, this is where the great copper mines are located. The copper is so thick and hard that it is impossible to mine it. The owners say they must wait until something is invented to dig it out. It is a mountainous country. At 8 o'clock tonight we are passing Island Oyal.

We arrived at Duluth Friday, April 30, at 5:30. This is a great sight, the city being built on the side of a mountain. One can see all the streets in the city from the boat. We had to pass through the ship canal and under the great Aerial bridge which has a clear span of 400 ft., clear height of 136 ft. total height being 186 ft. There is only one other bridge like it in the world and that is in France.

After arriving here we had to anchor in the bay to wait our turn to unload. Saturday we got orders to go to coal dock No 5 at old Superior, so here we are. They have been unloading now for two days and will take them some time tomorrow to finish after which we will load up with wheat and start home. We can make the return trip in less time than it took us to come up. Now I will tell you what we have to do.

We are called by the second watch at 4:30 and get breakfast for the first crew at 8 o'clock. Each crew of seven men, has 6 hours sleep and after they eat they relieve the working crew, who then have their breakfast. I tell you Earl and I have something to do to wait on them. The hours for meals are 6 in the morning, 12 at noon, 6 at evening and lunch for all at 12 midnight. If only I had time to write I could tell you more about this country but I will have to close as it is time to think about supper. Give my regards to all enquiring friends and hope some day to see all again so I will say good afternoon.

From your friend,
J. B. COLLER.

THE MASK OF HEALTH.

Few People are really as well as they look. Cause and remedy.

Many people in Tecumseh both men and women, who believe themselves to be in perfect health, are often in the greatest danger.

Indigestion, which is so common a trouble, is the principle cause of the greater share of the general poor health. It has misleading symptoms that seem to have no reference to the stomach, such as headache, sleeplessness, specks before the eyes, pains in the back and side etc.

The success of physicians everywhere with the prescription that is now embodied in Mi-o-na stomach tablets has made this remedy in the last few years the acknowledged specific for the treatment of stomach diseases. The secret of this success lies in the fact that Mi-o-na is prepared expressly to strengthen the digestive organs and its use for a few days puts the whole system in such shape that it can care for all the food that is eaten without distress.

Simply take a Mi-o-na stomach tablet before each meal and on retiring and it will so strengthen the stomach that you can enjoy a hearty meal without pain.

C. A. Wright gives an absolute guarantee that your money will be refunded unless Mi-o-na cures. He takes the whole risk and the remedy costs nothing unless it cures you.

This factory will occupy the factory on Chicago street formerly used by the Anthony Fence Co. and will start up with about 30 people about the middle of June. Meantime many improvements will be made on the factory and everything will be in good shape for them. A meeting of the stockholders will be held Wednesday evening

My best friend.

Alexander Benton, who lives at Fort Edward N. Y., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is my best earthly friend. It cured me of asthma 6 years ago. It has also cured my son's wife of consumption. The first bottle ended the terrible cough and this accomplished the other symptoms left one by one until she was perfectly well. Dr. King's New Discovery's power over coughs and colds is simply marvelous." No other remedy has ever equaled it. Fully guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

George Drake.

George Drake died at his home in Tecumseh Monday morning after a long illness with consumption. A short service will be held at the house tomorrow morning at ten o'clock, after which the remains will be taken to Dundee. Services will be conducted from the Congregational church at Dundee. Rev. Fox of this place officiating.

Last Thursday Chief Apfel of the Ann Arbor police force was around notifying the saloonists that ten o'clock meant ten o'clock and that he intended to serve all the saloonists alike. He said that if there happened to be a crowd in the saloons at the closing time and it took some trouble to get rid of them he would not object to five minutes in which to clear the house but on general principles the lid must be dropped at ten o'clock.—Saline Observer.

LITTLE POCKET PHYSICIAN.

Hyomei is guaranteed by C. A. Wright to cure catarrh.

Thousands whohave been cured by Hy-o-mei call the inhaler that comes with every outfit the "Little Pocket Physician," as it is so small that it can be carried in the pocket or purse.

There is really no excuse whatever for anyone having catarrh now that Hy-o-mei is so readily obtainable. If you have any doubt about its value, C. A. Wright will let you have a complete outfit, with the understanding that unless it cures catarrh, it will not cost you a cent.

Do not delay longer the use of Hy-o-mei if you suffer with catarrh. This is a purely local disease and Hy-o-mei goes right to the spot where the catarrh germs are present, destroys them, soothes and heals all inflammation and makes a permanent and lasting cure.

The complete Hy-o-mei outfit consists of the "Little Pocket Physician" and a bottle of Hy-o-mei and costs only $1.00, making it the most economical as well as the only guaranteed treatment for the cure of catarrh. Remember that Hy-o-mei cures catarrh without stomach dosing, applying the medication and healing where the disease germs are present.

NEED VINOL

for it hastens recovery by creating strength

There is just one thing the matter with a person who has been sick—that is, weakness.

To all such people in this vicinity we recommend our delicious cod liver preparation, Vinol, as the very best strength creator for convalescents

Vinol strengthens the digestive organs, creates an appetite, promotes sound sleep, makes rich, red blood, and builds up a depleted system to health and vigor.

This is because Vinol contains all the medicinal elements of cod liver oil with the useless oil eliminated and tonic iron added. We guarantee it.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Tecumseh women are finding relief at last.

It does seem that women have most of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up"; must attend to duties in spite of backaches, headaches and racking pains from kidney ills. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy that is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. Chas. Stevenson, on Wyandotte street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I am glad to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills as they have been of great benefit to me. When I was sick in bed with malaria fever I began to be troubled with sharp pains across my back and kidneys. The nurse attending, me advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills as they were an excellent remedy for such troubles. I began using them and they seemed to go directly to the seat of trouble and gave me relief. In a short time the pains all left, the secretions became natural and the gravel stones which had bothered me for some years, all disappeared so that I felt like a new woman. I have since recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and will continue to do so."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's,—and take no other.

People abuse a stingy man; but they abuse a shiftless man worse.

Impure blood run you down—makes you an easy victim for organic diseases. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood—cures the cause—builds you up.

Some people won't have anything new if they can buy it second hand.

"Doan's Ointment cured me of eczema that had annoyed me a long time. The cure was permanent,"—Hon. S. W. Matthews, commissioner of labor statistics, Augusta, Me.

It is not the work you do that wears you out; it is the worrying you do.

When your back aches it is almost infallibly an indication that something is wrong with your kidneys. Weak, diseased kidneys frequently cause a breakdown of the entire system. DeWitt's kidney and bladder pills afford prompt relief for weak kidneys, backache, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. Sold by B. J. Pulver.

Moonlight, but No Moon.

Dion Boucicault seems to have been forever rushing breathlessly from one task to another. This amusing incident of the busy dramatist's career is told in "Famous Actor Families in America," by Montrose J. Moses:

"Boucicault was never to be outdone, whatever the circumstances. So intent was he during the rehearsals of 'The Shaughraun' regarding the other characters in the cast that on the opening night when he reached the theater he suddenly realized that he had wholly forgotten to pick himself out a costume for Con. So he rushed to the property room and on with an old coat that had done service for Tony Lumpkin and on with an old cap belonging to that same individual. Grabbing an odd pair of boots from a discarded chest—and he was ready! But disasters came thick and fast on this occasion. The second act called for a moon. Just as the scene was about to begin the stage orb exploded, and when the curtain rose the audience was amazed to find a black hole where the moon should have been. A burst of laughter showed their further appreciation of a slip in stage management, for silver ripples quivered on the water, a case of moonlight with the moon left out."

China's Flood Peril.

Thousands of men work all their lives at securing the banks of the great Yellow river in China. Yet every now and then the tide sweeps away all opposition, and the loss in human life is greater than any war ever caused. In 1897 the river burst its bonds. Day after day the torrent flowed twenty miles an hour, thirty miles wide and ten feet deep. The flood has been described as that of five Danubes pouring from a height for two months on end. For 2,000 years the Chinese have been embanking this river. The silt which the waters bring down from the mountains builds up the bed and raises the surface of the water. The banks are raised higher and higher to keep in the water, and for mile after mile the river runs over a bed whose level is far above that of the fields through which it takes its way. But the weak part of the embankment is always found out. The river always breaks through. And then a province is swept out of existence, and people die by millions. The death roll in 1887 was estimated at from 2,000,000 to 7,000,000.

When Baths Were Scarce.

In a guide to etiquette published early in the last century the writer says that "soap does not irritate the complexion. Some of the finest complexions we have known have been regularly washed with soap every day." The same authority remarks that "the daily bath is now the rule rather than the exception, and common sense has triumphed over the decision that washing was injurious." And then the writer has a dig at her great-grandmother, "whose only ablutions consisted in wetting her cheeks with a cambric handkerchief dipped in rosewater." "In all our directions with regard to the bath," adds this early Victorian dictator, "it must be borne in mind that we only refer to those in sound state of health."

Destructive Shellfish.

In the tropics rock boring and wood boring shellfish are among the greatest natural agents of destruction in the shallow waters of the sea. It was not until the builders of iron ships launched the present navies of peace or war upon the deep that the hulls of vessels moored for any time in harbor were safe from their attacks. The shells of these mollusks are elegant and beautiful. They are often not at all obviously adapted for boring. Frequently they are very thin, looking almost like hardened paper. Yet they bore through teak or oak, hardened clay, chalk, rock and concrete breakwaters.

Organ Grinder's Winter Resort.

The organ grinders of America, no less than the millionaires, have their winter resort. The organ grinders' winter resort is Italy, the Italian Riviera, and every boat that sails for Naples or Genoa in the late autumn has a steerage crowded with organ grinders. These men do so well in the spring and summer that they can afford a winter at home. Their home is a lovely one, far different from what they would get if they stayed in America. They sit at home on ancient stone benches in the sunny squares of little mountain towns. Behind them rise in the blue and gold air the pale pinnacles of the Maritime Alps, before them, but far below, stretches the blue and glistening floor of the sea, with tiny ships coming and going. Yes, it is very pleasant for the organ grinders at home. Palms bloom everywhere. Oranges, yellow as gold, shine among the foliage. The air is sweet with the perfume of the great rose and violet farms that feed the voracious perfume factories of Grasse. And it is cheap. For 10 or 15 cents a day an organ grinder can be as happy in his winter resort as the millionaire can be in his for $10 or $15.

This new, improved laxative has become extremely popular with men everywhere. It works so gently and effectively that it never fails to bring relief, and at the same time never interferes with business.

Rexall Orderlies

have none of the faults of the other laxatives on the market. They are entirely new and better. Positively do not gripe or cause nausea. Quickly and permanently cure constipation and sluggish liver. Are not followed by any constipative reaction. Regulate the bowels perfectly. Try them and you will understand what an improvement they are over other remedies.

Pleasant, vanilla flavored tablets.

Small Box (12 tablets) 10c.
Large Box (36 tablets) 25c.

The Story of Rexall

REX means "king," and the combination makes REXALL "king of all."

We have proven time and time again that Rexall Remedies are kings above all others.

For more than two years an expert travelled all over the world in search of extraordinary remedies. Wherever he heard of a wonderful cure of any nature he did not rest until he personally could see the effect of the prescription used. Where he found the remedy perfect he purchased the prescription, but it was never used as a Rexall remedy until the properties had been thoroughly analyzed by the chemists and physicians of the United Drug Company.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N.Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

His Yankee Thrift.

A Massachusetts man tells a story of "Old John" Langley, a veteran Worcester horseman, that is illustrative of Yankee astuteness.

One day Langley sought his tailor and in somewhat profane terms demanded "a pair of breeches of the best stuff in the shop." Of the many samples submitted Old John bit upon a beautiful silky broadcloth, the most costly piece of goods the tailor had, and, although this was most unsuitable for the purpose, Langley insisted that it was just what he wanted. Furthermore, he declared that he desired it "made up wrong side out."

The tailor expostulated in vain, but the trousers were made as per specifications and delivered.

A day or so thereafter a friend, calling on Langley, remarked on the trousers in uncomplimentary language. Langley said he was satisfied. More guying resulted in an offer from Old John to bet $50 that the cloth cost more per yard than that in his friend's trousers. The bet was taken and the tailor was to decide it. He named the price. The friend would not believe that the rough goods could be so costly until he was shown the shiny silky side. Then he paid, as other men had on similar bets, so that Old John reaped quite a harvest on his original idea. —Philadelphia Ledger.

Better No Food Than No Opera.

The creole would rather do without a few meals than miss a good opera with a fine cast, nor does this admirable spirit merely apply to the middle classes. Many a charming little creole lady who might point to a Marigny on her escutcheon would not hesitate if hard pressed to do her own housework in order to be able to blossom out at night in her proper place, radiant and exquisite, in a loge grille at the opera. It matters little in New Orleans to what unfortunate straits adversity may have driven a lady, even though she may do typewriting for people whom she meets socially, there are enough noble minded people of the ancien regime who will help her to forget the pinch of poverty and see that she receives the greatest consideration. This inbred chivalry is one of the most marked and endearing traits of the southern character, lending to the south an atmosphere free from our parasitical flunkyism over mere money or its insignia.—C. H. White in Harper's Magazine.

Method.

"Why do you write things that nobody understands?"

"Because," answered the litterateur, "people take it for granted that I understand it and therefore give me credit for superior intelligence."—Washington Star.

Dandy's Wardrobe, 1714.

The burglary of a dandy's wardrobe meant a serious loss when it comprised, as in John Osheal's case in 1714, "a scarlet cloth suit laced with broad gold lace, lined and faced with blue; a fine cinnamon cloth suit, with plate buttons, the waistcoat fringed with a silk fringe of the same color, and a rich yellow flowered satin morning gown lined with a cherry colored satin, with a pocket on the right side." There is something a little more manly perhaps in the dress of the gallant of 1600, pictured in one of Rowland's epigrams:

Behold a most accomplished cavalier,
That the world's ape of fashions doth appear,
Walking the streets his humors to disclose
In the French doublet and the German hose,
The muffes, cloaks, Spanish hat, Toledo blade,
Italian ruffe, a shoe right Flemish made.

There seems to have been no foolish prejudice against foreign made goods in 1600.—London Chronicle.

The Betel Nut.

Chewing the betel nut in Siam, being a common habit, at every little distance as you go through the bazaar of Bangkok may be seen petty merchants busy making and selling the preparation so universally masticated. The leaves in which the prepared mixture is wrapped are from a vine known as the chavica betel. The nut is from the arica betel palm, which reaches a height of about sixty feet, whose branches bear several large bunches of nuts which harden and redden as they ripen and which resemble somewhat the bunches of fruit on the date bearing palm. The dealers cut up their green leaves into the proper triangular form, crack the nuts and with wooden spatulas work the tumeric stained juice into a paste. It is amusing to see how skillfully they form the pieces of green leaf into pointed, cone shaped cups, into each one of which they place a portion of the ingredients

How to Grow Miniature Oaks.

Secure a good ripe acorn and suspend it by a piece of cord within half an inch or so of water contained in a glass. There let it stay, for if permitted to remain without disturbance for a few months it will burst, send a root into the water and shoot upward a straight, tapering stem covered with beautiful little green leaves. In this manner a young oak tree can be cultivated and become an interesting object to all that behold it. As soon as the plant has made its appearance it will be found beneficial to change the water frequently.

Your Heart

May Be Weak. One Person in Four Has a Weak Heart.

One of the surest signs of a weak heart is shortness of breath after exercise. Your heart is not able to pump the blood fast enough to your lungs.

Some of the other symptoms of Heart Trouble are: Pains in the Side, Back and Shoulder; Fainting or Weak Spells; Dry Cough; Swelling of Feet and Ankles; Cold Feet or Hands.

No one can afford to allow a weak heart to go without medicine, because weak heart means poor circulation, and poor circulation means weak lungs, stomach, liver, kidneys, etc.

If, therefore, you suspect heart trouble, begin taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. The Heart Cure will do you good, as it is a splendid tonic for the blood and nerves, and will revitalize your entire system.

If it doesn't—your money back.

"I was afflicted with heart trouble for three years. I would be apparently all right, and without a moment's warning would fall as though shot. The attacks were frequent, and a terrible dread possessed me, as I never knew when or where, nor under what conditions I would be attacked, and whether I would survive them. I consulted and was treated by some of the most eminent physicians of the state. Not finding relief from this source, I began taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and began to improve at once. I used ten bottles which entirely cured me, as I have not had an attack for five years."—MRS. JOHN DRESBACK, Leipsic, O.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Pays Snug Sum.

THEY ADMIT TWO CHARGES.

Pleads Guilty to Indictments for the Granting of Rebates—Seek Excuse in Saying That Spirited Competition Had Driven Them to It.

New York, May 17.—The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Co., through its general counsel, Charles B. Keeler of Chicago, pleaded guilty before Judge Holt in the United States circuit court Thursday on two indictments recently returned against the road for the granting of rebates in violation of the Elkins anti-rebating law. The court assessed a fine of $10,000 on each count pleaded to, or $20,000 in all, which Attorney Keeler paid.

The grand jury returned 15 indictments against the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, charging the granting of rebates on coffee shipments in favor of the Woolson Spice Co., an Ohio corporation, on western shipments from New York to Toledo. After a consultation with United States Attorney Stimson and his assistants, who have been prosecuting the rebate cases, Mr. Keeler arranged to plead guilty to two of the indictments with the understanding that the remaining counts be dismissed.

In a brief address to the court, Attorney Keeler attempted to excuse his road and pleaded in extenuation that it had not endeavored or wished to evade the law, but that owing to the spirited competition of other roads, minor traffic agents of the company had consented to the granting of rebates in order to meet the sharp competition, but without the knowledge of the company's chief executive officials, and its attorneys, all of whom, he said, would have instantly advised to the contrary. Attorney Keeler said that the chief officers of his road and its directors were glad that the existing federal laws would put an end, in the future, to the granting of rebates, and take from the hands of the western shippers the club which they had held over one road as against another where it came to competition on traffic and business.

Earlier in the day the Western Transit Co., another of the indicted corporations, through counsel, pleaded not guilty to the rebating indictment against it, but with permission to withdraw the plea and substitute demurrers to the indictments.

It is understood that the Northern Pacific, the Rock Island & Pacific, the New York, Ontario & Western railroad and the Western Transit Co., all named in the recently returned indictments for rebating, and which have already entered pleas of not guilty, will go into court and stand trial on the charges.

Others Saw Soldiers Shooting.

Washington, May 17.—Two witnesses in the Brownsville investigation before the senate committee on military affairs yesterday, testified that they saw negro soldiers "shooting up" the Texas town on the night of August 13. One of these was Lieut. Dominquez, of the Brownville police, who received a bullet through the arm and had his horse shot from under him while trying to warn the citizens of the approach of armed men, whom he declared positively to be negro soldiers from the garrison, and another was Policeman Padron, who described a busy quarter of an hour dodging bullets. He also was positive that the men doing the shooting were negro soldiers. Dr. Charles H. Thorn, a dentist, testified that he heard a group of men firing at the rear of his house and shouting commands to each other. He gave as his judgment that the voices were those of negroes.

GOT PART OF SWAG.

FROM RAILWAYS COMPANY.

Deposed 'Frisco Boss Alleges $200,000 Was Divided Among High-Up Officials—Mayor May Be Asked to Resign.

San Francisco, May 17.—Abraham Ruef Thursday carried out his declaration of Wednesday that he would, following his change of plea to guilty in the extortion case against him, assist the bribery prosecution in its campaign against municipal corruption.

Ruef, obeying a subpoena from the grand jury served on him at the Fillmore street prison house, shortly before 3 o'clock, went in the charge of Special Agent Burns, Elisor Biggy and a guard, to the grand jury chamber in Native Sons hall, where he took the stand and submitted to an examination that lasted from 3:20 o'clock until after 5 o'clock.

When the ordeal was over, he called the newspaper men around him and said that he had not promised the grand jury to divulge anything. District Attorney Langdon and Assistant District Attorney Henry refuse to make any statement whatever. From Special Agent Burns it was learned that the only matter in which Ruef was questioned was the alleged bribing of Mayor Schmitz and 18 supervisors by the United railroads to grant that corporation a change in its franchise allowing the electrifying of its 250 miles of street railway in this city.

If Burns' understanding of Ruef's testimony is correct, Ruef told the grand jury that President Patrick Calhoun, Assistant President Thornwell Mullalley, Chief Counsel Tirey L. Ford and Assistant Counsel Wm. M. Abbott, of the United railway, paid or caused to be paid the sum of $200,000 for the provision named; that $61,000 of this amount was Ruef's fee; that $50,000 went into the pocket of Mayor Schmitz, and that the remaining $89,000 was handed to the 18 supervisors, 16 of them receiving $4,000 each, and the other demanding and getting $10,000, and Chairman Gallagher, of the finance committee, being paid $15,000 for acting as go-between.

After the examination of Ruef was concluded the grand jury remained in executive session until 6:30 o'clock. Subsequently the statement was made, but not officially confirmed, that indictments had been voted against four high officials of the United railroads, and Schmitz, as predicted by an officer of the prosecution two weeks ago.

It is rumored that a movement is on foot to force the resignation of Mayor Schmitz and choose in his stead Frederick W. Dorhmann, a prominent wholesale merchant, as mayor. The report lacks official confirmation.

STEEL SHIP IS LOST.

Saxon Runs Onto Reef During Storm in Lake Superior.

NO LIVES WERE SACRIFICED.

Crew Reach Shores of Caribou Island Safely—Steamer Ogelby Narrowly Escapes Similar Fate—Lost Vessel Valued at $110,000.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 17.—The steel steamer Saxon, owned by the Pittsburg Steamship Co., stranded Wednesday night during a fog on the north side of Caribou Island, Lake Superior. The steamer is in bad shape and it is feared will be a total loss. The accident was reported by Capt. Brown, of the steamer E. W. Ogleby, which was in company with the Saxon when she struck the rocks. The crew of the wrecked boat is reported to have reached the island in safety.

The accident was caused by the thickness of the night, the view being completely obscured by fog, rain and snow. The Ogleby narrowly escaped a fate similar to that of the Saxon.

"We were running a short distance ahead of the Saxon at fair speed," said Capt. Brown, "and my steamer must have missed the reef which the Saxon struck by only a few feet. The fog was so thick and the rain and snow coming so fast that it was impossible to see any distance ahead.

"The Saxon was going along at full speed and struck the rocks with terrific force. It was but a few minutes before she was full of water. I heard the signals of distress and stood by to render assistance, but was unable to do anything.

"I tried to get near enough to take the Saxon's crew aboard my own ship, but was unable to get to her because of the danger of running my own ship on the rocks in the storm. The men were able later to reach the island in small boats safely."

The Saxon was bound for Lake Erie with a cargo of iron ore. Tugs will be sent from here in an effort to save the ship.

The wrecked steamer registers 2,348 tons, and is valued at $110,000. She was built in 1890.

Sailors Nearly Perished.

Toulon, May 17.—The British steamship Marie Therese, which cleared, a few days ago, from Gibraltar, sprung a leak shortly after leaving the port. The crew worked at the pumps for two days and two nights in efforts to keep the water under, but finally they were forced to take to the boats in the Gulf of Lyons. A few minutes afterward the steamer foundered. The men were in the boats for 50 hours, when they were picked up, half dead from exhaustion, by an outward-bound steamer and brought to this port.

DEADLOCK BROKEN.

Wisconsin Legislators Nominate Isaac Stephenson for Senator.

Madison, Wis., May 71.—The Wisconsin senatorial dead lock was broken last night by the nomination on the first ballot of the republican caucus of former Congressman Isaac Stephenson of Marinette. The result was accompanied by the breaking up of the opposition, which, when the anti-Stephenson men realized that they were beaten, returned to their former favorites, Esch and Hatten. The final result was: Stephenson, 54; Esch, 23; Hatten, 19; scattering, 3.

The credit for the Stephenson victory is given to Lieut.-Gov. Connor, who secured the support of two members claimed to have been pledged to Hatten.

The ballot ended a deadlock existing since April 16.—In that time a daily ballot has been taken in the legislature in joint session, and nearly eighty ballots were taken in the republican caucus. There were originally five avowed candidates, but Congressman Cooper and former Speaker Lenroot withdrew a week ago.

The caucus nomination will be followed by the formal election of Stephenson in joint session today, as the legislature is overwhelmingly republican.

Chief Guest arrested Cates on a charge of disorderly conduct. While searching him at the jail, Cates suddenly drew a revolver and fired a bullet into Guest's forehead. Threatening James Frost, another officer, Cates escaped from the jail to Main street where he bgan firing at everybody he saw. No motive is known except that Cates had been drinking. Chief Guest's condition is serious and he was removed to a hospital at Pittsburg

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

BASE BALL

Opening Day at Tecumseh last TUESDAY.

Tuesday was opening day for Tecumseh in the Southern Michigan league and the first game was played with Kalamazoo, one of the strongest teams of the league. Factories and shops were closed for the afternoon, some of them even closing for the entire day. An excursion train was run over the D. T. & I. bringing about 90 base ball enthusiasts from our neighboring city, Adrian, nearly as many coming from Clinton, Manchester and Jackson over the Lake Shore.

A parade had been planned by the management and the band from the Georgia Minstrel show were expected to furnish the music. A band stand was erected at the ball park for their convenience, but when the parade formed, the members of the band were nowhere to be found. It was learned later that the minstrels had heard the fishing was good. However, the parade was just as well without them. Joe Jackson of Detroit, president of the league, Franks of Jackson, vice president, J. H. Smith and Guy Belding in the lead, Will Fisher, Mayor Combs, R. A. Heesen and the two base ball teams following.

Arriving at the grounds the members of both clubs practiced until 3:30. Village president, John Combs, in behalf of the management gave a short address of welcome. To the people of Adrian he said in part, "We are glad to see so many of you here for we consider Adrian one of the largest suburbs Tecumseh has, and we are right glad of your loyal support. When you are able and large enough to support a ball team like Tecumseh does, or can join the Southern Michigan league, we will give to you the same support you give to us."

He also told the visiting club that of course, they would be beaten and in that case Tecumseh would extend to them their most heartfelt sympathy in the hour of bereavement, but in case they won from the Indians Tecumseh would say to them that they were pretty good ball players. After asking the crowd for no personal remarks during the entire season and to abide by the umpire's decisions, Mayor Combs pitched the first ball, R. A. Heesen, president of the association, acting as catcher and the game started.

Fully 800 people were present to witness Kalamazoo go down to defeat at the hands of the Indians. Method was hit hard in the fourth inning, the locals finding him for 7 hits, making their 8 runs. Twelve men faced Method in the one inning, Merkle starting with a triple, but was caught out at the plate when Somerlott hit to second base. Kipp singled and Somerlott went to third and scored on an error by Hale when Kipp stole second.

Mitchell hit to first base and in trying to catch Kipp at third both were safe. Doty hit to pitcher, who tried to throw Kipp out at the plate but failed. Preston was walked and the bases were filled when Slear came to bat. Slear singled, scoring Mitchell. Hildinger doubled scoring Doty. Preston and Slear. Wagner was out. Merkle singled, stole and scored on Somerlott's single. Kipp retired the side on a fly to right field.

Kalamazoo's only runs came in the 7th and 8th innings. In the 7th a pass to Webster, an error and a single scored Webster. In the 8th Andrews doubled and scored on Furlong's hit. These two teams were to have played again Wednesday but on account of rain the game was postponed.

A Letter from S. P. Hosmer, one of Jamestown Excursionists.

DEAR HERALD:—We left Cincinnati on the F. F. V. limited at 9 o'clock of the 11th. Stowed ourselves away on shelves of the Pullman and tried to forget the cares of earth, and by fits and starts we did wander with "Nemo" in slumberland. But it took about all the strength we had to hold on the bunk and get our money's worth, I, for one, would certainly have been satisfied had my strength held out a little longer.

The only thing that bothered me was the car changed its mind so often and so suddenly without telling a fellow. When daylight came we were head and neck into the Allegany mountains, turning curves, cutting circles at a breakneck speed, over bridges through tunnels, around cliffs, past coal mines, coke furnaces, iron smelters, cabin homes of the West Virginian mountaineers, etc. If in the next world we are to receive our reward for punishment of this life, these people will certainly have jewelled harps.

They certainly have no other chance to catch up to "we uns" of old Lenawee. When we passed Clifton Forge we soon crossed the celebrated valley of the Shenandoah. Twice did Lee's army go down this fertile valley to get into Pennsylvania and Maryland only to be driven from Gettysburg and Antitum and Gordansville. The writer stayed as a guest of the "Johnnies" on the 10th day of June, 1863 and spent the night in an old slave pen.

"On to Richmond" we go over historic ground every foot of the way, the red clay soil of the Old Dominion dyed a deer shade by the blood of the bravest of the brave, both Yank and Johnie. We rolled into Richmond at 4 p. m. eastern time, left our luggage at Hotel Richmond, got carriages and drove around for one and a half hours, but that is another yarn. This a. m., May 12th, at 9 o'clock we left Richmond for Norfolk, where we arrived safely and are nicely located on 29th street about 6 miles from the exposition grounds.

We spent the afternoon at that unfinished show and I do not believe it will ever be completed. It seems to me that it is a graft, Uncle Sam has certainly done his part, farther the deponent says not. On Monday, the 13th, is to be the great day of the whole show, all the war ships are to show their best. But that is another story. We will soon be on our homeward trip and visit the old battlefields, our Mecca, Coldy Harbor, Gaines Mills, Savage Station, Wilderness, Spotsylvania, etc.

Good night.

ORDINATION

And Installation of REV. J. W. DUNNING

A graduate of McCormick Seminary Chicago, held Tuesday evening.

Last Tuesday evening, May 14th, a large audience gathered at the Presbyterian church to witness the ordination into the christian ministry and installation as pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this place, John Wirt Dunning of Chicago. After the organ prelude by Mrs. J. Q. Look, the audience joined in singing the Doxology. The invocation was then given by Rev. David McAllister of Erie. The singing of a hymn was followed by the reading of the scripture lesson, Psalm 139, by Rev. H. K. Fox, Ph. D., the retiring pastor, after which the anthem "Remember now Thy Creator" was rendered by the quartette.

REV. JOHN WIRT DUNNING.

In the absence of Rev. Chas. E. Thomas of Lansing, prayer was offered by Rev. Chas. M. Brown, a former pastor and the response given by the choir after which a fine and instructive sermon was delivered by the Rev. Willis L. Gelston of Coldwater, his subject being, "Recognizing God as a present factor in our lives." At the close of the sermon the anthem "Thy will be done" was rendered by the quartette.

The constitutional questions were then asked by the moderator, Rev. Geo. Layman of Clayton, and the prayer of ordination by Rev. T. C. Colvin was offered. The right hand of Fellowship was then extended, after which the anthem, "Cross and Crown, Oh Sweet the Story," was sung. The charge to the pastor was then given by Rev. Edward A. Krapp of Adrian, and the charge to the people by Rev. David Howell of Lansing, both contained words of wisdom and much good advice. The prayer of installation was given by Rev. H. B. Dunning, father of the newly installed pastor. After the singing of a hymn the benediction was pronounced by the pastor, Rev. John Wirt Dunning.

Mr. Dunning is a graduate of Alma college and the Theological Seminary at Chicago. He is not a stranger to Tecumseh people as he preached here during his vacation last summer, and was so well liked that at the close of his vacation he was given a call to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church to begin with his graduation from the Chicago school in May. During his absence the pulpit was filled by Rev. H. K. Fox, Ph. D. of Adrian, to whom the people became very much attached and although all were glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Dunning with smiles and bright hopes for the future of the church it was with tears that they bade Godspeed and success in his new field of labor to Rev. Fox.

My best friend.

Alexander Benton, who lives at Fort Edward N. Y., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is my best earthly friend. It cured me of asthma 6 years ago. It has also cured my son's wife of consumption. The first bottle ended the terrible cough and this accomplished the other symptoms left one by one until she was perfectly well. Dr. King's New Discovery's power over coughs and colds is simply marvelous." No other remedy has ever equaled it. Fully guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Indolence among the rich is more to be condemned than ignorance among the poor. The rich know better.

Every man has society manners and the other kind.

THE NEW REMEDY.

Take it now that vacation days are fast approaching.

Thousands of men and women are anxiously looking forward to the vacation days that come in June, July and August—not so much for the pleasure or enjoyment as for the chance of getting rid of their ill health.

To thoroughly drive away troubles of the stomach most people think they have to make a business of it with dieting, exercise and perhaps a vacation.

But Mi-o-na stomach tablets taken with regularity, in a very few days will drive away indigestion, dizzy spells, distress after eating, headaches, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms of bad digestion and sluggishness of the digestive organs that keep people from enjoying themselves.

Day after day, at work behind desks or in the factory with poor sunlight and air, soon results in sluggishness of the entire physical and mental apparatus. The first slight symptoms of indigestion can be easily cured, but when they are allowed to increase without any help, then the stomach complaints become hard to shake off.

Strengthen the whole digestive system with Mi-o-na and you will soon find that both stomach and bowels do their work as they should.

C. A. Wright sells Mi-o-na in 50-cent boxes and guarantees to refund the money if the remedy does not give complete satisfaction.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

RHEUMATISM

Old Mr. Rheumatism hangs on tight and bites and pinches when he takes hold. It's quite a job to shake him off. It's hard to believe that all the pain and trouble he causes comes from such a little thing. Just a tiny bit of acid in the blood the kidneys haven't taken care of. But the kidneys aren't to blame I used to think they were. Now I know better. It's that over worked and over crowded stomach giving the kidneys part of its work and the kidneys can't do it. I found this out with Cooper's New Discovery. It puts the stomach in shape, that's all it does, and yet I have seen thousands of people get rid of rheumatism by taking it. That is why I am positive that rheumatism is caused by stomach trouble. Here is a sample of letters I get every day on the subject.

LAWRENCE TUSCANY.

"For a long time I have been a victim of sciatica and inflammatory rheumatism, and my suffering has been too great to describe. For weeks I lay helpless with every joint in my body so tender and sore that I could not bear to move. The slightest touch would cause me the greatest agony. Several doctors treated me but they failed entirely. I tried many remedies but nothing seemed to reach my case, so I continued to lay helpless. My kidneys and stomach were affected also. I could eat but little, digest less and gradually my strength left. I lost flesh rapidly."

"I began the use of the famous Cooper medicines of which I heard so much. To my surprise and delight I improved immediately, and after using several bottles I felt like another person. My strength and appetite returned. The pain and soreness left me and now I feel better than I have for months." Lawrence Tuscany, 1122 Aldrich Ave., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

We sell Mr. Cooper's celebrated preparations.

JOHN J. ORR.

Some permit themselves to be enwrapped in life as in a net; others shape it into a garment to suit themselves.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Tecumseh women are finding relief at last.

It does seem that women have most of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up"; must attend to duties in spite of backaches, headaches and racking pains from kidney ills. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy that is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. Chas. Stevenson, on Wyandotte street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I am glad to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills as they have been of great benefit to me. When I was sick in bed with malaria fever I began to be troubled with sharp pains across my back and kidneys. The nurse attending, me advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills as they were an excellent remedy for such troubles. I began using them and they seemed to go directly to the seat of trouble and gave me relief. In a short time the pains all left, the secretions became natural and the gravel stones which had bothered me for some years, all disappeared so that I felt like a new woman. I have since recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and will continue to do so."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's,—and take no other.

People abuse a stingy man; but they abuse a shiftless man worse.

Impure blood run you down—makes you an easy victim for orgynic diseases. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood—cures the cause—builds you up.

Some people won't have anything new if they can buy it second hand.

It is not the work you do that wears you out; it is the worrying you do.

"Doan's Ointment cured me of eczema that had annoyed me a long time. The cure was permanent,"—Hon. S. W. Matthews, commissioner of labor statistics, Augusta, Me.

The Best Laxative for Children.

Parents should see to it that their children have one natural, easy movement of the bowels each day. Do not dose the child with salts or griping pills, as they are too powerful in effect, and literally tear the little insides to pieces. The little one is weakened and less able to act naturally than before. Laxative Iron-ox Tablets tone and strengthen the bowels, and stimulate all the little organs to healthy activity. Chocolate coated tablets, easy to take, never gripe or nauseate. 10c, 25c and $1.00.

LAKE SHORE

Some girls' idea of true love is a man who will send flowers in winter, when roses are a dollar a throw.

It is a pathetic fact that more lemons are handed to most of us than bouquets.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

WERE IN SAD PLIGHT.

Agricultural College Seniors Protest to President.

MATRIMONY WAS INVOLVED.

Upper Class Students Who Were Engaged Got Extra Tickets for Class Day Exercises—Hillsdale Prepares to Receive Roosevelt.

Lansing, Mich., May 21.—There has been discontent among the junior and senior classes at the M. A. C., concerning the distribution of admission tickets for commencement exercises. At first President Snyder decreed one ticket to each junior and senior, with one additional ticket to the senior who could prove that he was engaged. That meant hard lines for the senior who was fortunate enough to possess a girl, but had not yet exploded the eternal question, and still harder lines for the young women senior; who knows to what lengths of unladylike behavior she might have been led? The president may have intended the conditional clause as a lure to matrimony pure and simple; but, anyhow, the seniors would not stand for it. They sent a special committee to "Prexy," with the result that each senior now has five tickets to give away, and is to be admitted ticketless himself.

Juniors Make Demands.

The juniors' demand for two tickets has not yet been granted, but it is probable that they will win out; at least be allowed to give away their own tickets and enter free. The juniors have suffered the grievance of having the historic night-shirt parade taken out of their hands. It is now under control of the faculty. To appease the juniors, the faculty has offered them the most prominent position in the procession, but there are threats that not a junior will appear Thursday night unless there is some satisfactory arrangements made about the tickets. Should the juniors taboo the parade the other classes would loyally follow suit, and a most unique feature would be spoiled.

If all goes well the parade will march through the rays of a search light erected for the purpose. The event has been famous for years, and special pains have been taken to amuse the guests by the ridiculous spectacle.

President Snyder has received several amusing letters apropos of Roosevelt's visit. One from a young lady stated that her sister recited very well indeed; that this sister had a particular piece she would like to recite in Roosevelt's presence, and would President Snyder kindly make arrangements for same? Another lady wrote that she was the leader of a lady's band, and would like to play before the president of the United States. She also desired that President Snyder bring the thing about.

Hillsdale, Mich., May 21.—Hillsdale is making great preparations for the visit of President Roosevelt to this city on May 31. Advices from Washington state that Roosevelt will pass through Hillsdale in the morning en route to Lansing, and in the evening he will have to wait here 55 minutes for his train. He reaches Hillsdale at 6:20 p. m. and does not leave until 7:15, his route being via Auburn Junction and the B. & O. to Washington.

Plan a Reception.

President Mauck, of Hillsdale college, in the absence of Mayor Waldron, has communicated with the secretary to the president in regard to his visit here and extending an invitation to hold a reception either at the college or President Mauck's beautiful home. On Mayor Waldron's return Monday a special session of the council was called to take official action toward extending an invitation to the president.

The merchants and citizens will likewise make extensive arrangements for his reception. Special trains will be secured and arrangements made to care for several thousand visitors from the neighboring towns and cities.

Successful Year in Copper.

Lake Linden, Mich., May 21.—In 1906 the copper mines of Michigan had a year of wonderful success and general prosperity, writes James L. Nankervis, state commissioner of mineral statistics. All former records were eclipsed in the number of men employed, quantity of refined copper produced and amount paid in dividends in a single year. The total amount of copper produced by the lake copper mines in 1906 was 224,407,859 pounds, compared with 217,762382 pounds in 1905, a gain of 6,645,635 pounds, or 3 per cent.

CANADA BACKS DOWN

Under No Conditions Will She Take Second Class Mail.

PUBLISHERS ARE HARD HIT.

Wanted to Send Their Periodicals Into Dominian by Express and Then Post Them—Our Mails May Be Closed Against Canadian Matter.

Washington, May 21.—Through Postmaster-General Lemlux, the gov- of Canada has notified the postoffice department that it will not be possible for the Canadian postal department to handle second-class mail matter sent to that country from the United States by either express or freight and mailed there.

Some time ago, a commission was sent to Canada to adjust, if possible, the differences between the two countries respecting the handling of second-class mail. The result of the commission's work was indecisive. Afterwards, American publishers suggested that they might send their publications from this country to Canada either by express or by freight, and then have them mailed in that country at the second-class rate—one cent for four ounces.

Postmaster-General Meyer took the matter up with the Canadian officials, urging strongly that the suggested arrangement be made. The Canadian postal department, however, replied that their facilities and equipment would not admit of it.

The Canadian second-class rate is lower than the second-class rate of this country. Postmaster Meyer explained that as soon as a specific case of refusal on the part of the Canadian government to handle American second-class matter was called to his attention, he would be forced, in the circumstances, to issue an order declining to handle Canadian publications in this country at the second-class rate.

Freight Handlers Strike.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 21.—About 1,200 freight handlers, comprising what are known as the "inside" gang in the water front freight houses, struck on Monday for an increase in wages. Most of the men were in the employ of the Western Transit Co., which is controlled by the New York Central and Erie freight houses. The men were receiving 17 1-2 cents an hour and made a demand for 20 cents. The police force along the docks was strengthened and a detachment of mounted men patrol the water front.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Rev. Franklin E. E. Hamilton, pastor of the Temple Street Methodist church in Boston, has been elected chancellor of the American university at Washington. Rev. Dr. Hamilton was born in Pleasant Valley O., 41 years ago, and is a graduate of Harvard and Boston universities.

Refusing to work with material from mills operating with non-union wook workers, nearly 1,000 carpenters in Denver went on strike Monday. This action will force out the members of all other unions in the building trades council and threatens to tie up all building operations in Denver.

Two hundred Purdue university students Tuesday night broke up the performance in a circus side show, at Lafayette, Ind., and afterwards gathered to make a similar assault on the big show. A brisk skimish with circus employes followed and a number of students were beaten. No serious injuries were reported.

Haskell B. Talley, a lawyer and politician, in Tusla, I. T., shot B. F. Pettus cousin of Senator Pettus of Alamaba and leader in Oklahoma democratic affairs, Monday. The shooting occurred at a street corner and was witnessed by a dozen people. It is alleged that ill-feeling existed because Pettus refused to accept Talley as a suitor for his daughter. Pettus will recover.

Monday was the fifth anniversary of the establishment of the Cuban republic, but the occasion was observed in Havana in an apathetic and even perfunctory manner. Business was suspended, but there was no other recognition of the day excepting a display of flags and decoration of the public buildings, the firing of the national salute from the Cabanas fortress and the American cruiser Dixie, and the customary distribution from the city hall of sewing machines, bath tickets and other minor benefactions to the poor of Havana.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

Status of Many Army Officers May Be Invalidated.

SUPREME COURT SPEAKS OUT

Declares Invalid Court Martial Proceedings on Which Sat Volunteer Officers—Policy of War Department Is Reversed.

Washington, May 21.—There is grave apprehension at the war department that the supreme court of the United States has invalidated the status of every regular army officer who has held a the same time a volunteer commission and has also invalidated the legality of the proceedings of every court martial of a volunteer officer or enlisted man, on which has sat an officer holding both regular and volunteer commissions.

The court last week Monday handed down an opinion declaring invalid the court martial of Lieut. Lewis E. Brown, a negro volunteer officer, who as tried and dismissed from the service in Cuba. The court martial was invalidated because an officer of the regular army, who was also a volunteer officer, sat on the court. Under the decision Brown will be entitled to draw his pay until the date of the mustering out of his regiment and the expiration of his commission.

War department officials regard it as the logical conclusion to be drawn from the court's decision, that the findings of every court martial on which sat a regular army officer who also held a volunteer commission, and which tried a volunteer officer or enlisted man, are invalid and claims for pay to the end of the term of commission or enlistment may be made.

The basis of the court's decision is that a regular army officer holding a volunteer commission at the same time is not a volunteer but a regular army officer. The war department has always held exactly the reverse; that is, that a regular army officer holding a volunteer commission, was, during the time he held such commission, a volunteer officer and not a regular army officer. The pay of such officers has been regulated on that basis and many officers of low grade were given commissions to higher grades in the volunteer service during the civil war, the Spanish-American war and the insurrection in the Philippines, and by reason of such commissions, drew largely incresed pay. Under the recent decision of the court this pay will have to be returned; that is, if the decision is really as broad as at present appears.

Old Clerks Must Go.

Washington, May 21.—The secretary of the interior Monday approved the recommendation of Commissioner Ballinger of the general land office for the improvement of the efficiency of his office by the dismissal of old and inefficient clerks and the employment in their places of clerks who are able to meet the demands of the office. The change will be inaugurated immediately by the dismissal of four employes in the division of mails and files and thirteen clerks in the patent division, where typewriting will be substituted for long-hand writing in issuing and recording patents.

Killed While Testing Elevator.

Philadelphia, May 21.—Warren E. Bond was killed and four other men seriously injured by the falling of an elevator at the garage of the Quaker City Automobile Co., Monday. The elevator was a new one and was being tested.

Long Sentence for Him.

Mason, Mich., May 21.—Judge Weist Monday afternoon sentenced Clarence Madden to not more than ten years nor less than five years in Jackson prison. A jury found him guilty of assault with intent to do great bodily harm. Madden is from Lansing and he told the court that he had been arrested 20 times and served seven sentences, two terms of which were in the Detroit house of correction. He is 25 years of age. He struck a 12-year-old boy in the head with a piece of iron for running after him while the junk dealer from whom he stole it, was in pursuit.

Roscommon Young Men Arrested.

Gaylord, Mich., May 21.—Lloyd Batton, Cecil Troutman and Loran Holland, of Roscommon, were arrested by a Michigan Central detective on the the charge of placing obstructions on the railroad They are alleged to have placed a pile of iron on the rails near Roscommon. A south-bound freight train came near running into the obtruction.

EXPRESS THEIR JOY.

St. Petersburg, May 21.—Previous to the opening of the sesison of the lower house of parliament Monday, a resolution expressing the great joy of the house at Emperor Nicholas' escape from death at the hands of those who plotted his assassination, and the deepest indignation at the recent criminal conspiracy, so fortunately frustated, was unanimously adopted. The reading of the resolution called forth hearty applause, but the expected monarchist demonstration did not take place. The social democrats, social revolutionists, part of the group of toil and others were absent from the house when the resolution was presented and adopted.

Informally announcing the discovery of the plot, Premier Stolypin said that not only was the emperor's life aimed at, but the conspirators had planned to assassinate Grand Duke Nichols Nicholaievitch, president of the council of national defense, and himself. Grand Duke Alexander Michailovitch, bother-in-law of the emperor, and Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch were among those present when the resolution was adopted.

VENIRE EXHAUSTED.

Sheriff Must Summon More Men to Serve on Haywood Jury.

Boise, Ida., May 21.—It seems inevitable that the Steunenberg murder trial must be halted again to permit the gathering of another special venire of talesmen. When Monday's session ended, only 11 out of 20 peremptory challenges had been used, and only nine of the 100 veniremen gathered a week ago remained uncalled. The remaining nine will hardly furnish grist for a day's work, so Judge Wood will probably adourn the trial for at least a full day and send Sheriff Hodgin forth in quest of 50 additional talesmen.

The vacancy created by the ninth challenge, made on Saturday, was open when the trial was resumed on Monday; the vacancy created by the eleventh challenge was open when court adjourned in the afternoon, and the difference between the two sums up the little stride forward of Monday. Joseph Chinn, of chair No. 8, challenged by the defense, and Wm. McCuffin, of chair No. 6, challenged by the state, were the men of the old crowd who went down yesterday.

George Powell and Lee Scrivener passed muster, the first named for the vacancy made by the ninth challenge, the last named for the tenth challenge. They are both farmers, and Mr. Scrivener was formerly a sheriff in Kansas.

Sixteen men were examined and excused for cause. Most of them had deep-seated opinions to the guilt or innocence of William D. Haywood, and went down to bias challenges from the state.

Montreal Strike Settled.

Montreal, May 21.—The longshoremen's strike was settled last night, the men, union and non-union, returning to work on the terms offered by the teamship companies—2 1-2 cents increase over the rates formerly paid—making the day rate or general cargo 27 1-2 cents and the night rate 32 1-2 cents per hour.

Lad Meets Terrible Death.

Detroit, Mich., May 21.—While returning from a pleasure trip on Belle Isle Sunday afternoon, Andrew Murtagh, the 11-year-old son of Mrs. Harriet Murtagh, 422 Champlain street, received injuries on a Jefferson car from which he died less than an hour later in St. Mary's hospital. Andrew was standing on the running board of an open car on the side nearest the opposite tracks. A car, whose rapid approach he did not see, swept him from the board, crushed his skull and left him unconscious on the pavement.

Farmer Goes Insane.

Dowagiac, Mich., May 21.—Demented over a number of troubles, past and present, Thomas Lillie, a well-to-do farmer, living southeast of here, is in the county jail in this city, whence he was brought for threatening the lives of his entire family. Lillie secured a shotgun yesterday morning, and with it drove his wife, son and two daughters into the barement of their home. Here, it is claimed, he knocked the two girls to the floor with the butt of the gun. While he was supposed to be getting in readiness to carry out his earlier threats one of the girls evaded him and got to the telephone. She got in communication with the sheriff's office and a deputy was soon at the Lillie home. He took the demented man in charge and the latter accompanied him without resistance.

Deafness cannot be cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its form al condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A Letter from S. P. Hosmer.

Norfolk, Va., May 12, 1907.

Cold and clear. Today we have all been to Virginia Beach situated about 20 miles east of Norfolk. The remains of a Norwegian bark that was driven ashore in 1891 lays in the sand in front of the big hotel. After dinner we went up the beach 7 miles to Cape Henry, passing two more wrecks, one an Italian barge and the other an American steamer, both offered as a sacrifice to the wrathful storms of 1906.

At the Cape we visited the wireless telegraph station and were instructively entertained by the young man on watch in the tower. Here on this Cape Henry is where the first landing was made and here one of the first lighthouses was built by the U. S. The old one still stands kept in repair by the Virginia Historical society, the government having built a new one. We are and feel sore we go back to Norfolk pleased with the day's sight seeing.

May 13. We were up on the expedition grounds with our eyes open to see all that there is to see on Big Ben 300 feet and upwards of the landing of the Dutch in the year of our Lord 1607. Behold on the 13th of May 1907 Dominion Day, the great American fleet, the parade of the army and navy. For a little Yankee check the writer got right the second round of the Press box about 20 feet to the left of the High Guys, and at the appointed time the notables arrived, the Japs very much in evidence. Kuroki the hero of the hour.

Parade. Band, 3 companies of Japanese marines, band, 3 company Austrian marines and sailors, band, 3 company Chilian marines, the crack 23rd regiment of U. S. infantry, 2 companies, band, 8 companies U. S. marines, band, 8 companies U. S. marines, naval band playing the tune of Nancy Lee, 8 companies Jackies with Red Cross squad, band, 8 companies Jackies, Red Cross squad, band, 8 companies Jackies, Red Cross squad, band, 8 companies of the 3rd U. S. artillery, 4 companies of the 12th U. S. cavalry with ambulance corps, signal corps, etc. I think this the finest of the kind that I ever saw. You all must draw the picture for yourself, grand does not express it.

May 14. We took in Fort Monroe, being present at the exhibition of the big gun target practice in honor of the foreign officers. We stood on the ramparts about 400 feet in the rear of the battery with not a thing to obscure the view. We could plainly see where the shot struck four miles out to sea. I can not tell you about it by writing, ask me when I get home.

May 15. Today we visited the Norfolk navy yard comprising 100 acres of land with large brick buildings for officers' quarter and barracks for the men, work shops, store houses, etc. We had the pleasure of seeing four torpedo boats and two torpedo boat destroyers. Went aboard the coast defense gun boat, Nevada. A rare treat awaited us for we went alongside the old Olympia, the flagship of Manilla bay fame. Saw a diver at work beneath the water, then we went on to the submarine boats one of which was out on the ways and we had our curiosity fully satisfied. Our guide took us to see two large battleships come alongside the dock. One poor "Jackie" fell about 12 feet and the last we saw of him he was lying on the dock and the surgeon was trying to bring him back to life.

In the park we saw some old cannons captured from the Britishers and this alone is worth the price. We visited an old church yard and saw the last resting place of the mortal remains of old settlers buried in the year of 1757. I must not forget to speak of the dry docks. Our Uncle Sam has two in working order in one of which was a torpedo boat being repaired. The U. S. is now completing one to dock the largest battleship afloat. It is truly wonderful. Tomorrow we go to Williamsburg, the old colonial capital, then by teams to Yorktown. Dr. North and wife, Mrs. Spayde and Bessie left early this a. m. for Washington by way of the Potomac river.

As ever,
S. P. HOSMER.

A Letter.

Chicago, May 18, 1907.

Editor of Tecumseh HERALD.

DEAR SIR:—Enclosed please find my check for $1 25 to cover subscription to the Tecumseh HERALD for 2 year or for such time as that will cover. I am not familiar with your terms of subscription. My mother, Mrs. A. B. Wisner of your vicinity, one of your correspondents for many years, sends me copies from time to time, but I desire weekly news of my old home locality and know of no better means of obtaining it than the old reliable Tecumseh HERALD.

Very sincerely yours,
CARL V. WISNER

Stenographers Were Robbed.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 21.—In the arrest of George Norton Monday, the police believe they have arrested one of the boldest thieves that has ever visited this city. Sunday two stenographers in the Morton house and Livingston hotel reported to the police that their pocketbooks had been stolen from their desks. Miss Mary Preston, stenographer at the Morton house, told of a well-dressed stranger who dictated a letter to her and then asked her for some stamps. When she went to the clerk for them and returned she found the well-dressed man, her keys and pocketbook missing. A similar case was reported to the police by Mrs. Alice Waters at the Livingston hotel. The good-looking stranger was later arrested by the detectives. He was searched and sev ladies' pocketbooks, many desk keys and a gold-handled knife set with diamonds were found on his person. He told the detectives that he was a tailor from New York.

Smoking a Pipe.

The Canadian Cigar and Tobacco Journal gives some hints to those who smoke pipes. Everybody thinks he knows how to smoke a pipe, but to do it perfectly is not easy. "Time is a keynote of successful pipe smoking," says the Journal, "and another is gentleness. Take it easy. Don't crowd the pipe to the top of the bowl. Never get a pipe hot. Keep cool, and keep your pipe cool. You can relight a pipe, and if you are an old smoker you will be all the better for it. When you have finished do not refill a heated pipe."

Toledo's "White City."

Work on "White City", Toledo's beautiful new summer resort is now nearly completed and there is no doubt that the opening will occur May 25th. It will be a most beautiful park, its buildings and other improvements representing an expenditure of $250,000 and will contain every moral amusement known to park managing craft. The attractions are, most of them, new and the others are those that created so much comment at "White City" Chicago.

"White City" enjoys the proud distinction of being a strictly moral park, the only one in Toledo in which all intoxicating liquors is barred and the only one in which all attractions that would tend the most supercritical person, have been eliminated. "White City" is therefore a place where the safety of women and children is assured, a place where they may enjoy themselves and not be subject to any objectionable features of parks where liquor is sold.

A feature of "White City" is the Van Doren Military band of 35 pieces, which has been engaged to play two concerts daily. In addition to this, attractions will be brought to "White City" each week to be enjoyed free of charge, to give you an idea, we will say that Roy Knabenshue and his airship will be at "White City" for the week of June 9. Other attractions equally good have been engaged and you will find that "there is always something doing" at the great "White City."

Capability marks some men and importance others, but that indispensability attaches to none.

Wonderful eczema cure.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years" writes N. A. Adams, Hemletta, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors but no benefit resulted. We read of Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until our boy was cured." It's Clean and Fresh When You Get It

There is no chance for dust or dirt to harm the sweet, clean fine cut in a package of "Blot." You know how often the fine cut you buy out of open buckets or in wax paper bags looks as if it needed washing—but how could it be clean in such a package?

We take no chance with Blot Chewing Tobacco, but pack it in a heavy paper, tinfoil-wrapped package that fits the pocket. That's why is always fresh and moist, clean and sweet—just exactly like you want your chewing tobacco to be.

BLOT
CHEWING TOBACCO

"Blot" is never dry, tasteless or dusty—the package prevents that. And the revenue stamp absolutely guarantees full weight for your money—that's something you are not sure of when you buy tobacco out of a bucket or in other packages.

Dr. King's New Discovery's power over coughs and colds is simply marvelous." No other remedy has ever equaled it. Fully guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

SCHOOL EXHIBIT

The Pupils of the First Eight Grades of the

TECUMSEH SCHOOLS

Last Friday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 the work of the pupils of our schools was given in the club room of the public library. The work of the first eight grades was on exhibition and it was the largest and one of the best school art exhibits ever held in Tecumseh.

It was viewed by many spectators through the day and all pronounced it fine. There was work in water colors, designs for book covers and wall paper, calendar designs representing the four seasons and pen sketches from the older ones. Various drawings were shown by the younger ones, the class in kindergarten work exhibiting their woven mats.

On the whole the work was a credit to every pupil participating and it shows that already some of them have developed a great talent for work of this kind. An exhibit of this kind was held here last year, but this year's work shows a great improvement over that of last year.

Committees for Decoration Day.

The meeting at the council room last Friday evening called by Mayor Combs to arrange for Decoration day, was largely attended by the Grand Army boys and a few other citizens. We trust that this apparent indifference on the part of our business men and citizens generally was not that they are oht of harmony with the movement and that now when the time for action comes they will get into the harness and work with enthusiasm to once again secure for Tecumseh, a good old fashioned patriotic observance of this National festival of our heroic deceased soldiers.

With Mayor Combs presiding, the following officers and committees were appointed:

President of the day—Fred D. Teachout.

Finch and Fred Aldrich, together with all other patriotic ladies willing to help, the children from the several schools and all the Grand Army comrades, with Henry W. Stevens as their chairman.

THE NEW REMEDY.

Take it now that vacation days are fast approaching.

Thousands of men and women are anxiously looking forward to the vacation days that come in June, July and August—not so much for the pleasure or enjoyment as for the chance of getting rid of their ill health.

To thoroughly drive away troubles of the stomach most people think they have to make a business of it with dieting, exercise and perhaps a vacation.

But Mi-o-na stomach tablets taken with regularity, in a very few days will drive away indigestion, dizzy spells, distress after eating, headaches, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms of bad digestion and sluggishness of the digestive organs that keep people from enjoying themselves.

Day after day, at work behind desks or in the factory with poor sunlight and air, soon results in sluggishness of the entire physical and mental apparatus. The first slight symptoms of indigestion can be easily cured, but when they are allowed to increase without any help, then the stomach complaints become hard to shake off.

Strengthen the whole digestive system with Mi-o-na and you will soon find that both stomach and bowels do their work as they should.

C. A. Wright sells Mi-o-na in 50-cent boxes and guarantees to refund the money if the remedy does not give complete satisfaction.

Mrs. Geo. Teachout, living on Oneida street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I take great pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. Last fall I began to have a great deal of trouble with my kidneys causing intense pains in my back, extending to my shoulder blades. While bending, sharp pains would catch me and I could hardly straighten. At night I could not rest well on account of the frequent action of the kidneys. I doctored with a physician but received no benefit to speak of. I had heard a good deal about the results effected by Doan's Kidney Pills so I began using them. I soon noticed the good effects and I continued taking them until I was entirely cured. I would recommend them to anyone afflicted with kidney trouble."

Midland, Mich., May 21.—Midland residents, particularly firemen, are wrathy over false fire alarms that have been turned in several times in the middle of the night the last few nights. Not Fatal.

No Matter What Doctors Say—We Know That Heart Trouble in Many Cases Can Be Cured.

There are seven main features of heart disease, viz.: (1) Weakness or Debility; (2) Rheumatism or Neuralgia; (3) Valvular Disorder; (4) Dilation; (5) Enlargement; (6) Fatty Degeneration; (7) Dropsy.

Documentary evidence will prove thousands of so-called "incurables" have been absolutely cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Patients often have no idea their disease is heart trouble, but ascribe it to Indigestion, Liver Complaint, etc.

Here are some of the symptoms: Shortness of breath after exercise. Smothering Spells. Pain in Chest, left Shoulder and arm. Discomfort in Lying on one side. Fainting Spells. Nervous Cough. Swelling of Feet and Ankles. Paleness of Face and Lips. Palpitation. Nightmare. Irregular Pulse.

"I have great faith in Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and speak of its merits whenever opportunity presents. I can now go up and down stairs with ease, where three weeks ago I could hardly walk one block." One year later.—"I am still in good health; the Heart Cure did so much for me, that I find it a far greater medicine than you claimed it to be."—S. D. YUNG, D. D., 697 North Pine St., Natchez, Miss.

RIOTS BREAK OUT.

Black Hundreds Again Attack Populace in Odessa.

Odessa, May 21.—The superintendent of police of Odessa and the two chief detectives of this city were killed and seven other persons were seriously injured by the explosion of an infernal machine in the Central Police Bureau Monday morning. The machine was deposited in the bureau, just before it exploded, by two men and a girl. The police pursued, wounded and captured the men, but the girl escaped. The leader of the trio turned out to be a terrorist named Tchertkoff.

Following the assassination, serious rioting occurred, and the Black Hundreds ran wild through the streets, mercilessly beating people, particularly Jews, more than a hundred of whom were seriously injured soon after the disturbance began.

The police apparently remained passive spectators of the disorders. No arrests were made and the Black Hundreds continued their work of revenge unchecked.

Irish Are Against Bill.

Dublin, May 21.—A great number of delegates from all parts of Ireland have assembled here to attend the convention which will decide whether to accept or reject the bill to provide for the establishment and functions of an administrative council for Ireland and for other purposes connected therewith, brought in the house of commons by Chief Secretary for Ireland Birrell on May 7. More than 2,000 delegates are here, but it will be impossible for them all to attend the conference since the hall of meeting has room for only 500 persons. It would appear to be a foregone conclusion that the bill will be rejected. The clergy have opposed it unanimously, and all the rank and file of young Ireland are bitter against it. The leaders are in conference.

Goes to Prison in An Auto.

New York, May 21.—"Abe" Hummel Monday began the sevice of a one-year's sentence in the Blackwell island penitentiary for conspiracy, growing out of his connection with the Dodge-Morse divorce litigation. Hummel started for the penitentiary from his home in East 73rd street in an automobile and without a guard. He had been at liberty on bail and had given his promise that he would go to prison yesterday. A big crowd was gathered in front of the Hummel residence when the little lawyer dashed out of a basement door, holding a large handkerchief in front of his face. He ran to the curb, jumped into the closed automobile and a moment later was whirled away toward the prison.

Pierson Gets Long Sentence.

Saginaw, Mich., May 21.—Benjamin F. Pierson pleaded guilty Monday to absconding with Pere Marquette funds to the amount of about $2,000, while cashier of the railroad's freight office in this city. Judge William Glover Gage sentenced him to from two to five years in the Jackson prison. Pierson left Saginaw early in April and went to Seattle, where he was apprehended a few weeks ago. A plea of not guilty was entered at the preliminary hearing, but when brought into the circuit court yesterday, he pleaded guilty. It was thought he could square up the shortage, as he is reported to have been a beneficiary in the insurance of his father, who died a short time ago. Pierson lived in Saginaw about three years and has a wife and two children.

Reported Corey Has Resigned.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 21.—It is the general belief here that W. E. Corey is no longer head of the United States Steel corporation but that his resignation was demanded and written before he married Mabelle Gilman. It is stated that President Corey made it a condition of his retirement that the corporation should take official notice of the marriage and that the Pittsburg end of the corporation should be officially represented at it to show the world that his friends had not gone back on him altogether. This taken to account for the presence of Chairman Gary of the steel corporation and President Dinkey, of the Carnegie Steel Co., at the Corey wedding.

DID MID-AIR STUNT.

Intoxicated Lineman Walks a Cable at Night While a Breathless Crowd Watched.

Owosso, Mich., May 21.—Andrew Simmington, a Flint lineman, 25 years of age, had 500 people breathless with fear for him last night, when he performed a stunt, 60 feet from the ground, which most men prefer a clear head and daylight to do, if they do it at all.

It is said that Simmington has been drinking for several days and was considerably under the influence last evening when he climbed a telephone pole, and trusting to a light wire only as his guide, started to walk on the cable to the next pole, 100 feet away. No one dared shout a warning as the young man was so unsteady it was seen that a single movement might hurl him to the pavement.

After he had walked half the distance to the other pole, the cable swaying dangerously beneath him, he evidently realized his peril, for after pausing a moment to rest, he began retracing his steps. He did not dare turn around, but backed up the entire distance.

On two different occasions one foot slipped from the cable, but the slender wire held and he managed to reach the pole in safety. Ten feet from the pavement on the way down the pole he collapsed and fell, bruising himself severely on the curb.

Officer George Denyes was waiting to receive him and Simmington is in the city jail. It is reported that Simmington made his perilous trip on a wager, while another assertion is tha he saw two wires crossed and went up the pole to untangle them.

He will probably be arraigned in the municipal court as a disorderly.

Peverett Has Reformed.

Kalamazoo, Mich., May 21.—Frank Peverett, alias Whitey Black, a bank robber and former member of the Lake Shore gang, said yeterday while returning to Marquette, whence he escaped, that he had been converted sinc his escape. He said that he would devote the remainder of his five years in stripes to the study of the bible, preparing himself for the ministry to do evangelistic work among crooks.

Express Train Derailed.

Utica, N. Y., May 21.—The Buffalo & Cleveland express, westbound, ran into a deailed freight train four miles east of Little Falls at 1:40 this morning and all but four Pullman coaches were thrown from the track. Ten persons were injured.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

No Change Necessary In Rexall Remedies

The new Pure Food Law requires every patent medicine manufacturer to tell just what dangerous drug is in his medicine. Certain periodicals interested in patent medicine reform have declared that the formulas of many patent medicines will have to be changed before the manufacturers will dare conform with this law. These periodicals also declare that the public will never know of these changes, and never know what these remedies formerly contained.

This suspicion, however, cannot rest upon Rexall Remedies. You have absolute proof that Rexall Remedies have not been changed to conform with the new Pure Food Law, because you knew the formulas of these remedies four years ago! The Rexall formulas were never secret. The thousand Rexall druggists have always known all the Rexall formulas and given them to every customer who asked for them.

No one Rexall Remedy was ever claimed to be a "cure-all"—each of the 300 remedies is designed to cure a certain human ill—and does it. These 300 remedies were selected from among thousands because they were the most reliable and successful cures in the world. Far from wishing to conceal the formulas of these remedies, we are proud to tell just what they are, and always have been.

That's where the Rexall plan goes further to safeguard you than does the Pure Food Law. Even now you'll only know the dangerous drugs in other patent medicines, while you have always been able to know the complete formulas of Rexall Remedies!

The Rexall guarantee has been the greatest evidence of the sincerity back of the Rexall Remedies. For four years Rexall druggists have offered to return the money to any one who brought back an empty Rexall bottle or package and said they were not satisfied.

We, as one of the Rexall druggists, feel a genuine satisfaction in having been able to supply this community for four years with one line of medicines which the United States Government by its new Pure Food Law shows were always made right and sold right, and have deserved every bit of the faith you have had in them.

The Pure Food Law may necessitate changes in other medicines, but it only endorses Rexall Remedies.

B. J. PULVER

FOR CATARRH—MUCU-TONE

The chief ingredients of Mucu-Tone are Gentian, Cubebs, Cascara Sagrada, Glycerine and Sarsaparilla.

Gentian is recognized in medicine as one of the greatest tonics ever discovered. It combines the tonic powers of all known "Bitters," with none of the disadvantages applying to any.

Cubebs have long been recognized as a specific in the treatment of all catarrhal conditions. Its action is prompt and its benefit almost invariable.

Cascara Sagrada is especially introduced for its unapproachable laxative properties. The combination of these with Glycerine and Sarsaparilla makes Mucu-Tone a remedy that attacks catarrh from every point and gradually restores the diseased tissues. Bottle, 50c.

FOR NERVES — AMERICANITIS ELIXIR

The wonderful results of this remedy are due to the fact that it supplies Phosphorous to the nerve cells in a condition in which it can be immediately and easily taken up by them.

The Glycophosphates, actual nerve-tissue builders, are one of the most recent and valuable additions to this branch of medicine and unquestionably a more efficient remedy than the well-known Hypophosphites.

The Iron Pyrophosphates are the most easily assimilated form of iron which give tone and color, and the combined alkaloids of Calisaya Bark have a tonic effect on almost all the functions of the body. 75c. and $1.50 a bottle.

REXALL "93" HAIR TONIC

Resorcin is one of the latest and most effective germ-killers discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which not only destroys the germs which rob the hair of its nutriment, but creates a clean and healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpin is a well-known agent for restoring the hair to its natural color, where the loss of color has been due to a disease of the scalp. It is not a coloring matter or dye.

This combination of curatives mixed with alcohol as a stimulant, perfects the most effective remedy for hair and scalp troubles known today. Per bottle, 50c.

"REXALL" ORDERLIES
The New Laxative

If you suffer from constipation or a sluggish liver, we want you to try this newest member of the Rexall family. It has never failed.

"Rexall" Orderlies have all the virtues and none of the defects of those laxatives and cathartics already known. They are harmless vanilla-flavored tablets that effect a re-adjustment of Nature's functions—no griping, no nausea, no purging.

Pleasant to the taste—they give immediate relief.

A trial will prove to you that they are the best laxative and cathartic ever prescribed.

MAKE WARM REPORT

Minority Members of Taxation Committee File It.

HITS TELEGRAPH COMPANIES

Representatives Dust and Thompson Desire to Tax Message Transporters Ad Valorem Instead of by Percentage Method.

Lansing, Mich., May 24.—The first minority report of the session on any bill will be submitted to the house by Rep. W. T. Dust, republican, of Detoit and Stacy C. Thompson, democrat, of Manistee and it will be a warm one. It is on the Dust bill to bring telegraph, telephone and express companies on an ad valorem basis for taxation. Their taxes are now a percentage on their gross earnings.

There have been half a dozen or more hearings on the bill. The other six members of the committee on taxation—Rep. Galbraith, who is chairman; J. H. Monroe, J. A. Barry, Henry Vandeer Veen, L. I. Kelley and N. F. Simpson—signed a majority report to have express companies taxed ad valorem, but to continue the percentage method for telephone and telegraph companies. The minoity report contains, in part, the following:

What It Contains.

"We, the undersigned, members of the house committee on taxation, hereby vigorously protest against the majority report of house bill 301 to tax telephone and telegraph companies upon the ad valorem plan for the following reasons:

"Because the present system of taxing the telephone and telegraph companies three per cent upon their gross income, in lieu of all other taxes, is inadequate and unfair to the state. In computing the three per cent tax on their earnings all interstate business is excluded. The bill which was before the committee abandons this method of taxation and places them upon the ad valorem basis with all of the rest of the public utility corporations.

Robbing the Schools.

"In exempting the telegraph companies from the average rate of taxation, the benefits derived therefrom go into the pocket of the Goulds and Mackays, New York millionaires, and we feel that this should not be done at the expense of the education of the 750,000 school children in Michigan.

"We are in favor of the proposed bill because we do not believe in taxing the laboring man $16.40 on his little home worth $1,000, while we tax the telegroph companies on a like valuation the sum of $2.74.

"The chief argument of the telephone companies is that they are too poor to pay the average rate. If this is so how can the Michigan Telephone Co. afford to offer gratis telephone franks to members of the legislature and keep a professional lobbyist in Lansing to watch the proposed bill?

"We protest against the majority report of this bill in the name of common fairness and common decency. We protest against it in the name of every individual taxpayer; every copartnership, and every corporation of this state, and lastly we protest against it in behalf of the 750,000 school children and 16,000 school teachers in this state in whose interest these taxes are collected."

Pathmaster Must Go.

Gov. Warner Thursday signed a bill that ends the system under which farmers from one end of the state to the other have built and repaired their roads since the days of the territorial government.

The bill was introduced by Senator Ely, himself a farmer. In the earlier days all farmers paid their road taxes by working a given number of days on the roads with their teams. Then, as the counties were settled and farmers became prosperous, many of hem accepted the option of paying their taxes with money. But the system was always far from being satisfactory, because there were often scores of pathmasters in a single township, and they built and worked roads independently of each other sometimes intelligently, sometimes otherwise.

The new law abolishes the office of pathmaster and requires that in every organized township all road taxes must be paid in money. Each township is made a single road district. Two funds are created, a road repair fund and a permanent improvement fund. All road work shall be done under the supervision of one township road inspector, who shall have one assistant. The town meeting annually shall designate the amount to be raised for the roads, but it shall not exceed 50 cents on each $100 valuation.

JOHN BELL MUST DIE.

Sentenced to Be Electrocuted for Killing Physician.

HE IS QUICKLY CONVICTED.

He Believed Dr. Charles W. Townsend Was to Blame for Wife's Death—Condemned Man Made Impassioned Appeal to Jury.

New York, May 24.—"I am no Harry K. Thaw—but plain John Bell. I have no wealth—but if I had, I could produce witnesses whose testimony would acquit me."

With these words, a Brooklyn trolley car conductor closed an impassioned address to the jury that three hours later was to find him guilty of murder in the first degree.

Bell, a young man of mediocre attainments, was happily married a few years ago. A year after the wedding his wife died in childbirth. Dr. Wilmont Townsend, a prominent physician of Staten Island had attended her. On the humble stone that marked her grave, Bell caused to be chiseled:

Revenge renews our happy love in Heaven.

He was inconsolable and for months brooded over his affliction. To his friends he expressed the conviction that his wife had not received proper medical care.

On the night of January 29, last, Dr. Townsend was shot to death in his bed. He had been awakened by the intruder and exclaimed: "If you are here to rob, take what you can find, but do not harm my family or me."

The supposed burglar replied: "I want none of your things; I want you," and fired. Mrs. Townsend, who was in the bed with her husband, was the sole witness of the murder.

A letter subsequently written by Bell caused his arrest, and in court his own family, with the exception of his father, who was excused, appeared against him. A half-brother testified that Bell confessed to having killed the physician for revenge.

Bell was the only witness for the defense and the trial, held at Richmond, was not prolonged. Thursday afternoon the case was given to the jury and last night's verdict of murder in the first degree was returned. Judge Abbot denied a motion for a new trial and forthwith sentenced the prisoner to be electrocuted on the first Monday in July next. Bell received the verdict and sentence stolidly, and retained control when his stepmother and sister fainted.

Bell denied the confession attributed to him by his half-brother, and said he carried the weapon because he had contemplated suicide; and explained the tomb's instriction that had been used against him, by declaring that vandals had stolen the flowers which he had daily placed on his wife's grave, and that when the headstone was erected he resolved to punish the thieves. He claimed to have spent the night of the murder in the Bowery.

Well-Known Editor Passes Away.

Port Huron, Mich., May 24.—After but a two hours' illness with neuralgia of the heart, John Murray, aged 50 years, for 35 years a resident of this city, and well known throughout the state as a newspaper man, died on Thursday morning. Mr. Murray was a writer of ability and his editorials, particularly on political matters, gave him a wide reputation as a wit. For years he had been connected with the Port Huron Herald. He was postmaster at one time, and once was a candidate for state senator. A widow survives.

Elope and Wed.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 24.—George Van Sands, a Chicago civil engineer, and Miss Marian Prince of Lansing, daughter of A. B. Prince, are the principals of an elopement to this city. The couple arrived here Wednesday afternoon and secured a license of County Clerk Mosher. They were then quietly married and the groom made a strenuous effort to suppress the affair, but it got out. Van Sands not long since figured in a sensational Chicago divorce case in which he charged that his wife was hypnotized and held prisoner by her mother, drank to excess and smoked cigarettes.

A narrow escape.

G. W. Clovd, a merchant, of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape 4 years ago when he ran a jimson burr into his thumb. He says "the doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's arnica salve which cured the wound." 25c at C. A. Wright's

ON HER DEATH BED.

Mrs. William McKinley Is Dying at Her Home in Canton.

STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY.

Wife of Martyred President Has Been In Unusually Feeble Health All Winter—Doctors Declare She Can Live But Day or Two.

Canton, O., May 24.—Attendants at the bedside of Mrs. McKinley at 1:30 o'clock this morning thought her condition was somewhat improved.

Canton, O., May 24.—After a consultation Thursday afternoon at the McKinley home by Dr. E. C. Portman, the family physician of Mrs. William William McKinley, widow of the martyred president, and Dr. J. F. Eyman, superintendent of the Massillon state hospital, a physician of wide reputation, a statement was issued that there were no indications that Mrs. McKinley could long survive an attack of apoplexy from which she is suffering and which seized her earlier in the day. The doctors say, however, that they think dissolution will not come for a day or two. Mrs. McKinley is in a comatose condition.

Telegrams from all parts of the country have been pouring into Canton, anxiously inquiring as to Mrs. McKinley's condition, and evincing widespread sorrow over the announcement of her critical illnesss.

Suffered Attack of Grip.

Mrs. McKinley has been ill nearly all winter, having suffered a severe attack of grip some months ago, followed later by bronchitis. The physicians say that in her weakened condition she was an easy victim to the disease with which she was stricken Thursday. She is nearing the sixtieth anniversary of her birth, and as is well known, has long been in feeble health. Mrs. McKinley gave up knitting recently, and this was taken as an indication that her hold on life was slight. Ever since the tragic death of her husband she has found solace in knitting slippers for friends and invalids. Of late Mrs. McKinley has been obliged to keep close within doors, but before that she was in the habit of taking daily walks and of riding to the cemetery with flowers to place upon the casket which contains the body of her late husband.

Dr. Portman last night found a slight change for the better in Mrs. McKinley's condition. When spoken to she opened her eyes slightly. Dr. Portman, however, said the change was not such as would lead him to expect any great improvement.

Mrs. McKinley was Ida Saxton, a daughter of a well-known bank preident of Canton prior to her marriage to the third of America's martyred presidents. The only two children born to the McKinley household were Ida, who was born in 1871 and died thirteen months later, and another daughter, Kale, who lived to be only three and a half years old. Mrs. McKinley's health was shattered about that time, and she has never walked without assistance.

For several months following the death of President McKinley, her life was despaired of. The little strength that enabled her to survive a train of crushing sorrows has been waning recently. So rapidly has been her decline that her friends have been much alarmed about her for several months.

New York, May 24.—Secretary George B. Cortelyou left for Canton last night upon hearing of the critical illness in that city of Mrs. William McKinley.

MARY WROTE PRESIDENT

Asks Pardon for Step-Father Incarcerated in Jackson Prison.

Washington, May 24.—The president has received from a little girl named Mary Wagner, a letter pleading for the pardon of her step-father, John Allison, who was arrested and convicted in Michigan a number of years ago of bank robbery and had served six years of a long sentence in the penitentiary when he escaped, since which time he is said to have been living an exemplary life. Some weeks ago he was re-arrested and again committed to the Jackson penitentiary.

The letter to the president was referred to the department of justice, and the department has mailed to the little girl an application blank for pardon and notifying her of the conditions necessary in order to have the application considered. While the department has no positive knowledge of the circumstances of the case, it is the opinion of the officials that it is one entirely within the jurisdiction of the state authorities in which the national government cannot interfere.

Alleged He Brutally Whipped Boy.

Mashall, Mich., May 24.—A warrant will be issued for the arrest of George Glynn, a Lee township farmer, charged with brutally whipping Clyde Sprague, 12 years old. The lad was formerly an inmate of the Coldwater school and is now living with L. Stevens, a farmer, for whom he works so he can attend school. Glynn claims that the boy, with others, threw stones at his sheep and that he broke a leg of one of his lambs. Neighbors, who saw or heard of the alleged beating, called the matter to the attention of School Commissioner and Truant Officer Reed, who investigated and found the boy in a badly bruised condition. When the officials interviewed Glynn he is alleged to have said that he wished he had tied the boy to a tree and given him a good lashing. The officials will make the complaint

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred dollars for any case of deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The Best Laxative for Children.

A timely incident played a very important part in the recent [illegible] in the Presbyterian church. It seems that a young lady had written a letter to her mother substituting her own name and that of her lover. The mother raved with anger and stamped her foot in disgust, forbidding her daughter to have anything to do with a man who wrote such notes to such a girl. The girl took away the letter to her mother to read and the house became coquiet so we could hear the snowflakes falling in the back yard.—Petersburg Sun.

At a funeral held near Muskegon recently something occurred which was original, startling and sensational in character. After the last sad rites had been performed by a gentleman of the cloth over the remains of the deceased, a photograph was brought forward and placed on the casket and the assembled mourners and their friends heard the voice of the dead man singing one of his favorite hymns. The paradox of a man singing at his own funeral is believed to be the first on record and the innovation opens up a new possibility. If the custom grows, dead men may soon be preaching their own funeral sermons.—Ousted News.

CROPS COME TO RELIEF.

Red Cross Will Forward No More Funds to China.

Washington, May 24.—The Red Cross has formally announced that it will no longer receive contributions of money or provisions for the relief of the Chinese famine sufferers, the famine having been broken by the ripening of the new crops. The official notice is as follows:

"The American National Red Cross has received in money contributions for the Chinese famine relief since the work was begun on December 24, last, $220,000, and has received besides a large quantity of seed wheat and flour. Of the money thus contributed, the Christian Herald of New York collected $250,000. All of these contributions, except a small balance, have been forwarded to China, where the relief has been applied principally through the Shanghai Central Relief committee, composed of foreign consuls, prominent merchants and Chinese gentry and the missionary relief committee of Christians.

"The transport Buford, which was tendered to the Red Cross with a cargo of supplies valued at over $300,000, provided by the Christian Herald, is due to arrive at Chinkiang, China, on the 20th of this month. The season is near at hand when the new crops will be available for food. The reports indicate that these measures of relief provided by Americans and forwarded through the Red Cross, have proved of vast benefit and have doubtless prevented thousands of deaths and untold suffering. The emergency seems to have passed, and notice is hereby given by the Red Cross that further contributions are not required."

That the reputation for fast baseball in southern Michigan league is spreading is reflected by efforts of Tom Daley, manager of the Harrisburg club, in the old Tri-State league of Pennsylvania, to get either Pitcher Maire from Kalamazoo, or Doty from Tecumseh. The Kalamazoo management prize Maire highly. He has won both games pitched this year, both shut-outs and both almost hitless. Doty has been doing almost as well.

Maire is stronger and possibly a little younger than Doty, who is himself a big, strong young man. Both are just right as a prospect in much higher company.—Detroit Free Press.

Blaisdell—Erlenbush.

Miss Bertha Blaisdell, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Blaisdell, and John Erlenbush were married at the home of the groom's sister in Tecumseh Saturday afternoon, Rev. Moon performing the ceremony. They were attended by Miss Mary Erlenbush of Ann Arbor, sister of the groom, and Lester Blaisdell brother of the bride. The wedding was to have taken place at the home of the bride's parents in this village but it was necessary to change the plans as the groom was taken with the measles.

After the ceremony the bride returned to her home where a number of friends and relatives were waiting to extend best wishes and leave with her many beautiful and useful gifts. A splendid wedding supper was served and the bride returned to Tecumseh on the evening train. Mr. and Mrs. Erlenbush will go to housekeeping in Tecumseh where he is employed in the Anthony Fencel works.—Manchester Enterprise.

Elmer Snedicor.

Elmer E. Snedicor, assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has resigned his position at Adrian to accept a similar one at Omaha, Neb. The resignation takes place tomorrow, May 24, after which Mr. Snedicor will spend a couple of weeks in Tecumseh to enjoy a much needed rest before assuming his duties at Omaha. The Adrian Times says the following in regard to his Y. M. C. A. life:

Mr. Snedicor has been in the Association work as an employed officer for one year and 8 months, although previous to that time he was more or less active in it. He has been assistant secretary in this city since one year ago last November, and following the resignation of R. D. Collins, assumed the office of secretary, but was not elected to fill that office. His first position as an employed officer was held in Chinook, Montana. During Mr. Snedicor's administration in this city, though short, he has proved himself to be an efficient and capable man for the place, and the knack of making friends has materially assisted him in the work.

The affairs of the Association have been rapidly approaching the highest standard of excellence under his direction, and when he goes from this city, Adrian will lose one of the best men that ever occupied his position. Mr. Snedicor has familiarized himself with every phase of Association work, and is well able to qualify in any position of honor and trust to which he may be appointed. A man placed as he has been must, of necessity, make at least a few friends, but Mr. Snedicor has made a large circle of warm personal friends who will while regreting his departure wish him the best of success in his future work.

The HERALD joins with the many friends of Mr. Snedicor in wishing him success in his work.

Titus—Moilles.

The marriage of Miss Lena Titus to Richard Moilles took place at the bride's home Wednesday evening at 7:30 about 50 guests being present. The couple mingled with their guests until the appointed hour when Rev. Dunning spoke the words which united them using the ring service. The parlor was prettily trimmed with apple blossoms and it was before a tall mirror and large sprays of these blossoms that their vows were taken. The bride wore a pretty white dress, lace trimmed.

At the close of the ceremony a three course supper was served. The bride's table was trimmed with smilax and pink and white carnations. Small tables were used for the other guests. Anna Cutting, Lina Havens, Fern Hanford, Allie Cutting, Julia Hendershot and Mrs. F. A. Osborn serving while Mrs. Polly Mattis catered. Mr. and Mrs. Moilles received a large number of gifts which shows the esteem in which they are held by their numerous friends.

They will be at home in their apartments at Miss Alice Wimple's after June 10. Among the guests from out of town were Mr and Mrs. W. A. Lowe of Adrian, Mrs. Gracia Moilles of Saginaw, Charles Anthony of Windsor, and Mrs. Duncan Caldwell of Chicago.

"BLUE DEVILS"

Get rid of indigestion and things will look bright and joyous.

Even in the present era of prosperity and good times everything appears black to those people who are suffering wretchedly from some form of indigestion. Where digestion is quick, complete and easy there is a joyous and hopeful outlook, but indigestion causes depression.

The want of a safe, effective cure for sick headache, indigestion and stomach troubles, was always felt until the prescription known as Mi-o-na stomach tablets was put up in popular form and proved its invariable success in the many forms of indigestion.

After a few days use of Mi-o-na stomach tablets the headache, dizzy feeling, drowsiness, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, nervousness, sleeplessness, distress after eating—all these symptoms of a weak stomach—will disappear and perfect digestion and a good skin will show that the vital machinery is once more running smoothly.

Mi-o-na is to be taken before each meal and it will stimulate the secretive and digestive juices and strengthen the whole of the digestive system so that the unpleasant full feeling will be abset and indigestion prevented.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold only in a neat metal box convenient for the vestpocket and cost 50 cents. C. A. Wright has seen so many cures made by Mi-o-na stomach tablets that he gives a guarantee with every box that the money will be refunded if the remedy fails to give satisfaction.

DEATH

Again Enters our midst

ARTHUR ARMOUR

Of Macon, takes his own life. Three elderly ladies answer the summer.

Arthur Armour, a young man 23 years of age and only child of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Armour, became completely discouraged and so despondent that he thought he was better dead than living so committed suicide by blowing his brains out with a shot gun Tuesday morning. He went to the barn to do the chores and as he did not come in to breakfast or respond to calls, his father went to search for him and found him lying on the floor with the entire top of his head blown off. The funeral was held from the home Thursday at two o'clock. Burial in Macon cemetery.

Mrs. Wm. Bradley died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Wilson, yesterday morning after a two weeks' illness. She leaves to mourn beside her two children, Mrs. Wilson and Frank Bradley, both of this place, seven grandchildren and two great grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends. The funeral will be held at the residence Sunday afternoon at 3:00, Rev. Dunning officiating. Burial at Brookside.

Mrs. Mary Thorpe died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Tyson, west of Tipton at an early hour Wednesday morning of a general breaking down, aged 80 years. She leaves beside the daughter, one son, Frank Ball, of Rollin.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the residence at 10:30, burial at North Adrian. Rev. Blanch Young of this place will officiate. Mrs. Thorpe was formerly a resident of Tecumseh.

Mrs. Jennie Cadwell died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Cadwell, Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 after an illness of six months. The funeral was held from the house this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Ward officiating. Burial at Brookside.

Is you cut your finger you don't attempt to heal it by sollowing a pill or a dose of medicine.

It is just as foolish to try and cure catarrh of the nose and throat with pills and stomach dosing, for catarrh is a local disease and needs special local healing treatment.

The only natural and common sense method known for the cure of cattarhal troubles is Hy-o-mei. It is breathed through an ingenious pocket inhaler, so that its medicated air reaches the most remote air-cells of the nose, throat and lungs, killing all catarrhal germs, soothing the irritated mucous membranes, and restoring a healthy condition.

If you suffer from catarrhal troubles, such as offensive breath, raising of mucous, frequent sneezing, husky voice, discharge from the nose, droppings in throat, loss of strength, spasmodic coughing, or a feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest, you should begin to use Hy-o-mei at once. It will destroy all disease germs in the nose, throat and lungs, and provide the blood with additional ozone.

The complete Hy-o-mei outfit with inhaler costs but $1.00. So strong is C. A. Wright's faith in the power of Hy-o-mei to cure all catarrhal troubles that with every dollar outfit, he gives an ironclad guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy gives satisfaction.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

INTERNAL PARASITES.

Cooper's New Discovery has taught me many things. Not least of which is that parasites or tape worms as they are called are responsible for an immense amount of suffering. Thousands of these creatures have been brought to me by people who have taken the New Discovery and I now know that an immense amount of supposed stomach trouble is caused in reality by one of these parasites. A man or woman may be afflicted in this manner for years and not realize the true cause of their suffering. When I first sold Cooper's New Discovery I did not know that the medicine would remove this trouble. I have since found that it invariably does so. The following letter is a fair sample of the symptoms as experienced by an individual thus affected:

NICK EMMERICK.

"I was always tired. My stomach bloated and the slightest exertion made me sick, weak and dizzy. My appetite was variable and a good nights sleep was unknown to me. When I awoke in the mornings I had a bad taste in my mouth and a coated tongue. I heard of the wonderful benefits that were being derived from Cooper's New Discovery, and decided to try it."

"The horrible tape worm, sixty feet long that had been sapping my life away, passed from my system alive and squirming after I had taken three doses. Now I have a splendid appetite, every trace of stomach trouble has disappeared and my digestion is good. I sleep well and am gaining in strength every day." Nick Emmerick, 1344 Louis Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

We are authorized agents for the Cooper medicines. Call and let us tell you more about them.

Some permit themselves to be enwrapped in life as in a net; others shape it into a garment to suit themselves.

IT'S ALWAYS BAD.

Backs are bad when they ache and Tecumseh women know it.

A bad back is always bad.
Bad at night when bedtime comes,
Just as bad in the morning.
Ever try Doan's Kidney Pills for it?
They cure backache, every kidney ill.
If you don't some Tecumseh people do
Read a case of it.

Mrs. Geo. Teachout, living on Oneida street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I take great pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. Last fall I began to have a great deal of trouble with my kidneys causing intense pains in my back, extending to my shoulder blades. While bending, sharp pains would catch me and I could hardly straighten. At night I could not rest well on account of the frequent action of the kidneys. I doctored with a physician but received no benefit to speak of. I had heard a good deal about the results effected by Doan's Kidney Pills so I began using them. I soon noticed the good effects and I continued taking them until I was entirely cured. I would recommend them to anyone afflicted with kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's,—and take no other.

Some girls' idea of true love is a man who will send flowers in winter, when roses are a dollar a throw.

Some people won't have anything new if they can buy it second hand.

Prevent Colds and Rheumatism.
If you do not have one natural, easy movement of the bowels each day, you are unnecessarily exposing your system to colds and rheumatism. Laxative Iron-ox Tablets tone and strengthen the bowels, so that they do the work nature intended.

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health in every way.

The children cannot possibly have good health unless the bowels are in proper condition. If not, correct any constipation by giving small laxative doses of Ayer's Pills. All vegetable, sugar coated.

Laxative Iron-ox Tablets
Cure Biliousness
The most common causes of biliousness is some perversion of the functions of the liver, or the retention of bile in the bile duct.
YELLOW SALLOW SKIN IS AN INDICATION OF BILIOUSNESS.
"Laxative Iron-ox Tablets are the best laxative I have ever used. They have cleared up my yellow skin as no other remedy had ever done, and I am 40 lbs. heavier than when I commenced using them." (Capt.) J. O. Dulyea, Soldiers' Home, Bath, N. Y.
Laxative Iron-ox Tablets tone and strengthen the bowels, and stimulate the secretions of the liver. If the bowels and liver are active and working harmoniously, waste matter and poisons which cause biliousness, stomach trouble, headache, backache, colds and rheumatism cannot accumulate in the system. 37

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

'TWAS VERY SEVERE.

Michigan's Storm and Cold Wave Did Great Damage.

SNOW FELL IN THE NORTH.

Two Vessels Driven Ashore Off Port Austin—Other Vessels Stranded—Fruit and Grain Now Under Cultivation, Feel Effects of Cold Snap.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 28.—Nothing like the present snow and wind storm was ever known at this time of year in northern Michigan. The peninsula is swept from end to end. There are six inches of snow here.

Business is practically tied up. The street railway is running sweepers the same as in the middle of the winter. The damage to business and to farmers will be heavy.

The worst May record previous to this was that of '94, when a very light flurry of snow occurred the last of the month.

Mackinaw City, Mich., May 28.—No one can remember a worse May day at the straits than Monday. At noon the wind had increased to 40 miles an hour, and the thick snow, which started in Sunday evening, continued to fall, or rather be driven by the gale.

Port Austin, Mich., May 28.—In the blinding snowstorm which lashed the surface of Lake Huron Sunday night the wooden steamer Bielman and her tow, the McLachlan, went on the rocks two miles above this port.

The crews of both boats were taken off by the life-savers. The schooner has been pounded to pieces and the Bielman is beginning to break up.

The Bielman, ore laden, was downbound from Escanaba to Lake Erie ports. The McLachlan was also deeply laden with ore. The two boats are valued at about $120,000.

The terrific northwest wind, the high sea and the blinding snow are supposed to have thrown Capt. Thomas Hanson out of his reckoning. The steamer and her tow went on the rocks together. The alarm reached the life-savers here about 8 a. m. After reaching the McLachlan and taking off the crew, the life-savers returned to the Bielman.

The big new wrecking tug, Favorite, and the tugs Ottawa and Salvor are coming from Port Huron, where the stranded boats are owned by the McLachlan Transportation Co. On board one of the rescue tugs is President McLachlan, of the company.

Glen Haven, Mich., May 28.—The schooner Oneida, bound from Cecil Bay to Chicago with a cargo of hardwood lumber, stranded during the gale Sunday night on North Manitou Island. The crew is safe.

The vessel is on the beach between the lighthouse and the life-saving station. The life-savers have worked on the boat all day, but have been unable to release her.

Traverse City, Mich., May 28.—A five-ton two-masted schooner owned by W. L. Stiger of Norwood, went on the beach here Monday morning, dragging her anchor. Wreckage is scattered for almost half a mile. No one was aboard.

Ludington, Mich., May 28.—One of the Pere Marquette steamers arrived in port Monday morning from Milwaukee, after a 12-hours' battle with the northwest gale. So high were the waves that spray washed the decks and drenched the passengers in their berths. Pere Marquette No. 4 did not leave port last night on her regular trip to Milwaukee on account of the storm.

Benton Harbor, Mich., May 28.—The outlook for the crops is very discouraging. Thousands of acres of peach trees were killed by the October blizzard, but there are a few orchards that escaped and will yield a good crop provided there are no more hard frosts. There are fair prospects for grapes, cherries and apples. Wheat is good. Corn is unplanted. There is a good crop of asparagus. The fruit men will raise a large acreage of melons.

Battle Creek, Mich., May 28.—Farmers say that corn has been rotted, but other grains apparently are sound. C. P. Chichester, market gardner on a large scale, says all fruits are injured, and short inferior crops can be looked for. Other gardners believe the apple crop will be unscathed.

Lightning Kills Him.

Jackson, Mich., May 28.—Lightning struck and instantly killed John Walsh, aged 47 years, a farmer of Blackman township, while he was standing in his barn door. A widow and five sons survive.

ANOTHER ISSUE UP.

One Officer Contradicts Another in Brownesville Case.

MAJOR BLOCKSOM ON STAND.

Disputes Testimony of Under Men—'Twas He Who Made First Insoection After Eventful Night—He Fails to "Identify" Krag-Jorgensen Bullet.

Washington, May 28.—Major A. P. Blocksom, of the inspector-general's department of the army, who made the first investigation of the affair at Brownsville, Tex., for the war department, was on the stand practically all of Monday, but did not conclude. His direct examination was a recital of his inspection of the situation at Fort Brown and a description of the bullet holes in Brownsville houses. On cross-examination, Senator Foraker called the attention of the witness to the testimony of Lieut. H. G. Leckie of the 26th infantry, who said that he had sighted along a groove made by a bullet which struck the Yurria house, and the bullet could not have been fired from the barracks. This statement directly controverted the testimony of Major Blocksom, and he said that Lieut. Leckie must have testified falsely. This has raised the issue of veracity between the two officers.

Liut. Leckie, who was ordered recalled several days ago, arrived at the committee room Monday just as as adjournment was taken. Other witnesses whose testimony was doubted by Major Blocksom, are Private Howard, the sentinel on duty at the barracks on the night of the shooting, and Matias Tomayo, a Mexican, who was occupied at the barracks when the shooting began, both of whom declared that no shots were fired into the town from the barracks.

Major Blockson discoursed for an hour or more on theories, principally as to how the negroes could have done the shooting and escaped detection. At the Penrose court-martial he testified that there is a decided difference between the bullet used in a Krag-Jorgensen cartridge and the Senator Foraker took a Krag and a Springfield catridge in his hand, hiding all except the bullets, and asked the witness to pick out the Springfield. He selected the Krag instead. It was then shown that there is no difference in the bullets. Another point on which Major Blockson contradicted all of the negro witnesses was the time required to clean any army rifle that had been shot ten or a dozen times. He was positive that the guns could be cleaned in two or three minutes. He was sure, also, that guns could have been cleaned while the men were moving and in the dark. He said he had had no experience in cleaning guns, however.

Securing Jury to Try Schmitz.

San Francisco, May 28.—The trial of Mayor Schmitz, accused of extortion, was resumed in Judge Dunne's court Monday, the examination of talesmen being continued. Six jurors have already been procured.

Man and Wife Asphyxiated.

Detroit, Mich., May 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brosovske were found dead in the bath room at their home, 521 Fifteenth street, Monday morning. After an examination, the doctors stated that death was due solely to asphyxiation. They appeared to agree with the general theory that Mrs. Brosovske was taken volently ill and that her husband died in trying to rescue her. Mr. and Mrs. Brosovske were found dead in the bath room of their home Monday morning by Anthony Brosovske, the man's father. They had been overcome by gas which escaped from a leaky heater.

Ex-Senator Patton Buried.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 28.—Immediate relatives of the late ex-Senator John Patton and the active and honorary pallbearers met at the home, 36 State street, at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon for a brief service, after which the body was conveyed to the Park Congregational church. Rev. R. W. McLaughlin officiated. Justice C. B. Grant of the Michigan supreme court made an address. The services at the church were public. The interment at Oak Hill cemetery was private.

A narrow escape.

G. W. Clovd, a merchant, of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape 4 years ago when he ran a jimson burr into his thumb. He says "the doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's arnica salve which cured the wound." 25c at C. A. Wright's

ALL WERE DRENCHED.

President and His Family Had Unpleasant Experience.

THEY VISIT MOUNT VERNON.

Trip Is Made on Horseback—Severe Storms Catch the Party in Open, and All Return Soaked to Skin and Bespattered With Mud.

Washington, May 28.—A badly mud bespattered party, at the head of which was President Roosevelt, got off a car of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Electric railway here shortly before six o'clock Monday afternoon. They had been on a visit to Mount Vernon, part of the trip being by horseback, and had been caught in a heavy shower. As the result of the storm, the roads were in fearful condition, and as the riders progressed they were splashed from head to foot. The other members of the party, besides the president, were Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Ethel Roosevelt, Postmaster-General Meyer and Captain Fitzhugh Lee, one of the president's military aides. The clothing of the entire party were drenched. The trip, in many respects, was a rough riding one.

The president has explored on horseback much of the country about Washington lying north of the Potomac river. He also has made occasional trips in the vicinity of Chain bridge, the Acqueduct bridge and various other places. He was anxious, however, to make the longer trip to Mount Vernon, and several days ago planned Monday's excursion. The day broke cloudy and heavy, but by ten o'clock the sun began to shine dimly through the clouds, and the prospects seemed good for fair weather. The party accordingly started at eleven o'clock.

The distance from Washington to Mount Vernon is sixteen miles. The trip to Alexandria was made by trolley in half an hour.

At the city's outskirts the president's orderly, McDermott, was awaiting the party with five good saddle horses. It took but a few minutes for the party to mount and get off.

They had cantered along the road, however, but four miles when a severe storm overtook them. They did not have time to find shelter before all of them got drenched almost to the skin. Finally they espied an unoccupied farm house along the roadside and sought shelter under the "lean to" at the rear for half an hour. Covering in the outbuildings also was found for the horses. There was a remarkably heavy downpour of rain and vivid flashes of lightning, accompanied by peals of thunder.

Rain was still falling lightly as the party again took up the trip to Mount Vernon, which was reached about two o'clock, almost an hour behind the scheduled time. Here Col. Dodge, the superintendent of the grounds, gave them a cordial welcome, showed them over the grounds—about 2,000 acres in all—through the mansion and the various buildings, and pointed out the Fairfax estate in the distance. There were a number of visitors at Mount Vernor and the president shoot hands with them. Lunch was served in the old house used as a kitchen on state occasions in colonial times, but now occupied as a dining room. Col. Dodge was one of the party at lunch.

The guests were ready to return to Washington at half past three o'clock, but again a rain set in and delayed them for fifteen minutes. Then the sun shone again and the party set off for Washington. "The ride up Alexandria was slippery and muddy," said one of the party, "but there were no mishaps, and we had the bright sunlight all the way up Washington."

At Alexandria a number of people were assembled to whom the president bowed his acknowledgements. There the presidential party boarded the special car for the remaining seven miles.

Charged With Comolicity in Murder.

Chicago, May 28.—Grover Beamer was arrested at Hampshire, Ill., Monday, on a charge of complicity in the murder of Miss Anna Hall, who was killed while attempting to defend her father against an attack by Blue Ridge mountaineers on his farm in Patrick county, Virginia, in March. Beamer was turned over to a United States marshal and brought to Chicago. An order of removal was obtained before Federal Judge Landis, and the prisoner will be taken to Virginia. Beamer and several others are charged with an attack on Peter Hall when they learned that he had furnished information to the government revenue agents concerning illicit whisky stills. Miss Hall was shot and killed and several other persons were injured during the fight.

WILL VIEW REMAINS.

Canton Friends of Mrs. McKinley Are to Look Upon Her Face Once More.

Canton, O., May 28.— Although it is not intended that the funeral of Mrs. McKinley shall take on the form of a ceremony of state, yet the coming of the president and members of his cabinet, the vice-president, the governor of Ohio and many other people of note will make it such in a degree at least. Late Monday afternoon it was determined to change the arrangements for the funeral so as to allow the remains to be viewed by Canton friends of the deceased. The time fixed for this is from 3 to 5 o'clock today. To show their love for the departed thousands of school children will be included in the throng that will go through the McKinley home and pass by the bier while they drop tears of sorrow for the loss of one whose love for children was so deep and tender.

The city council last night met, made arrangements for a floral piece to be sent to the McKinley home, spread appropriate minutes on the record, decided to attend the funeral and adjourned out of respect to the memory of Mrs. McKinley. The city board of education did likewise. Business will be suspended Wednesday afternoon.

Another Jury Panel Exhaused.

Boise, Ida., May 28.—The Stuenenberg murder trial has again been interrupted by the exhaustion of the jury panel. The last man of the second special venire was disqualified Monday afternoon, and Judge Fremont Wood postponed the trial until Friday morning, when Sheriff Hodgen is to produce another special venire of 61 men. The odd number was focularly asked for by the defense in the hope of changing the luck that has dogged the even numbers used. The work of jury filling is stopped at the vacancy created by the eleventh peremptory challenge, so that there remain three more peremptory challenges. Beside that there is a chance that Tourtellotte, who objected to the infliction of he death penalty, save in war or anarchy, will be excused when it comes time to swear the jury, and A. P. Burns is suffering from lumbago. These circumstances leaves the date of the completion of the jury in doubt.

Mayor Busse Upheld.

Chicago, May 28.—The circuit court Monday afternoon refused to interfere with Mayor Fred Busse in his efforts to obtain a board of education to his own liking. Eight of the 13 trustees, who last week were discharged by the mayor, went before Judge Thomas G. Windes Monday afternoon and asked for an injunction restraining Mayor Busse from ousting them or appointing new members in their places before their terms expired. After listening to four hours of argument, Judge Windes dismissed the petition for an injunction, on the ground that Mayor Busse has the power to oust as well a to appoint members of the school board. The court's decision is construed by the city officials to show that the complainants cannot obtain the redress they seek by quo warronto proceedings, the only source of attack left them. Mayor Busse last night appointed six new members of the board of education to fill the places of those resigned.

Norwegian Royalty Honored.

Paris, May 28.—Paris was in holiday attire Monday in honor of the visit of King Haakon and Queen Maud of Norway, who arrived here on their way to England to visit the queen's parents. All the public buildings and hotels and many private residences flew the Norwegian flag intertwined with the tricolor of France. A special mission, consisting of a personal representative of the president, and high military officers met the royal train at the frontier and accompanied their majesties to Paris. They were received in state at the Bois de Boulogne railroad station by President Fallieres, the presidents of the senate and chamber of deputies, the cabinet ministers, the military governor of Paris, perfect of police, Lepine, and others. Last night the president gave a dinner in their honor.

It is believed that caribou and moose exist on Isle Royale. This is a matter that has caused much discussion in the past few years. W. H. Faucett, of Calumet, who is one of the owners of the Matson Island resort, visited Isle Royale and while there saw antlers which were shed by a caribou. The tracks of the animal could be seen in the snow and people who have lived on Isle Royale for some time say there are two herds of moose and caribou on the island, one at the east end and one at the west end of the island.

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

In speaking of the fire dragons in another portion of his work he says, "Common people thinke fire drakes to be spirits which watch over hidden treasure, but the philosophers affirm them to be ye result of poisonous vapors which are spontaneously lighted in ye ayre."

CONG. CHARLES TOWNSEND

Will Deliver the address of the day. Program follows.

At eight o'clock Thursday morning, May 30, the floral committee, together with such other persons patriotically inclined and willing to help, will assemble in the store room owned by Henry L. Jones on Evans street, just north of the Garlinghouse livery barn, to receive and arrange the floral emblems, that later will be placed above the last resting place of the devoted men who died that our nation might live. All citizens of Tecumseh and vicinity are urgently solicited to bring to this place all the flowers available, at as early an hour in the forenoon as possible.

During the morning hours Geo. S. VanTyne and his assistant committeemen will place a flag marker upon the grave of every soldier, as far as their location is known to him. If any unknown grave escapes his attention Mr. VanTyne will esteem it a favor to have his attention called to it and the omission will be gladly and speedily rectified.

At 12:30 the Grand Army and the Uniformed Rank Knights of Pythias will assemble at their respective halls and under command of J. D. Shull and Floyd Heesen and the general direction of President F. D Teachout and Chief Marshal H. R. Brewer, will march to the opera house, where the exercises will begin at 1 p. m., sharp.

The program, as nearly as may, will be as follows:

Prayer—Rev. J. W. Dunning.

Rec.—Olive McBride.

Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech—Mrs. W. D. Reed.

Address—Congressman Charles E. Townsend.

Prayer—Rev. Blanche Young.

After the conclusion of the service in the opera house, the procession, preceded by the band, will move as directed by the marshall and his aides, to the cemetery, where the graves will be properly decorated and the concluding ritual service of the Grand Army, for the unknown dead, will be rendered at the soldiers burial plat.

The committee on transporation has arranged that aged or infirm veterans, their wives or widows can ride from the opera house to the cemetery. Those who need to avail themselves of this opportunity will please apply to Capt. Henry W. Steven

"The near approach of Decoration Day recalls a subject much discussed in the years past by the workers with the flowers sent in for the wreaths and emblems to be laid upon the graves of the nation's honored dead—the number, alas, growing larger each year and needing more and more flowers. And so we would like to say a few words to those friends upon whom we are dependent for the quantity, variety and beauty of the flowers used for the purpose, each year the number sent, though, grows less and less.

Now while we thoroughly sympathize with those who wish to see their own, who "sleep well" in our lovely Riverside resting under banks of bright blossoms, as well as others that day; we beg to remind those sore loving hearts that Decoration Day belongs to the soldiers; and that all the rest of the floral season is ours for the decoration of our privaee cemetery lots, and the dear sleepers there.

While they who by giving up their lives in this grand cause won for us the peace we all enjoy; so, for them, who their warfare done, claim nothing for themselves, we ask that private interests and claims may all be merged in one grand offering of all the flowers we have to our "Boys in Blue" for at least that day."

FLAG DECORATION.

As chairman of the committee to mark the graves of soldiers in the Tecumseh cemetery, it is my sincere desire to place a flag at the last resting place of every defender of the Union. Past experience, however, proves that mistakes of omission are liable to occur and to avoid this if possible, all friends are cordially invited to assist in locating every soldiers' grave in our cemetery. If any such grave remains unmarked on Decoration day, kindly call my attention to it and oblige,

GEO. S. VANTYNE.

CHARLES E. TOWNSEND.

The people of Tecumseh are particularly fortunate in having secured our gifted congressman to deliver the Memorial day oration here on Thursday. As an instructive and entertaining speaker Charles E. Townsend is much sought for throughout the entire state and in coming here turned aside invitations to several much larger places. Let us give him an audience of which he and we ourselves may well be proud, for it is safe to say that no town in Michigan will listen to a better address on May 30 than will the people of this village.

"BLUE DEVILS"

Get rid of indigestion and things will look bright and joyous.

Even in the present era of prosperity and good times everything appears black to those people who are suffering wretchedly from some form of indigestion. Where digestion is quick, complete and easy there is a joyous and hopeful outlook, but indigestion causes depression.

The want of a safe, effective cure for sick headache, indigestion and stomach troubles, was always felt until the prescription known as Mi-o-na stomach tablets was put up in popular form and proved its invariable success in the many forms of indigestion.

After a few days use of Mi-o-na stomach tablets the headache, dizzy feeling, drowsiness, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, nervousness, sleeplessness, distress after eating—all these symptoms of a weak stomach—will disappear and perfect digestion and a good skin will show that the vital machinery is once more running smoothly.

Mi-o-na is to be taken before each meal and it will stimulate the secretive and digestive juices and strengthen the whole of the digestive system so that the unpleasant full feeling will be absent and indigestion prevented.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold only in a neat metal box convenient for the vestpocket and cost 50 cents. C. A. Wright has seen so many cures made by Mi-o-na stomach tablets that he gives a guarantee with every box that the money will be refunded if the remedy fails to give satisfaction.

Special Service and Low Fares Sundays.

If you cut your finger you don't attempt to heal it by sollowing a pill or a dose of medicine.

It is just as foolish to try and cure catarrh of the nose and throat with pills and stomach dosing, for catarrh is a local disease and needs special local healing treatment.

The only natural and common sense method known for the cure of catarrhal troubles is Hy-o-mei. It is breathed through an ingenious pocket inhaler, so that its medicated air reaches the most remote air-cells of the nose, throat and lungs, killing all catarrhal germs, soothing the irritated mucous membranes, and restoring a healthy condition.

If you suffer from catarrhal troubles, such as offensive breath, raising of mucous, frequent sneezing, husky voice, discharge from the nose, droppings in throat, loss of strength, spasmodic coughing, or a feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest, you should begin to use Hy-o-mei at once. It will destroy all disease germs in the nose, throat and lungs, and provide the blood with additional ozone.

The complete Hy-o-mei outfit with inhaler costs but $1.00. So strong is C. A. Wright's faith in the power of Hy-o mei to cure all catarrhal troubles that with every dollar outfit, he gives an ironclad guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy gives satisfaction.

The DEERE New Elk Cultivator

It's a beauty—the banner machine of its class, embodying the very cream of cultivator construction,—the best combined Riding and Walking Cultivator that human skill can produce from perfect materials.

Every detail is carefully worked out and perfected, strength and efficiency carefully calculated, and the result is a machine which lends peculiar emphasis to the familiar phrase,—

"IF IT'S A DEERE—IT'S RIGHT."

The balancing frame is a valuable feature of the new "Elk." Lever is in easy reach, and by it the wheels may easily be thrown forward or back to perfectly balance the frame, the driver, the rigs and their entire weight, so that there is neither flying up nor downward pressure at the neck yoke.

High wheels with broad tires make light draft, and prevent settling into the soil. A perfect walking cultivator is secured by throwing the wheels forward and turning up the seat, the balance frame feature making the "Elk" equally satisfactory as rider or walker.

A pivotal tongue device is furnished as an attachment. By simply removing the clip which attaches the tongue to the arch and substituting this pivotal attachment, you have a complete swivel tongue cultivator.

Many other special features make the new "Elk" worth seeing before you buy. The nearest Deere agent will take pleasure in showing you.

MOTHERS READ THIS

DAUGHTER OF C. W. STUMP

Mrs. C. W. Stump of Canton, Ohio, writes: "I wish I could induce every mother who has a weak, sickly child to try that delicious cod liver preparation; Vinol. Our little daughter was pale, thin and sickly.

"We tried various medicines, but without any benefit whatever, and she could not take cod liver oil or emulsions, as they nauseated her and upset her stomach.

"Learning that Vinol contains all the medicinal and strength-creating properties of cod liver oil, but without the disagreeable oil, we decided to try it, and the results were marvelous, so quickly was she restored to health and strength.

RHEUMATIC FOLKS.

Are you sure your kidnys are well?

Many rheumatic attacks are due to uric acid in the blood But the duty of the kidneys is to remove all uric acid from the blood. Its presence there shows the kidneys are inactive.

Don't dally with "uric acid solvents." You might go on until doomsday with them, but until you cure the kidneys you will never get well. Doan's Kidney Pills not only remove uric acid, but cure the kidneys and then all danger from uric acid is ended. Here is Tecumseh testimony to prove it.

Mrs. Sarah Austin living on Pearl street, Tecumseh, Mich., says, "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and think very highly of them. About a year ago I was bothered with my kidneys accompanied by dropsical bloatings which made me feel miserable. I had distressing pains in my hips and rheumatism bothered me a great deal. At night I was restless and could not get my proper sleep on account of the frequent action of the kidneys. I passed a great deal of gravel in my secretions and at times it was almost impossible to stand the pain. I doctored a great deal with different physicians but only received temporary relief Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and I began taking them The results have been more than satisfactory, the bloating has subsided, the pains have ceased, in fact I believe that they have affected a complete cure, I am glad to endorse such a reliable remedy as Doan's Kidney Pills.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's,—and take no other.

A Letter from S. P. Hosmer.

Williamsburg, Va., May 16, '07.

At 11:20 we boarded a wagonette under command of Pinnie Brown, a bright colored boy of 23, who is responsible for the following items of historic interest. He says land here is worth from $50 to $100 per acre. One mile to the northeast we pass through Fort Magruder, scene of the battle between the forces of Gen. McClellan and Gen. Joseph E. Johnston here we lost 2339 brave boys in blue. Our drive takes us over the hills and down the valleys bordered by forests and over the roughest corduroy road that ever tortured a mortal. St. John has two colored churches away off here in this brush

Now we are passing through Yorktown Dismal Swamp. The driver says that during the Revolution a bridal couple started from Yorktown with their coach and four horses and got into the quick sands here and never heard of afterwards Our course is now northeast—niggers to the right of us, niggers to the left of us, niggers all around us. "Dat old stump is de hat way house to Yorktown, sah." At times the wayside is bordered by the Scotch Broom in beautiful yellow clumps that must be seen to be appreciated. Tradition says the seed was brought from England in the feed for British horses.

The York river comes into view from a hill top and beyond on the south side is the village of Yorktown, while to our left is Gloster Point, which place Cornwallis tried to reach and avoid capture but George met him at the cross roads and told him "nit." His very words I know. At 2:30 we arrive in the old historic town and from all the surroundings it looks the antiquity it is.

I am now sitting on the steps leading to the old Nelson house built in 1749 of bricks brought from England by William Nelson, one of the signers of the Declaration, who gave his whole fortune for the cause and died a poor man. Here Cornwallis had his head quarters. We visited Old Grace Church built in 1712, whose old bill was a present from Queen Anne. In the church yard were the tombs of the Nelson family. We had our dinner at the Yorktown Hotel, one of the four oldest buildings in the town.

After dinner we drove over the old York town battle ground and I can almost see the skirmishers deploy and advance, followed by the whole line of battle. Can you not hear the hiss of the bullet and the scream of the shell and hear the voices of those great commanders, Washington, Lafayette, Rochambeau and others?

We open a gate and drive through the fields to the old Moore house, where the articles of capitulation were signed. We stood in the same room, bare of all furniture, the paper hanging from the walls and yet a feeling of awe and reverence settles over you and you can almost see those two war worn generals affixing their names to that piece of paper that meant so much to you and me.

In the cellar we were shown some old Revolutionary guns and canteens, pieces of solid shot and shell, as well as the shot that pierced the old chimney during the Civil War. We are so busy we do not see the storm clouds that are rolling up so fast. We start for the hotel, but alas, too late, for gee whiz! how it rains. The back side of the seat leaked and the water ran in between me and the seat, not much but a plenty. After a time it slackened up and we drove back the 12 miles even though it still rained, the driver said "I likes to drive you alls, 'pears like youree so jolly." S. P. HOSMER.

His Decorations Stolen.

New York, May 28.—News of the theft, by souvenir hunters or others, of 10 valuable medals and decorations belonging to Lieut. Mori of the Japanese cruiser [illegible] vessel was at [illegible] became known Monday through correspondence between American naval officers who have undertaken to find the missing decorations, if possible. One day during the cruiser's stay in this port, Lieut. Mori's service blouse, on which were pinned the medals, hung behind a door leading to the officers' quarters on the Chitose. While it was there some one cut the cloth on either side of the front of the blouse and carried away the medals. Among the decorations was the Order of the Rising Sun, which was given to Lieut. Mori by the emperor for exceptional courage during the attack on Port Arthur, medals for participation in the Yellow Sea fight, against the Russians, and in the battle of the Yalu, against the Chinese, and one of gold, presented to him for jumping overboard during a storm and saving a shipmate.

News was brought by the steamer Empress of India, which arrived Monday at Victoria, B. C., from Shanghai, of a catastrophe involving the drowning of more than 100 Chinese. During the Ta Want Niamo festival, an immense crowd of spectators was on the bridge over Soo Chow creek. The police, forcing back the crowd for the procession, caused the mass to press against a flimsy rail, breaking it. More than 100 persons fell into the water and drowned.

Suffering

Will Not Help Your Disease, but Will Weaken Your Nerves.

Folks who think it is better to bear pain than soothe it—are wrong.

Old-fashioned doctors used to say it was better, because they had nothing with which to ease pain but dangerous, heart-paralyzing drugs.

But now, that a safe remedy has been found, Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, it is wrong to suffer, for nothing can be gained but weakened nerves.

A safe rule to remember is: When in pain, take an Anti-Pain Pill.

This will soothe your quivering nerves.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve pain by restoring the natural secretions, in which they differ from opium and similar narcotic drugs, which relieve pain by checking the action of the glands.

They are sure and harmless, and are the latest medical treatment for the cure of Headache, Neuralgia, Backache, Rheumatism, Dizziness, Toothache, Stomachache, Menstrual (Monthly) Pains. Also nerve irritations like Sea-Sickness, Car-Sickness, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, etc.

Pleasant to take, quick in results.

"I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for sick, nervous headache, and have received the best results. I heartily recommend their curative properties, for they are successful.—REV. RAY A. WATROS, D. D., Iowa City, Ia.

FINAL PREPARATIONS.

Agricultural College Makes Ready to Care for Its Visitors.

Agricultural College, Mich., May 28.—The last few finishing touches were put to the preparations for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the college and the visit of President Roosevelt Friday.

Accommodations for guests is no small item. All told, there are some 30 rooms available in the women's department, and all are in readiness for those fortunate to belong and able to attend this gala event. These rooms are especially for members of the state board of agriculture and their wives and department guests.

Already guests have put in an appearance and are quartered in a couple rooms.

The feeding accommodations will be a big feature. In the main dining room 150 will be seated at a time and 300 three times a day are being counted on. The co-eds will serve. In the gymnasium a buffet luncheon will be served free to delegates Wednesday, Tuesday and Friday. No $100,000 for Ypsi Normal.

Ypsilanti, Mich., May 28.—Senator Andrew Fyfe of Grand Rapids of the senate committee of the state normal has announced that the school would be unable to get the $100,000 appropriation petitioned for to be used in the construction of an auditorium and conservatory of music. "Every administration is anxious to keep down the expenditures, which are constantly increasing," said Fyfe. "We are all asking for more money. A line must be drawn somewhere. Ypsilanti needs a new conservatory, but I fear she won't get it this years." Senator Fyfe was accompanied by Senator John D. McKay of Detroit and Senator Burt Cady of Port Huron. He said that the committee would recommend that the legislature appropriate $20,000 for repairs and decorations to the interior of the main building. He said they found the building in an unsanitary condition.

Judge Stickney is Dead.

Lapeer, Mich., May 28.—Ex-Circuit Judge William W. Stickney died at his home in this city at 1:30 Monday afternoon after an illness of about two months, caused by a general breaking down. Judge Stickney suffered a stroke of paralysis about two years ago which left him in a weakened condition. His wife died about a year and a half ago, and since her death he had seemed to gradually decline. Judge Stickney was greatly esteemed by the members of the Lapeer County Bar association, and last year, at the time of the fiftieth anniversary of his admittance to the bar, special exercises were held at the court house to celebrate the event. Last January an oil painting of him was hung in the court room by the members of the association.

Kalamazoo, Mich., May 28.—According to L. H. Stoddard, secretary of the Kalamazoo Fruit Growers' association, the hard wind and rain storm which passed over this section Sunday night, is thought to have greatly injured fruit trees, which are now in blossom. Blossoms and buds have been beaten off. The amount of damage cannot be estimated so far, as the cold weather has done little damage to fruits, beyond delaying the crops.

Drought is Broken.

St. Petersburg, May 28.—In the central southern wheat district, the long-continued drought Monday came to an end. The whole Volga territory reports abundant rains, and there is promise of fair crops, particularly in the dozen famine provinces. The rain in the southern district was less plentiful, the Dnieper valley, Podalia and Bessarabia getting only two days of light showers. This is enough to save the spring wheat, but the winter wheat crop is an utter failure and will be practically a dead loss. The Odessa wheat pit regards the situation with greater confidence, and gathering clouds lead to the hope that there will be another fall of rain.

MICHIGAN BRIEFS.

William Cassler, a Cadillac capitalist, has gone to Baker City, Ore., to foreclose a $20,000 mortgage he and six other men held on the Uncle Sam Mining Co.'s plant. Many people here hold stock in the mine, which will again be put in active operation.

Albion is after new industries. At a meeting of the Business Men's association it was voted to offer a free site and factory to any plant that can be induced to consider Albion as a location. The splendid shipping facilities will be made known through the work of a secretary to be hired.

The Michigan fish commission on Saturday "planted" between 90,000 and 120,000 black bass and wall-eyed pike in Zukey and Strawberry lakes. An equal number were placed in Whitmore and Horseshoe lakes, and half that number in Independence lake.

Parties thought to be engineers representing eastern capital have been inspecting the water power of the Raisin river with a view to harnessing the stream for electric power. There is but one industry using water power on the river, the Waterloo Milling Co., at Monroe.

Shortly after President Roosevelt's visit to Lansing, Lieut. Col. Ross Granger, First infantry, Ann Arbor, who will be second in command of the provisional regiment which will be the president's escort, will resign, for business reasons. Maj. Walter Barlow of Detroit, senior major, will succeed.

Missing Man Dies.

Kalamazoo, Mich., May 28.—The sequel to the disappearance of William McKle, a prominent druggist, came Monday in the shape of a telegram from John McKle, of Bright, Ont., an uncle, stating that William McKle died at that place Sunday. When William McKle left Kalamazoo last week he told his friends he would be back shortly from Chicago. He took nothing with him. His absence has been the subject of much comment.

Judge Refused to Act.

Sandy Hook, Ky., May 28.—Special Judge Redwine has refused to preside in the trials of Judge Hargis and his alleged co-conspirators, charged with the murder of Dr. Cox. Governor Beckham therefore must appoint another special judge. Judge Redwine said the cases had been transferred here without his knowledge or consent, and because of certain statements in the press of the state he felt that it would be impossible for him to preside.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y. on every bottle.

LANSING GREETS HIM

Nation's Chief Executive Visits Michigan's Capital.

FIFTY THOUSAND PEOPLE

Greet Roosevelt and Extend Grand Ovation—State Troops Escort Him Through Street—Makes Speech at Capitol—Goes to M. A. C.

Lansing, Mich., May 31.—With the arrival in Lansing this morning of Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, the pent-up enthusiasm of the citizens and visitors in this city, numbering fifty thousand, knew no bounds. From depot to capitol, on cross streets and up and down the business section the national colors blaze in countless decorations. In the windows are portraits of the president, in the shops there are "Roosevelt" cigars, "Roosevelt" candies, "Roosevelt" suspenders, "Roosevelt" neckties, "Roosevelt" everythings.

The special train bearing the president, arrived over the Lake Shore railroad about 10 o'clock this morning. Awaiting its arrival were thousands of humanity, while scattered along the thoroughfares to the state capitol were thousands more.

As soon as the train was sighted coming to the station Battery A of the National Guard commenced firing the regular salute to the president, 21 guns. The militia at the station to receive him were Cos. A, H, F and G, First regiment, Detroit; B. K. G and H, Grand Rapids; one company each from the Third regiment from Flint, Bay City, Saginaw and Owosso, and Co. E of Lansing. Also troop A, of cavalry, from South Haven, and the First and Third divisions of the naval reserve from Detroit. All were under the command of Col. Bates, senior colonel of the brigade. The battalion commanders were Majs. Geo. B. McCaughna, John F. Bersey and Earl R. Stewart.

Down to Capitol.

The president, accompanied by his secretary, Wm. Loeb, entered a carriage with Gov. Warner, and the governor's secretary, Maj. Loomis, and proceeded at once up Michigan avenue to Washington, and up Washington avenue, followed by carriages with Senators Burrows and William Alden Smith and some other dignitaries, and escorted by the troops.

The ovation extended the president from the people assembled all along the route was tremendous. He continually stood up in his carriage, hat in hand, bowing right and left. To the governor and other officials accompanying the president, was also extended liberal ovations.

The president went as far as the Downey house corner, then west to Capitol avenue, and back to the state house.

The president went up from the street along the main walk, between two lines of troops to the main entrance.

The program for President Roosevelt's address at the state house was changed. Instead of speaking in Representative hall, the president consented to deliver a short address from the balcony of the governor's suite, which is on the second floor of the state house. A space of 100 feet or so from the balcony was roped off and stretching back from this swarmed one great mass of people.

Makes Short Speech.

The chief executive's address here was of short duration. After it was over he returned to the governor's office, and a little later again entered the carriage with the governor, and, escorted by a Detroit battalion under Major Bersey's command, and the state cavalry troops, the start was made for the Agricultural college grounds.

Along the entire distance was scattered a great concourse of humanity, and the ovation extended the president was continuous to the very gates of the institution which is today celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of its beginning.

This afternoon, the president will deliver his most important address on the campus grounds.

Kaiser Gives Them His Picture.

Washington, May 31.—The emperor of Germany who recently accepted the honorary membership to which he was elected in The American Cross of Honor, has presented a magnificent portrait of himself to that order. The portrait is a life-size bust picture of the emperor, representing him in uniform with helmet, etc. The royal arms form a portion of the top of the heavy gilt frame, while beneath the picture is the autograph of the emperor, and date 1907. The American Cross of Honor was organized in 1893 and incorporated by act of congress in 1906. Its members are persons upon whom the United States government has conferred the life-saving medal of honor.

PRESERVE THE HOME.

McKinley Residence in Canton May Be Kept Intact.

CITIZENS MUCH INTERESTED

Fellow-Townsmen of Martyred President Desire to Make the Place Another "Mt. Vernon" to Which Pilgrims May Journey.

Canton, O., May 31.—Canton citizens are discussing the question of preserving the McKinley home intact. The idea is to make a second "Mount Vernon," where the furniture and gifts and paintings and statuary of the McKinleys may be preserved, as have those of the Washingtons at the famous American mecca. Only tentative methods have as yet been considered, but there is indication McKinley home and its contents as that a definite movement to make the they are today as a memorial of the home life of the departed president and wife and a place where pilgrims will gather, may take shape soon. The city may purchase the property or it may be a gift from relatives and friends.

Justice Wm. R. Day is anxious to have the home preserved. "It would indeed be most appreciated," said he yesterday. "Many will come to see the monument. They will want also to see the home in which the late president lived and worked. In fact the McKinley home is the most suggestive thing connected with the life of McKinley. We have in mind also the fact that the preservation of the home at this time presents much less difficulty than the attempt after years have passed."

More than twenty thousand persons Thursday viewed the floral pieces arranged in front of the vine-covered vault in West Lawn cemetery which now holds the caskets of President McKinley and wife.

FLOOR FELL.

Sixty Persons Thrown Into Cellar During Ceremonies in Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 31.—At the laying of the cornerstone of St. Mary's Greek Catholic church Thursday afternoon, a temporary flooring collapsed, precipitating about sixty persons into the cellar, twelve feet below. For an hour the utmost excitement prevailed. The screams of those in the wreckage and the groans from the injured could be heard for a block. Ladders were secured from neighboring factories, and with the aid of the police, the injured were removed from their perilous position. Some were able to walk to their homes, while others were removed to hospitals in ambulances.

The accident, it is said, was due to insufficient bracing beneath the new floor.

Bishop Hoban of Scranton, who went down with the crash was at first reported to be seriously hurt, but this proved untrue. He was badly shaken up, however.

The priests injured were:

Father Cropey, rector of the church, bruised and injured about the body.

Father Gabriel Cropey of Perth Amboy, N. J., brother of the local pastor, bruised about the body, tongue badly injured.

Father Kossy of Alden, Pa.

Father Jackevics of Scranton, Father Kaminsky of Kingston and Father Loughran of Scranton, who suffered severe bruises and lacerations.

Haywood Trial Resumes.

Boise, Ida., May 31.—The trial of William D. Haywood, secretary and treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, charged with the murder of former Governor Steunenberg, was resumed before Judge Fremont Wood, in the district court this morning. At the opening of court a special venire of sixty-one talesmen, the third summoned since jury building began, presented itself, and after excuses presented directly to the court had been heard, the examination of talesmen began. Carl H. Duncan, the young man who came here disguised and armed, and was arrested Tuesday on suspicion, is still held at the city prison and an extended investigation of his career and conduct is in progress here and in other cities. It is expected he will be taken into court and charged with carrying concealed weapons. None of the socialists in Boise accepts Duncan as a member of this particular branch of the party.

IS STRUCK REAR-END.

FOUR PERSONS ARE DEAD.

Car Dashes Into Another Ahead of It, on Rear Platform of Which Were Many Passengers—Happen Near a Hospital.

Elyria, O., May 31.—Crowded with holiday passengers, a Cleveland and Southwestern trolley car, running from Wellington to Cleveland, was struck rear-end, at the corner of Sixth and Middle streets shortly before 6 o'clock last night, resulting in at least four deaths, and nine persons were injured. Two of those injured it is thought will die.

The dead:

H. M. BILLINGS, Elyria.

W. E. ALLEN, Elyria, claim agent of the Lake Shore railroad.

H. O'DONNELL, Elyria. He had both legs cut off and died a few moments later.

WM. SALLA, son of Rev. L. P. Sala.

The seriously injured are: Mabel Dean, 15, Oberlin; Eunice Wurst, 25, Elyria; Arthur Headley, Elyria; Jack Leslie, 27, Carlisle; George Chamberlain, 35; Madison, 30; W. S. Avery, motorman; Mrs. J. P. Sela, wife of Rev. J. P. Sela, of Elyria; Homer Allen, and Margaret Butler.

The accident occurred not more than a block from the city hospital. The wrecked car had slowed down at Fifth and Middle streets to allow three passengers to get off. The rear platform was crowded with passengers, and while waiting for the passengers to alight a car which was on the same track crashed into the first one, crushing and mangling those on the rear platform and injuring several others. Ambulances and a dozen automobiles were quickly upon the scene and the work of extricating the bodies of the dead and rescuing the injured was at once begun.

RESORTED TO STEALING.

Young Clerk Fired His Store and Skipped With Cash Box.

Detroit, Mich., May 31.—Under a burden of debts incurred for the essentials of life, and under the necessity of supporting his widowed mother and two sisters, Philip J. Bacon, confidential clerk at the Waldorf Shoe Co., 101 Woodward avenue, took his first step in the wrong direction Sunday night; and with the proceeds of his act went out and satisfied the more clamorous of his creditors.

Although he held a position of trust and responsibility he only received $15 a week for his services, and found this insufficient for the real needs of his household.

After dinner on that day his duties called him to the store for a short time. He knew that there was a considerable amount of money concealed beneath the bottom drawer of the cashier's desk, and temptation came to him stronger than his will could resist.

Then he laid a plan that would have been successful but for the merest accident. He went into the basement of the store and located the place where the cashier's desk stood. Beneath this he tangled the wires of the electric light, telephone and buzzer until he saw the current begin to flash and spit. For a moment he waited until the wood caught fire, and hastened upstairs to the desk and removed from its hiding place $258 in money.

Feeling assured the desk would be destroyed by the flames and the theft never discovered, he left the store and went up Jefferson avenue. A few hours later he returned to find that a passerby had discovered the fire, turned in the alarm before it had gained any headway, and the desk remained uninjured.

Detectives Palmer and Lombard were put on the case. Their suspicions turned to young Bacon, and in the course of a few hours they learned where he had paid one bill of $60. He was unable to explain where he had gotten the money, and his arrest followed Thursday. At police headquarters he made a full confession and accounted for $254 of the money.

He Weds American Girl.

Joplin, Mo., May 31.—Baron von Zglinitzki, once a favorite lieutenant in Emperor William's own regiment, the First Guard field artillery, will be married here next Saturday to Miss Helen Nicholson, daughter of Frank C. Nicholson, a consulting engineer of this city. Among the guests will be Prince and Princess Auerspeng, distant relatives of Baron von Zglinitzki; Countess von Rittberg, wife of the hofmarshall of the prince of Lippe-Detmold; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flint of New York, Charles A. Hopkins, Boston and Charles F. Jones, Philadelphia.

CAME NEAR DROWNING.

Students at Ypsilanti Normal Have a Narrow Escape.

Ypsilanti, Mich., May 31.—Lynn Weston, aged 21, of Marlette, and Miss Effie E. Page, 21, of New Philadelphia, had a narrow escape from drowing at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon while rowing on the Huron river, above the Lowell dam.

There is a bad eddy at this point just where the water goes down into the chute for the mill. Young Watson rowed into the eddy and when he started to pull the boat out the current was so strong that he broke out about four feet of the right side of the boat, which was found to be rotten. And the boat and the occupants sank in the eddy.

Commanding Miss Page to grab him around the waist, he started to swim with his burden. The endeavor was vain, however, for the strong current started them around and around and towards the chute, and he could only keep his head above the water. Weston called lustily for help, and Herbert McDonald of Standish, who was out rowing with two ladies, was attracted, and started to the rescue. He rowed as near to the eddy as he could and when the current brought the struggling two around again he grabbed Weston by the hair.

The boat was already holding its capacity and McDonald did not dare take the chance of pulling in the two, so he drew Miss Page in and started for the shore with Weston hanging on behind.

Both Weston and Miss Page collapsed when they were put ashore, but dry clothes and support put them back to their normal condition, none the worse for their harrowing experience.

The water is about 30 feet deep at this point, and had they gone over dam and over the chute there would not have been a chance for them.

The boat was a poor tub and was one of those offered for rental along here. It went over the dam and was dashed to pieces.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Cities Throughout State Do Homage to Memory of Dead Heroes.

Detroit, Mich., May 31.—With bands playing and colors flying the old soldiers and the young ones, too, stepped away Thursday afternoon to pay another tribute to the companions who are gone forever from their ranks. The big parade was over a mile in length and stretched the entire distance of the line of march.

"While We Go Marching Through Georgia" tooted the big brass bands, and in the midst of the martial confusion came the steady tramp of the veterans as they passed again in review.

Hats were raised and handclapping resounded all along the line of march, as haltingly, with short failing steps, the white-haired old men marched past. Some had lost an arm in the service; others limped painfully and leaned heavily on their canes, but all were in step, with bent shoulders thrown back and the fire of the old battle days rekindled. For those who were unable to march, automobiles were furnished, and as these filed on down Woodward avenue filled with white-haired men in the union uniforms, the waiting throng burst into cheers.

Appropriate memorial services were held in Light Guard armory and wreaths and garlands placed upon the graves of veterans in the cemeteries.

Such scenes as occurred in Detroit were characteristic of those held throughout the state. Memorial day, according to reports reaching the city, was generally observed in Michigan. In some towns the day took on something of the nature of a celebration with games and various forms of sports and amusements.

Lake Gives Up Its Dead.

Ludington, Mich., May 31.—The body of Patrick Peterson, a street laborer, aged about 50 years, was found Thursday floating in Pere Marquette lake. About 10 days ago Peterson disappeared very mysteriously and there has been much speculation as to his whereabouts. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning, it being supposed that Peterson fell off the dock while intoxicated. The man leaves a widow and large family.

Breaks World's Auto Record.

Washington, May 31.—The world's automobile racing record for 100 miles on a circular track was broken on Thursday when Wallace C. Hood of Baltimore, won over seven contestants in the century run at Benning, D. C., in the first national automobile meeting given under the auspices of the United States Motor Racing association. Hood's time was two hours, 12 minutes, 43 seconds. He drove a sixty-horse power machine.

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Tecumseh high school crossed bats with the Blissfield high last Friday afternoon at Blissfield. Wilson pitched for Tecumseh and was found for 4 safe hits in the first inning and 2 in the second but after that only 22 men faced him in the 7 innings, allowing but one hit. Wilson also featured at bat making a two bagger and 2 singles batting in 4 of the 5 runs made. Other features of the game was the pitching of Isley, whom our boys could not find until the 6th and the fielding of Bramble, Tecumseh's second baseman.

Isley was relieved by Rogers in the 8th. The winning of this game places Tecumseh in the final championship contest against Hudson at Morenci Saturday.

For 5 innings Wednesday the fans had strong hopes that Flint was about to crawl out of the cipher section column in the percentage table in Wednesday's game, but in the 6th things looked a whole lot different. Two singles and a two-bagger in that period put the game safely away for the Indians. Germaine was free with his passes, allowing six to walk, and hitting two men besides. Howlett held Flint safe at all stages of the game.

Preston, loaned to Flint by Tecumseh, joined his old team mates after the game, and Taber, another Indian, will play the outfield for Flint in his place.

County Federation

Met in Hudson, Mich., last Thursday.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM

The second annual convention of the Women's Federated clubs of Lenawee county met in the M. E. church in Hudson last Thursday and was a notable gathering of representative women of this portion of Southern Michigan.

The day was dark and the clouds threatening early in the morning. Later a fine mist developed and by ten it was raining, but the incoming trains brought their quota of women, whose enthusiasm could not be dissipated by storms. The receiving committee, Mmes. Pease, Thompson, Lowe and Whitney, were at the morning train on the Lake Shore road when the following ladies were made welcome and escorted to the church:

From Tecumseh—Mmes. S. W. Temple, Leon Temple, J. Belcher, E. Harris, Geo. Tiffany, Will Raymond, Dr. Tefft, Geo. N. Stacy, J. D. Shull, Andrew Wilson, H. Howland, S. Albert, G. Gillespie. Also a Mrs. Cromwell, guest of Tecumseh friends. Mrs. Crowell is a member of sorosis of Cleveland, O.

About 25 attended from Adrian. Promptly at ten o'clock Miss Frensdorf, president, called the meeting to order. There was an organ solo rendered by Mrs. Will Brown, which was greatly enjoyed.

The address of welcome, which Mrs. Stiles was to have given, on account of that lady's absence from Hudson, was presented by Mrs. Helen Lowe, president of the Woman's Literary club of Hudson. The informal responses from visiting delegates were greatly enjoyed.

The reports from presidents of Federated clubs was next in order, each giving in detail the work attempted or contemplated by their organization. Everyone had some specific plan, which was being carried out as well as it might be and it was noticeable that the ladies were enthusiastic regarding future results. The following ladies responded for their respective clubs:

Mrs. Chas Humphrey, Adrian Woman's club.

Miss Reynolds, Adrian Monday Evening Literary club.

Mrs. Howland, Tecumseh Town Federation.

Mrs. Belcher, Tecumseh Research Circle.

Mrs. Albert, Tecumseh Monday club.

Mrs. G. I. Thompson, chairman of Hudson Friday club.

Mrs. Marble, report of forestry committee.

Treas.—Mrs. H. S. Russell of Hudson Friday club.

Gordon Miles sang "A weary heart I bring to Thee." Then came adjournment for luncheon which the Friday club served in the dining room below. It was a 3 course affair daintily served. Sixty five ladies were seated together and 26 sat down afterwards.

At 1:30 the Federation was called to order by the president and Mrs. Will Brown charmed all with an organ solo. The president's address followed replete with good suggestions. Whatever has not been done to elevate womanhood and promote fraternal feelings may be accomplished in the future. But there must be good fellowship on all sides and co-operation is necessary in club work.

The next paper "Historic Landmarks of Lenawee County" by Mrs. J. D. Shull had for the pioneer and early resident an absorbing interest. As is well known by all Tecumseh and Raisin Valley were the first portions of Lenawee county settled by the whites and as Mrs. Shull is certain of the home of the first white woman it is thought there will soon be a boulder erected to perpetuate her memory. There were many interesting phases in this paper and after its reading much discussion of different points; but the "boulder ider" took strong hold and we think in connection with the Pioneer society of Lenawee county there will be a landmark erected soon commemorative of the early industry and hospitality of a woman whose nearest neighbors were the Indians whose home was a meeting place of all early settlers and whose heart and hand helped to make Lenawee county what it is now.

"Civic and Town Improvement" was the theme of Mrs. H. S. Russell's paper. It was hoped that Mrs. Caroline Crane might have presented this topic but was prevented.

"Library Extension" was admirably presented by Mrs. Andrew Wilson, a lady whose wide reading, mature judgement and great opportunities make her competent to instruct and entertain.

The next group of questions on the subject "What can we do for our public institutions in the county?" was handled in a practical common sense manner.

Miss Knott of Adrian college, on account of class work was unable to be present and Mrs. Humphrey spoke on "Penal Institutions" and because of illness in the family of Mrs. D. S. Baker "The Charitable" also.

"Humane Societies" was pleasantly presented by Miss Reynolds. She had many excellent ideas that sometime we hope will bear abundant fruit.

Mrs. Stowell's paper "Is a Club Helpful?" received close attention and elicited many favorable comments.

Mrs. Rose Mackey rendered a pleasing vocal solo.

Hon. A. C. Bird, food commissioner of Michigan, next held the attention of all on the subject "Pure Food." He placed Michigan next to Massachusetts in its pure food laws and next to Minnesota in their enforcement.

An invitation from the Woman's club and the Monday Evening Literary club of Adrian, was accepted for the meeting in the spring 1908 and the second gathering of the Lenawee county federation of Woman's clubs, was declared adjourned.

At 6 o'clock the Woman's Literary club of Hudson, served for their guests an elegant three course dinner in the parlors of the Congregational church. A reception was held at the home of Mrs. C. B. Stowell in the evening. Mrs. Mackay rendered several pleasing selections. Light refreshments were served.

A Proposition.

Tecumseh, Mich., May 28, 1907.

A proposition has been submitted to the qualified electors of Tecumseh township to raise 14,000 dollars to build a bridge over the river at a point in the highway known as Red Mill dam in Tecumseh. Concerning this matter the undersigned, members of the Township Board and Village Council desire to make this statement.

We are unanimously in favor, from first to last, of an absolutely independent bridge, long enough and large enough to avoid for all time to come any more damage caused by dams, floods or high water. We believe that a large majority of the people in both village and township are also in favor of an independent bridge and one built right. We have given this matter our most careful thought and thorough investigation and it is our firm opinion and judgment that to avoid all future trouble and make an independent bridge the length must not be less than 240 feet.

We are also unanimously in favor of a single span bridge that will extend free and clear over every obstacle that in future years might tend to damage or destroy the structure or its approaches. We desire to be economical and to build the best bridge we can buy for the most money possible. We hope the question may carry June 3rd. Some kind of a bridge must be built and while we are doing it let us do it right for all time to come. We hope our unanimous judgment may be sustained by the people.

Very respectfully,
JOHN F. SCHREDER,
JAS. W. WIGHTMAN,
W. W. HICKS,
LEON ROSACRANS,
Township Board.
JOHN H. COMBS, FRED D. TEACHOUT,
JOHN B. SHERMAN,

The Best Laxative for Children.

Parents should see to it that their children have one natural, easy movement of the bowels each day. Do not dose the child with salts or griping pills, they are too powerful in effect, and literally tear their little insides to pieces, leaving the bowels weakened and less able to act naturally than before. Laxative Iron-ox Tablets tone and strengthen the bowels, and stimulate all the little organs to healthy activity. Chocolate coated tablets, easy to take, never gripe or nauseate. 10c, 25c and $1.00.

In remembrance of our dear son:—
Death our dearest ties can sever,
To take our loved one from our side
Bore him from our home forever,
On the dark cold rivers tide.
In that happy land we'll hope to meet him,
Where there is neither sin nor sorrow
And where all is joy and gladness
And where neither trouble nor sadness
Can meet us any more.

Where parting is no more.

MEMORIAL DAY

Exercises held at the New Bradley

CONG. CHARLES TOWNSEND

Delivered the Address.

"The muffled drum's sad roll has beat
The soldier's last tattoo;
No more on Life's parade shall meet
That brave and fallen few.

On Fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread,
And Glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead."

Honor and gratitude to American soldiery, living and dead, was beautifully exemplified in Tecumseh yesterday at their annual observance of Memorial day in which a large number of our citizens participated. The graves of our sleeping heroes were garlanded with flowers while song and eloquence added to the expression of kindly memory in which the lives and deeds of the veterans are cherished.

It is complained of late years that the nation is forgetting the graves of the volunteer soldiers who gave their lives in defense of this great republic. There were many who forgot yesterday or if they did not forget allowed their patriotism to find vent elsewhere than where the veterans decorated the graves of their departed comrades But the veterans who are left do not forget nor do the women who shared the hardships and more than shared the suffering and suspense.

At 1:30 the exercises as planned were carried out in the New Bradley opera house which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion with American flags and bunting of the nation's colors. Rev. Dunning opened the exercises with a prayer which was followed by the boys quartette. The recitation of Miss Olive McBride was fine. The young lady won the good will of the audience in a high degree.

Mrs. W. D. Reed read Lincoln's Gettysburg speech which is always a favorite among patriotic speeches. Another song by the boys quartette and Congressman Chas. E. Townsend was introduced. Mr. Townsend spoke on the "The Private Soldier." His address was eloquent, forceful and full of good thoughts. He had an appreciative audience, who followed him throughout the entire address. A song by the boys quartette was followed by a prayer by Rev. Blanch Young.

At the conclusion of this service the procession was formed preceded by the Tecumseh band, wended their way to the city of the dead where the graves of the fallen soldiers were decorated and the concluding ritual service of the Grand Army held at the graves of the unknown. The Auxiliary ladies rode in carriages in the parade as did many of the Grand Army men, who are now too feeble to walk. The Uniformed Rank Knights of Pythias also marched in line. Several of the other citizens also rode in the parade in carriages.

My best friend.

Alexander Benton, who lives at Fort Edward N. Y., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is my best earthly friend. It cured me of asthma 6 years ago. It has also cured my son's wife of consumption. The first bottle ended the terrible cough and this accomplished the other symptoms left one by one until she was perfectly well. Dr. King's New Discovery's power over coughs and colds is simply marvelous." No other remedy has ever equaled it. Fully guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

DON'T DIE AT 45.

Cure the indigestion which is so liable to lead to apoplexy.

Rush of business, eating too fast and too much, excesses of any kind, soon result in indigestion. Then when the digestive organs cannot care for the food properly the coats of the blood vessels in the brain get little nourishment, become brittle and finally yield to the fierce blood pressure. One is then said to have a "shock," to be paralyzed, or to die from apoplexy.

People suffering with headache, giddiness, palpitation, sleeplessness, bad taste in the mouth, drowsiness, coated tongue, distress after eating, specks before the eyes and any other of the many distressing results of a weakened stomach, should profit by the discovery of Mi-o na stomach tablets.

In recent years the greatest advance in medicine has been in the study of diseases of digestion and nutrition and no other prescription has proven itself of as much value as Mi-o na. It is relied upon as a certainty today in relieving the worst troubles of digestion and assimilation and making a complete cure.

The strongest proof that can be offered in substantiation of the claims that Mi-o na will cure the worst forms of stomach trouble, cancer excepted, and give immediate relief in indigestion is the guarantee that C. A. Wright gives with every 50 cent box of Mi-o-na to refund the money unless Mi o na cures. A guarantee like this must inspire confidence in Mi-o-na. C. A. Wright takes the whole risk and the remedy will not cost you a penny unless it cures.

CATARRH CAN BE CURED.

Many people who have suffered with catarrh for years naturally feel that the disease cannot be cured and become discouraged.

Their failure to get relief is due to the fact that they have not used the right remedy. Catarrh is an affection of the head, throat and lungs and cannot be cured by stomach dosing.

The only scientific and natural treatment for this disease is Hy-o-mei, which is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler, so that its healing medicated air reaches the most remote air-cells, kills all catarrh germs and restores the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and lungs to a healthy condition.

Hy-o-mei is the only cure for catarrh that has ever been sold with the understanding that it was to cost absolutely nothing unless it cured. C. A. Wright sells Hy-o-mei in this way and is always ready to refund the money if it does not relieve and cure catarrh.

The healing and antiseptic balsams of Hy-o-mei perform their purpose to perfection and by using this remedy for a few times each day, you can soon cure yourself of any catarrhal troubles.

A complete Hy-o-mei outfit consisting of a bottle of Hy-o mei and an inhaler costs but $1.00.

The DEERE New Elk Cultivator

It's a beauty—the banner machine of its class, embodying the very cream of cultivator construction,—the best combined Riding and Walking Cultivator that human skill can produce from perfect materials.

Every detail is carefully worked out and perfected, strength and efficiency carefully calculated, and the result is a machine which lends peculiar emphasis to the familiar phrase,—

"IF IT'S A DEERE—IT'S RIGHT."

The balancing frame is a valuable feature of the new "Elk." Lever is in easy reach, and by it the wheels may easily be thrown forward or back to perfectly balance the frame, the driver, the rigs and their entire weight, so that there is neither flying up nor downward pressure at the neck yoke.

High wheels with broad tires make light draft, and prevent settling into the soil. A perfect walking cultivator is secured by throwing the wheels forward and turning up the seat, the balance frame feature making the "Elk" equally satisfactory as rider or walker.

A pivotal tongue device is furnished as an attachment. By simply removing the clip which attaches the tongue to the arch and substituting this pivotal attachment, you have a complete swivel tongue cultivator.

Many other special features make the new "Elk" worth seeing before you buy. The nearest Deere agent will take pleasure in showing you.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

CONSTIPATION.

I can tell a person who is constipated on sight. Their complexion is pasty or yellow. Their eyes are dull, and they look and feel sleepy. No wonder they do. The bowels are a sewer. They carry away the poisonous refuse. If they dont act the poisonous matter is absorbed by the body, and headaches, dullness, bad complexion and eventually serious troubles result.

SAMUEL BOOREN.

There is no better rule for good health than that the bowels should move every day at the same hour if possible. Regularity can be acquired by making a habit of this. Foolish people neglect this and when chronic constipation effects them they take pills every few days to force the bowels to perform their natural function. As years go on they require more and more pills. This should be stopped. Cooper's New Discovery will build up the stomach and cause the bowels to act naturally. While taking the medicine get the habit of regularity, then gradually stop taking the medicine.

"For sixteen years I have suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and chronic constipation. I had frequent headaches and always felt tired and worn out. I heard of Cooper's New Discovery and began its use. After I had finished one bottle I was wonderfully improved. Constipation gave way to a pleasing regularity of the bowels and I ate better, slept better and felt better than I had for months. It is the greatest medicine I have ever known." Samuel Booren. 1742 Munsey Ave., Scranton Pa.

Our customers who have used them say the Cooper medicines do the work. We sell them.

RHEUMATIC FOLKS.

Are you sure your kidnys are well?

Many rheumatic attacks are due to uric acid in the blood. But the duty of the kidneys is to remove all uric acid from the blood. Its presence there shows the kidneys are inactive.

Don't dally with "uric acid solvents." You might go on until doomsday with them, but until you cure the kidneys you will never get well. Doan's Kidney Pills not only remove uric acid, but cure the kidneys and then all danger from uric acid is ended. Here is Tecumseh testimony to prove it.

Mrs. Sarah Austin living on Pearl street, Tecumseh, Mich., says, "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and think very highly of them. About a year ago I was bothered with my kidneys accompanied by dropsical bloatings which made me feel miserable. I had distressing pains in my hips and rheumatism bothered me a great deal. At night I was restless and could not get my proper sleep on account of the frequent action of the kidneys. I passed a great deal of gravel in my secretions and at times it was almost impossible to stand the pain. I doctored a great deal with different physicians but only received temporary relief. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and I began taking them. The results have been more than satisfactory, the bloating has subsided, the pains have ceased, in fact I believe that they have affected a complete cure, I am glad to endorse such a reliable remedy as Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's,—and take no other.

When your back aches it is almost invariably an indication that something is wrong with your kidneys. Weak, sick kidneys frequently cause a breakdown of the entire system. DeWitt's kidney and bladder pills afford prompt relief for weak kidneys, backache, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. Sold by B. J. Pulver.

The deceased Brother Chauncy Dibble was born in St. Lawrence county, state of New York, April 19, 1830, and died in Ridgeway, Lenawee county, May 24, 1907. He came to Michigan with his parents when a boy, ten years of age and settled near Britton. He was the youngest of seven children and the last surviving member of the family. He was converted at the age of 47 under the pastorate of Brother Frazee and joined the Methodist church at Ridgeway and has remained a true and consistent member up to the time of his departure.

Brother Dibble was united in marriage to Elizabeth Rowland on the 2nd of January, 1851. To them were born four children, S. V. Dibble, Arsala, now Mrs. A. F. Barnes, Chas B. and Cornelius, all four children with his wife survive to mourn the loss of a kind husband and loving father. Besides these brothers and sisters they have made a home for three girls, one of whom is dead and the other two remain to mourn the loss of this true father. About the middle of September last Brother Dibble had a stroke from which he never recovered but gradually declined until in February he began to perceptibly grow worse and became perfectly helpless until the release of the soul from the tabernacle of the flesh.

In all of Brother Dibble's sickness there was no murmuring or questioning of God's dealings or a desire to be freed from his sufferings and when the end came it was like the sinking of a child in the bosom of a loving mother.

So ends the journey of the blest,
When o're the master calls them home.
Their sufferings o'er, their work all done.
They enter their Heavenly rest.

The funeral was held at the church Monday at 2 p. m, Rev. Eugene Yager officiating.

MONUMENT UNVEILED.

Roosevelt Delivers Address at Dedication of Statue of Gen. Lawton.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—President Thursday delivered the principal address here at the unveiling of a monument to General Henry W. Lawton. He discussed railway problems, and incidentally paid a warm tribute to Oliver Morton, the war governor of Indiana.

The president arrived at 10:48 a. m., from Canton, O., accompanied by Vice-President Fairbanks and was driven to the Fairbanks home where luncheon was served after which he was escorted to the court house square by United States troops, 13 companies of the G. A. R. and other organizations. The parade route of two miles was lined with cheering crowds.

Following the ceremonies, Vice-President Fairbanks addressed the crowd briefly. He said:

"Fellow citizens: I wish to express to the president of the United States that which I know is in all your hearts—thanks for the admirable address he has just delivered. He came into the state this morning greeted by thousands. As he leaves us tonight, after this crowning event of an eventful day, he will carry with him the assurance that the great citizenship of Indiana is loyal to the memory of those who made illustrious the years from 1861-65, and that the people of Indiana are for cleanliness in civil life and honesty in public service."

At the conclusion of the exercises the president and vice-president were driven to Crown Hill cemetery, where the president placed a wreath on the monument of former P resident Benjamin Harrison. He brought the token of galanx leaves and lilies of the valley from Washington.

The train bearing the president left for Fort Wayne, where he passed the night on his car. Stops were made at Anderson and Muncie.

Two Men Drown.

Dayton, O., May 31.—Two men were drowned and a third had a narrow escape while the three were in a boat in the Miami river near here Thursday afternoon. Five men formed an outing party. Otto Henn, 23, married, and James Custy, aged 28, married and William Lucas, 30, single, occupying the boat when the tragedy occurred. Custy was unable to swim and when the boat overturned he clung tenaciously to Henn, both drowning. Lucas, a one-legged man, managed to swim to safety.

Balloonists' Fate Still Unknown.

London, May 31.—The fate of the two lieutenants who went up in the military balloon from Aldershot May 28 is still in doubt. No confirmation has been received up to the hour of filing this dispatch, of the report from the coast guard station at the Scilly islands, that they have reached there in safety. The guards along the coast who are in direct communication with London have no news from the missing officers.

Tablets Are Unveiled to Memory of Illustrous Persons.

New York, May 31.—Through lines of cheering thousands, veterans of two wars, young men of the militia and cadets passed in review Thursday. There were three parades—one in Manhattan, another in the Bronx and a third in Brooklyn, all much the same; but the most impressive ovations were reserved for the time-worn veterans whose tattered battle flags were greeted with uncovered heads.

Time was when the memorial day parade in Manhattan of the Grand Army of the Republic was hours passing the reviewing stand. Yesterday one hour and forty minutes sufficed to bring the veterans and the guard of honor, made up of nearly all the regiments of the national guard and two regiments of the regular army, before General O. O. Howard, and the military officers who occupied the reviewing stand at 89th street and Riverside Drive.

Following the parade in Manhattan there were services at the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument, while in Brooklyn the 6,000 veterans visited Cypress Hill cemetery, where upon soldiers' graves flowers were placed by the girls of the Columbian Guard of Honor.

In the afternoon Governor Hughes, and Governor Guild, of Massachusetts, delivered addresses at the unveiling of tablets in the Hall of Fame at the New York university. The tablets are in honor of Emma Willard, Mary Lyon, Maria Mitchell, John Paul Jones, Alexander Hamilton, Louis Agassiz, William Tecumseh Sherman, James Madison, John Quincy Adams, John Greenleaf Whittier and James Russell Lowell.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

JURY IS SECURED.

Actual Trial of William Haywood Now Begins.

INDICTMENT IS READ HIM.

Boise, Ida., June 4.—Twelve men to try Wm. N. Haywood for his life on the charge that he murdered former Governor Frank Steunenberg, have been chosen and bound by oath to deal justice between state and prisoner. Haywood Monday heard the indictment charging him with the crime. Today the first chapter of the quickening tale of the Caldwell crime of December 30, 1905, will be told.

The wearisome work of jury selection ended quickly and unexpectedly Monday morning. Alfred Eoff, the first talesman examined, was declared qualified after strong and repeated protests from the defense.

O. V. V. Sebern, the next talesman called, proved the last one needed. When a resident of Wyoming, Sebern served as a member of the Tom Horn jury, and the defense went into the question thoroughly, but in the end the talesman qualified satisfactorily to both sides.

Haywood Looked Pale.

Haywood had come to the court room whitened somewhat by his illness of Saturday; but, as the clerk walked in front of the jury box and began reading the indictment, a little tide of blood came up along his neck and spread over his cheek. His wife and daughter sat at his side during the brief afternoon session at which the indictment was read.

Broadly speaking, the state will [illegible] conspiring with Moyer, Pettibone, Simpkins and others of the alleged "inner circle" of the Western Federation of Miners, plotted a campaign of terrorism that had for its double purpose the removal by assassination of those opposed to the organization and the retention and increase of control and power within the organization.

The prosecution will allege that the explosion at the Vindicator mine, the blowing up of the Independence depot, the murder of Light Gregory, a detective of Denver; the murder of Arthur Collins of Telluride, the alleged blowing up of Fred Bradley of San Francisco, and the alleged attempts on the lives of former Gov. Peabody and Judges Gabbert and Goddard of Colorado were all acts in a single great conspiracy to which the murder of Gov. Steunenberg was incidental.

The Genius.

It will be charged that Haywood was the genius of, and the strength behind the great plot, and that Steunenberg was added to the list because of his part during the labor troubles in north Idaho.

It will be alleged that Haywood and his associates, standing and working in the background, planned the long list of crimes and sent Harry Orchard and Steve Adams forth as hired executioners.

In the work of procuring the jury, the court has been in session 15 days, and 156 talesmen have been examined. Of this number, 34 have qualified legally, including the 12 men now in the box.

Benton Harbor to Bond.

MEMORIAL TO DAVIS.

Monument Is Unveiled in Richmond, Virginia.

GIFT OF WOMEN OF SOUTH.

Bryan Guest of Confederate Veterans' Reunion—Not Permitted to Make a Speech at Unveiling—Parades and Speeches Made Up Program.

Richmond, Va., June 4.—Under a perfect sky with bands playing "Dixie" and Maryland," the remnants of the armies of the grey passed through the streets of Richmond Monday and out on splendid Monument avenue, unveiling an enduring memorial to Jefferson Davis, the first and only president of the Confederate States of America. The event came as the climax of the re-union of the United Confederate Veterans, and every member of the body of old men who was able to walk at all took part.

Second only to the tribute given by the speakers to the memory of Dixieland's great chieftain, were those offered on every hand to the women of the south, whose gift the monument is.

The speeches counselled the teaching of loyalty to the cause for which the southern states struggled, but there was nothing in the teachings but what excited the sympathy and approval of visitors from the other sections.

That the great multitude had gathered for one purpose alone was evidenced by the attitude of the people toward William J. Bryan, who was the guest of the re-union. He was given a remarkable ovation as he drove through the streets in the line of march, and cheered to the echo as he mounted the stand just before the program was begun. At the conclusion of the ceremony there were a number of calls for him to address the people, but these were immediately drowned in a chorus of "No, No," many times repeated. The objections came from everywhere, and were led by the women of the Jefferson Davis Monument association, also Gen. Stephen D. Lee, grand commander, who presided at the stand, and announced in ringing tones: "There will be no politics here."

He turned to the crowd in every direction, and shouted the warning, and it had the desired effect.

One of the touching incidents of the day was the presentation of the descendants of Mr. Davis to the great throng, who cheered them several minutes.

WARM CONTEST ON.

BOLAND WANTS TO SELL OUT.

Michigan United Seeks to Gain Entrance Into Detroit—Desires to Secure Franchises and Give Service to City on Three-Cent Basis. .....

Lansing, Mich., June 4.—Concerning the reported purchase by the Michigan United railroad of the uncompleted so-called Boland interurban line, which was recently started to connect Detroit with Jackson in opposition to the Hawks-Angus Detroit, Ann Arbor & Jackson line, interesting information has been received here from the very best authority.

The Michigan United, when it gets the right of way to the limits of Detroit, will bid for the D. U. R. franchises in the city when they expire and bid for them on a three-cent basis. The Michigan United today owns over 200 miles of interurban tracks, which is said to be about as much as the D. U. R. owns. It owns the street railway systems of Lansing, Jackson, Battle Creek and Kalamazoo, and also owns so much of the old Boland track and right of way as extend from Jackson east to Grass Lake in the direction of Detroit. The Boland company has the right of way on towards Detroit graded and the track laid as far as Dexter.

Both Want Right of Way.

The line from Jackson to Grass Lake and the right of way from Grass Lake and Dexter to Detroit parallels the Hawks-Angus line. The Michigan United, owning so much of this parallel line as extends from Jackson to Grass Lake, now stands [illegible] as the balance of the Boland right of way into Detroit if it can get it at a reasonable figure, but the Michigan United people are up to the situation where it may find it more profitable to secure a new right of way to the limits of Detroit than to buy the Boland company's right of way, and for this reason: The Detroit United, in order to keep the Michigan United from the limits of Detroit, is bidding for the Boland right of way from Dexter to Detroit, although this right of way parallels the line that the Detroit United now owns.

Boland is holding it for a pretty stiff figure, knowing that he has the Detroit United and the Michigan United bidding against each other. Besides this, Boland has now back of him in the deal, Mr. Osborn, formerly private secretary for and now one of the executors of the estate of Russell Sage, and also one of the high officers of the Hanover National bank of New York.

Wants Detroit Franchise.

Anyhow, it is stated on behalf of the Michigan United that it is prepared to build from Dexter on to Detroit, and then without any watering of its present stock stands ready to take, not franchises on new streets, but franchises as they expire, on the streets now occupied by the D. U. R.

Detroit, Mich., June 4.—It was rumored in Detroit Monday that the M. U. R. will bid for franchise within the city to be granted on the basis of three cent fares, thus making a terminal for the line which the road hopes to acquire as far as the city limits.

"The Michigan United is prepared to open negotiations with Detroit for a city franchise whenever the city is ready," said a prominent officer of the Michigan United, who was in Detroit yesterday. "All we want is an assurance that we will be given fair play. We are ready to make an offer for any franchise the city has to dispose of, and we believe we can meet the demands of the municipality as to fares and other conditions."

Engine Rolled Down Bank.

Jackson, Mich., June 4.—A Cincinnati Northern passenger train, due here at 9:45 Monday morning, left the track at Clark's Lake, nine miles south of this city, while running 40 miles an hour. The engine pitched down an embankment, turning completely over. Two coaches were filled with passegers, but no serious injuries were sustained. A broken flange on the engine was the cause of the wreck.

Accidentally Shot Himself.

Menominee, Mich., June 4.—Arthur Olsen of Cedar River, as accidentally shot near that village Sunday night. Olsen reached for a gun which was hanging on the wall when a bench on which he had stepped slipped, discharging the gun. The bullet entered his left hip and passed through his body, shattering a silver watch in his right hip pocket into fragments. The young man is in a serious condition at a local hospital. Physicians believe he may live.

PLEADS GUILTY.

Alpena Wife-Slayer Ready to Take What Is Coming.

Alpena, Mich., June 4.—Charles Mallette, who shot and killed his wife a week ago, pleaded guilty of murder Monday in the circuit court.

Testimony was taken in which Mallette alleged that his wife was unfaithful to him, and he implicated one man. The testimony showed that the murder was not premeditated.

The court decreed the crime murder in the second degree. The prisoner has not yet been sentenced.

DECLARE STRIKE OFF.

French Marine Workers Will Return to Work.

Paris, June 4.—The extended strike of the seamen has virtually come to an end with the capitulation of the strikers, who are expected to resume work at the home and colonial ports today.

Captain Lappyre one of the strikers' delegates, conveyed this information to Minister of Marine Thompson at a late hour Monday evening. He informed M. Thomson that the strike committee, assempled in Paris, had telegraphed the following message to all ports:

"The delegates have been in conference with the minister of marine and the naval committee of the chamber of deputies. The minister has abandoned the prosecution of deserters, and he has requested the navigation companies to reinstate all officers and men. The members of the naval committee assured the delegates that Mr. Thomson's proposition in the matter of pensions would be improved. The delegates therefore unanimously propose that the strike cease."

In the course of his conference with the strikers' delegates, Mr Thomson declared it was impossible to accede to their demands. He said, however, that any proposition would be considered if the strikers returned to duty immediately, in which case no punishment would be meted out and the ship-owners would be requested to retain both officers and men in their former positions.

The firm attitude of the minister and his promise that no penalties would be inflicted, apparently convinced the strikers that it would be wiser to accept the government's proposal to increase the pensions of seamen from $40.80 to $72, and of officers from $156 to $200 a year, than to continue to paralyze commerce, and thus entirely alienate the sympathy of the public, which already has been greatly strained.

Must Go Back to Prison.

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 4.—Judge Adams Monday afternoon sentenced Andrew Tompkins to from four to eight years in prison for a felonious assault on Anna Claxton, who was 14 years old at the time of the offense. Tompkins had pleaded guilty. He is 21 years old and has served a five-year sentence in a Wisconsin penitentiary for a similar offense.

Walks Beam and Is Killed.

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 4.—Despite the warning of fellow-workmen not to climb about a certain section of a barn which was being torn down, on the Plaas farm, three miles from here, Lewis Lavey, aged 24, of Dexter, started to walk across a beam and he was instantly killed. In some manner the beam let him down and a heavier beam caught his head, crushing it.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. Doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by failing to cure by local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and so requires constitutional treatment. Hall's catarrh cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. They offer $100 for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It conforms to the pure food and drugs law. Sold by B. J. Pulver.

Cured hemorrhages of the lungs.

"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages" writes A. M. Ake of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's honey and tar, and my lungs are now as sound as a bullet. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's honey and tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Number 3 is a wonderful mascot for Geo. Parris of Cedar Grove, Me., according to a letter which reads: "After suffering much with liver and kidney trouble and becoming greatly discouraged by the failure to find relief I tried Electric Bitters and am a well man today. The first bottle relieved and 3 bottles completed the cure." Guaranteed best on earth for stomach, liver and kidney troubles by C. A. Wright, druggist. 50c.

A seasonable article in the June Century is Chas. Stewart's account of the "United States of Base Ball" a semi-humorous but detailed narrative of the national game in America: how the leagues are made up and much ether interesting information to all boys and men.

Do Not Be Misled

The name on a sack of flour does not always indicate the quality packed on the insideof it.

Many times flour is branded BEST when as as a matter of fact it is not the best grade turned out by the particular mill claiming it as their best--the brand is misleading.

You always get what you pay for when you buy flour of us. Do not take our word for it, but tty it and be conv inced.

SHAWNEE HOTEL

Opened yesterday morning by

JAS. LOWRY & SONS.

Renovated and Refurnished. T. G. Moffett will act as clerk.

The Lilley House, now called the Shawnee Hotel which has been closed the past two months for repairs, was opened to the public yesterday, June 3, under the new management, Lowry & Sons.

The several rooms have been repapered and new furniture has been placed in them. Lowry & Sons is a good firm to have in Tecumseh as all their furniture and furnishings has been purchased of Guy Belding and other home merchants. T. G. Moffett, one of the best known clerks in Southern Michigan, is here and will act as clerk for Lowry & Sons.

In the refurnishing of this hotel, which is now owned by Jas. Lowry, too much credit cannot be given them. The hotel has practically been built over, every room having been renovated and mostly refurnished, making it today really the best hotels in Lenawee county. Repairs of this kind take time and money. Mr. Lowry has used plenty of money, and has taken an abundance of time to do the work, accomplishing it, completely.

Albert Lowry, Mr. Lowry's eldest son will be the manager although the hotel will be run by Lowry & Sons. From cellar to garrett the inside of the hotel is practically new, sweet and clean and it can now be said that Tecumseh again has a first class hotel, as when the hotel was run by C. F. Patterson it was recognized as the best one in the county.

TRIBUTE

Is paid departed Maccabees.

SIR KNIGHTS AND LADIES

Of Tecumseh, held their annual observance of Memorial Sunday.

Tecumseh Knights and Lady Maccabees met in solemn session at their hall at 1:30 Sunday afternoon and marched to the Presbyterian church, where appropriate exercises were held, the occasion being the annual observance of memorial Sunday. Every feature of the exercises tended to show the sorrow of the living for those who have been called away from this life. There was, in attendance, a large number of the members of both lodges, members from the Tipton and Adrian lodges and their friends and families.

At the church the following program was given:

Prayer—Rev. Dunning.

Song—Mrs. Hodges and Miss McKinney.

Address—Sir Knight Williams of Detroit.

Song—Mrs. Hodges and Metta McKinney.

Benediction—Rev. Dunning.

At the conclusion of the exercises at the church they formed in line, marched to the cemetery where the graves of their departed were decorated. The ladies of the Maccabees decorated the graves of Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Emerson, while the Sir Knights placed flowers over the graves of Richard VanDuzer, Joseph Marsh and Paul Jones.

MORENCI

Last Saturday, Seventy from Tecumseh attended.

About 70 from Tecumseh boarded the D. T. & I. special last Saturday morning at 7 o'clock for Morenci to attend the third annual interscholastic meet held in that village. The high schools throughout the county were well represented and every one had a good time in spite of the rain.

The Tecumseh crowd went by the way of Denson and by electric car to Morenci. A large crowd of Morenci, Hudson and Blissfield people met them at the car, each school giving their own yells. The Morenci band played several selections while the Tecumseh track and base ball teams marched around and gave the high school yells

They then formed a procession and marched to the fair grounds headed by the band, where in a drizzling rain most of the events as scheduled for the forenoon took place Tecumseh entered but few of these events as the grounds were very wet and muddy and there was danger of slipping. In the girls basket ball game in the morning, Tecumseh won from Morenci by a score of 13 to 7. Hudson and Tecumseh were also down for a game but Tecumseh refused to play again on account of rain. Remarkable Rescue.

That truth is stranger than fiction has once more been demonstrated in the town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes "I was in bed entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery and instant relief came. The coughing and bleeding soon ceased and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c and $1 at C. A. Wright's drug store. Trial bottle free.

Opening of Hand's Hotel.

EDITOR HERALD:—I thought you might be interested in the opening of H. E. Hand's Club hotel.

It occurred May 31st and was a fine affair. The frog and fish dinner was an immense success, several tables being filled with delighted guests. There were 70 numbers sold for the dance at night and 65 for the midnight supper, people coming from Tecumseh, Tipton, Brooklyn, Cement City and Addison.

Mr. Hand has painted, papered and refurnished the house and added a gasoline light plant, with plenty of new boats, and a launch. If Tecumseh people come up they will have a good time and be well looked after.

DON'T DIE AT 45.

Cure the indigestion which is so liable to lead to apoplexy.

Rush of business, eating too fast and too much, excesses of any kind, soon result in indigestion. Then when the digestive organs cannot care for the food properly the coats of the blood vessels in the brain get little nourishment, become brittle and finally yield to the fierce blood pressure. One is then said to have a "shock," to be paralyzed, or to die from apoplexy.

People suffering with headache, giddiness, palpitation, sleeplessness, bad taste in the mouth, drowsiness, coated tongue, distress after eating, specks before the eyes and any other of the many distressing results of a weakened stomach, should profit by the discovery of Mi-o-na stomach tablets.

In recent years the greatest advance in medicine has been in the study of diseases of digestion and nutrition and no other prescription has proven itself of as much value as Mi-o-na. It is relied upon as a certainty today in relieving the worst troubles of digestion and assimilation and making a complete cure.

The strongest proof that can be offered in substantiation of the claims that Mi-o-na will cure the worst forms of stomach trouble, cancer excepted, and give immediate relief in indigestion is the guarantee that C. A. Wright gives with every 50 cent box of Mi-o-na to refund the money unless Mi-o-na cures. A guarantee like this must inspire confidence in Mi-o-na. C. A. Wright takes the whole risk and the remedy will not cost you a penny unless it cures.

Norman Mattison.

Norman Mattison died at his home north of town Saturday night at 10 o'clock of chronic cholecystitis. Deceased was 51 years of age. He leaves a wife and one child.

The funeral was held this afternoon from the house at 1:30 and at the Friends church at 2 o'clock, Rev. Wollam officiating. Burial at Brookside.

CATARRH CAN BE CURED.

Many people who have suffered with catarrh for years naturally feel that the disease cannot be cured and become discouraged.

Their failure to get relief is due to the fact that they have not used the right remedy. Catarrh is an affection of the head, throat and lungs and cannot be cured by stomach dosing.

The only scientific and natural treatment for this disease is Hy-o-mei, which is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler, so that its healing medicated air reaches the most remote air-cells, kills all catarrh germs and restores the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and lungs to a healthy condition.

Hy-o-mei is the only cure for catarrh that has ever been sold with the understanding that it was to cost absolutely nothing unless it cured. C. A. Wright sells Hy-o-mei in this way and is always ready to refund the money if it does not relieve and cure catarrh.

The healing and antiseptic balsams of Hy-o-mei perform their purpose to perfection and by using this remedy for a few times each day, you can soon cure yourself of any catarrhal troubles.

A complete Hy-o-mei outfit consisting of a bottle of Hy-o-mei and an inhaler costs but $1.00.

COME IN AND SEE THE SEPARATOR THAT SEPARATES

The Improved Frictionless Empire

Your cream—all of it—from the milk.
That separates you from the most work.
That separates you from the least money.
That separates you from all worry.

Selection of cream separators for this store was made only after a careful consideration of all lines. It was determined to have nothing but the best.

That's Why You Find the Empire Here.

You do not buy a separator as a straw hat to throw away at the end of the season. It is a permanent investment. You want returns. The guarantee of the makers and the guarantee of the store go with the Empire Separator. You will get returns in all the cream, in the best cream—no taint—no odor—in easy running, in easy cleaning, in simple operation—no complicated machinery to get out of order and worry the life out of you. But you are not asked to believe all this without seeing.

Come in and See How the Empire Works.

It almost runs itself. The bowl revolves with so little friction that it runs a full half hour after you stop turning the crank. And it is just as simple as it is easy. Nothing to get out of order, and no complicated parts to wash. Come in and see it.

Get also a supply of the sensible, interesting dairy literature free to you, waiting for you at this store. It doesn't take up much space and it's good reading. You'll be convinced.

DR. BOUCHELLE

Dr. L. B. Bouchelle of Thomasville, Ga., a physician well known in the South, is very enthusiastic over the cod liver oil preparation Vinol. He says: "I have used Vinol in my family and in my general practice with the most satisfactory results. It is exceedingly beneficial to those afflicted with bronchial or pulmonary diseases and to create strength."

The reason Vinol is so far superior to old fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, is because it is a real cod liver preparation from which all the useless oil has been eliminated and tonic iron added.

We ask every weak, thin, run-down, nervous and aged person in town, and all those suffering from chronic colds, coughs and weak lungs, to try Vinol on our guarantee.

The hustle and worry of business men
The woman's household cares,
Are too great a strain on the kidneys.
Backache, headache, sideache,
Kidney and urinary troubles follow.

J. H. Welch, living on Union street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as they have been of great benefit to me. Many years ago I was working on a barn and helping to lift a large timber I strained myself and the doctor said I tore one of my kidneys loose. I began treatment for my kidneys but the remedies failed to take effect. Nights my rest was disturbed by the frequent action of the kidneys and in the morning I felt tired and unrefreshed. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and I began taking them I noticed improvement and soon I was cured I can honestly say that I now feel better than I have for years. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a number of friends who have used them with satisfactory results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's,—and take no other.

MICHIGAN BRIEFS.

Guards and keepers at the Marquette prison have had their salaries boosted 12 1-2 per cent. They now get $900 and $800 respectively.

Dr. George F. Fuerth, one of Detroit's best-known physicians, died suddenly of heart disease about 10:15 o'clock Monday morning at the family home, 65 Trumbull avenue.

Because of his crusade against the Sunday opening of saloons in Grand Rapids and roadhouses and resorts near the city, Prosecutor McDonald has received a number of threatening anonymous letters.

The board of trade of Grand Rapids will give its second merchants' celebration this week, and it is expected that fully 12,000 country merchants will attend, and with the 300 in this city the largest banquet ever in the state will be given.

The authorities are loth to believe that Al. G. Peacock, former union organizer of Battle Creek, was drowned in Kalamazoo river, despite the fact that his clothes and grip were found on the banks of the stream. C. O. Kirby, of Eden, Mich., says he has received a letter from Peacock from Lagrange, Ind.

Despite the cry that Michigan's hardwood forests have been depleted, one of the best-known lumbermen in Cadillac declares there is more standing hardwood timber in this state than any other in the Union. The largest part of this is maple. It is said that there is still enough to keep all the mills in the state busy for the next 25 years.

George F. Ball, aged 91 years, 47 years a resident of Midland, is said to be the oldest [illegible] man in Mich. He was born a Freemason, in 1831, coming from Wendell, Mass. In that year and the one following he carried messages on horseback between Detroit, Ann Arbor, Pontiac and Mt. Clemens. He is said to have built the first dwelling in Lenawee county.

Squeezing the Grapes.

"In wine making," said a wine expert, "the grapes are squeezed from one to six times, and from each squeeze a different grade of wine is made." That is why from one district and from one firm so many varieties of wine come. These varieties don't mean that each is made from a different kind of grape. They mean, as a rule, that they are made from different squeezes of the same grape. The first squeeze of course makes the best and dearest wine. When you buy this grade you will always find on the label the words 'Premier Cru,' first squeeze."

My Breath.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure has permanently restored to health many thousands who had found no relief in the medicines (allopathic or homoeopathic) of regular practicing physicians.

It has proved itself unique in the history of medicine, by being so uniformly successful in curing those diseases.

Nearly always, one of the first signs of trouble is shortness of breath. Whether it comes as a result of walking or running up stairs, or of other exercises, if the heart is unable to meet this extra demand upon its pumping powers—there is something wrong with it.

The very best thing you can do, is to take Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. It will go to the foundation of the trouble, and make a permanent cure by strengthening and renewing the nerves.

"I know that Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is a great remedy. For a number of years I suffered from shortness of breath, smothering spells, and pains in my left side. For months at a time I would be unable to lie on my left side, and if I lay flat on my back would nearly smother. A friend advised using Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which I did with good results. I began to improve at once, and after taking several bottles of the Heart Cure the pains in my side and other symptoms vanished. I am now entirely well. All those dreadful smothering spells are a thing of the past."—N. P. BLACK, Middletown, O.

If the first bottle does not help you, the druggist will refund your money.

Y., June 4.—Harry Hamlin, one of the best known and wealthiest citizens of Buffalo, was killed in an automobile accident on the Williamsville road, a mile north of the city line late Monday afternoon. The mangled body of an unknown man was found on the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad at Meadowland, Penn., Monday. Twelve Chicago theater managers and ticket scalpers, who were arrested charged with violating the law by selling theater tickets at an advance over the published rate, were discharged Monday when their case was called in the municipal court in Chicago. Their dismissal was on the ground that the section of the state law under which they were arrested was unconstitutional.

There the body was identified, through letters found in his pockets, as that of John Dale, husband of Mrs. Mary A. Dale, of 222 National avenue.

Bear Runs the Streets.

Traverse City, Mich., June 4.—The village of Monroe Center engaged in a bear hunt Monday morning. The bear, big and black, appeared on the streets and created a panic among women and children. Glen Copeland, Charles Buell and William Land secured guns and headed a pursuit of the brute. It was finally lost in a swamp. Farmers are alarmed. This is the first bear seen in years, and they fear for their live stock.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Sell, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says—"I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

For Nervous, Over-worked and "Run Down" Women

Women in an exhausted, nervous state, due to over-work, continuous social functions or a general "run down" condition of health, often wonder why tonics and emulsions fail to benefit them. The reason is plain. Tonics and emulsions are good in their place, but they cannot build up the body until the nerves have been toned and quieted.

There's only one remedy that can restore health to women in this exhausted, nervous condition, because it acts directly upon the nerves.

Rexall

Americanitis Elixir

is the only remedy of its kind in existence. As its name implies, it's a specific for the peculiar exhausted nervous conditions resulting from the continuous rush and tension under which Americans live. This remedy fills an important gap in the line of medicines.

Rexall Americanitis supplies to the body just those elements which Nature cannot supply in sufficient quantities to meet the unnatural drain upon the nervous system.

Phosphorus in soluble form is the basis of this splendid nerve food. Thousands of women have been saved from nervous prostration by the prompt use of Rexall Americanitis. To all conditions of nervous derangement, exhaustion and debility it brings permanent relief.

The Story of Rexall

REX means "king," and the combination makes REXALL "king of all."

We have proven time and time again that Rexall Remedies are kings above all others.

For more than two years an expert travelled all over the world in search of extraordinary remedies. Whenever he heard of a wonderful cure of any nature he did not rest until he personally could see the effect of the prescription used. Where he found the remedy perfect he purchased the prescription, but it was never used as a Rexall remedy until the properties had been thoroughly analyzed by the chemists and physicians of the United Drug Company.

SUDDENLY DEMENTED

WAS BOARDING A STEAMER.

New York, June 7.—A woman suddenly became a raving maniac on the French line pier Thursday, three times tried to kill herself and her baby before a crowd of thousands of passengers on the steamship La Savoie and dock attaches.

Dominico Mariano brought his wife, Angelina, and their five children from their home in Bessemer, Mich., a few days ago to sail on the La Savoie for their old home in Fosatto de Vigo, Italy. In Bessemer they recently buried a sixth child, Angelina, of whom the mother was exceptionally fond.

The family was just going up the gangplank, the father carrying a four-month-old baby, when Mrs. Marino's reason left her. She grabbed the baby, shouting: "We can't go back and leave little Angelina buried out there."

Before she could be restrained she darted through the crowd and rushed down the pier, it being her evident intention to throw herself and the baby from the end of the pier.

Mounted Policeman Dozall pursued her down the pier, overtaking her just as she reached the water-edge. The other attempts to end her life were made subsquently.

Came Near Being Drowned.

Boston, June 7.—The breaking down of his motor which allowed the airship he was navigating to be blown seaward, almost resulted in the death of Lincoln Beachy off Revere Beach Thursday. Beachy had made a seven-mile journey from Revere Beach to Boston, sailing high over the city, and passing over the steeple of the Park street church and the state house dome, finally landed on Boston common, where thousands of persons were attracted by the airship. On the return journey to Revere Beach, the motor became disabled when the aeronaut was a mile off shore, over Boston harbor, and the airship was carried some distance seaward. Beachy managed to partially repair his engine so as to get back to the vicinity of Revere Beach. When several feet off shore the airship settled rapidly, and it looked as if Beachy would be drowned. Men in row boats and launches who hastened to his assistance, seized the drag rope and were able to tow him and his apparatus ashore before he struck the water.

Historic Bridge Burns.

Baltimore, Md., June 7.—Conowingo bridge, a covered wooden structure, of a mile in length over the Susquehanna river, about 10 miles north of Port Deposit, Md., was practically destroyed by fire of probably incendiary origin Thursday. Kerosene was found to have been poured over the western end for some distance. The loss is placed at between $100,000 and $125,000. The bridge was erected 50 years ago.

Looks Like Foul Play.

Cleveland, O., June 7.—The body of Marion Majalsky, 45 years old, was found in the Ohio & Erie canal Thursday, his body wrapped from head to foot with fine steel wire. The muscles were contorted as though from the result of a terrific struggle. The authorities are investigating under the belief that the man was murdered. Majalsky was employed in a wire mill.

EIGHTEEN MURDERS.

That Is Total Number Admitted By Orchard.

HE TELLS OF MORE CRIMES.

Again Witness in Haywood Case—He Makes Detailed Confession of Killing of Governor Steunenberg—Also Admits Wife Desertion and Bigamy.

Boise, Ida., June 7.—Harry Orchard crowned his admissions of grave crimes Thursday when, continuing his case against Wm. D. Haywood, he made a detailed confession of the murder of Frank Steunenberg by an infernal machine that directly opens the way for his own conviction and execution for the mortal offense. He swore that the assassination of Steunenberg was first suggested by Haywood, was plotted by Haywood, Moyer, Pettibone and himself, was financed by Haywood and was executed by himself, after a failure of an attempt in which Jack Simpkins had participated.

Orchard lifted the total of his own murder victims to eighteen; detailed the circumstances under which he tried to murder former Governor Peabody, Judge Goodard, Judge Gabbert, General Sherman Bell, Dave Moffat and Frank Herns.

Then, under cross-examination by the defense, Orchard confessed guilt of the sordid social crimes of deserting his young child and wife in Ontario, fleeing to British Columbia with Hattie Simpson, the wife of another man, and committing bigamy by marrying a third woman at Cripple Creek.

Through the shocking details of murder plots, stories of secret bomb-making and tales of man hunts with sawed-off shotguns and infernal machines as weapons, the witness went on in the same quiet off-handed manner that marked his demeanor Wednesday. His voice dropped to lower keys as the pitiful story of the long hunt for Steunenberg narrowed down to the last day and he told of the race from the hotel to the home to best his victim with the death trap and the meeting in the evening gloom as the victim walked unconsciously to his doom. Through it all he winced but once, and that was when the defense made him name his six sisters and one brother and give their residences in Ontario and New York.

The defense fought the story with a multiplicity of objections and succeeded in holding off an attempt to tell the story of the murder of Arthur Collins at Telluride, and temporarily shut off the contents of a telegram sent by Orchard after his arrest. Except for this the state managed to get in its story intact.

The state Thursday began its corroboration of Orchard's crimson tale by producing the lead casing of the Peabody bomb. Orchard identified it, swore that he brought it from Canyon City to Denver and then to Wallace where he gave it to a man named Cunningham. It was thrown into the river, and the state promises later to prove its recovery.

Haywood and his kinsfolk listened quietly to the long recital, and about their first show of feeling was one of amusement, when Atty. Richardson began his onslaught and brought out Orchard's domestic crimes.

There were the same precautions and the same armed guards to protect Orchard and the same court room scenes, except that among the spectators the women to men were as two to one. There was another rush for admittance and the doors of the court had to be closed at both sessions.

BARRY'S LAWS GO.

Upper House Indorses New Insurance Codes.

MEDICAL STANDARD BOOSTED

L'Esperance Measure Making Requirements of State More Strict Passed by Senate—Bird Saw Flaws in the Amendment for Venue Act.

Lansing, Mich., June 7.—The senate Thursday passed the bills which revise the insurance laws of the state. Forming a code of insurance acts which provides for much stricter regulations of insurance companies by the state, along the lines which Insurance Commissioner Barry recommended after the result of the New York insurance investigation became known.

The senate also passed the L'Esperance medical bill, which provides much more strict requirements for applicants for a license to practice medicine in this state aside from giving to the state board of medical examiners much more authority to regulate the practice of medicine. One of the sections provides that in case a physician is convinced of any offense against the criminal laws of the state his license to practice is nullified without further action.

What is purported to be a grant case of throwing the state's interest into the air for the benefit of the big corporations was discovered by Attorney-General Bird Thursday.

An innocent appearing amendment was made to the bill to repeal the change of venue act. This was done while the bill was in the hands of the judiciary committee of the senate. As amended, the bill denies to the state the right to take advanage of the change of venue law in the Michigan Central damage case against the state for $6,000,000 for the repeal of its charter.

Early in the session Rep. Harry McCracken introduced a bill to repeal the change of venue act, which act was passed two years ago for the benefit of the railways. The State Bar association condemned it. The law gave to railway corporations the right to remove from any circuit any case on a simple motion for a change of venue, thereby often putting a poor man to an expense which drove him out of the court.

Because of the advantages the railways have enjoyed under the law, the attorney-general thought it no more than fair that the state should have an opportunity to move for a change of venue in the Michigan Central case, if for any reason it desired to do so. That case, which started in Wayne county, is now in the supreme court on demurrer, and no motion for a change of venue could be made in its present status. At the instance of the attorney-general the repeal bill was made to provide that in any case now pending but not at issue, a motion for a change of venue may be made.

The house passed the repeal bill in that form, but in the senate in judiciary committee, the change was made under which the proviso applies only to cases in which a motion for a change of venue has been made, which would eliminate the state from all opportunity to gain any such benefit in the big damage case.

When the bill was sent back to the house for concurrence, Rep. C. B. Campbell had the bill tabled because the introducer was not present, and he said McCracken might object to the amendment, and as a matter of caution he investigated, with the result that he has asked that the bill be not passed in its present form.

Speaking of the bill the attorney-general said: "It may be presumptuous to expect that the state should receive any consideration, but this bill in its present form is squarely against the interest of the state."

Finally Meets His Doom.

Muskegon, Mich., June 7.—For 25 years, Drewes Feight, aged 50 years, had worked at the same machine in the Thayer Lumber company's mill in this city. For 25 years he had come early in the morning and gone to his home, where wife and children, now five daughters and two sons, were waiting. In all that time he had never known an accident. Thursday morning, while the saws were humming, as great slabs creaked and groaned along running boards, a plank stuck for the fraction of an instant, flew back and struck Feight a fatal blow. He lived just long enough to gasp out a faint message to his children, and died.

GOULD CASE AIRED.

Grounds for Mrs. Gould's Suit for Divorce Are Serious.

New York, June 7.—The case of Mrs. Howard Gould, who has instituted suit for a separation from her husband, Howard Gould, was given its first public airing in court Thursday. The occasion was the hearing of arguments on motion of counsel for Mr. Gould to strike out certain allegations in Mrs. Gould's complaint. Arguments of considerable length were made both for and against the motion, and at their conclusion the attorneys were given until Monday to file briefs in the case.

The grounds on which Mrs. Gould is suing her husband, as shown by parts of the complaint read by the counsel for Mr. Gould, are: First, abandonment of Mrs. Gould by her husband; second, the allegation that the habits and conduct of Mr. Gould are such that it was improper for his wife to live with him; third, that since September last, he has neglected his wife and refused to provide for her, except that he paid for her support at a New York hotel since that time, and fourth, that Gould had treated his wife with extreme cruelty, employed spies to harrass her, caused her mail bag to be tampered with, maintained illicit relations with women of bad character and employed an ex-convict and several New York detectives to procure improper evidence against Mrs. Gould.

Delancy Nicoll, who argued the case for Mr. Gould, said that every allegation against Mr. Gould will be denied when the answer to the suit is filed. He maintained that the charges to which he objected are scandalous and irrelevant, did not tend to support the allegation of cruelty.

In replying to Mr. Nicoll's argument, Clarence Shearn, counsel for Mrs. Gould, said that if the defense would ask for a bill of particulars, specific charges would be made of so serious a character that he would not presume to mention them in court in the course of his argument.

Mr. Shearn argued that if the court should strike out these allegations from the complaint, it would do the plaintiff an irrepairable injury by not allowing her to prove them when the case comes to trial. On the other hand, if they were permitted to remain, the defendant still would have the remedy left at the time of the trial.

Boy Saves Father From Execution.

Columbus O., June 7.—An appeal to Gov. Harris by Dean Cornelius, the 11-year-old son of James Cornelius of Canton, was followed Thursday afternoon by the postponement of the father's execution for murder in the first degree. Cornelius was to have been electrocuted last night at midnight. The boy was brought here by his uncle and State Senator Van Over. The governor later granted a respite to the condemned man until June 21. Cornelius was convicted of wife-murder. It is claimed by his friends that he was crazed by liquor when he he was crazed by liquor when he committed the crime, and therefore is not guilty of murder in the first degree. The governor will investigate this claim.

Another Reign of Terror.

Lodz, Russian Poland, June 7.—There has been another reign of terror and violence in this city since June 2. Eleven persons have been killed, including two mill owners, and thirty-seven have been wounded. The workmen have formed a secret vigilance committee which every night executes one or more bandits or terrorists. The corpses are left on the street, and to the lips of the dead men are pinned pieces of paper setting forth the exact reasons for the execution.

Americans Presented at Court.

London, June 7.—The third court of season was held at Buckingham palace last night. There was an exceptionally large presentation list, which included the following Americans: Mrs. Frank Wiberg, Miss Wiberg and Miss Mary Wiberg, of Cincinnati; Mrs. Melville Post of West Virginia, and Miss Miss Drexel, daughter of Mrs. Anthony Drexel of Philadelphia. King Edward, Queen Alexandra, the prince and princess of Wales and a large royal circle were present.

Black Hills Strike Settled.

Deadwood, S. D., June 7.—The strike of miners which has practically tied up business in the Black Hills for more than five months was settled Thursday. This strike was called January 1, upon the refusal of the mine operators to grant the eight-hour day to their employes. The operators' proposition that the eight-hour day be granted but the miners' consent to a reduction of twenty-five cents per day for three months, was accepted by the union.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. Doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies and by failing to cure by local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and so requires constitutional treatment. Hall's catarrh cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. They offer $100 for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

BASE BALL.

The Indians shut out Kalamazoo Wednesday in one of the prettiest games of baseball played here this season, score 7 to 0. Railing pitched for Tecumseh, holding his opponents down to two singles. In the 4th inning, Kazoo had a chance to score, when, with Andrews down, Furlong was hit by the ball and Bell given transportation to first. A wild pitch advanced them to third and second bases, but Cobb went down on a fly to Kipp and Webster fanned.

In the 2nd inning Merkle made a home run. The score stood 1 to 0 in the 8th inning when Fabrique, the first man up walked and with one man gone he was followed by 6 hits which scored as many runs. Fatrique of Clinton, played short in Somerlott's place who was away on account of sickness.

The Best Laxative for Children.

Parents should see to it that their children have one natural, easy movement of the bowels each day. Do not dose the child with salts or griping pills; they are too powerful in effect, and literally tear their little insides to pieces, leaving the bowels weakened and less able to act naturally than before. Laxative Iron-ox Tablets tone and strengthen the bowels, and stimulate all the little organs to healthy activity. Chocolate coated tablets, easy to take, never gripe or nauseate. 10c, 25c and $1.00.

The magic No. 3.

Number 3 is a wonderful mascot for Geo. Parris of Cedar Grove, Me., according to a letter which reads: "After suffering much with liver and kidney trouble and becoming greatly discouraged by the failure to find relief I tried Electric Bitters and am a well man to-day. The first bottle relieved and 3 bottles completed the cure." Guaranteed best on earth for stomach, liver and kidney troubles by C. A. Wright, druggist. 50c.

Mrs. Theodore Wood.

Mrs. Rachael Wood, wife of Theodore Wood, of Toledo, died at her home in that city last Monday of pulmonary tuberculosis, aged 54 years. The remains were brought here for burial yesterday and were accompanied to Tecumseh by Mr. Wood and daughter, Miss Mabel.

Mr. Wood and family will be remembered by many here as they resided in Tecumseh several years ago.

ROUND ABOUT US.

Mrs. Sarah C. Evers, 63 years old, one of the pioneers of Wood county, died May 14th, at her home in Fayette, Ohio, from poisoning occasioned by her taking carbolic acid for pepsin. Mrs. Evers was the mother of our former townsman Dr. John Evers. She had suffered greatly for some time from stomach trouble and had been taking elixir of pepsin. She arose from her bed for the purpose of getting the medicine from a small cabinet in the bath room and was later found lying unconscious upon the floor.—Hudson Gazette.

There will be a grand opening of the Club hotel at the north end of Devils lake Friday, May 31. This has been refurnished from top to bottom, repainted, and is in first-class condition, and what's more than all, it has in Mr. Hand a proprietor who is a gentleman and a hustler, and the editor can highly recommend him and his hotel. On the 31st there will be boating and fishing, with a frog and fish dinner at noon and a dance at night with fine music.—Addison Courier.

The little 3 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Langshied of Deerfield, met with a painful death Wednesday as the result of swallowing a large safety pin Sunday evening. Every device that medical skill could think of was brought to bear in the case, but to no avail, the little one dying in terrible agony Wednesday afternoon. The funeral was held at the Presbyterian church there this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. David McAllister officiating.—Adrian Press.

John Joslin appeared before the Columbia township board on Tuesday and asked that the township pay him $200 for a horse which he alleges he lost last March by reason of a defective highway. In driving to Cement City the animal he asserts, stepped on a rail, or stick, in the road in such a way that the sharp end was raised just enough to penetrate the animal's breast as he plunged forward. Not noticing the dangerous injuries Joslin drove the animal to Cement City and then home, where some time later the animal died. The board is waiting for legal advice in the matter.—Brooklyn Exponent.

Dundee is in line for improvements now, and the proposition is to pave the business section, and Main street east for half a mile at a cost of about $30,000. It will be necessary, however, to call a special election for the purpose of voting bonds in the sum of $8,600, which is the village's share in the improvement, which election will be held June 10. Paved streets will cost money, but most towns of the size of Dundee, are now amply able to embark in enterprises of this kind—an evidence of the general prosperity we have enjoyed for some years past.—Blissfield Advance.

The Onsted Chapter of Eastern Stars was represented at the county convention in Adrian Monday by 16 members, 10 being from Onsted. The convention was called for the purpose of perfecting a county organization. On the road home quite an unpleasant accident befell a load of Onsted Stars. Near the old Howard mill site, a couple of miles south of town, the front wheels of the rig went into a deep cut, throwing the occupants out most of whom received painful bruises. Chas. Shultis was driving and as the whiffletrees broke he was pulled over the dash and dragged for a couple of rods before stopping the team. The remainder of the journey was finished afoot. It was fortunate no one was seriously injured.—Onsted News.

Do Not Be Misled

The name on a sack of flour does not always indicate the quality packed on the inside of it.

Many times flour is branded BEST when, as a matter of fact, it is not the best grade turned out by the particular mill claiming it as their best--the brand is misleading.

You always get what you pay for when you buy flour of us. Do not take our word for it, but try it and be convinced.

On Tuesday evening last the parlors of the Presbyterian church were filled with the many friends of Rev. and Mrs. J. Wirt Dunning, who gathered to welcome them formally to their new field of labor.

Dr. Frost gave the welcome for the church, Vernor Crane for the young people, Margaret Freeman and Josephine Orr responded with a song for the girls and Wilfred Mills told what the boys of a church can do to help. The pastors of the other churches spoke of the good fellowship existing between the churches, and Mr. Dunning responded briefly thanking all for their cordial greeting.

At the close of his remarks J. Q. Look on behalf of the church and Sunday school presented the pastor with a fine bicycle to aid him in calling upon his people and to Mrs. Dunning a purse containing $30 with which to purchase something for their new home. All joined in singing "Blest be the tie that binds," etc and the program was closed with prayer by Rev. H. B. Dunning of Holloway, father of the pastor.

Refreshments were served to about 250 and a pleasant social hour closed the evening all feeling that the church is to be congratulated on having secured so earnest and talented a pastor and a greater desire to help him in his work.

Norman C. Mattison.

Those who are left to mourn his loss are, his wife, Mrs. Maty Mattison and daughter Inice, and three sisters of Concord. Mrs. Wm. Bradley.

Thursday morning, May 23rd there was closed one of those quiet, beautiful lives which makes other lives brighter and better for having been associated with them. Rosilla Rundell Bradley was born in Murry, N. Y., March 16, 1823. At the age of 18 she came to Michigan and taught in the public schools in Ypsilanti, Milan and Franklin. She was married to Wm. Bradley in 1844 and moved on a farm in Franklin where she resided 55 years.

Mrs. Bradley's health failed some years ago and after Mr. Bradley's death in 1899 she came to Tecumseh to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Henry Wilson. Here she was free from every care and responsibility and gradually responding to the untiring care given her, partially regained her health but being stricken again she failed rapidly and although willing hands and devoted hearts did all in their power, the beautiful life went out to begin anew in the other world.

Mrs. Bradley possessed a cheerful disposition and noble character which enabled her to find and bring into prominence the good qualities of all with whom she came in contract, this with her thoughtfulness for the welfare of others and her kind hospitality drew around her a large circle of friends who mourn her loss. Mrs. Bradley is survived by two children, Frank Bradley and Mrs. Henry Wilson of this place, who have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our thanks to the neighbors and friends for their sympathy in our great bereavement and for the beautiful floral pieces given.

Remarkable Rescue.

That truth is stranger than fiction has once more been demonstrated in the town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes "I was in bed entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery and instant relief came. The coughing and bleeding soon ceased and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c and $1 at C. A. Wright's drug store. Trial bottle free.

Root—Spaulding.

Friends here have been receiving the announcement of the marriage of Mathew L. Root to Miss Dorothy Spaulding which took place at Spokane, Washington, Friday, May 17. Mr. and Mrs. Root will be at home after June 12th at 514 South Beeman street, Spokane, Wash.

BRONICAL COUGHS.

Breathe Hyomei's healing air and all irritation will be quickly cured.

The most irritating and annoying form of cough is that termed bronchial. People subject to bronchial troubles whenever there is a change in the weather or they are exposed to a draft will "catch" a bronchial cough, which is very disagreeable, irritating and annoying.

Bronchial troubles cannot be cured stomach dosing. The medicated air of Hy-o-mei is the only treatment that reaches the affected parts and gives relief and cure. It destroys all the disease germs that are present in the nose, throat and lungs, soothes and relieves the irritated mucous membrane in all parts of the bronchial tubes and quickly overcomes the irritation.

Bronchitis is really an inflammation of the mucous membrane lining the air passages and is purely a local disease, so that it needs a local treatment like that afforded by Hy-o-mei.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to the power of Hy-o-mei to cure bronchial troubles so that the system will resist coughs and colds, the unusual way in which it is sold by C. A. Wright should dispel that doubt. He agrees to refund the money to any purchaser of Hy-o-mei who is not perfectly satisfied with the results of following the use of the remedy. He takes all the risk and if the remedy does not help you it does not cost a penny, while if it cures, the expense is nominal, for a complete Hy-o-mei outfit is sold at only $1.00.

Mrs. Sarah J. Blessing.

Sarah J. Blessing was born in Verona, Oneida county, N. Y., Sept. 2d, 1827. In 1849 she was united in marriage to Mr. Jas. E. Cadwell, seven years later they came to Michigan and located in Tecumseh, which place has since been their home. In March 1876, the only daughter preceded them to the other shore. Mr. Cadwell died in November, 1879, and most of the time since Mrs. Cadwell has found a home with her children, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Cadwell, who have faithfully cared for her and her sister, Miss Mary Blessing, who survives, the only one of the family now living, the son having passed to the other side last September, leaving the invalids to the care of the daughter, who has kindly provided for their comfort until the death of Mrs. Cadwell and who is still caring for the sister, who survives.

Mrs. Cadwell was converted in childhood and united with the Presbyterian church, but on coming to Michigan she joined the Methodists in Tecumseh, where she remained until her death. During most of her life she was a constant sufferer "Yet in all these things she was more than conqueror." Especially did she exhibit a patient and gentle spirit since the sudden death of her son in September.

Her anxiety seemed to be that her loved ones might know her Master often expressing as the ideal of her life that she might lead one soul to the cross. She found constant comfort in reading her bible having as her own record shows, read it from cover to cover more than 50 times. The influence of her quiet and unassuming yet Godly life can hardly be estimated. She died as the christian dies in full and joyful hope of eternal rest. Rev. W. M. Ward officiated using as his text the words chosen by her for the occasion "Let us pass over to the other side." Mark 4:35. Interment as Brookside.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for their kindness and to our pastor, who came with words of comfort also for floral gifts and especially to the singers who came in willing kindness to sing for sad and lonely hearts.

WOMEN PAY MORE

Medical examiners of insurance companies say that the reason women pay more for the privilege of insurance is that women fall victims to indigestion tomach troubles and fatal ailments that spring from these causes.

All persons they say who suffer from headache, dizzy spells, distress after eating, bloating, nervousness and other symptoms of indigestion soon lower the tone of the whole system and are most susceptible to a fatal illness.

For curative power in all stomach troubles, nothing else is as safe or can be so thoroughly relied upon to relieve all troubles from indigestion as Mi-o-na. It is unlike any remedy heretofore known and is one of the valuable discoveries in modern medical science.

It's not the acute attacks that influence the insurance examiners but the constant indigestion and stomach trouble—these things kill many people.

To escape this condition of ill health, and to enjoy one's food a person should use Mi-o-na stomach tablets. They restore and strengthen the action of the stomach and bowels and effect a cure in even the worst form of stomach trouble.

C. A. Wright sells Mi-o-na in 50 cent boxes under a guarantee to refund the money unless it does all that is claimed for it.

NERVOUSNESS.

Nervousness makes people miserable, blue, and unhappy. They think something terrible is going to happen. At night they toss and worry and are not rested. They tire easily and haven't much energy. They think many things are the matter with them—Consumption, Kidney trouble, or twenty other diseases. It's just stomach trouble, nothing else in the world. Two bottles of Cooper's New Discovery will put the stomach in shape in three weeks. I know this because I've seen it tried a thousand times. Then all nervousness will disappear. I know this too, because I've seen it happen a thousand times. Here's a letter I got the other day:

MRS. W. J. SCHAURER.

"My system was badly run down and my stomach and nerves in a awful shape. I could not digest my food, was always tired and would often feel faint and dizzy. "I had heard so much of your New Discovery medicine that I began taking it. Relief and strength and happiness were found in the very first bottle and the benefit I have received from it has been truly wonderful. I am no longer nervous, my appetite and digestion are good and I eat everything and sleep well." Mrs. W. J. Schaurer, 220 Guthrie St., Louisville, Ky.

J. H. Welch, living on Union street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as they have been of great benefit to me. Many years ago I was working on a barn and helping to lift a large timber I strained myself and the doctor said I tore one of my kidneys loose. I began treatment for my kidneys but the remedies failed to take effect. Nights my rest was disturbed by the frequent action of the kidneys and in the morning I felt tired and unrefreshed. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and I began taking them I noticed improvement and soon I was cured. I can honestly say that I now feel better than I have for years. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a number of friends who have used them with satisfactory results."

Gov. Pack's Wife Wants Divorce.

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 7.—Because Gov. William F. Pack, of Benguet province, the Phillipines, places devotion to duty above personal consideration for his wife she has brought suit for a divorce, so his friends say. His wife doesn't like the life in the Philippines, and doesn't like the 'Pinos. The papers in the case were filed the latter part of May, and contain charges of cruelty and desertion. No specific instances are cited. Mrs. Pack's attorney is H. T. Stewart of Centerville It is said that Gov. Pack will not file an answer and will allow his wife to obtain a decree. The opinion is expressed that reconciliation is impossible. Gov. Pack is about 47 years old and his wife is 10 years his junior.

President Given New Dog.

Washington, June 7.—A big, ugly looking bulldog, with the head of a pugilist and legs crooked into all sorts of shapes, has come to the White House by express. The beast arrived in a rate cand with it a letter from S. W. Smith, of Celina, O., who had said he had heard that Pete was getting licked and thought he'd send on a substitute. The dog was addressed to the president. Secretary Loeb was at a loss to know what to do with him, and tried vainly to give him away. Failing in this he was chained up in Loeb's office. The White House employes are fearful that Pete will return unexpectedly from the hospital and that when this happens there will be a tragedy unless the Ohio dog is disposed of in the meantime.

Sanitation Work Will Be National.

Havana, June 7.—Gov. Magoon has decided, in order to facilitate the stamping out of yellow fever and generally to improve the sanitary condition of the island, to nationalize the sanitary service. The control of municipalities in sanitation will be abolished and all power will be vested in the department of sanitation with headquarters at Havana. Major J. R. Kean, of the medical corps, is to be supervisor of the department. A decree covering this matter will be issued today.

Washington Monument.

The towering Washington monument, solid as it is, cannot resist the heat of the sun poured on its southern side on a midsummer's day without a slight bending of the gigantic shaft, which is rendered perceptible by means of a copper wire 174 feet long hanging in the center of the structure and carrying a plummet suspended in a vessel of water.

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

The breaking of a line caused another runaway Monday in which H. S. Underwood and Mr. Talbot, a salesman of Toledo, were the participants. The horse with no one to control dashed around the corner by DuBois' store and came to a stop in front of the Bauer home and freeing itself from the buggy ran to C. B. Exelby's where it was caught Both men escaped severe injuries.

The Memorial day services passed off pleasantly, a large crowd being present to pay tribute to our honored dead. The order of services were carried out as given in last issue. The young ladies quartette composed of Floy Underwood, Rilla Helm, Vena Temple and Orpha Palmer sang two fine selections as did also Messrs. Aten, Kniffen, Easlick and Gilmore. Irene Pilbeam and Iva Gove gave recitations and Mrs. Cyrus Palmer beautifully sang "The Swork of Bunker Hill." The oration was given by Leland Bean of Adrian, and was of the best all listening with attention and appreciation.

Only 16 comrades were in line namely T. V. Hoagland, N. B. Ackley, L. S. Palmer, John Britton, John Exelby, I. Pilbeam, Henry Reynolds, Lewis Miller David Boyd, Frank Pilbeam, M. Biggs, Wm. Collins, Geo. Swick, Henry Ball, Jas. Gilmore. At the close of the exercises the school children decorated the 29 graves of the departed heroes. Ridgeway cemetery never looked better and the work of the Women's Association was highly complimented. People who had not visited the place for a year were surprised at the improvements. Surely no one who has a relative or friend buried at Ridgeway will hesitate to pay $1 each year for the care and improvement of the grounds.

The association desires to thank those who assisted in making Memorial day '07 a splendid success also to thank Warren Jones, chairman of the work and Chas. Foote, president of the day.

When the future seems the most promising the danger of disaster may be near.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

ORCHARD NOT CORNERED.

Defense in Boise Case Hint of Great Counter Conspiracy.

Boise, Ida., June 11.—Into the further cross-examination of Harry Orchard Monday, Counsel for Wm. D. Haywood repeatedly threw the suggestion of a great counter-conspiracy, formulated and carried out by the enemies of the Western Federation of Miners, and indicated a determination to construct their main line of defense on that field. They carried Orchard, by slow steps, through the minutest details, from the dynamiting of the Independence, Colo., station, down to the attempt on the life of Fred Bradley and his family in San Francisco.

In addition to a series of particular attacks on the credibility of the witness and the general probability of his stories, and preparing the way for their own testimony in rebuttal, the defense sought to show that Orchard has a mania for boasting of the commission of crimes non-existant except in his own mind, and that he is testifying under the control and suggestion of Detective McPartland.

Orchard denied that mine owners or railway men had any part in the Independence station outrage; denied that he had a mania for confessing uncommitted crimes, and denied that he is under the influence of Detective McPartland. He showed some spirit in answering many of Attorney Richardson's questions, but he firmly held to all of his first stories, and was calm and certain throughout the long, trying examination.

Two more crimes were brought home to Orchard Monday. He confessed that he burned a cheese factory in Ontario to get $600 insurance; that he began his life of crime by selling cheese at short weight. Counsel for the state let yesterday's examination take its course without serious objection, and at the close privately signified their entire satisfaction. Orchard has been on the stand five days and has fully two more to serve.

Woman Attains Remarkable Age.

Pine Mills, Tex., June 11.—A notable domestic celebration was held here Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Louisa Kilcrease. Mrs. Kilcrease observed the one hundred and thirty-first anniversary of her birth, June 10, 1776, and her friends say there is little doubt that she is the oldest person in the United States. Mrs. Kilcrease makes her home with her daughter and granddaughter, and for a woman of her remarkable age is in good health. She was a little over three weeks old when the Declaration of American Independence was signed.

NEAR TO BREAKING.

Apparently Are Our Relations With Little Japan.

JINGO AGITATORS AT WORK.

Money Raised in West to Foster Anti-American Feeling — Ambassador Aoki Denies Any Disagreement Exists and Denies Press Interviews.

Washington, June 11.—With the feeling that it is virtually bound and helpless, powerless to stem the tide of misunderstanding, jingoism and "cockiness" on the part of influential Japanese, the Washington government, with what patience and calmness it can muster, is watching the trend of events that slowly, but surely, seem to be undermining the cordial relations that have existed and officially still exist, between Japan and the United States.

The two governments are diplomatically on the best of terms. But it is apparent to the administration that a large and comparatively powerful section of the Japanese people, incited by agitators who stop at no exaggeration, is engaged in a movement that has for its object either the humiliation of the United States or war with this nation.

Bound to Produce Irritation.

That the Japanese ministry has been influenced to some extent by the prevailing outcry against America, officials here feel bound to believe. They reached that conclusion reluctantly, and found it impossible to escape the conviction that Japan was pursuing a course bound to produce irritation between the two countries.

Thousands of dollars are being raised by the Japanese of the Pacific coast to carry out the compact they have entered into with the progressive party of Japan for the overthrow of the Sailonji ministry, the annulment of the exclusion clause in the immigration bill and the guarantee of the naturalization rights of the Japanese subjects residing in this country. These additional facts in the international plot are vouched for in semi-official circles here. The enormous fund which is being collected will be used to arouse a feeling in the Japanese empire antagonistic to the American government.

Aoki Does Not Comment.

Continuing his policy of adding nothing in the way of comment o fact to the discussion of Japanese-American incidents, Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador to this city, as usual denies himself to newspaper men and proclaims aginst any statement emanating from the embassy relative to the reported development of strength in the opposition party in Japan.

Ambassador Aoki is understood to take the view that there are no matters of difference between the United States and Japan which are not capable of adjustment if allowed to be considered on their merits. It is said to be this view that leads him to deprecate the publication in this country of the propaganda which is being used in Japan to influence votes in the fall for members of the lower house of the Japan legislative body.

Probe Vanderbilt's Mental Condition.

New York, June 11.—Interest in the recent marriage of Mrs. May S. Pepper, the spiritualist leader, to Edward Ward Vanderbilt, was revived Monday when an application was made in the supreme court in Brooklyn to have a committee appointed to inquire into Vanderbilt's mental condition. The application was made by Vanderbilt's daughter, Minerva, and his brother and sister, James O. and Sarah L. Vanderbilt. The petitions declare that Vanderbilt was brought into the marriage while under the control of Mrs Pepper, and was not responsible for his action. The hearing was adjourned until next Thursday. In the affidavits presented, it was alleged that a control known as "Bright Eyes," had induced Mr. Vanderbilt to marry Mrs. Pepper. "Bright Eyes," who is an alleged Indian spirit and gives messages to Mrs. Pepper, according to the court affidavits, wrote a number of letter through Mrs. Pepper, which induced Mr. Vanderbilt to sign sundry checks. It was alleged at the hearing that the daughter was left to the charity of friends by the marriage.

Americans Are a Bit Nervous.

Paris, June 11.—On July 1 there will go into effect in this city a new law making obligatory the registration in detail of the Americans residing permanently in Paris, and there is a consequent flurry among the eight thousand members of the American colony. The consulate is flooded with requests for information and explanations of the new law, and lawyers are busy defining the status of American children born in France.

BOARD IS CRITICIZED.

Legislature Committee Reports on Soldiers' Home.

GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS.

Two Sessions a Day Now the Order in Legislature—Senate Passes Indeterminate Sentence Law—Judge Kendrick Condemns the Measure.

Lansing, Mich., June 11.—The special senate committee appointed to investigate the action of the Soldiers' home in retaining all over $12 of the monthly pensions received by the veterans, will submit a report today.

The action of the board of control will be criticized, as members of the committee fail to see how the state can acquire title to this money, but it is yet to be determined whether legislation will be recommended to absolutely prohibit taking the money in the future.

The fund now amounts to $2,500 a year, and under the new law will be increased to $4,000.

Both senate and house held long sessions last night and until the close of the legislature two sessions a day will be in order.

The senate recalled the change of venue repeal bill, members of the judiciary committee denying absolutely that they had purposely tinkered the measure in the interests of the Michigan Central railroad. It will be fixed up as passed by the house.

After a long discussion, the new so-called indeterminate sentence act was passed. Members of the pardon board had strongly urged that the bill be sent back to a committee for hearing, but the line-up had already been fixed and it slid on through.

Bill Is Dangerous.

Judge Kendrick asserts that the bill is a dangerous one, as it nullifies the present parole system; makes no provision for holding confirmed criminals, and forces all prisoners to serve the full minimum sentence. It also prevents the governor from granting paroles.

Representative Anderson tried to prevent concurrence on a bill which prohibits a saloon within fifty rods of a school in any incorporated village Ottawa county, the object being to put a roadhouse in the village of Jamestown out of business, but failed. When prodded, he admitted that one of his friends interested in the bill is a stockholder in a Grand Rapids brewery. A little later Representative Baker bobbed up with a local liquor bill and Representative Hudson, of local option fame, inquired whether he had consulted the brewing company.

County Detective for Wayne.

County Auditor Oakman is here to urge the passage of a bill giving Wayne's prosecutor a county detective who will have the authority of a deputy sheriff. John Troy now works for the auditors, looking up liquor bonds, and they would prefer to have him under the prosecutor.

Representative Weiss slipped in a bill to give Detroit aldermen $1,800 a year, but did not try to have it passed under suspension of the rules.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 11.—The investigation committee of the state senate, which was appointed last week to look up the question of funds at the Soldiers' home, met at the home Monday. All the members, except Senator Ely were present. Col. Turner and Maj. Taylor showed by the books of the home what became of the excess pension money over $12 per month allowed veterans. As the state law passed two years ago empowered the board of managers of the home to expend this "post" fund as it saw fit, there was no question of the legality of the action of the board.

Kansas Wants Harvest Hands.

Topeka, Kas., June 11.—Following close on the crop report of F. D. Coburn, secretary of the board of agriculture, comes the call for harvest hands from T. B. Gerow, director of the state free employment bureau. The call is for 19,578 men and 3,400 teams.

Will Test Mrs. Baker's Mind.

Concord, N. H., June 11.—Judge Chamberlin Monday ordered Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy's competency determined by a master, in connection with the action brought by relatives for an accounting of Mrs. Eddy's property.

A Fortunate Texan.

E. W. Goodloe of Dallas, Tex., says: "In the past year I have become acquainted with Dr. King's new life pills and no laxative I ever before tried so effectually disposes of malaria and biliousness." They don't grind or gripe. 25 at C. A. Wright's drug store.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. Doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by failing to cure by local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. They offer $100 for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Good manners are made up of petty sacrifices.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It conforms to the pure food and drugs law. Sold by B. J. Pulver.

Cured hemorrhages of the lungs.

Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages" writes A. M. Ake of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's honey and tar, and my lungs are now as sound as a bullet. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's honey and tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us, or we find it not.

All stomach troubles are quickly relieved by taking a little Kodol after each meal. Kodol goes directly to the seat of the trouble, strengthens the digestive organs, supplies the natural digestive juices and digests what you eat. It is a simple, clean, pure, harmless remedy. Don't neglect your stomach. Take a little Kodol after each meal and see how good it makes you feel. Money back if it fails. Sold by B. J. Pulver.

A prompt, pleasant, good remedy for coughs and colds, is Kennedy's laxative cough syrup. It is especially recommended for babies and children, but good for every member of the family. Attending to your own business is the most effective way to fight competition.

A man who is in perfect health so he can do a day's work when necessary has much for which he should be thankful. Mr. L. C. Last week Chief of Police Gage of Ypsilanti, went to a hotel in that city, in company with a policeman, and found a slot machine, they loaded it on a wagon, drove to the center of the bridge over Huron river and heaved it into river. This procedure was the result of the hotel proprietor's neglect to comply with the order given 3 months ago that the city must be rid of all slot machines. The machine was heavy with nickles but none of them was touched. One of the police commissioners said that it was one wanted that money the police would not interfere.—Saline Observer.

Silver lake, a small body of water in Woodstock, was the scene of a triple drowing Monday afternoon. The victims were; Neil Ferris, Woodstock, aged 85; Byron Beecher, transient aged 50; Washington Griffith, Woodstock aged 50. The tiny vessel was loaded down and capsizing the three were precipitated into the water and drowned.—Adrian Press.

The total number of deaths reported to the department of state for the month of April was 3,212 corresponding to an annual death rate of 15.1 per 1,000 estimated population. This number is less than the number reported for the month of March but exceeds the number reported for April 1906.

The extremely cold and freezing weather during May was very severe on all growing crops and retarded planting to such an extent that the acreage of corn, potatoes and sugar beets is low in figures but much planting is yet to be done. They ask that the company be restrained from tearing down the shops and moving them away. John E. Bird and F. B. Wood appeared for the plaintiffs and D. W. Warren of the firm of Dickenson, Stevenson, Cullen, Warren & Butzel of Detroit, appeared for the railroad company.—Adrian Times.

GOING TO THE CIRCUS?

This is the question that Barnum & Bailey's local admirers are asking one another.

An exodus of considerable proportions is quite probable when the Barnum & Bailey "Greatest Show on Earth" exhibits at Adrian, Mich., on June 14th, which will be the nearest place of exhibition. The railroads, as has been customary, announce excursion rates on that day.

From the standpoint of magnitude alone, the Barnum & Bailey circus would justify its title of "The Greatest Show on Earth." Some idea of its comprehensiveness may be gained from the fact that five long trains of cars are utilized to transport the paraphernalia from city to city. The big show employs in its various departments, nearly 1,100 men, women and children, the horse fair includes over 300 horses, the zoological department presents three herds of big and little elephants and hundreds of other animals, including four towering giraffes and the only specimen of the very rare bi-horned rhinocerous now in this country.

The scope of the performance is indicated by the fact that the show has this season introduced a series of new acts of such a startling and sensational nature as to create a genuine furore wherever they have been seen. An automobile speeds down a runway with the rapidity of an express train, shoots into the air and continuing its journey, lands on a second runway and runs to the ground. This thrilling act is known as the "Dip of Death" and the daring chauffeuse who drives the auto is a young American girl. Another "thriller" presented for the first time this season, introduces Capt. Carl Howelsen, the champion ski-jumper of the world, who performs a startling slide and flight for life on eight-foot skees.

Owing to its magnitude the Barnum & Bailey circus it is announced, will continue to eliminate the parade.

Primrose—Skinner.

Services at Corunna.

We received the Corunna Independent from Rev. Leslie Bower containing the following church notes:

Last Sunday was a great day with us. A large number of the members of Corunna lodge F. & A. M. attended services Sunday morning. The pastor preached on "Brotherhood," text "For we are members one of another."

The pastor wishes to thank the members for their attendance and for the splendid resolutions adopted by the fraternity at the close of service.

Sunday evening a children's day program was given by the younger members of our Bible school followed by a short sermon on "Christian Baptism" which was listened to with close attention after which seven happy converts were baptized into Christ and the fellowship of the church. The church was packed and many turned away.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach a memorial sermon for the I. O. O. F. and Rebekahs. The members of these orders will attend in a body and all friends are cordially invited.

FREDERICKSBURG.

Forty-five years have rolled away since General Burnsides tried to drive the Johnies Reb's off the Heights of Fredricksburg. True it is all quiet along the Rappahanock today. Let us look at it from St. Mary's Heights to the south of the village in May 1907. At that time it was well fortified and held by Lee and the army of northern Virginia 8000 strong. As I stand here on the top of the Heights where once was a rebel battery, a feeling of dreadful awe comes over me and I am sick and faint. Do you ask why? I wish I could tell you and make you see it as I can see it even now after a flight of 45 years.

Here on this ridge of hills with every crowning point planted with cannons for miles up and down the river, 300 in all, and further down on the brow of the hill are earthworks for thousands of riflemen and in their front is a stone wall about four feet high and a sunken road. Back of the wall stand a line of the best riflemen in the southern army while back of them are more men to load the guns for those in front while in the rear, flat on the ground lie two lines more to support and make good any loss in the firing line. In front of all this is an open plain of about ½ of a mile wide between which and the river is the village of Fredricksburg.

Across this river on Fordmouth Height Burnsides has planted his heavy guns, the grand army of the Potomac lying along the hills. On the nights of the 10 and 11th of December Burnsides ordered the pontoon laid for crossing. Under cover of a fog that has settled on the valley the Pioneer had the bridge about ½ done when the Reb sharp shooters drove them off. Then the gallant old 7th Mich. Inft., comes forward, finished the bridge and under a heavy fire gained a foothold on the south bank while Burnsides' cannons swept the streets of the town with shot and shell.

Gen. Franklin with his grand division crosses farther down the river facing Gen. Jackson. Sumner, on the right, farther up the river facing Longstreet's corps while Hooker with his "big class in Georgia phy" has the center. The crossing made, then the work begins. Let us watch the center. Hooker must now move his men up through the town, over the streets that we had raked and torn a few hours before, now in turn made a cauldron of Tophit by the guns of Lee on the Heights. With Old Glory unfurled and flying in the breeze, despite the terrible carnage, those iron hearts form their line of advance not over 150 rods from that formidable rebel line. Brave men fall but not one falters.

Now they move forward to almost certain death. All those cannons that can be brought to bear on that advancing line, is doubled with grape and cannister and vomiting out death to all within their reach while on comes as brave a line as ever faced a foe. The stone wall has turned into a blaze of fire in oft repeated flashes, never did men fight better or die in a more useless effort. They are forced back, reinforced by the brave and gallant Irish brigade who advance to the fray and six times did these brave men throw themselves at that awful stone wall and six times were they forced to retire leaving ½ of their number stretched on that bloody field—because some one had blundered. We had reason enough for tears but nothing to blush for in shame. Under cover of the night we drew back across the river and all is quiet along the Rappahannock.

Now that I have tried to tell you how it went in the center, yet you cannot feel as the soldiers feel. Here on this bloody field we left 11,355 brave boys, who now sleep in the cemetery on the Hights, gave their young lives that you might enjoy the land of freedom. More boys died here on this field than there are men, women and children in the city of Adrian.

Remarkable Rescue.

That truth is stranger than fiction has once more been demonstrated in the town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes "I was in bed entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery and instant relief came. The coughing and bleeding soon ceased and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c and $1 at C. A. Wright's drug store. Trial bottle free.

Ida B. Hinkley of Weston, who was seriously injured by a Wabash railway crossing accident in Madison township last February which cost her mother and fiancee their lives, has through her attorneys Fellows & Chandler of this city, brought suit against the railroad company in the circuit court alleging damages at the sum of $15,000.—Hudson Post.

BRONICAL COUGHS.

Breathe Hyomei's healing air and all irritation will be quickly cured.

The most irritating and annoying form of cough is that termed bronchial. People subject to bronchial troubles whenever there is a change in the weather or they are exposed to a draft will "catch" a bronchial cough, which is very disagreeable, irritating and annoying.

Bronchial troubles cannot be cured stomach dosing. The medicated air of Hy-o-mei is the only treatment that reaches the affected parts and gives relief and cure. It destroys all the disease germs that are present in the nose, throat and lungs, soothes and relieves the irritated mucous membrane in all parts of the bronchial tubes and quickly overcomes the irritation.

Bronchitis is really an inflammation of the mucous membrane lining the air passages and is purely a local disease, so that it needs a local treatment like that afforded by Hy-o-mei.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to the power of Hy-o-mei to cure bronchial troubles so that the system will resist coughs and colds, the unusual way in which it is sold by C. A. Wright should dispel that doubt. He agrees to refund the money to any purchaser of Hy-o-mei who is not perfectly satisfied with the results of following the use of the remedy. He takes all the risk and if the remedy does not help you it does not cost a penny, while if it cures, the expense is nominal, for a complete Hy-o-mei outfit is sold at only $1.00.

WOMEN PAY MORE

Medical examiners of insurance companies say that the reason women pay more for the privilege of insurance is that women fall victims to indigestion tomach troubles and fatal ailments that spring from these causes.

All persons they say who suffer from headache, dizzy spells, distress after eating, bloating, nervousness and other symptoms of indigestion soon lower the tone of the whole system and are most susceptible to a fatal illness.

For curative power in all stomach troubles, nothing else is as safe or can be so thoroughly relied upon to relieve all troubles from indigestion as Mi-o-na. It is unlike any remedy heretofore known and is one of the valuable discoveries in modern medical science.

It's not the acute attacks that influence the insurance examiners but the constant indigestion and stomach trouble—these things kill many people.

To escape this condition of ill health, and to enjoy one's food a person should use Mi-o-na stomach tablets. They restore and strengthen the action of the stomach and bowels and effect a cure in even the worst form of stomach trouble.

C. A. Wright sells Mi-o-na in 50 cent boxes under a guarantee to refund the money unless it does all that is claimed for it.

CONFIRMED PROOF.

Residents of Tecumseh can't doubt what has been twice proven.

In gratitude for relief from aches and pains from bad backs, and kidney ills thousands have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of Tecumseh, who so testified years ago now say their cures were permanent. This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Tecumseh sufferers.

S. Erskine, barber, living on Evans street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "For 10 years I was troubled with kidney complaint and dull pains in my back. It was more severe after hard work or if I lifted anything. I was annoyed at night by the too frequent action of the kidneys. The secretions were highly colored and showed much sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice and I began using them. They did me a world of good. This was 5 years ago and I gave a statement for publication. I think as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills now as I did then and am glad to re-endorse them so that others may be cured.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's,—and take no other.

A sudden fit of anger may have an influence in many directions.

A lazy liver leads to chronic dyspepsia and constipation—weakens the whole system. Doan's Regulets (35c per box) correct the liver, tone the stomach, cure constipation.

It is easy to reform a bad habit when [illegible] digest.

Itch! Itch! Itch!—Scratch! Scratch! The more you scratch the worse the itch. Try Doan's ointment. It cures piles, eczema, any skin itching. All druggists sell it.

If you will make inquiry it will be a revelation to you how many succumb to kidney or bladder troubles in one form or another. If the patient is not beyond medical aid, Foley's Kidney Cure will cure. It never disappoints. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

The double spring number of Style & American Dressmaker is the most attractive issue of the magazine ever published. The department of "The World at Large" in the Metropolitan Magazine grows in value and interest month by month. It saves the busy man from wading through innumerable papers and periodicals in order to read the vital news items and those of scientific and artistic interest with which he should keep in touch. Better still, it is thoroughly illustrated with rare photographs, most of which it would be impossible for daily or weekly journals to get in time for publication.

President Roosevelt interviewed by Edward B. Clark, delivers a characteristically vigorous attack, in the June Everybody's on certain well known animal writers whose stories are false to nature. "Roosevelt on the Nature Fakirs" is a salutary exposure, and comes fittingly from one who is recognized as the world's big game authority.

* * *

J. H. Twells is the author of the novel which opens the June number of the Smart Set. The story is entitled "One Man's Hour" is full of action and romance. A young English publisher falls in love with an American girl and follows her to Paris where the real story begins. The remarkable incidents cause the most jaded reader to become enthusiastic.

* * *

We note with interest the appearance in the June Designer of stories by Anne O'Hagan, and Isabel Gordan Curtis, while the continued sketch "Economy Farm" by Miles Bradford the author of "Carlotta and I," still amuses and instructs the young farmer and interests all who know either more or less than he about farming.

* * *

If you are on a journey—long or short—or want to spend an evening with the most entertaining novel on the market, be sure to get "A Tragedy or Circumstances," by Frank Danby, author of "Pigs in Clover." This is brought out complete in the June Lippincott's: and for plot of fascinating novelty it has no peer in modern fiction. It presents a vivid picture of "high" society with its myriad temptations and human pitfalls. It is realism without indecency; and in the gay scenes at Monte Carlo the reader is carried along in the mad whirl of chance which threatens to engulf the heroine, whose destiny is in doubt up to the closing pages.

* * *

McClure Magazine for June contains more important and entertaining reading than one could expect to find in 3 numbers of any magazine. Ellen Terry contributes her charming and fascinating "Memories of My Childhood" that give stories of her wonderful girlhood, and her debut, and pictures of the actors and the English stage of 50 years ago. Samuel Hopkins Adams presents in "Rochester's Pure Milk System," a graphic account of life saving by a municipal supply of plain, pure milk.

The bridegroom always thinks he has a lot of nerve because he showed up at all.

The choir seems to be usually made up of those who are willing, instead of those who can sing.

When the future seems the most promising the danger of disaster may be closest.

Wakeful?

Sleeplessness Is a Sign of Nerve Trouble and Should Be Looked To.

There are three different manifestations of sleeplessness.

First, hardly to sleep a wink all night, second, to lie awake a long time before falling asleep; third, to fall asleep soon, waking up after several hours and then find it hard to sleep again.

They mean that somewhere in the nerve fibres, somewhere in the brain cells, somewhere in the blood vessels that carry blood to the brain, something is radically wrong, and must be righted, or the end may be worse than death.

To right it, take Dr. Miles' Nervine.

They indicate diseases which may lead to Epilepsy, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervous Prostration, Paralysis, Insanity.

"My husband had been sick for weeks, could not sit up to have his bed made. With all the medical help we could get he continued to grow worse. He could neither sleep or eat. Our baby girl was sent away, and all callers barred, because he could not stand a bit of talking. I read of a case of nervous prostration cured by Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. We began giving it to him, and in a few days he was able to be dressed. From that time he steadily improved. Nervine saved his life."—MRS. A. G. HASKIN, Freeville, N. Y.

The navy department at Washington has finally decided that in order to carry out the provisions of the naval personnel act of 1899, twenty-four officers must retire on June 30 next. The voluntary retirements this year are confined to captains and commanders, and unless twenty-four of these apply for voluntary retirement, a certain number must be selected for involuntary retirement.

An attempt was made by train wreckers Sunday night to wreck passenger train No. 16, on the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Crescent, O. The train was coming from Cleveland, and had over 100 passengers aboard. When it reached Crescent the engine left the track, the train having slowed down, a fact which prevented a disastrous wreck. A spike had been driven in the switch.

Entangled in the ropes of a parachute, John Puepura, an aeronaut of Utica, N. Y., met death by drowning in the Minnesota river, at Granite Falls, Minn. Puepura ascended Saturday evening. The wind carried the balloon up the river half a mile before the aeronaut detached the parachute. In some manner his arms and legs became entangled in the ropes, and when the parachute struck the water Puepura was unable to save himself.

Rev. Clark Brought Back.

Hastings, Mich., June 11.—Rev. W. D. Clark, who is wanted at Freeport, this county, to answer the charge of forgery, has arrived at San Francisco on the steamer Sierra from Honolulu in custody of Sheriff W. B. Furness of Barry county. Clark was arrested at Honolulu May 22, the allegation being that before he disappeared from Freeport he passed a bogus check for $300 on a Freeport bank.

The present life-insurance situation in America is summed up in Putnam's for June by Geo. E. Ide, president of the Home Life Insurance Co., who came through the recent legislative investigation in New York with flying colors. The writer admits the need of restrictive legislation, but insists that the present New York law needs amendment, if the domestic companies operating in that State are not to work at a great disadvantage as compared with those of other States.

The Atlantic Monthly is appealing to more and more readers of all classes interests. The leader in the June number is a thoughtful article on the "Personal Factor in the Labor Problem," by Hayes Robbins—moderate, sensible and practical in tone. Rev. S. M. Crothers contributes a charming essay entitled "The Colonel in the Theological Seminary," in which he makes the clear-headed officer discuss some of the present religious problems in military fashion.

A lesson in health.

Healthy kidneys filter the impurities from the blood, and unless they do this good health is impossible. Foley's Kidney Cures makes sound kidneys and will positively cure all forms of kidney and bladder disease. It strengthens the whole system. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Praises Colored Troops.

Washington, June 11.—Col. Scott, superintendent of the military academy, has made the conduct of the negro troopers stationed at that place the subject of a special report to the war department, which is of interest in view of published rumors to the effect that the residents of Highland Falls have become apprehensive of disorderly conduct on their part. As a matter of fact, Col. Scott says the conduct of the negro troops since they have been at West Point has been admirable and flawless; indeed, he says, it has been much better than that of the white regulars who preceded them at the post. There are very few of these negro troops at the academy, most of them being short-term men connected with the regiments that have been sent to the Philippines, who were kept at home to avoid the expense of transporting them to the Philippines and return after a few weeks' active service, in order to be discharged.

Child's Burns Prove Fatal.

Detroit, Mich., June 11.—Little Josie Golus, aged four, died shortly before noon Monday in the Children's Free hospital from burns she received from a bonfire started by herself Sunday afternoon in the back yard of her father's home, 351 Wesson avenue. The little one stood near the flames and her dress caught fire. William Golus, her father, heard her screams and rushed into the midst of the flames, seized her and rolled her in the grass until the flames were extinguished. All night the child tossed in agony until death relieved her.

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says:—"I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

Kodol Digests What You Eat.

Prepared by E. C. DeWITT & CO., CHICAGO.
Sold by B. J. PULVER.

Four Years Ahead of the Pure Drug Law!

There is one line of medicines in which no change in formulas is necessary in order to conform with Uncle Sam's new Pure Food and Drug Law.

Rexall Remedies were made to conform with this law in every particular four years ago—long before this law was thought of!

At that time one thousand leading druggists of the country, owing to the unsatisfactory way in which they had to sell patent medicines, decided to form a co-operative company and manufacture a line of remedies for which they could stand absolutely responsible from their knowledge and control of ingredients in these cures.

Could these thousand druggists then have foreseen the new Pure Food Law, and known every clause of it, they could not have made the Rexall plan conform to it more closely.

There is nothing secret about Rexall Remedies, and there never was!

For years Rexall ads have told the public that each Rexall druggist had the formula of every Rexall Remedy on file, and would willingly give any formula to whoever asked for it.

Moreover, Rexall Remedies protect you more than the Pure Food Law does. You now only know the dangerous drugs in patent medicines—we know and have always known everything in Rexall Remedies—and have always been glad to show you the printed complete formulas.

No Rexall Remedy is a "cure-all." Each of the 300 remedies has a formula which years of experience have shown to be the most reliable cure for a certain human ill.

The proof of our confidence in Rexall Remedies is the Rexall guarantee. Every Rexall sale we make is with the understanding that if the purchaser is dissatisfied he or she can get back the money paid, by simply returning the empty package or bottle. For four years the sincerity of this offer has never been challenged!

B. J. PULVER

FOR CATARRH—MUCU-TONE

Gentian is recognized in medicine as one of the greatest tonics ever discovered. It combines the tonic powers of all known "bitters," with none of the disadvantages applying to any.

Cubebs have long been recognized as a specific in the treatment of all catarrhal conditions. Its action is prompt and its benefit almost invariable.

Cascara Sagrada is especially introduced for its unapproachable laxative properties. The combination of these with Glycerine and Sarsaparilla makes Mucu-Tone a remedy that attacks catarrh from every point and gradually restores the diseased tissues. Bottle, 50c.

FOR NERVES — AMERICANITIS ELIXIR

The wonderful results of this remedy are due to the fact that it supplies Phosphorous to the nerve cells in a condition in which it can be immediately and easily taken up by them.

The Glycophosphates, actual nerve-tissue builders, are one of the most recent and valuable additions to this branch of medicine and unquestionably a more efficient remedy than the well-known Hypophosphites.

The Iron Pyrophosphates are the most easily assimilated form of iron which give tone and color, and the combined alkaloids of Calisaya Bark have a tonic effect on almost all the functions of the body. 75c. and $1.00 a bottle.

REXALL "93" HAIR TONIC

Resorcin is one of the latest and most effective germ killers discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which not only destroys the germs which rob the hair of its nutriment, but creates a clean and healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpin is a well-known agent for restoring the hair to its natural color, where the loss of color has been due to a disease of the scalp. It is not a coloring matter or dye.

This combination of curatives mixed with alcohol as a stimulant, perfects the most effective remedy for hair and scalp troubles known today. Per bottle, 50c.

"REXALL" ORDERLIES
The New Laxative

If you suffer from constipation or a sluggish liver, we want you to try this newest member of the Rexall family. It has never failed.

"Rexall" Orderlies have all the virtues and none of the defects of those laxatives and cathartics already known. They are harmless vanilla-flavored tablets that effect a re-adjustment of Nature's functions—no griping, no nausea, no purging.

Pleasant to the taste—they give immediate relief.

A trial will prove to you that they are the best laxative and cathartic ever prescribed.

Commencement

NEW BRADLEY

Last Evening. A Class of Nineteen received Diplomas.

The commencement exercises of the Tecumseh high school were held at the New Bradley last evening. The attendance was very large, the seats in the body of the house all being taken by noon last Monday.

The stage was handsomely decorated in green, red and white. Ferns, red carnations and horse chestnut blossoms with their green foliage were employed to carry out this color scheme, thus using the colors of both classes, junior and senior. The entrance to the stage was made from the back. The work of decoration was under the direction of Miss Nellie Mingay, assisted by the juniors and Miss Louise Miller.

The program was opened promptly at 8 o'clock by a song entitled "Until the Dawn" by the boys' quartette. Prayer by Rev. W. A. Ward. The salutatory was given by Miss Marie L. Bramble, which we print below.

Mistakes and their Uses was the subject of Miss Lena A. Ward's discourse and was fine. She said in part that because of the great number of examples which may be obtained from every walk in life, from a subject so rich in material, it is not easy to select those of the most interest and value. Longfellow said, "Sometimes we may learn more from a man's errors than from his virtues," and care should be taken to discriminate between the uses and misuses of mistakes. The world is full of mistakes of all kinds, ludicrous, sad, amusing and serious. Some of negative value and others of positive. The wiser a man is the more willing he is to acknowledge himself in the wrong and profit by it, but those who never allow themselves in the wrong are the most frequently in error.

Mistakes began in infancy, when we were made to understand we could not have our heart's desire. High school life has been a good teacher. Amusing mistakes are made by young house wives, who neglect to put the salt in their cooking because the recipe said, "Season to taste." Even great men make mistakes, among them Columbus and David Hume, the Scotch historian. Serious errors are frequently made in careless selection of friends. However if we are wise we will accept mistakes philosophically, profit by them and avoid them next time.

The Dutch Washington by Earl R. Luce was a very good composition and well delivered. A solo "Dreams," by Florence T. Klappich. Mrs. Klappich possesses a rich contralto voice and her selection afforded a splendid opportunity for her vocal power.

Value of Books by Miss Nina L. Skinner. "Literature is the product of the continuous spiritual activity of the race and to every genuine reader is a continual revelation of that quality which we call art and of that mysterious vital force which we call life. Careful acquaintance is desirable with only books of power and beauty, for knowledge and culture depend upon quality rather than quantity. Poetry is the highest because of the most completely rounded truth, for it embodies the true interpretation of nature. Reading remains one of the greatest means of attaining that clearness of mental vision which should characterize the educated man. Some of the important reasons for reading are, for conversation, information, culture and for character." Miss Skinner's essay showed thought and study.

Famous streets was given by Miss Allie M. Johnson. 'There are many famous streets in the world, but perhaps the oldest and most famous is in Rome, known as the Applan Way road and with its branches connected Rome with all parts of southern Italy. Watling street, one of the chief roads built in Britian; Unter den Linden, a lively and imposing street in Berlin and the boulevards of Paris. America also has many famous streets. Broadway, New York, upon it are many of the principal hotels, bank offices and great retail stores. Wall street, near Broadway, and the State street of Boston, known at one time as Kings street, and at present the headquarters of the bankers and brokers of Boston.

This was followed by David J. O'Reilly on School Athletics, a feature introduced in schools and colleges in late years, and does not mean that the student will receive physical training alone. Attention is paid to both mind and body, and each student must stand well in three or more studies, before being allowed to enter athletics. The best students in the colleges of today are athletic pupils as well.

"This world is not so bad a world
As some would like to make it,
But whether good or whether bad
Depends on how you take it."

There is nothing else which will so completely sweeten life and take out its drudgery or so effectively ease the jolts on the road as a sunny, hopeful, optimistic disposition. Everybody is attracted to cheerful faces and sunny lives and repelled by glooiny, morose and sad ones. She used as an example the life Abraham Lincoln, who won the love and respect of the world, starting with every thing against him. He once said "Die when I may, I want it said of me by those who know me best, that I always plucked a thistle and planted a flower, when I thought a flower would grow." Her essay was full of good thoughts and well delivered.

A piano solo by Mrs. Ella Hodges was thoroughly enjoyed.

Miss Alice M. Mills spoke on Irish Characters. Her discourse was fine and she delivered it well. In part she said that the Irish race ranked high in producing great and prominent characters. Although Ireland,s people are great manual workers they still have time for education and great careers. Some of our most highly honored statesmen and writers are Irishmen and true to the characteristics of their race are always ready with wit and intelligence. She spoke of Oliver Goldsmith, a witty writer of the 18th century; Edmund Burke, a noted orator; Daniel O'Connell a political man; Robert Emmett, an example or unselfish bravery; Justin McCarthy, a representative of home rule, a writer of history and fiction also a journalist. In closing Miss Mills said that in the study of history it revealed to us the remarkable fact that never before have so many and such important posts of honor and influence been filled by men of Irish birth and descent.

Miss Elizabeth M. Satterthwaite gave the class history telling the origin of the class and the freshmen, sophmore, junior and senior life, their trials and tribulations. This history was very interesting and a credit to the speaker.

Miss Minnie G. Aebersold handled the subject Fifty Years of Progress well, giving an interesting talk. The last half of the 20th century has seen great developements in medicine, education, electricity and industry.

Athol Brainard followed with an oration on An Evil of the Twentieth Century. The well read and learned man is the great man today. The student of today is the man of tomorrow. A student should choose books to instruct and build, life is too short to be spent reading light literature. The dime novel is sending thousands of students to destruction. It is of great importance to establish a pure taste in reading.

The girl's chorus rendered two vocal selections which were followed by Miss Pearl Wood on Timepieces. She said that we who can tell time by merely glancing at a watch or clock, do not realize how inconvenient it would be if we had no such contrivance. Yet in the ancient times, the Romans had very inaccurate ways of measuring time. The sun dial is supposed to be the most ancient timepiece, thought to have been introduced in 293 B. C.

The first instrument for measuring time by mechanical means was the clepsydra or water clock. This finally developed into a device with a dial and indicator operated by a current of water. The hour glass took the place of the clepsydra. Clocks driven by weights were used in monasteries of Europe in the 11th century. The first watches and clocks were introduced in Nuremburg in the 16th century. The best watches are made in America. There has been very little change in timepieces since 1,00 but the time may come when the timepieces of the present age will seem as crude to the coming generation as the earliest clocks do to us.

The future of the members of the class of '07 was then told by Miss Jennie Harris. This will appear in Tuesday's issue of the HERALD.

Women Martyrs by Miss Lelah Rogers was good. She took for examples Adah, Jeptha's daughter and Belinda, a young Roman girl. Joan of Arc, who lived at the time of the first 100-years war between France and England. Charlotte Corday also a martyr for the cause of freedom. Though our historians have recorded the deeds of a few of our martyred women there are many whose names never appear on its pages and many who are not known at all.

A solo, "Asthore" by Fred Dickinson was very good and appreciated by the audience.

Miss M. Ruth Daniels' subject was Parasites which was extremely good. This was followed by Class Gifts by Mary R. Tyson which we print in this issue of the paper.

Vernor W. Crane as president of the class, gave the valedictory, after which Dr. L G. North in behalf of the school board, presented the diplomas.

The class song written by Miss Lena Ward, and the benediction by Rev. F. W. Kamm, closed the exercises and the class of 1907 was alumni.

SALUTATORY.

Many hundreds of years ago, when the gladiatorial combats d lighted the people of Rome, the contestants, upon entering the arena, greeted the spectators with these words, "We who are about to die, salute you."

The members of the class of 1907, are in many respects like the gladiators of ancient times. We have been in training for a contest during all the years of school life. This training develops our minds and reasoning powers just as their training developed their muscles and endurance. Their discipline made them quick to take advantage of every possible opportunity of helping and defending themselves against their opponents. Our training has made us quick to see and grasp every possible means of bettering ourselves.

We, too, are about to enter a contest which will not only test our physical strength, but will also test our mental calibre. All of us are looking forward to furthur training for our life work, some with pleasure, few with dread. Not all of us are to continue our preparation in halls of learning, for some will continue their preparation in the school of practical experience.

The manner in which we carry on this contest will determine whether or not our lives are successful. The measure of our success depends upon the usefulness of our lives to ourselves and to our associates, and this usefulness depends upon the way in which we carry on this struggle. While those who watch our efforts do exert a great influence upon our lives, they do not have the arbitrary disposal of them. Life is as we make it, and if we make the very best possible use of our previous training, we cannot fail to be successful in this struggle.

The salutation of the gladiators is one which the class of 1907 can very suitably imitate—"We who are about to live, salute you." The class of 1907, at this our commencement, extends to you a most cordial welcome.

CLASS GIFTS.

One by one my classmates have come before you with their choice bits of wisdom and knowledge. The past has been exposed and even the future foretold. Nothing remains for me to do but to reward each one according to his merits. As all people have some talent which is particularly noticeable; so are my classmates blessed, therefore I will present each one at this time of parting with some little remembrance which will be of value in the different walks of life in years to come.

Verner Crane, our worthy president, possesses the gift of oratory and no doubt will acquire much fame along that line. I have chosen as his gift an hour glass which I think will be serviceable in his extensive speech making.

Beth Satterthwaite loves all dumb creatures but she has a particular liking for birds. As one is usually more successful in accomplishing things of which he is especially fond, I think she ought to continue her studies in ornithology and to encourage her in this work I will give her a book on birds, the greater part of which is devoted to the "Jay."

Ruth Daniels is the baby of our class. We are all very considerate of her and much concerned about her welfare. I have selected a gift appropriate to her age and hope that she may enjoy a life free from care so in view of her extreme youth I feel sure that she will find this rattle box a source of much pleasure and amusement.

Lelah Roger's talents lie in the line of cooking and in the art of making delicious cakes and pastry. She has already proved herself capable of performing household duties. For her gift I have chosen a cook book containing useful recipes for daily use and ample room for household hints, a large collection of which she already has. We recommend for her use some of the recipes which we can assure her will be delicious in the hot and arid climate of Utah where we are told her lot will be cast.

Earl Luce is a child of modesty. He evidently is an advocate of the saying that "children should be seen and not heard." Therefore his ambitions are unknown and I have selected for him a large lead pencil with which he can make his mark in the world.

Nina Skinner is destined to lead the life of a spinster although it may not be her choice the fates cannot be changed. She will take up her abode in a small cottage with canaries and parrots for companions and to complete the joys of her home I will give her a kitten, that domestic animal which is the chief delight of a bachelor maid.

Minnie Abersold considers studying for a nurse and we hope good fortune will brighten her way. A thermometer for taking temperatures is always useful in that work and with it along with her gentle manner and winning ways we do not fear for her success.

Mary Snedicor is quiet, unruffled, always the same, "if she ever knew an evil tho't she spoke no evil word. Wisdom is her chief virtue and the fates decree that she shall impart her knowledge to others. She will take up the duties of school teacher and I will present her with a few switches so that she may not forget the saying "spare the rod and spoil the child" which is so often unheeded.

Everyone who has met David O'Reilly is charmed by his comely features. Nevertheless, he is destined to a life of drudgery and for fear that his complexion will be spoiled in his daily toil of hod carrying I have purchased this box of beauty dope to prevent the disaster.

It has been prophecied that Alice Mills will take up the profitable occupation of dress making and she will without doubt be successful in her work. I have chosen for her a tape measure and hope that she may measure well for "with what measure she will mete it will be measured to her again."

Pearl Wood possesses great ability in drawing and demonstrating geometrical figures. She will perhaps continue to display her knowledge in mathematics and should she ever undertake the task of teaching the science of geometry I will present her with a box of blocks to aid her for we know from experience the value of figures in explanations.

Marie Bramble's future is very promising and her life will be fruitful if she continues to cling to the principles of her youth. She is not given to building air castles, but is content to dream of a vine covered cottage down the lane. She is very fond of Spoons and I have chosen one for her which will be useful though it may not add to her collection in beauty and value.

Jennie M. Harris' talents lie in the literary world. Hers is the lot of a society belle and peer in literary circles. Has she not already proved her ability in her high school work? It will not be long before her name will be classed in the list of modern novel writers. She will perhaps be inspired by Poe's Raven and Bryant's Ode to a Water Foul and write as her first poetical production.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. Doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by failing to cure by local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and so requires constitutional treatment. Hall's catarrh cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. They offer $100 for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Good manners are made up of petty sacrifices.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It conforms to the pure food and drugs law. Sold by B. J. Pulver.

Cured hemorrhages of the lungs

"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages" writes A. M Ake of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's honey and tar, and my lungs are now as sound as a bullet. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's honey and tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us, or we find it not.

TRAPPED

By
A. J. HOWELL, Jr.

Copyright, 1906, by A. J. Howell, Jr.

I HAVE always done reckless things. In fact, I have always regarded myself as a victim to a keen, irresistible relish for adventure. As a boy I was placed in many precarious positions, but through my happy go lucky way of looking at them I generally emerged all right. As a man, too, I fear that I have improved but little in this particular.

I often recall my first trip to Ethelburg a year or more ago, with just what feelings I will leave you to judge. The house wanted me to open up some new territory, and I protested, as any salesman would do, but I was told that I was the only man to break the new ground and had to go. I made one or two points in a disgruntled sort of spirit, but after I had sent in some large orders I began to get interested. It was a good agricultural country, and a drummer doesn't have to be long on the road to learn that good business may be expected where things look prosperous out of the car windows. The day I rolled into Ethelburg was splendid, just warm enough to awaken a sense of dreamy luxury.

There was a pretty girl across the aisle from me who looked at the immense green beds of garden truck, the delicate new foliage of the trees and the barnyard scenes with such an evident air of pleasure that I gradually fell into musing how glorious it would be to settle down right there—with her—to spend the balance of my life in the rich delights of country life. I lingered over the dream, stealing occasional glimpses of her for inspiration. Just before we reached Ethelburg, however, a fellow came in from the smoker and, with eyes widening from surprise, stepped forward and after a cautious look about the car stooped and kissed her. I looked painfully out of the window. The green lettuce and the peach blossoms became a mockery.

At Ethelburg I sauntered forth upon the station platform, looking listlessly about me. My eyes soon wandered beyond the row of waiting carriages to a girl dressed in white and seated in a trap. She was looking directly at me, and as she caught my eye her face brightened into a cheery smile, and she waved her gloved hand in a most familiar salutation. I lifted my hat and bowed happily. There was an unmistakable invitation in her look for me to go over and speak to her, and my pulse thrilled with a new sensation. I felt at once that it was a case of mistaken identity, but to make sure I cast a hurried glance behind me. I could see no one whose greeting I had appropriated.

I did not hesitate. Perhaps I should have done so, paying some regard to the proprieties of the case. I was determined, however, to make the most of a pleasant game, and in a moment I was brushing through the noisy carriage drivers, still exchanging little tokens of recognition with the girl.

She spoke first. "We didn't know whether you were coming or not," she said, extending her hand, "but I told papa that I believed you would be here today and not wait for Tom."

I realized my predicament, but there was no power on earth that could deter me from following up the little deception as far as I might consider prudent. By a quick intuition I felt sure that the part I was to impersonate was that of a young man who was expected on a visit in the capacity of a friend of her brother.

"Yes," I answered vaguely, but with a warm grasp of her hand, "it was convenient to come just now, and I thought I might as well not wait. I am delighted to see you looking so well."

She listened with such an eager interest that I felt a flush of embarrassment rise to my face. It was a momentary touch of weakness, and I immediately tried to steel myself against a repetition of it.

"Thank you," she answered, moving to the other side of the seat. "Do you know, I think it was really clever of me to recognize you so promptly. It has been ten years since I saw you, and time makes great changes, doesn't it?"

"Yes," I assented and looked at her with wondering eyes. A problem, deep and inexplicable, forced itself upon me. "How about recognition on my part?"

There was a prompt relief, however. "Of course you," she continued, "with all those photographs Tom has"—

"Why, I would have known you anywhere!" I interrupted boldly.

There was nothing entangling in the conversation thus far, and I am sure there was nothing in it to my credit in the role of the visiting young gentleman. She was waiting for me to join her in the trap, but I was too obtuse to see it, and a verbal invitation was necessary.

When the die was cast and, trapped, I sat down by her side it was with a reckless, intoxicating feeling. There was the delicious consciousness of sitting by a beautiful girl—a stranger—who, by her manner, opened to me, as to an intimate friend, an innocent, winsome nature. I cared not how the affair might end, only that I might enjoy it to the full for a brief length of time. We drove through the main streets of the town, our destination was evidently a suburban home. It was not long before I learned that I was playing the part of a young Mr. Gibson, who had been a college mate of her brother. As to his present occupation I was rather hazy.

She pointed out all the recent improvements of Ethelburg and directed my attention to a number of her friends whom we passed. During a period of ten years it is quite natural for one to forget a great deal, so that my ignorance and lapse of memory were not startling. It amused her and made her more charming through her feeling of superiority in that particular.

As we approached the outskirts of town I was suddenly seized with a sense of my perilous situation. A cool wave surfeised me. I could not dare to appear at her home. I felt an impulse to [illegible] and run, which of itself unnerved me. I was desperate, and the girl was talking volubly of her friends, her home and herself.

My hand wandered to my pocket in search of a handkerchief, and it was that small act that saved me. There was an important letter that I intended mailing at once upon my arrival at Ethelburg.

"I beg pardon," I said, with an show of great surprise, "but I shall have to return to the postoffice." I shivered with inward triumph.

"Indeed!" she answered. "And, do you know, I have been thinking for some time that I neglected to go by my dressmaker's. So we'll return and perform our missions and then come back. The weather is pleasant for driving, at any rate," she continued agreeably, "don't you think?"

The observation was one in which I heartily acquiesced, for it was a rich, balmy spring day and formed quite a contrast to the cool days from which I had just come. At the moment there was an additional inspiration in our turning toward town, for in it lay the hope of escape.

We made an agreement to meet at the postoffice within fifteen minutes, and I sprang lightly from the trap, traveling bag in hand. I recall vividly the conflict of emotions that welled within me. They were deep and earnest and now seem all the more amusing because of their genuineness. I was dizzy with delight to be free again, and at the same time I was possessed with a mean, skulking sense of treachery. I stole through a side door and slunk away to a back street, finally drifting into a restaurant, which proved to be a little more respectable than its outward appearance indicated. That was my refuge for an hour. I chatted with the proprietor and his wife and incidentally made a good bill through a secret sense of obligation. I longed to slip aboard a train and quit the town forever. Had there been one to leave at that hour of the day I would undoubtedly have been a passenger, but there was none until 4 in the afternoon, and there were several hours before me.

I felt the importance of selling some goods and later made bold to venture forth for my sample case at the depot. The first store I entered offered a bonanza attack. I thought the old gentleman would never close his order. But I knew it was all right; that the firm's rating could stand it, and also that we had the goods to sell and the prices to make them go. We smoked and joked for a long while, and I was quite content not to look for any more customers. In fact, to stay there appealed very strongly to my sense of prudence, for I still felt as guilty as an escaped convict. And, too, I had made a very creditable showing for Ethelburg in the way of business.

I was introduced to several of the clerks as they appeared back at the office and also to one of the old gentleman's daughters, at the sight of whom I started, very uncomfortably to myself. But the fright passed off. It was not the girl. Then came a son. He seemed a snappish, petulant sort of fellow, preoccupied about something of which he talked in an undertone to his father and sister. I won him around all right, though, and soon had the two men seated with me listening to some new yarns that I had several times used to good advantage.

There was a light step behind me, and a happy expression leaped to the old gentleman's eyes. I did not turn at once, but the young fellow bawled out savagely, "Have you seen the rascal?"

My spirits sank, and my heart thumped. I instinctively knew that I was trapped at last, and there was nothing I would not have done rather than meet that girl face to face. I did look, however, and saw her eyes, wide and wondering, fixed upon me as she answered her brother absently, "No."

We were introduced, and I was oppressed by the cool reserve in her manner, but in a moment I took advantage of an opportunity to say in a low voice: "Please pardon me. I couldn't help it, and I meant no harm." She generously accepted the apology, I later thanked her most earnestly for her beautiful self possession that saved me that day.

We strolled together to the front part of the store, where I saw the girl who had been on the train with me. The same young man was standing beside her. As her eyes met mine, she blushed deeply. She was purchasing window curtains. I spoke of her to my companion, and through some subtle influence of the incident there was born in me a happy dream, and now whenever I reach Ethelburg the crowning circumstance of my visit is the young lady in the trap who always meets me.

Who Owns an Employee's Invention?

Many an inventor is not a mechanic and is not even sufficiently practical to work out the details of an invention, so that it is necessary for him to employ the skill of some one else actually to construct the invention. A complete inventive act consists of a mental conception of the invention, followed by a reduction of the invention to practice. If an employer forms a complete mental conception of the invention and then has his employee construct the thing he has conceived, the employer is regarded as the inventor. The relation of employer and employee exists not only where a manufacturer uses his own regularly employed mechanic, but where any inventor employs any mechanic to reduce his invention to practice. In this sense a corporation employed to build a machine embodying an invention would be an employee as to the inventor. If there arises any controversy as to who made the invention—that is, as to whether the employer or the employee made the invention—the presumption is that the employer made it, and the employee must show by convincing proof that he made the invention before his claim will be entertained.—Edwin J. Prindle in Engineering Magazine.

"An Elegy on the Crane or a Spinster's Lament." After thinking over the useful and necessary articles for a lady's desk I have chosen for Jennie a pen which I think will be appropriate for of all girls she is most studious and we do wish her great success.

Allie Johnston's name next appears on my list of recipients. She is always happy, contented and free from care. The serious side of life does not appeal to her and she will give herself up wholly to pleasure after commencement. I have selected as her gift a novel for reading is her greatest joy and we hope that she may never come to want, although it is said that "He that loveth pleasure shall be a poor man."

It has required a great deal of consideration to choose a gift suitable for Athol Brainard, but after duly meditating on the subject with the desire to give him something that will adorn his farm home and make his life a pleasure, I have decided that a "Bramble" will be acceptible and extremely gratifying to him.

Alas, for those who take upon themselves the burdens of married life along with the many trials and tribulations of their senior year! But strange things will happen. Florence Klappich became the victim of cupid and took the vow not long ago to love, cherish and obey. I have purchased for her a wash board and tub, which I think will prove the most useful of all household utensils. We know Florence is a remarkably gifted young woman and if she displays on the wash board the same proficiency that she has shown in other things, we are sure her lord and master will be a successful and happy man. She will go forth this commencement time with our best wishes and the sincere hope that she will be happy though married.

Lena Ward has no one particular talent, she has many virtues. She is always jolly and her sweet ways make us feel that the world is better for her living in it. She is very loyal and enthusiastic in the high school affairs. What an inspiration her ringing voice gives to the players on the field! So that she may never forget the joys of high school days in T. H. S. I shall present her with this foot ball man with the doll like features, the twinkling eyes and the ever ready smile, which grows from a combination of athletic coaching and the teaching of science and mathematics, in short the counter part of that original so well known to her and to us all. May it be a pleasure to her life and lighten her cares in years to come.

Is any one of us more blessed than Fred Dickinson? His life has been and we hope always will be one continual round of pleasure. His witty jokes followed by peals of laughter make him the favorite of the class. He loves music and with this "tiny" horn I will send him on his way rejoicing, hoping the "Scarlet" glow of health and happiness may ever deepen on his ruddy cheeks.

It has given me great pleasure to present these rewards of merit to my friends and I hope that they have been accepted with the same spirit in which they were given. The gifts have been chosen after great consideration and with the desire that all may profit by the suggestions offered.

BRONCHIAL TROUBLES.

Bronchial troubles are purely local. They cannot be helped by stomach dosing. They are caused by irritation in the air passages and can be cured by medicated air alone. In this lies the secret of the success of Hy-o-mei in the treatment of bronchial troubles.

The Hy-o-mei medication laden with natures remedies is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit reaching all parts of the bronchial tubes and killing all disease germs. It allays the irritation, healing the inflammation of the mucous membrane with rapidity.

Treatment with sprays and atomizers in bronchial troubles is condemned by physicians as they cause further irritation.

Hy-o-mei has made many cures in the most chronic forms of bronchial troubles and is sold by C. A. Wright with the same guarantee as he gives when Hy-o-mei is purchased that is to refund the money in case the remedy does not give satisfaction. The complete outfit costs only $1.00.

He writes "I was in bed entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. The coughing and bleeding soon ceased and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c and $1 at C. A. Wright's drug store. Trial bottle free.

Get rid of that indigestion at once by using Mi-o-na.

Either through slackness or carelessness hundreds of people slowly poison themselves by chronic indigestion. By neglecting to cure at once any sluggishness of the important organs of digestion the system is filled with fermenting and decaying food that results in sick headaches, heartburn, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, specks before the eyes, sleeplessness, nervous troubles and the many other symptoms that are the direct result of indigestion.

The want of a perfectly safe yet effective cure for indigestion and stomach troubles in their many forms was felt up to the time of the successful investigations that resulted in the production of Mi-o-na stomach tablets. The quickly cure the worst cases of indigestion, and the pain and distress which are often felt after meals disappear in a very few days—such is the wonderful curative power of Mi-o-na.

The old-fashioned medicines for stomach troubles merely digest the food, while Mi-o-na strengthens the digestive organs so that they soon become able to care for the food that is eaten.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets cost but 50 cents a box and do more real good than a dozen boxes of the ordinary digestive tablets. C. A. Wight gives an absolute, unqualified guarantee to refund the money if Mi-o-na fails to cure.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

DEBILITY.

E. McDADE.

Many people who talk to me say: "I feel half sick all the time. I dont just know what's the matter with me." This is general debility. It's very common. People who get in this shape have my sympathy. They aren't sick enough for bed so they drag around and their families get exasperated with them.

There are two causes for this condition; bad habits and a weak stomach. By bad habits I mean eating irregularly and too fast and not chewing the food thoroughly. The stomach gives out and loss of appetite, billiousness, coustipation, and general debility result. First put the stomach in shape and then be more careful in the future, and the worn out, despondent, half sick feeling will be a thing of the past.

Two bottles of Cooper's New Discovery will put the stomach in shape. Common sense, with the rest, there are thousands of people in this country who know this to be true because they have tried it.

Here's a letter from one of them:

"I was all run down from overwork, lost ambition and energy and could not sleep. It was difficult for me to attend to my work owing to that tired-out feeling. I secured two bottles of the New Discovery medicine and determined to try it. The result de- [illegible] strength and vigor came slowly with the first few doses. It's effect was different from anything I had ever taken. I finished the two bottles now and feel well and strong again." E. McDade, 839 Dix Ave., Detroit, Mich.

We hear favorable reports of these famous medicines every day. Ask us about them.

CONFIRMED PROOF.

Residents of Tecumseh can't doubt what has been twice proven.

In gratitude for relief from aches and pains from bad backs, and kidney ills thousands have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of Tecumseh, who so testified years ago now say their cures were permanent. This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Tecumseh sufferers.

S. Erskine, barber, living on Evans street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "For 10 years I was troubled with kidney complaint and dull pains in my back. It was more severe after hard work or if I lifted anything. I was annoyed at night by the too frequent action of the kidneys. The secretions were highly colored and showed much sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice and I began using them. They did me a world of good. This was 5 years ago and I gave a statement for publication. I think as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills now as I did then and am glad to re-endorse them so that others may be cured.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

A sudden fit of anger may have an influence in many directions.

A lazy liver leads to chronic dyspepsia and constipation—weakens the whole system. Doan's Regulets (25c per box) correct the liver, tone the stomach, cure constipation.

Itch! Itch! Itch!—Scratch! Scratch! The more you scratch the worse the itch. Try Doan's Ointment. It cures piles, eczema, any skin itching. All druggists sell it.

If you will make inquiry it will be a revelation to you how many succumb to kidney or bladder troubles in one form or another. If the patient is not beyond medical aid, Foley's Kidney Cure will cure. It never disappoints. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. FUTURE

Of the class of 1907 foretold by

MISS JENNIE HARRIS,

A Member of the class.

Life, they tell us, is a bubble
Destined soon to fade and break!
But a series of dream pictures
From which we shall sometime wake!
Poets all in song and story
Have told tales of dreams in praise
Of a future bright and merry
As the rythm of their lays.
Thus one evening I mused strolling
Where our rippling Raisin flows
And the drowsy, hazy evening
Held a secret to disclose.
'Twas a secret of the future,
And the gentle evening wind
Whispering, sighing, singing softly,
Spoke it to my eager mind.
"Would you know?' the wind asked gently
While fair zephyr softly sighed,
"Of the nation's coming glory,
Of a generations pride?"
"Know then," whispered gentle zephyr,
Night wind's consort fair and true,
"That the future of your classmates
Is this night revealed to you."
Of a sudden o'er my senses
There was drawn the robe of dreams
And a voice came speaking softly
"In this light the future gleams!"
Far away from old Tecumseh
I was borne that summer's night,
Through the years of all the future
That is glowing, clear and bright
And the future of my classmates
There in pictures large appeared,
There I saw the mighty structures
And the wealth that they had reared.
And as I repeat the vision
As it came that night to me
I can see again the glories
Of the years that are to be.
First far down the flowing Raisin
I perceive a hamlet thrives
Prosperous as a town could be
Inhabited by men sans wives!
It is a whole town of bachelors
All resolved thus to die—
(When we look at "1907"
We cannot but wonder why!)
Once they say, a single man
Sailing from this place went forth.
And canoeing up the river
Traced its winding course far north.
There he saw the plumpest beauty
With a crown of nut brown hair.
And a certain most efficient
And a most enchanting air,
And for certain weighty reasons,
Far too obvious to relate,
He decided that this woman
Was his destined life-long mate.
And our old friend Mary Tyson,
For none other 'twas than she,
Gained her entrance to that hamlet
By a special made decree.
There she proved the greatest blessing
To those poor deluded men,
Sewed on buttons! Cooked real dinners!
Revived fainting ones again!
Taught them all the worthy precepts
By which glories they'd attain
And by reason of her presence
Brought them into judgements sane.
Then the vision of the hamlet
Fades all slowly from my sight.
Evening comes, a city park
Blazes there in gleaming light,
And down its many avenues
Crowds of eager people throng,
While through branching, shadowy trees
Softly, there comes some sweet song.
Rendered by an orchestra
Who have won world-wide renown,
Coming forth in recent years
From a Michigan small town.
In a structure brightly lighted
There I see the leader stand,
Arms extended now as often
When he led the Tipton band,
And can it be that same blond hair?
Yes, denying is no use!
That famed leader is none other
Than our old classmate Earl Luce!
There with many decorations
From the potentates abroad,
I behold him ever leading,
While the multitudes applaud.
With a fame that rivals Sousa's
Earl conducts his famous band,
Now the greatest and the rarest
Of musicians in the land.
Then within a spacious office
I gaze on a busy day.
At a desk a sweet-faced woman
Smiles in a familiar way,
And a typewriter is near her,
With neat written sheets spread out,
An experienced stenographer
I have not the slightest doubt.
When she smiles I recognize her
A classmate of long ago,
Minnie Aebersold, successful,
Happy in success, we know.
Then I see a peaceful region,
Verdant meadows, hills all green,
Cattle grazing in those pastures,
For the lord of this proud manor
Builded wiser than he knew
When he sought in "1907"
For his helpmate fair and true.
There, where nature's ever smiling,
Where life flows like one sweet song,
Pearl Wood makes life worth living
For her lord the whole year long.
And she cherishes and blesses
Like a matron of old Rome
The sacred hearth-fire glowing
In the atmosphere of Home.
Next, within a distant city,
Down an avenue I gaze
Lined with lofty brown stone mansions
Such as greatest wealth can raise.
And I pause before the tallest
And the richest of them all,
Learning the elect "1907"
Are enjoying there a ball.
Florence Klappich is its hostess,
Now become a social queen.
Mr. R—a railway magnate,
As we'd long ago foreseen.
All is well within their dwelling
And we see that Florence here
Reigns as social queen and beauty
Quite without a single peer.
Still within the same great city,
Where the tides of commerce roll,
To Wall street the vision takes me,
Down its great expanse I stroll.
There above the splendid doorway
Of a structure broad and high
"D. O'Reilly Broker"
Is the sign that meets my eye,
And I learn that D. O'Reilly
Is a man who knew his chance
And, self-made, is now regarded
As a wizard of finance.
David now a Wall street broker,
In the realm of bulls and bears
Pulls off deals of vast dimensions
With his fellow brokers, shares
All the losses and the profits
Of that fortune making street.
David there has made his millions,
Now, a spacious country seat
Just without the brilliant city,
Down the glorious Riverside,
Serves for housing Mrs. David
And Dave Jr.—father's pride.
Happy then, indeed we must be
That we boast a millionaire
Blessed with such a fair complexion
And such quantities of hair!
Then across the boundless ocean,
To an island's coral strand
Where the tropic sun is shining
On a verdant heathen land,
I am carried by the vision
Where black cannibals abound.
There is pitched upon a clearing
Of that richly tile ground
A tent made of thick white canvass
With the tent flaps open wide
And a well constructed pulpit
And broad seats arranged inside.
There midst crowds of savages
Some one slowly moves about,
That quiet mein, that staid, slow step
There's not one of us could doubt
'Tis Mary Snedicor, we know,
Called a missionary now,
With something like a halo
Shining clear about her brow.
Married to a missionary,
She has "followed in his train."
Has gone forth to do the duty
That has seemed to her so plain.
And here Mary and her husband
With a blessing to bestow,
Guide those poor benighted heathen
In the way they ought to go.
Then I'm standing at the closing
Of a wondrous tropic day,
In a military station
Close beside Manila bay.

KILLS WIFE AND SELF.

Double Tragedy Occurs in a Detroit Home.

CHILDREN WITNESS DEED.

William Roulo Became Angered Because Mother of His Little Ones Sought Divorce—Woman Charged Him With Cruelty.

Detroit, Mich., June 18.—Angered because his wife was to be given a divorce decree in the Wayne circuit court Monday, William Roulo, aged 30, first killed her by cutting her throat with a razor and then killed himself with the same weapon, in their home at 427 Beard avenue, eighteenth ward, some time Sunday night.

The two little daughters of the couple, Marie, aged seven, and Lillian, aged five, witnessed the bloody deed, but were too young to realize the horror and did not notify neighbors until 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

"My papa and mamma are dead and all bleeding," said Marie, as she rapped at the door of John J. Renaud, 425 Beard avenue, as Renaud was preparing to go to work. He ran over to Robert Addy's home, 1900 Fort street west, and the two returned to the Roulo house.

Going up stairs the men were confronted with a ghastly spectacle. On the floor, cold in death, both lying face downward, were Mr. and Mrs. Roulo, while blood ran thick on the floor.

A razor with a broken handle clutched in Roulo's right hand, told the story of murder and self-destruction. Renaud and Addy rushed out to find a policeman, and returned with Mounted Patrolman William Dickinson, who notified Coroner Parker. The coroner ordered the bodies sent to the county morgue.

While Mr. and Mrs. Roulo continued to occupy the same house they did not live together. She had the upstairs and he the first floor. The children slept with their mother.

"My papa came into our room last night," said little Lillian. "Mamma pushed him away. Then he struck her in the face and dragged her out of bed. He knocked her down and she just moaned. Then he cut himself, and I cried, but I was afraid to get up.

"I don't know how long I cried, but Lillian and I went to sleep. When I saw so much blood in the morning I was afraid and ran to tell Mr. Renaud."

Roulo's attack must have been sudden, as there were no signs of a struggle, Mrs. Roulo evidently having died where she fell on the floor after being knocked down.

Mrs. Roulo started her divorce suit last April, alleging extreme cruelty. Opinion in the neighborhood is divided as to whether this charge was justified.

Scandal Over Hospital Affairs.

Bay City, Mich., June 18.—There is a row on between the management of the recently established Lutheran hospital and Dr. J. M. Jones, with the prospects that the matter will be aired in the courts either civilly or criminally. Last Wednesday the directors fired the hospital superintendent, Miss Rosa Waltke, and it is claimed that when she left she induced eight nurses of the establishment to quit with her, leaving the place in a crippled condition. Dr. Jones had printed and sent to the directors of the institution affidavits charging Rev. Frederick Thrun, who is president of the hospital, and F. Ziegeler, secretary, with grafting in connection with purchasing the hospital outfit and supplies.

Chance to Raise Lid.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 18.—If Gov. Warner sees fit to sign a certain bill which has passed both houses, providing to pay fire and police commissioners a salary of $100 a year, the lid will be lifted off this city, and the Sunday and after-hour saloon crusade will be at an end. If the bill becomes a law, Charles Bender, superior court reporter and member of the board, will be obliged to resign one or the other positions, as no person can hold two salaried municipal jobs. Heretofore fire and police commissioners worked without financial remuneration.

Auto Hits Ann Arbor Girl.

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 18.—In attempting to dodge two young women, who became rattled and ran back and forth in trying to get out of the way, Mrs. Kinney, wife of Circuit Judge Kinney, ran down a young Armenian, Miss Florence Ben Oliel. It was feared at first that the unfortunate woman was fatally hurt. She may have internal injuries. The accident happened in front of the court house on Huron street, and spectators say that no blame could be attached to Mrs. Kinney, who was tooting the auto horn and doing her best to avoid a collision.

HE CLEARS SOLDIERS

Foraker Declares They Didn't Shoot Up Brownesville.

HE ISSUES A STATEMENT.

Not Official Report of Investigation, But His Personal Opinion—Unable to State Whether Further Testimony Will Be Taken.

Washington, June 18.—Senator Foraker of Ohio, last night gave out a written statement summing up the testimony taken by the senate committee on military affairs in the Brownsville inquiry, and declaring that it fails to show that any soldier took any part in the affray. The statement which the senator says he makes as a "plain duty to the truth as well as to the accused soldiers" and because he is "more familiar with the testimony than anybody else," is in answer to a published statement that the testimony conclusively showed that the soldiers of the 25th battalion did the shooting.

Mr. Foraker says:

"The testimony given by the negro soldiers in their own behalf is not, in my opinion, shaken by the testimony given by the citizens of Brownsville. That testimony, in the first place, is but a repetition of what was first taken by the citizens' committee and afterwards more elaborately retaken by Mr. Purdy. No important item of new evidence has been brought forward against the soldiers in this examination. Ninety per cent of what the citizens have testified about had relation to matters over which there was no controversy. For instance, everybody conceded that the town was "shot up"; that somebody did it; that these people who did it passed through the streets and alleys where he shooting was done, and that they had guns or revolvers or firearms of some sort, and that one man was killed and another wounded. The only dispute is as to whether the raiders were identified as soldiers of the garrison.

"There are two kinds of evidence relied upon to show that the soldiers did it. One consists of the shells and bullets that were secured from the streets and houses of Brownville. The results of the microscopic inspection, interpreted in the light of the other testimony of the case, completely disposed of this part of the case. The only other testimony is that of people who claim to have been eye-witnesses to the shooting. This consists of statements by various people that when they heard the firing they looked out of their windows and houses and down dark alleys where there were no lights, at distances varying all the way from 30 feet up to 150 feet, and recognized the men who were doing the firing as negroes wearing the uniform of United States soldiers. The officers of the battalion have testified generally and specifically as to the darkness of the night. By specifically, I mean have given specific incidents coming within their personal experiences that illustratel how dark the night was. According to this testimony, in the language of Major Penrose, the night was so dark that he could not distinguish one of his officers, who were all white men, from one of the enlisted men, who were all colored, at a distance of ten feet, nor could he at that distance tell anything about how a man was dressed.

"I do not know whether any more testimony will be taken, and of course, do not know if any should be taken just what it would be, and I cannot therefore with propriety, predict ultimatter results, but I have no hesitation in saying that the testimony taken down to this time utterly fails, in my opinion, to show that the soldiers or any of them had anything whatever to do with the "shooting up" of Brownsville.

"I shall take occasion when I speak at Wilberforce, next Thursday, to deal with this subject at some length."

Bomb Found In a Load of Coal.

Cleveland, O., June 18.—A dynamite bomb, big enough to wreck a building, was found in a load of coal being delivered to an east end knitting mill Monday. The police are investigating whether an attempt was made to blow up the mill or whether effort had been made to wreck a mine from which the coal came.

A Fortunate Texan.

E. W. Goodloe of Dallas, Tex., says: "In the past year I have become acquainted with Dr. King's new life pills and no laxative I ever before tried so effectually disposes of malaria and biliousness." They don't grind or gripe. 25c at O. A. Wright's drug store.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. Doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by failing to cure by local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and so requires constitutional treatment. Hall's catarrh cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. They offer $100 for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Good manners are made up of petty sacrifices.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It conforms to the pure food and drugs law. Sold by B. J. Pulver.

Cured hemorrhages of the lungs: "Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages" writes A. M Ake of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's honey and tar, and my lungs are now as sound as a bullet. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's honey and tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us, or we find it not.

All stomach troubles are quickly relieved by taking a little Kodol after each meal. Kodol goes directly to the seat of the trouble, strengthens the digestive organs, supplies the natural digestive juices and digests what you eat. It is a simple, clean, pure, harmless remedy. Don't neglect your stomach. Take a little Kodol after each meal and see how good it makes you feel. Money back if it fails. Sold by B J. Pulver.

Life should not be cheap, but sacred.

Bert Barber of Elton, Wis., says, "I have only taken four doses of your kidney and bladder pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's kidney and bladder pills, which are unequaled for backache, weak kidneys, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. A weeks treatment for 25c. Sold by B. J. Pulver.

A prompt, pleasant, good remedy for coughs and colds, is Kennedy's laxative cough syrup. It is especially recommended for babies and children, but good for every member of the family. It contains no opiates and does not constipate. Contains honey and tar and tastes nearly as good as maple syrup. Children like it. Sold by B. J. Pulver.

W. R. Ward of Dyersburg, Tenn. writes: "This is to certify that I have used Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup for chronic constipation and it has proven, without a doubt, to be a thorough, practical remedy for this trouble, and it is with pleasure I offer my conscientious reference." Attending to your own business is the most effective way to fight competition.

A man who is in perfect, health so he can do a day's work when necessary has much for which he should be thankful. Mr. L. C. And I'm told a mighty battle
Has been fought some days before
With insurgents from the mountains,
Who had threatened long the shore.
Here some soldiers of that battle,
Weary, sick and wounded lie,
Some with hope of swift recovery
Some who knew that they must die
And among the Red Cross nurses
Whom I see about me here
Is our old friend Beth Satterthwaite
Engaged in her career.
And I'm told there is one patient
At whose side she'd ever be,
Just as in the years now by gone
In the home across the sea
For they say he was a hero
In the midst of that great fight
And to him his soldier comrades
Point with martial grim delight.
Up a high and stony precipice
He had borne the flag for yards,
This brave and sterling Captain
Company J,—of Kenyon Guards
Then once more I am borne homeward
To our well-loved native land
On a sloping country hillside
Of our glorious West I stand
And I see upon its summit
A small model rural school
Where everything is ordered
Both by measure and by rule
There within its well built classroom,
Nina Skinner holds full away,
Teaching to her model classes
Three R's in a model way.
Then amidst a city's traffic,
I perceive a mighty hall
And a waiting, eager audience,
A great hush pervading all.
For a famous prima donna
Is to sing upon that night,
And as she makes her entrance,
And comes slowly into sight
Tis Lena Ward I plainly see.
Though her music known to fame,
And celebrating with her voice
All the merits of a game
Which had held for her an interest
When at high school years ago.
Football made us all so anxious
To "Hit lines hard!" "Speed!" "Go!"
And as she goes on singing,
The notes there are borne to me,
Something of a Coach Hicks sitting
Somewhere in a big teppee.
And something of the whereabouts
Of the Coach Hicks she must know,
For she later sings of victory
And the braves that toward it go.
Then within that same great city
On a widely famous street,
A well clad and graceful woman
I am fortunate to meet.
In her hand, I see, she carries,
With becoming aptitude
The case of a physician,
Who has surgery pursued.
Then she enters a tall building
Where great offices are found
And above its splendid doorway
Large professional signs abound,
But by far the most imposing
Of the signs which here I see
Bears the letters "Allie Johnston"
A professional "M. D."
Then I recognize the woman
I have met upon that street,
And I know her's is a mission
Most ennobling and most sweet,
Hers to remedy and strengthen
Human weaknesses and ills
With the compounds of her potions
And the magic of her pills.
Passing on I see a building
That some wealth and pomp suggests
And I find elite society
Are its patrons (forms) and guests.
Here, I learn is an establishment
Far out classing the great Worth
Or all the other modistes
Who're renowned throughout the earth.
And the head of this vast business,
I learn too, is Alice Mills,
An authority on fashions
As Miss Johnston is on pills.
Then I see a well built college,
With brown ivy-covered walls,
And an intellectual atmosphere
Pervading all its many halls.
I am ushered to the sanctum
Of the college president,
Where all the worthy faculty
Give their great opinions vent.
There I see a man is sitting
Bending over many books,
With something which I recognize
In his attitude and looks,
For the man who guides and watches
This vast collegiate domain
As its president and regent
Is a classmate, Vernor Crane.
I am told he has been offered
An improved flying machine,
In which to travel o'er the land,
To speak and also to be seen
In all the leading cities
Where collegians gained renown,
But perferring terra firma
He makes of this college town
A center of great learning,
Holds forth on geometry
All effects and consequences,
Explains metaphysically,
Speaks as forcefully and strongly
As when in long years ago,
He told us without ceasing, facts
That we did most surely know.
Then I'm standing amidst the arches
And the riches of old Rome
Where I see another classmate
Dwells within a splendid home.
She is now a representative
In the many foreign parts
Of the American society
Of Ancient Classic Arts."
Virgil ever held her spellbound
And we really always knew
Some sort of splendid classic work
She must in the future do,
And as we see her labors
All so fruitfully expand
We know it is Ruth Daniels'
Who, with purpose broad and grand
Is making great discoveries
In this field of classic art.
Then once more across the ocean,
From Italy's lovely shore
I am brought to the dear homeland.
Where the vision leads once more
To a thriving little city
Of the prosperous middle west
Where everything is ordered
To serve all its interest's best,
For the highly honored mayor
Of that thriving western town
Is our Classmate, Fred C. Dickinson,
So busy pulling vices down.
And Fred still retains the talents
Which were his long years ago,
The voice that held us spell-bound,
And the utterance, clear and slow,
The mighty strength of purpose,
The same smiles and hair and ways
That made him such a favorite
In the good old high school days,
Now within a well-built home
With a charming little wife,
Fred, as mayor and as songster,
Leads a happy useful life.
Now a city looms before me,
Shining in a radiant light,
Washington, with its tall structures
Wrought of stone and marble white
Seated in an upper gallery,
Of the senate chamber there,
I am listening to an orator
Of vast powers sublime and rare,
He, a senator from Utah,
Through the legislature sent
In mighty national debates
His eloquence to vent!
Athol Brainard turned a Mormon!
Rich and eloquent e'en now,
With the cares of state and nation
Furrowing that noble brow!
He will only plead to bigamy,
And will but two wives confess,
For he couldn't possibly exist
With a single consort less.
Then I hear a chorus singing
Neath the senate chamber's walls
With a stirring, rippling melody
That my every sense enthralls:
"There was a man in our town
Who was so wondrous wise,
He jumped into a bramble-bush
And scratched out both his eyes!"
And now the song is changing,
And the air is "Sweet Marie,"
And gradually unfolding
Is the double mystery.
And then I learn that Athol,
With an industry most rare
Made a fortune out in Utah
Selling Rogers silverware.
He had come up to the senate
On his merits and his power,
And was everywhere regarded
As the great man of the hour.
He had overruled objections
To his doubled married state
By explaining 'twas his duty
And he could'nt flee from fate.
And our classmate, Leiah Rogers,
And our old time friend Marie
Fill their missions out in Utah
In a way 'tis good to see.
And now the brilliant city
Grew dim in the evening light
And I felt the vision raising,
As the mists at sunrise might.
I longed to know what future years
Held in their bright store for me.
I asked that one more picture
Be there given me to see.
But again the voice came speaking,
"Wait and trust and love and hope!
Entering ever fuller glories
Gliding life's great upward slope"
And the vision passed all swiftly,
And the Raisin flowed once more
Where the night winds still sang softly
On that same familiar shore.
But the words that still were ringing
In my heart of hearts that night
Seemed to speak of a great future,
Fair and glorious, sweet and bright.
And upon this our commencement,
If I sought to moralize
I could but say again the words
That came from out the summer skies.
Let us hope and let us labor
That those future years may be
Just as happy as we wish them,
Aye, through all eternity.

He fired the stick.

"I have fired the walking stick I've carried over 40 years on account of a sore that resisted every kind of treatment until I tried Bucklen's arnica salve; that has healed the sore and made me a happy man," writes John Garrett of North Mills, N. C. Guaranteed for piles, burns, etc. by C. A. Wright, druggist. 25c.

Derby Medicine Co.

The fact that the Derby Medicine Co. last week awarded the Park Davis Co., of Detroit, the contract for making 2,000,000 of the Dr. W. Derby Kidney pills, gives the people in general a very comprehensive idea of what the growth of the Derby Medicine Co.'s amounts to.

For the first half year of the Derby Medicine company's active life, orders for the manufacture of the Derby Kidney pills were given in 5,000 and 10,000 lots, but the popularity of the remedy grew so rapidly that it soon became necessary to double these figures when orders for making the pills were sent to the Park Davis Co., and this popularity has increased steadily and with such rapid strides that at this time it has become necessary to place orders for the manufacture of these goods in lots of 2,000,000 at a time.

Perhaps this isn't "going some," but it looks very much as though it was, and the growth is of such a character that this enterprise can be classed among Michigan's popular progressive and successful industries. The Derby Medicine Co.'s remedies are well advertised in every section of the county and Manager Gary is kept busy every working day in the week filling orders for those who have come to recognize the real merits of the Dr. W. Derby Kidney Pills, and look upon them with favor because of the rapid increase in the demand for them. The above order is equal to twelve bushels or four barrels of pills. John Orr sells them.

Switchman Hurt.

Bay City, Mich., June 18.—A Michigan Central switch engine working in the Hecla Cement Co.'s yards, was thrown from the track by spreading rails, and two switchmen, Edward Plumb and "Charlie" Ross, each had his left leg crushed so that amputation was necessary between the knee and the ankle. The men were standing on the front step of the engine when it left the tracks. Ross was caught under the locomotive and pinned down for some time. He was very weak when taken to the hospital and may die. Fred Bennett, the third man, who was standing on the step with these, escaped without injury.

After that the Jackson team blew up, the exhibition of fielding being very poor. Merkle out of 4 times at bat secured 4 hits, a three and a two bagger and two singles. He also had 15 put outs to his credit.

BRONCHIAL TROUBLES.

Bronchial troubles are purely local. They cannot be helped by stomach dosing. They are caused by irritation in the air passages and can be cured by medicated air alone. In this lies the secret of the success of Hy-o-mei in the treatment of bronchial troubles.

The Hy-o-mei medication laden with natures remedies is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit reaching all parts of the bronchial tubes and killing all disease germs. It allays the irritation, healing the inflammation of the mucous membrane with rapidity.

Treatment with sprays and atomizers in bronchial troubles is condemned by physicians as they cause further irritation.

Hy-o-mei has made many cures in the the most chronic forms of bronchial troubles and is sold by C. A. Wright with the same guarantee as he gives when Hy-o-mei is purchased that is to refund the money in case the remedy does not give satisfaction. The complete outfit costs only $1.00.

DON'T PUT IT OFF LONGER.

Get rid of that indigestion at once by using Mi-o-na.

Either through slackness or carelessness hundreds of people slowly poison themselves by chronic indigestion. By neglecting to cure at once any sluggishness of the important organs of digestion the system is filled with fermenting and decaying food that results in sick headaches, heartburn, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, specks before the eyes, sleeplessness, nervous troubles and the many other symptoms that are the direct result of indigestion.

The want of a perfectly safe yet effective cure for indigestion and stomach troubles in their many forms was felt up to the time of the successful investigations that resulted in the production of Mi-o-na stomach tablets. The quickly cure the worst cases of indigestion, and the pain and distress which are often felt after meals disappear in a very few days—such is the wonderful curative power of Mi-o-na.

The old-fashioned medicines for stomach troubles merely digest the food, while Mi-o-na strengthens the digestive organs so that they soon become able to care for the food that is eaten.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets cost but 50 cents a box and do more real good than a dozen boxes of the ordinary digestive tablets. C. A. Wright gives an absolute, unqualified guarantee to refund the money if Mi-o-na fails to cure.

Its time to use Doan's Kidney Pills.
To ward off Bright's disease.
They have done great work here.

Mrs. Susan Williams living on Manmee street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I do not think there is a remedy on sale today that can equal Doan's Kidney Pills in the cure of kidney troubles. I was afflicted with kidney trouble in the most severe form. I could not rise from my chair on account of distressing pains in my back. I did not rest at night owing to the frequent action of the kidneys and the passages attended by a burning sensation. From a girl up I occasionally passed gravel. I tried many physicians but received no benefit. After taking a box of Doan's Kidney Pills I noticed relief and now I am cured. I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as they are worthy of highest praise."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's,—and take no other.

THREE MORE FOUND.

Boats Pick Up Bodies of Naval Men Who Perished in Launch.

Newport News, Va., June 18.—Clad in full naval uniforms and with face and hands terribly mutilated, bodies of Midshipmen W. C. Ulrich of Wisconsin, class 1907; W. H. Stevenson of North Carolina, class 1906, and E. P. Holcomb of Delaware, class 1907, were found in Chespeake Bay Monday. The bodies, after being examined and identified, were taken by the naval tug Potomac to the raval hospital at Portsmouth.

Monday morning a fisherman off Ocean View discovered a floating body of a midshipman and turned it over to one of the numerous launches which had been scouring the bay ever since Captain Mann of the Norfolk & Washington steamer Washington, reported to Admiral Emory that he had sighted a corpse off the Thimble Shoal lightship. The body was mangled and bruised and the hands and face had nearly been eaten away, but it was identified as that of Midshipman Holcomb by the clothing and a watch. It was put aboard the tug Potomac, who with the tug Reno, was also searching in the bay. Several hours later the Potomac picked up the bodies of Midshipmen Stevenson and Ulrich.

These did not seem to be bruised, but the face and hands were considerably disfigured.

On account of the fact that the bodies found yesterday had drifted ten or twelve miles from the scene of the tragedy gives rise to a fear that all of them will never be found.

Soldiers of Three Wars.

Joplin, Mo., June 18.—Thomas E. Sauls, sergeant in the Seminole war, participant in the Mexican and civil wars and pioneer in the development of the lead and zinc industry of Missouri, died Monday, aged 103 years. He was born in North Carolina.

Honduras Seeks Recognition.

Washington, June 18.—Senor Don Ugarte, representing the provisional government of Honduras, arrived in Washington Monday and immediately notified the state department that he wished to be presented to Secretary Root and recognized as the duly accredited diplomatic representative from his country. While the provisional government of Honduras was established by President Zelaya and General Davilla was designated as the president of the republic, it is understood that Nicaraguan government, through Minister Cores, will oppose the recognition of Senor Ugarte by the American government. The new diplomatic representative it is believed will find many difficulties in securing a formal presentation to Secretary Root. While Honduras is supposed to be an independent state, President Zelaya is maintaining a strong garrison there, and it is believed here that the Nicaraguan president intends to keep his troops in Honduras until he can perfect his plan for the federation of all the Central American republics.

May Wed in Hospital.

Washington, June 18.—Captain S. H. Brown, an English army officer and his fiance, Miss Maud Hannah, of London, Eng., were seriously injured in an automobile accident late Monday, and as a result their marriage, which was scheduled for today, will either be performed at the Emergency hospital or will be postponed until Captain Brown recovers from a fractured arm and a number of bruises about his head and face. Mrs. Beulah Jacobs, of London, who is Miss Hannah's chaperone in this country, was also in the automobile and is in a very serious condition at the Emergency hospital. She is suffering from a number of fractured and her face is badly burned and disfigured by the gasoline tank bursting. The machine plunged down a deep embankment while turning a sharp curve in Rock Creek Park in the suburbs of Washington. As a result of the accident the big touring car was completely demolished and the chauffeur was the only occupant of the machine who escaped injury.

Hicks Predicts Terrific Storms.

St. Louis, June 18.—Between Wednesday and Friday of this week, because of the new sun spots, there will be terrific electrical storms in this country. Ira R. Hicks, weather forecaster, who predicted the Galveston tidal wave, the St. Louis cyclone and the recent tornadoes and hailstorms in this section says so. Hicks says the big sun spot is moving from the east to the west line of the sun.

Drowns Self in Grand River.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 18.—The body of a stranger who leaped to death from the Sixth street bridge on Thursday night was found Monday morning floating in the river near the Grand Trunk bridge, which spans a sluiceway in the dyke. There are no marks of identification. The man was perhaps 45 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall, and weighs in the neighborhood of 135 pounds. He wore a dark brown suit, heavy brown overcoat and a new pair of shoes. "C. S. P." is the laundry mark on his cuffs.

MICHIGAN BRIEFS.

Badly damaged by fire Christmas day, Ste. Margaret's church at Owosso has been made into one of the handsomest cathofic churches in the county. Dedication services were conducted Sunday by Very Rev. Dean O'Brien of Kalamazoo. A large crowd was presnt from Kalamazoo, Allegan, Watson and Plainwell.

Grieving over the loss of $266, the saving of 15 years, Charles H. Lewis, aged 84 years, has wandered away from the Masonic home at Grand Rapids, and no trace of him can be found. Because of the close proximity of the home to Reed's lake, it is feared the aged man may have drowned himself. Preparations are being made to drag the lake.

Fate seems to be pursuing Mr. and Mrs. Hake of Grand Rapids with a vengeance. Both were rescued from the burning Naomi, in the middle of Lake Michigan, a few weeks ago. Sunday afternoon they miraculously escaped death when their automobile crashed into a moving street car. They were hurled several feet and escaped serious injury, while the automobile was demolished.

Because of their firm belief in the prophecy of a wandering gipsy, some 30 years ago, the widow and daughter of P. J. Ayres of Cadillac refuse to allow drilling operations on their farm for gold which an assayer declared was there, after he had assayed diggings from the place. The gypsy told Ayres his farm would be wrested from him if he allowed mining operations.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N.Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Catarrh — A Guaranteed Cure

One thousand retail druggists who are the leaders of the drug trade of the United States, and that means the world, rated by Bradstreet's and Dun's at twenty million dollars and whose retail business aggregates over seventy million dollars annual sales, have agreed to give their name, financial backing and endorsement to the guarantee that Rexall Mucu-Tone will cure any disease or trouble arising from catarrh or they will refund the money. We are proud of our connection with the Rexall Remedies, particularly so of Mucu-Tone, because a remedy must be something out of the ordinary to get our backing. It is not all profit that leads us and our one thousand associates into endorsing this remedy; it is our years of experience with medicines and our knowledge of them that makes us believe that Rexall Mucu-Tone is a bona-fide discovery for the cure of all ailments due to catarrhal affection. We know that it is not a cure at all, but a remedy built on scientific lines and not a patent medicine as each one of the one thousand druggists knows its formula and its value. It has one great additional value besides curing constitutional catarrh—that it is a system builder. No such tonic was ever before designed for the curing of inflammation of the mucous membrane—nor can it be improved on in the present age. Just stop and reason with yourself for one minute. We are doing business right here in your midst. Could we afford to offer our name and endorsement to Mucu-Tone as we do if we did not know that it was an honest medicine? Could we afford to agree as we do that we will refund every penny paid us for the medicine if it does not benefit.

All we ask is the customer's word and the empty bottle and we hand the money back. No signed certificate. We believe the public, especially the sick, are honest, certainly every sick person who suffers from any of the following ailments should take advantage of our offer to-day. Rexall Mucu-Tone cures catarrh of the nose, throat, stomach, intestines, liver, kidneys or bladder, and any who are convalescing from sickness of any kind should take advantage of our offer and purchase what we recommend as the best tonic ever sold in a drug store. We have a large trial size at fifty cents and we guarantee it or refund your money.

B. J. PULVER

A REASON

The Rexall Remedies deserve confidence.

As all these Remedies are grouped under one name, they must succeed or fail together. There must be no weak links in this chain. One unworthy remedy would mean disaster for the entire plan. If you, for example, purchased the Rexall Cough Cure and were not cured by it, how could we expect you to place any faith thereafter in the Rexall Dyspepsia Cure or any other member of the Rexall family?

You can understand, therefore, why such anxious care was given to finding and choosing the remedies to which the name "Rexall" was given. We have admitted none to this circle until our committee of experts had been convinced by investigation and test that it was the best remedy known to medical science for the ailment it aimed to relieve.

Who should know better than the leading thousand druggists of this country what are, and what are not, efficient medicines?

Remember, the success of our enterprise depends on the merit of each individual remedy. Our reputation, which is our very business existence, is at stake. Can you doubt that in buying a Rexall Remedy you are buying the best that science and experience can give you?

SHOCKED TO DEATH.

Four Italians Are Killed in a Singular Manner.

WERE MOVING A BOILER.

Smoke Stack Struck Live Wire—Current Passed Down Through Bodies of Men Who Were Pushing Truck, and Four Dropped Dead.

New York, June 21.—Four Italian laborers were shocked to death and two others rendered unconscious last night when a steel boiler which the men were moving on a flat car came in contact with a group of electric wires in the yards of the Proctor & Gamble soap manufactory, at Mariners Harbor, S. I.,

The boiler was being transferred from one building to another over the yard railway which ran between two poles and under the wires of the Richmond Light and Railway Co. Seven Italians composed the moving gang. Four of them were pushing with both hands against the boiler, while the others held their hands on the wooden truck of the car. They failed to observe that the stack, towering above the boiler, would not clear the wires and pushed their load against the obstruction.

As the stack touched the wires, seven of the 10 snapped, while 5,000 volts of electricity passed through the boiler, against which the hands of four of the men were pressed. These men dropped dead. Dangling ends of the broken wires struck two other men, hurling them senseless to the ground. Late last night they had not recovered consciousness. The seventh man escaped injury.

COURT CLERK ARRESTED.

Milwaukee Man Charged With Embezzlement of $30,000.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 21.—Frank F. Woller, clerk of the municipal and district courts, has been arrested on a warrant charging embezzlement on January 2, 1907, of $30,000. The warrant was served by District-Attorney McGovern personally. Woller is in the custody of Inspector Reimer at the police station.

The discovery of the shortage was made Wednesday afternoon, when an auditor reported to City Comptroller Paul Bechtner that the books of the clerk were in perfect order, but that he had been unable to secure a satisfactory showing as to the amount on hand.

Mr. Bechtner went to the First National bank for a statement and it was discovered that while Woller should have something over $29,000 to the credit of the bail deposit fund, there was only $990 in the fund.

After his arrest, Woller said: "This is of old standing. It extends back six years or more, when I was in the commission business with a Chicago man, and I have been trying to cover by shortage ever since. I don't know how much it is. The comptroller knows that.

"I have always kept my books straight. The only discrepancy is that the balance on the books is in excess of the real balance in the bank."

Delivers Commencement Address.

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 21.—The commencement day address at the University of Michigan was delivered Thursday morning by President Ira Remsen, of Johns Hopkins university. The great hall was filled, and many were unable to gain admittance.

PRISONERS ESCAPED.

Two Convicts in Jackson Prison Gain Their Liberty.

WINDOW BARS WERE SAWED.

Murderer McKenzie, From Kent County, and Horsethief Sheets, From Lenawee, Are Being Pursued by Warden Armstrong's Deputies.

Jackson, Mich., June 21.—Alexander McKenzie, a lifer, from Kent county, and "Black Jack" Sheets, sent from Lenawee county for 15 years for horse stealing, made a clean get-away from Jackson prison at about 11:30 Thursday morning, and when last seen were sauntering down one of the principal streets of this city.

The convicts were sighted by a drayman who knew them for escaped convicts. The drayman turned his horse and drove as fast as he could to police headquarters, but the fugitives had also sighted the drayman, and were not there when the police arrived. Warden Armstrong says:

"The cell from which the men escaped is located in what is called the west end. It abuts on the railroad track, the prison wall running flush with the railroad right of way. The men had access to the corridor, and were treated, in a way, as trustees, being given duties in that part of the prison such as sweeping and dusting.

"They sawed the bars from a window that overlooks the railroad and made their escape that way, dropping to the ground from the window ledge. All available deputies have been started out on the hunt."

McKenzie had served five years, and Sheets a year.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 21.—Alexander McKenzie shot and killed his wife in their home in this city in 1890. He was caught by a neighbor just as he was about to leave the yard. He was tried in the circuit court and sentenced to Jackson prison for life. The tragedy was due to jealousy. There are no children.

Adrian, Mich., June 21.—It was no surprise to officers of this city to learn that Jack Sheets, the horsethief, had escaped from Jackson prison. Sheets is notorious as one of the most desperate criminals ever in this vicinity. This is not his first prison experience.

Sheets is 49 year old. He has served four terms in state prison. Two terms of four and seven years each in Columbus, O., in all 21 years. If he had finished out his 15-year term in Jackson he would have been in prison over half his life. His operations consist of highway robbery burglary and horse stealing. He was last sent up from here Nov. 26, 1906.

Not So Bad as Reported.

Princeton, N. J., June 21.—According to a statement issued from the home of former President Cleveland last night, the alarming reports sent broadcast concerning the condition of Mr. Cleveland are practically groundless. The former president is suffering from an attack of acute indigestion, but no operation has been performed, and none was contemplated, the statement says.

He fired the stick.

"I have fired the walking stick I've carried over 40 years on account of a sore that resisted every kind of treatment until I tried Bucklen's arnica salve; that has healed the sore and made me a happy man," writes John Garrett of North Mills, N. C. Guaranteed for piles, burns, etc. by C. A. Wright, druggist. 25c.

STATE CLOSES CASE.

Defense Will Ask Verdict of Acquittal for Haywood.

MAGAZINE ARTICLES TESTIFY

Miners' Organ Was Antagonistic to Governor Steunenberg — Telegraph Company Records, of Messages Sent Orchard in San Francisco, Shown.

Boise, Ida., June 21.—Unless there should be unforseen delay in securing a few final pieces of evidence, the state will, by the end of today, close its case against Wm. D. Haywood, whom it charges with the murder of Frank Steunenberg.

This announcement was made on Thursday afternoon by Senator Borah, of the prosecution, and when Clarence Darrow, of the defense, took up the discussion of the arrangement of time he made it very clear that directly the state closed, he and his associates would move the court for an instruction directing a verdict of acquittal. If the court rules adversely on the motion, the opening statement in behalf of Haywood will be made by Mr. Darrow Saturday.

The prosecution succeeded Thursday in again showing a direct connection between the store of George Pettibone in Denver and Harry Orchard at work on the Bradley crime in San Francisco, and promised to make the connection with Pettibone personally by handwriting experts. Original records of the Pacific Postal Telegraph Co. were produced, showing that in September and October, 1904, remittances of $97.50 and $48 respectively were made, the first by "J. Wolff," and the second by "P. Bone," from 1725 Stout street in Denver—the address of Pettibone's store—to "H. Green" in care of Peter L. Huff, at 211 Taylor street, San Francisco.

The state Thursday also showed that while at Silver City, Ida., in 1899, Haywood declared that Steunenberg was a tyrant and a monster who should be exterminated, and by James Kirwin, acting secretary and treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, that Jack Simpkins and Marion Moore were made members of the executive board the federation in 1905, and that control of all expenditures made by the organization vested in the president and secretary-treasurer.

For the rest, it was a day of reading, with Senator Borah as first reader. Judge Wood admitted many of the strongly-worded articles of the Miners' magazine in which Frank Steunenberg was bitterly denounced, and as one after another they were let in, Borah read them to the jury. These were admitted as showing the animus of the federation officials against Steunenberg, and showing animus against Justices Goddard and Gabbert of the supreme court of Colorado, whom Harry Orchard swore he tried many times to kill. The state introduced in evidence the decisions of these judges on Colorado eight-hour law and the habeas corpus applications of Chas. H. Moyer.

Practically every piece of evidence offered during the day the defense first offered objection, then made a motion to strike out and lastly took an exception.

Lone Bandit Held Up Two Stages.

Wawana, Cal., June 21.—Two of the stages from Raymond for Wawana were held up and sixteen passengers relieved of their valuables yesterday, by the "Black Kid," the lone bandit of this section. The holdup occurred in the locality of his former successes The man stood at the side of the road with an old rusty rifle levelled at Archie Turner, the driver. The bandit waited until the second stage appeared, when he singled out Francis S. Eaton of 50 State street, Boston, to pass the hat, demanding of the frightened passengers their purses and their watches. After having made the collection, Eaton was compelled to tie the wealth, consisting of jewelry and $250 in a handkerchief and pass it over to the robber.

Conditions More Serious in France.

Paris, June 21.—The rebellious excesses and rioting in the Midi are causing the greatest excitement and apprehension in Paris. All the newspapers issue editions every hour which are snatched from the hands of the venders by the eager public. The general impression here seems to be that the situation is even worse than had been supposed and that the revolt is likely to increase, especially in view of the somewhat violent disposition of the inhabitants of the southern provinces. As the news spreads it is thought that further disturbances will take place.

POORLY ACCOMMODATED.

Immigrants Not Properly Treated by the Railroads.

New York, June 21.—Marked improvement in the conditions under which immigrants are transported from this city to western points is expected to follow an investigation into the question, which was begun by a special examiner for the interstate commerce commission here Thursday. Before the taking of testimony had been completed, attorneys for the railroads requested an adjournment to enable them to consult with the complainant in relation to a final settlement of the points involved. This was granted, and it is believed that a satisfactory adjudication of the matter will be reached before the hearing is resumed on July 10.

The complainant in the case was Immigration Commissioner Watchorn, who alleged that seven railroads, having terminals in this city, practice discrimination in fares against the immigrant bound to the west as compared to first-class passengers. The roads accused are the Pennsylvania; Baltimore & Ohio; Central Railroad of New Jerey; Lehigh Valley; Erie; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, and the Philadelphia & Reading.

The principal evidence in support of the complainant was given by Immigrant Inspector Cowan. He said that while first-class passengers were enabled to time their arrival at railroad stations so that they were not required to wait any great length of time for their trains, the immigrants often were kept waiting many hours. The wating rooms provided for immigrants are neither so well furnished nor so well kept as those for first-class passengers, said Mr. Cowan, and they frequently are seriously over-crowded. The same conditions prevail on the trains.

ONLY A PRECAUTION.

United States Didn't Want Armament Question Passed By.

The Hague, June 21.—It is officially stated that Gen. Horace Porter's reservation Wednesday covering the right of the United States to present the question of the limitation of armament does not mean that the Washington government has definitely decided to raise the subject. On the contrary, it is stated that it involves no change in the American attitude, which is defined as follows:

"The United States regards the limitation of armaments primarily as an European question, and in face of the present divergence of views among the European powers and the unwillingness of any of them to assume the responsibility, the United States does not feel justified at the outset of the conference in injecting an issue which might jeopardize the important work achievable. Nevertheless, the United States does not want to see the door closed, and the reservation is made to protect her right to introduce the subject if for any reason later, she should decide to do so."

Found Old Package of Letters.

Washington, June 21.—A package of thirty-seven letters which had failed of delivery and had been stored away in a Mexican postoffice for upwards of thirty years, was received at the division of dead letters Thursday from the Mexican department of posts. Most of the letters had been written in 1875, 1876 and 1877, and were addressed to members of the crews of sailing vessels which were expected to stop at the port of Minatitlan, Mexico. Doubtless by this time many of the writers of these letters are dead and the vessels to which the communications were directed have sailed their last voyage, but the dead letter division will endeavor, as far as possible by corresponding with the postmasters at the points or origination, to return the letters to the senders or to surviving relatives. One of the letters, opened in order to ascertain the address of the sender, was addressed to the captain of a schooner by his wife, and on a slip of paper inclosed was the following note written in the familiar scrawl of a child: "Dear Father—I love you, and want you to come home. I shall be six this week. —Roble." As the letter was written in 1877, the little lad who made this appeal is now, if living, a man of 36.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. Doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by failing to cure by local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and so requires constitutional treatment. Hall's catarrh cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. They offer $100 for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Cured hemorrhages of the lungs

"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages" writes A. M Ake of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. Foley's honey and tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

The Best Laxative for Children.

Parents should see to it that their children have one natural, easy movement of the bowels each day. Do not dose the child with salts or griping pills; they are too powerful in effect, and literally tear their little insides to pieces, leaving the bowels weakened and less able to act naturally than before. Laxative Iron-ox Tablets tone and strengthen the bowels, and stimulate all the little organs to healthy activity. Chocolate coated tablets, easy to take, never gripe or nauseate. 10c, 25c and $1.00.

Impossible to Reach President.

Oyster Bay, L. I., June 21.—That it is more difficult to disturb President Roosevelt's summer vacation at Sagamore Hill than to get a camel through the eye of a needle, was demonstrated here Thursday in the disappointing "no" served out by Secretary Loeb to Frank Philbrick, a six-foot, six Cheyenne Indian, direct from North Dakota, with a matter of great importance to himself, which he wished the president to adjust. Mr. Philbrick departed for Washington to consult with Indian Commissioner Francis E. Leupp, with the firm belief that if he could only have gotten his name to the president he would have been seen. He said he had worked for the president on his ranch, and had known Mr. Roosevelt for the past 13 years.

NEGLIGENT CLERK.

Forgot to Mail Letter and Naval Reserves Lose Ship.

Detroit, Mich., June 21.—Through the neglect of a clerk in the capitol at Lansing, the Michigan naval reserves lost the Spanish warship San Juan de Austria, captured by Admiral Dewey, and it has gone to the Connecticut reserves.

The Michigan body learned some time ago that the warship was to be had for the asking, and as the Yantic is indequate for their needs, they made application. It was the intention of the naval department to station the Yantic at Houghton and give the Spanish vessel to the Detroit reserves, and a crew was to go to the coast and bring it here by way of the St. Lawrence river.

All formalities were gone through. The governor approved the official request to the navy department, and the letter, all made out—the letter that meant a new ship for the reserves, was given to a clerk at the capitol to be mailed.

That clerk was so busy that he forgot it. All he had to do was to put it in an envelope, stick on a stamp and drop it in the mail box. After a long time the Detroit naval reserves grew anxious. Through Congressman Denby inquiry was made of the navy department as to what had been done with Michigan's request for the boat. He got the reply that Michigan had never made a request. And, furthermore, he was told that Connecticut, quick to act and having second choice of the ship, had acted with instant request, and the boat was theirs.

Search in the clerk's desk at Lansing revealed the letter just as it had been given him for mailing. It is back to the Yantic for all the Wolverines.

Pulls Drowning Girl Out of Bay.

Traverse City, Mich., June 21.—Heedless of his bright, clean uniform, E. M. Clark, Pullman car porter from Grand Rapids, jumped into the bay and rescued a 12-year-old girl, getting her just as she was sinking for the last time. The child was unconscious when brought shore, but Clark managed to free her lungs of water and restore her by hard work. Just as the girl regained consciousness, Clark's train started, and without waiting to learn her name, he jumped aboard and went on. The girl was fishing on the starch factory dock, and had tumbled in. Another man stood near Clark through the whole proceeding, but made no move to assist him in any way.

Boy Drowns in Grand River.

Ionia, Mich., June 21.—While endeavoring to swim across the Grand river here about 2:30 Thursday afternoon, Earl Dummond, aged 16, became exhausted and drowned. With two companions Dummond had made the other side, and it was on the way back that he sank. Dynamiting all afternoon and evening failed to bring up the body.

Sent Up for Stealing Calf.

Milan, Mich., June 21.—Burt Veeley was Thursday afternoon sentenced to 15 days in the Detroit house of correction for stealing a calf from E. A. Bordine's farm. After stealing the young bovine, Veeley went next door and purloined a wheelborrow in which to carry his burden. He is 20 years old.

W. D. Kelley is Dead.

Muskegon, Mich., June 21.—William D. Kelley, prominent lumber and real estate man, and state senator in 1901 and 1905, is dead in Ballud, Wash. He also served three terms in the house. His mind gave way about two years ago. He is survived by a widow, his father, two brothers and three sisters. He was born in Ottawa county in 1865.

Williamson—Heesen.

An unusually pretty June wedding occurred Wednesday evening at six o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williamson when the eldest daughter, Anna, was united in marriage to Mr. Floyd George Heesen. More than 100 guests gathered at the home, and upon entering the door, were entranced with the vision of loyliness. All the lower rooms and stair railing were hung with branches of the graceful silvery maple, the doorways forming white and green arches made of syringas. Here and there tall palms, ferns and bunches of white iris were placed, until the rooms seemed like a woodland bower.

The dining rooms were festooned with smilax from chandelier to the corner of the table where it was held in place by candlesticks. Great bowls of white iris stood in the middle of the table and from among the flowers the lights of the candles gleamed. The mantle was banked with ferns and palms and over it was formed a canopy of greens and white syringa, the mirrors reflecting the lights of the many candles around this improvised altar where the ring ceremony took place.

After an isle had been formed of smilax and ribbon by Leon Williamson brother of the bride, and Don Heesen brother of the groom, Rev. Ward took his place at the altar. Then came little Jeanette Hall, as flower maid, strewing her daisies from a huge basket which held the ring, and certainly no dainter little maiden could have performed this pretty office. Then came the groom attended by his brother, L. J. Heesen and after them the bride with the maid of honor, her only sister, Miss Luella. Before and as the bridal party were taking their places, Elmer Slayton and B. J. Pulver sang and then Mrs. Hodges at the piano drifted into the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. During the service the music continued to the softened strains of Vellinits Turantine. After the ceremony and congratulation a three course supper was served the guests by the girl friends of the bride, Mrs. Harry and Mrs. Robt. Moore presiding at the coffee urns.

The bride's gown was a beautiful creation of valenciennes lace with bebe Irish medallions and edgings over white taffeta. She wore a veil of tulle fastened with a coronet of orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor was in a gown of pink tussor trimmed in embroidered tulle and carried a shower bouquet of pink rose buds.

All too soon the bride and groom hastened to bid the guests good bye and left on the 8:18 train for Detroit, where they took the boat for a lake trip. On their return they will go to house keeping in their home on the corner of Logan and Union streets. The presents were a beautiful array of cut glass, silver and china.

The guests from out of town were, Mrs. Wm Williamson of Brooklyn, Mich.; Mrs. Ellsworth Russell, Harry Russell, Mrs. Dora Hendershot of Jackson; Mr. and Mrs. Seth Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. John Crebbins, of Dundee; Ed Rowland of Tomaha, Wis.; Misses Mildred and Geraldine Heesen, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Heesen, of Toledo; Mrs. John Bell, of Tipton; Miss Edyth Cotton, of Macon, and Miss Beryl Hurlbut of Detroit.

Johnson-Walley.

After spending a pleasant week in Tecumseh visiting friends, Ella M. Johnson of Elkhart, Ind., and Miss Jeanette Spry of South Bend, Ind., left for their homes Tuesday morning. They were accompanied as far as Adrian by Mrs. Ethel Mathias, who witnessed the marriage of the former to Mr. Charles Edwin Walley of Elkhart, Ind., the ceremony taking place in the parlors of the Rev. Mr. Huntsman, pastor of the Church of Christ.

Mr. Walley is a highly respected business man of Elkhart, owning and controlling a large furniture and undertaking establishment. Mrs. Walley was a former Tecumseh girl, having spent her early childhood here. Their many friends both in Elkhart and Tecumseh extend congratulations.

Dundee Chapter O. E. S. visit Tecumseh.

Last evening the Tecumseh Chapter, order of the Eastern Star, entertained the members of the Dundee Chapter. About 60 visitors from Dundee arrived here at 7 o'clock. A supper was served immediately, after which a social time was enjoyed until 8:30. The work was conferred upon Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Hopper and Ross Ferguson of Tecumseh, and Mrs. Cassidy of Dundee, by the Dundee team. The work was beautifully exemplified and a credit to to the Chapter. At the close of their work and drill, a short program was rendered as follows:

Piano duet—Mesdames Coller and Colling
Song—W. S. Dickenson.
Reading—Miss Irene Pilbeam.
Song—Mary Kriedler.

Remarks were made by members of both chapters. Refreshments were served at the close of the work.

If you will make inquiry it will be a revelation to you how many succumb to kidney or bladder troubles in one form or another. If the patient is not beyond medical aid, Foley's Kidney Cure will cure. It never disappoints. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Builds Good Walk.

Last week Jacob Mull put in 1000 feet of cement walk on the north side of Stacyhome, Chicago street, covering the entire frontage. Last year Mr. Mull put in the same number of feet in the yard and up to this time it has never showed a crack in all the surface. Truly this man Mull puts in fine cement walks.

Starts this day.

In last Tuesday's HERALD appeared a notice that Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Murphy would start this day, Friday, for Ireland. He came here 89 years ago and commenced working on farms. For a number of years at that time it was said no man could make money at farm work, wages were not what they are at the present time. But Murphy was an accumulator and beside sending money for passage over for several relatives, told me yesterday that he owned four farms, one in each of four townships, comprising in all 340 acres, and I am sure that when he starts on this trip to his old home he does not owe a cent in the world.

Today it can be said that Thos. Murphy is one of the most successful men in the whole county of Lenawee. The HERALD follows him and we and his host of friends wish him all pleasure on his well earned vacation which will last till Sept. 1st.

Remarkable Rescue.

That truth is stranger than fiction has once more been demonstrated in the town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes "I was in bed entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery and instant relief came. The coughing and bleeding soon ceased and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c and $1 at C. A. Wright's drug store. Trial bottle free.

Power to reason will sometimes is only the force of habit.

Plain Talk on Baseball.

When a village no larger than Tecumseh successfully competes on an equal basis with cities of ten times its size, it is a mark of distinction to the smaller town and a compliment to its spirit of hustle and progress.

This is exactly what Tecumseh is doing this season in base ball and exactly what it has done for several seasons, although it is an ever increasing drain on the little coterie of devotees to the national game who make this very thing possible.

Sustaining a league team which has demonstrated time and again its ability to successfully contend for pennant honors, is a strenuous endeavor, strenuous in labor, in patience and in money and as the good gained by the reputation a town thus acquires is shared by all, it ought not devolve on a certain few to furnish all the energy and money required to gain the enviable position which Tecumseh maintains amongst the towns of the state.

When base ball was first broached for the season of 1907, those most intimately connected with it,—those who knew the trials and tribulations of maintaining a championship team demurred at the attempt but the demand was so insistent from every quarter that rather than give the appearance of showing the white feather, the Indians were again pitted against the best productions of the best cities of the state.

You all know the result. Tecumseh not only has a WINNING team but it has THE championship team and will land the pennant for 1907 if it is given the support which it so richly merits.

The weather conditions have been against large attendance, but now that summer really seems to have arrived the management simply MUST have bigger gate receipts or Tecumseh will be compelled to do that which she has never done before, step down and out, and turn the proud position which she has acquired by so much diligent expensive effort into one of humility and disgrace.

With the conditions thus squarely placed before you, the management does not believe that the community will permit this to happen, but "It is up to you" and we sincerely trust that you will evidence your appreciation of the loyal efforts of the best bunch of ball players in Michigan and show YOUR loyalty by turning out en masse whenever there is a game on local grounds.

Today there is a double-header with Battle Creek, two games for one admission and tomorrow the dose is repeated. Turn out and give the boys a boost and at the same time declare a dividend of 100 per cent. on the money invested by getting two games for one admission.

Our Council.

MR. EDITOR:—I had occasion to visit the Council Monday evening, June 17. Had no intention of being there only for a minute but things looked good to me and I stayed until the motion was made to adjourn. We have a Council that showed to me that evening that they were there for business and not one of them "afraid of the cars." Although they have had frequent sessions lately, necessary on account of the new bridge, there was no indication of laying down yet. They settled a claim for damages as recommended by the committee and ordered at once all walks in dangerous condition torn up immediately as though each individual member was liable for any damage that might occur by letting them remain.

They accepted and adopted the report of the water committee which will occur in the council proceedings of that date, every member taking active part in the discussion. The lighting committee recommended additional lights and arrangements for a report on all lights that were out any evening during the month and how long out which was also adopted. They listened to the marshal's report and took prompt action on his suggestions To make the new bridge a sure thing they engaged Supervisor John Schreder to superintend the putting in of the abutments and to see that they were according to plans and specifications, which anyone knows was one of the best assurances that the people could have that they would be put in correctly.

Last, but not least, the men who have been working extra time, holding extra sessions without fee or reward, took up the sewer question which means many more extra sessions for them in the "sweat box" which the rooms were that night. They made arrangements to secure an engineer to make a survey of the village and make maps, specifications and all the details necessary to having the whole village have a complete system of sewerage as well as the expense of the same.

Here is where I became interested, and every member of our council seemed to say, "We can do more for Tecumseh by having a general sewer system, than has been accomplished since the waterworks were put in." It looks to me like a good chance to get a sewer, and, a council that is capable and will do all they can to get it. Tecumseh, "the biggest little town on earth," without sewerage, twenty years behind the times and some wanting to put it off a few years longer. I am not so old as some people I have seen, but I want a sewer. I want a sewer while I am alive to enjoy it, and get the benefit and conveniences and not a sewer after I am dead. I want my boys to know that I at least worked for it, which I shall do until this village has one. Some say expense and kick on it, but do not realize the importance a sewer system is to our village.

If that man lives in this town that can tell us why we should not have a sewer I would be glad to hear from him. "There is no expense to a necessity that makes any man poorer." Live and make improvements while here in Tecumseh, as the improvements they say are already made in the world to come. We cannot take that "expense" money with us and it will build a sewer just the same whether we do it or whether we leave it to our posterity.

There is sewer money in the village and it will be used for that purpose, why put it off. Just take a trip up our alleys, take a good "whiff" as you are passing along on the walk, take from the vile closets that exist in our village that unpleasant and unhealthy odor and then say we do not need a sewer. Wake up citizens, wake up! As the kids say, don't knock, but boost, get out of the old rut and be up to date. Work with and uphold our present efficient council, whose proceedings show them perfectly capable and ere a year rolls by we will have that "necessity," a complete sewer system for the whole village. FOR OUR READERS.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to the power of Hy-o-mei, the medicated air treatment, to cure all catarrhal troubles, the remarkable offer made by C. A. Wright should expel that doubt. He gives his personal guarantee with every dollar outfit of Hyomei he sells, to refund the money unless it gives satisfaction. He takes all the risk of cure and no reader of the HERALD can afford to suffer longer with catarrh when an offer like this is made.

With every Hy-o-mei outfit is a neat pocket inhaler and Hy-o-mei breathed through this inhaler, reaches the most remote air-cells of the nose, throat and lungs, destroying all catarrhal germs and soothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane.

Hy-o-mei really gives you a health-giving climate in your own home, so that when you breathe its medicated air, your nose, throat and lungs will be filled with air like that on the mountains high above the sea level, where grow balsamic trees and plants, which purify the air with their volatile antiseptic fragrance so healing to the respiratory organs.

You will notice relief and benefit from the first use of Hy-o-mei and it will not take many days' treatment to convince you that in this remedy you have found a complete and lasting cure or all catarrhal troubles.

Mrs. Dibble.

Mrs. Dibble, mother of L. M. Dibble of Adrian, formerly of Tipton, died at her home in Mason yesterday. The remains will arrive in Tecumseh on the noon train Saturday. No services will be held here and the body will be taken to Tipton for burial.

NOON IN TECUMSEH.

What is going on in town when the clock strikes 12.

Noon, the dinner hour, the hour of comfort, of pleasure and relaxation—the one hour in the 24 which comes to men and women of every station with greater similarity than the hour of any function in life.

Promptly as the clock strikes 12 in Tecumseh the shadows on anxious faces turn to lines of good will, and if villainous hot bread, pies, spices and other indigestibles were excluded there would be no such words as dyspepsia or indigestion in the dictionary.

But the contrary is true, and medical science has to step in and aid the man or woman who has been too busy to pay proper attention to the health.

The greatest step forward in medical discovery is Mi-o-na, which cures all stomach and digestive troubles.

In hundreds of the best homes in Tecumseh and adjoining towns the handy little tablets are kept. Be it effective, have given quick and lasting relief in digestion and that disagreeable full feeling after eating.

Mi-o-na acts very gently. Much of its wonderful power over indigestion comes from its uniform but sustaining action. The required stimulating and strengthening is given to the important organs of digestion without producing the slightest weakness or reaction.

A 50c box lasts for a couple of weeks and will ward off a dozen attacks of indigestion. C. A. Wright gives a guarantee, absolute and unqualified, with every box of Mi-o-na to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

COMPTON ON TRIAL.

Eaton County Has Somewhat Tangled Murder Case.

AGED BLACKSMITH CHARGED.

Arrested on Second "Confession" of Prisoner at Jackson Serving Time for His First "Confession"—Prosecutor Has Difficulty Over Witness.

Charlotte, Mich., June 25.—The trial of Silas Compton, the aged Pennsylvania blacksmith, on the charge of helping to murder William Lampman 14 years ago, was commenced in the circuit court Monday morning. Compton was arrested on the strength of a "confession" by John Butcher, who is serving time in Jackson prison as the result of having confessed to killing the man himself. Butcher now retracts the first confession. Butcher killed Lampman in his home and robbed him of a small sum.

Prosecutor Peters has been in Pennsylvania on a peculiar mission. A few days ago he received a bill from a Pennsylvania chief of police for $100 for services rendered in the Compton case. The officer wrote that unless the bill was paid he would not subpoena the witnesses wanted by the prosecution. Peters laid the matter before Judge Smith, who authorized Peters to go to Athens and settle with the chief. This was Peters' third trip to Pennsylvania in this case. The testimony of the prosecutor failed to show the amount he finally paid the chief.

In an argument opposing the indorsing the names of the people's witnesses, Attorney Fox, for the defense, said that the two Pennsylvania witnesses indorsed on the information as originally filed, were persons of bad reputation, and that he had affidavits to that effect. Peters, in his reply, admitted that he recently learned of the reputation of the man whom he had subpoenaed, and that on his last trip east he had tried to stop the witness from coming to Michigan, but that he left the night before, and had already arrived. The prosecutor told the court he was sorry that the witness is here, as he does not want to convict Compton unless the old gentleman is guilty.

Strike Declared Off.

Detroit, Mich., June 25.—After several days' negotiations between a committee from Wyandotte lodge, No. 106, Boilermakers, Iron Shipbuilders & Helpers' union of North America, and the officials of the American Shipbuilding Co., an agreement was reached Sunday afternoon; whereby the strike was settled and the men returned to work at the yard Monday morning, under the conditions that existed before the strike was declared. The men are not to be discriminated against, and it is understood that the company has agreed to discontinue its injunction proceedings at once. The agreement does not provide that the strikebreakers will be discharged, but it is generally understood that the company will let these men go as soon as their contracts expire. The strike was declared March 12.

Springfield, Mass., June 25.—The express which leaves New York at noon for Boston crashed into a switching engine at the lower part of the freight yard of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad Monday afternoon. The train was going at the rate of 30 miles an hour, and although it did not leave the rails, the sudden stopping broke many of the windows in the cars and seriously injured two persons, while a score of others escaped with cuts and bruises.

Father Makes Strange Confession as to Child's Death.

BODY SHOWS SUFFOCATION,

Irwin Lewis of Westchester, Pa., Committed to Prison Following Inquest—Prosecutor Believes He Buried Step-Daughter Alive.

Westchester, Pa., June 25.—Irwin Lewis, step-father of Mary Newlin, aged five years, whose body was found buried in a pit in the barnyard at her home near Avondale, on Friday, was committed to prison yesterday, following an inquest into the case, on a formal charge of murder.

Before the inquest Lewis made a partial confession to District Attorney MacElree, in which he said the child fell from a wagon shed and was killed. He said he saw her fall, and went to pick her up; she was dead. He feared he might be accused of killing her, so he fastened a burlap bag over her head, tied a cord around her neck and buried the body in the pit in the barnyard. The inquest was held at Avondale, a small village near the Lewis home. Dr. U. S. Gifford, the coroner's physician, who made a post-mortem examination of the body, testified that death was caused by suffocation or asphyxiation, and that there was nothing in the condition of the body to show that the child had sustained such injuries as to cause death. District Attorney MacElree then repeated the partial confession of Lewis, and the jury returned a verdict that the child came to her death at the hands of Irwin Lewis.

Immediately after the inquest Lewis was taken before Justice of the Peace Lipp, where a formal case was made out against the accused, and he was committed to prison.

The condition of the body when found and the testimony of the coroner's physician, leave little room for doubt, according to the district attorney, that the child was buried alive.

DREAMS REVEAL MYSTERY.

Missing Child's Body Found Buried in Bank of Sand.

Ludington, Mich., June 25.—As a result of the dreams of two Ludington women, the body of five-year-old Ace Davis, who has been missing since June 13, was found last night, beneath two feet of sand, within a block of his home. A bank of sand had caved in on the little boy while he was at play, and the change in the contour of the sand bank was unnoticed, while searching parties scoured the woods and dragged the river and lake for his body.

The place where the body of the child was found is at the foot of a sand bank eight feet high.

Mrs. William Hall and Mrs. D. Brewster, who reside near the spot, had often been worried by the fondness of the children for this dangerous playground. Mrs. Hall dreamed that the body was lying somewhere in the sand beneath the bluff. Saturday night Mrs. Brewster had a similar dream and the dream again appeared to Mrs. Hall. After digging for ten minutes, the body was found, badly decomposed.

He fired the stick.

"I have fired the walking stick I've carried over 40 years on account of a sore that resisted every kind of treatment until I tried Bucklen's arnica salve; that has healed the sore and made me a happy man," writes John Garrett of North Mills, N. C. Guaranteed for piles, burns, etc, by C. A. Wright, druggist. 25c.

MANY MAY BE DEAD.

Building Collapses in New York City.

BODIES SEEN IN THE RUINS.

Eighteen People Known to Have Been in the Structure—Four Known to Be Dead—Firemen Search Ruins—One Body Recovered.

New York, June 25.—A four-story building at the corner of Lafayette and Walker streets collapsed this morning. Three or four families were living on the upper floors and firemen are searching the ruins for those believed to have been killed.

The police have announced that when the building collapsed there were eighteen people in it. Seven are known to have escaped, two have been rescued and nine are supposed to be still beneath the ruins. Four are known to be dead.

George Tarchino, 19 years old, and his sister, Mamie, 14, were taken from the ruins. Both were alive but badly injured.

It will be several hours before the work of rescue is completed.

Two infants' bodies can be seen, and another body of a man is known to be in the debris. Another infant, still alive, has been located by its moans. Four members of the Tarchino family, father and three young children, are thought to be dead in the ruins. Only one dead body, that of a man, has been recovered.

PITTSBURG SWELTERS.

Eleven Dead as Direct or Indirect Result of Warm Weather.

Pittsburg, June 25.—Eleven persons are dead and many prostrated as a direct or indirect result of the warm weather experienced in the Pittsburg district within the past 24 hours.

A peculiar feature of the present warm spell is the fact that the heat has hastened death in several cases of heart disease.

The intense heat came following a period of almost winter-like conditions, causing much suffering. Especially is the effect of the warm weather serious in the mills and manufacturing plants. In a number of the departments in the steel mills, where furnaces are used, the men are working short shifts, and even then are almost exhausted when relieved by a fresh force of men.

The maximum temperature reached Monday was 82 degrees, or seven degrees lower than that registered Sunday.

President Frees Him.

Leavenworth, Kas., June 25.—Hugh Kirkman, formely lieutenant in the United States army, was discharged from the United States penitentiary Monday, his sentence of three years for embezzlement having been commuted by President Roosevelt.

Gov.-Gen. Smith has returned from a month's tour of inspection of northern provinces of the Philippines. He declares that Pulajanism is ended on the islands of Samar and Leyte. He gives the entire credit for the solution of the difficulty to Gov. Curry of Samar, and Gov. De Veyra of Leyte.

The Home Savings bank of Washington, reported to the police Monday that while Roscoe C. Bangs, clerk of the bank, was returning on a street car from the treasury department to the bank, he was robbed of a pouch containing currency, checks, etc, aggregating $3,635. Several men jostled Bangs in the car and are suspected. The bank will lose only about $1,000, representing the cash in the pouch.

The treasury department at Washington Monday completed the purchase of $25,000,000, in four per cent bonds maturing on July 1, 1907, under the order of the secretary of the treasury issued early last April. It is understood that no more four per cent bonds will be purchased at this time, but that those bonds remaining unredeemed will be taken up when offered, and paid for on and after July 2, next.

SCHIMMEL ON RACK.

Defense Claim They Can Prove Alibi for Him on Day of Golden's Murder.

Grand Haven, Mich., June 25.—The examination of William Shimmel, who is charged with the murder of Martin Golden, was continued Monday.

The prosecuting attorney says he will put on witnesses who will prove where Shimmel was every hour of the day of Golden's murder. The McCarthy boys, who were near Golden's store the night the fatal shots were fired, testified Monday morning. They were given a severe cross-examination by the attorneys for the defense, but stuck to the story to the effect that they were 300 feet from Golden when he was shot, and heard him cry, "Here, here," just before, and saw the murderer run past them in the road, not 15 feet away, a few seconds after the shooting.

Mrs. Golden also testified, and when detailing happenings of that April night, over a year ago, she broke down and wept. The attorneys were lenient with her, questioning her but little.

NEW BOILERS BLOWN UP.

May Have Been the Work of Revengeful Strikers.

Detroit, Mich., June 25.—Residents living in the vicinity of the corner of Washington avenue and Clifford street, where is being erected the office building for the Detroit City Gas Co., were suddenly awakened, shortly after 2 o'clock this morning, by a series of three explosions occurring at intervals of about one minute apart. Investigation showed that three new boilers, which were to be installed in the building, had been blown up.

Who is responsible cannot be determined. It is reported that there is a strike on among the workmen on the building, and it is alleged that strikers inserted dynamite in the boilers and blew them up.

Two policemen in the immediate vicinity were blown off their feet, and one so seriously hurt that he had to be taken to the hospital.

Boats Upset; Girl Drowns.

Cheboygan, Mich., June 25.—Leone Mosser, a waitress, was drowned in Mullett lake, at night. The girl, with a lady friend, drove to the lake near midnight with Ben Hanson, who travels for Edson, Moore & Co., of Detroit, and lives at Reese, Mich., and David Lewis, a Saginaw traveling man. Each couple rented a boat, and had gone a little way from the dock when one boat upset. The occupants were changing seats. Parties who heard calls for help rowed out and found Hanson clinging to the upturned boat. The girl was gone. The other boat and its occupants were close by, but they were unable to render assistance. Searchers found the Mosser girl's body late. Both girl were employed at the Spencer house.

Victims of Lightning.

Boyne City, Mich., June 25.—A doctor called in the home of Mrs. Hattie Green at Deer Lake, several miles from this place, says that Rosa Green, aged 17 years, had the toes of one foot burned off and the instep of the other so badly burned by lightning that amputation was necessary. Harvey Green, aged seven, is in a critical condition, the result of lightning striking just above his heart. His body is seared, and for hours the lad was unconscious.

Man and Horse Killed.

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 25.—Stampeded by a cyclone which swept some of the stables at Recreation park clear off the lot and into an adjoining field, men and horses fled for safety. One man was killed by becoming entangled in telephone wires, which fell across a high power wire ouside the grounds, and three valuable horses met a like fate by becoming wound up in the wires under the grand stand. The dead man is Wm. Wiedmeyer, aged 35, a factory employe.

Because of a washout between Marquette and Negaunee, railroad traffic is at a standstill. One of the worst rain storms in years has visited the vicinity.

Conductor Is Missing.

Hartford, Conn., June 25.—The local police have been asked to locate David C. Maroney, conductor of the passenger train which collided with the work train here Sunday night, killing eight men and injuring 40. Maroney has not been seen since a few minutes after the disaster Sunday night. He appeared at his home about 3 o'clock in a frenzied condition, told his wife about the wreck and then went out. Two deaths increases the number of fatalities to eight. Some of the injured are in a serious condition.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. Doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by failing to cure by local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and so requires constitutional treatment. Hall's catarrh cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. They offer $100 for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

BASE BALL.

Tecumseh took the four games with Battle Creek played here Friday and Saturday. In Friday's double header Howlett for Tecumseh pitched the two games and not until the 8th inning of the second game did they score a run. Battle Creek secured but three hits off his delivery in the first game. In the second game he weakened a little. In the fourth inning with the bases full aided by sharp infielding, he crawled out without a score.

No man in the business of trading horses is looking for the worst of it.

J. B. Daniels is justly indignant because of having discovered that the rape seed he planted a few weeks ago was not rape seed at all, but merely mustard, and now he is exhibiting a field of prettty, yellow blossoms where the dark green plant should be growing. It is needless to say that the yellow blossoms don't look good to him.—Onsted News.

David Woodward, our venerable fruit grower, received an inquiry for his spraying formula from a man in the state who has 65,000 apple trees. Such an orchard would make our best bonanza orchards in this section look like thirty cents. When full grown and in bearing where will he secure the army of men necessary to handle such a crop in the short time in which the work must be done?—Clinton Courier.

Number 3 is a wonderful mascot for Geo. Parris of Cedar Grove, Me., according to a letter which reads: "After suffering much with liver and kidney trouble and becoming greatly discouraged by the failure to find relief I tried Electric Bitters and am a well man today. The first bottle relieved and 3 bottles completed the cure." Guaranteed best on earth for stomach, liver and kidney troubles by C. A. Wright, druggist. 50c.

M. F. STEIN,

THE DETROIT OPTICIAN,

The eye, when properly cared for affords the keenest delight because of the pleasures we are able to enjoy through its medium When not cared for and its warnings are unheeded, it becomes an intrument of torture. Headaches, eye pains, burning, itching sensation, strained vision, nervous troubles and many bodily ills are the results accruing from over worked eyes, eyes that need help. My examination reveals all hidden troubles, and it is my province to fit the right glass to any and all defects of vision. SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.

Will be at THE SHAWNEE HOTEL

Complies with all requirements of the National Pure Food Law, Guarantee No. 2041, filed at Washington.

"For over thirty years," writes a gentleman in Los Angeles, "I have used Arbuckles' Coffee. Many times my family has tried other coffee only to come back to our old reliable, unchangeable Arbuckles.' No other coffee has this uniform never failing aroma, I care not at what price. I have often wished I could tell you this." Many other people have the same opinion. Arbuckles' was the first roasted packaged coffee, and its sales exceed all the others put together. That it costs you less is due simply to our coffee business being so much greater than any competitors, in fact, it is larger than the next four largest firms in the world combined. We naturally can and actually do give better coffee in ARIOSA than anyone else can give for the price; Being the standard article it is sold at the narrowest margin of profit.

Some grocers will try to sell you instead loose coffee which the roaster is ashamed to sell in a package bearing his name.

Don't take it, neither the looks nor the price indicate its cup quality. No matter where you buy Arbuckles' ARIOSA, or what you pay for it, it's the same old uniform Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee.

If your grocer will not supply, write to ARBUCKLE BROS., New York City.

MEMORIARL SERVICES

Of the Knights of Pythias.

ATTY CLARK BALDWIN.

Of Adrian, gave the address.

The Knights of Pythias observed their memorial Sunday, holding appropriate exercises at Brookside cemetery. Members of the order met at the hall at 2 o'clock where, headed by the Tecumseh band, they formed a line and marched to the cemetery. The Uniformed Rank was also in line. Clark Baldwin, who gave the address, Mr. Passell, both of Adrian, and Rev. Dunning riding in the carriage.

Arriving at the cemetery the K. of P. memorial service was held over the graves of Thomas and George Adamson while companies were sent out from these graves to decorate those of the ten departed brothers. A stand had been erected in the shade where the exercises were held as follows:

Song—Sunbeam Quartette.
Prayer—Rev. Dunning.
Address—Clark Baldwin.
Song—Sunbeam Quartette.
Benediction—Rev. Dunning.

About ten Tipton brothers were present and 75 members from the Tecumseh order were in line.

Y. M. C. A. Cup.

For the third time in succession the boys of the Tecumseh Y. M. C. A., have won the silver cup given as a prize for efficiency in bible study by the International committee of the Y. M. C. A. This being the third successive victory for the home boys they will be permitted to retain the prize permanently after January 1, 1908. This is a signal victory for the local association and comes as a result of the hard work done by the 40 boys that were in the bible classes the past winter.

Fifteen of the 34 examinations received marks of over 90 per cent., while Glenn Lanning's paper on the "Life of Christ" received a mark of 100 per cent. by the International examiners. In connection with their regular work the boys' department has published an outline on the twelve minor prophets.

Remarkable Rescue.

That truth is stranger than fiction has once more been demonstrated in the town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes "I was in bed entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery and instant relief came. The coughing and bleeding soon ceased and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c and $1 at C. A. Wright's drug store. Trial bottle free.

ROUND ABOUT US.

J. M. Sallows of Ogden, a man of 81, has left at A. J. Walper's store, a novelty in the way of a chair, made from hickory small second growth timber none of the pieces being more than an inch in diameter, these being split poles forming the seat. It has a most unique appearance as to shape and is so constructed as to show adornments of "daisy" shape being pieces ½ to ¾ in diameter cut cross-wise and resembling a a corn cob sliced crosswise. It contains 4,567 pieces of wood, 13,811 nails, is glued and varnished and is one of the most ingenious and curious pieces of work imaginable. Lovers of curios can well afford to secure it. The old man was three months building it.—Adrian Press.

Noble Barton of Lyndon, who was working for his aunt, Mrs Horace Leek, started out with the team Tuesday afternoon of last week to a field about a mile away where he was working a three horse team. Later on he was found dead, his neck having been broken. H was riding on a cart hitched to the middle horse of his team and it is supposed he fell off. The funeral was held Friday morning from the Lyndon Baptist church.—Saline Observer.

FOR OUR READERS.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to the power of Hy-o-mei, the medicated air treatment, to cure all catarrhal troubles, the remarkable offer made by C. A. Wright should expel that doubt. He gives his personal guarantee with every dollar outfit of Hyomei he sells, to refund the money unless it gives satisfaction. He takes all the risk of cure and no reader of the HERALD can afford to suffer longer with catarrh when an offer like this is made.

With every Hy-o-mei outfit is a neat pocket inhaler and Hy-o-mei breathed through this inhaler, reaches the most remote air-cells of the nose, throat and lungs, destroying all catarrhal germs and soothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane.

Hy-o-mei really gives you a health-giving climate in your own home, so that when you breathe its medicated air, your nose, throat and lungs will be filled with air like that on the mountains high above the sea level, where grow balsamic trees and plants, which purify the air with their volatile antiseptic fragrance so healing to the respiratory organs.

You will notice relief and benefit from the first use of Hy-o-mei and it will not take many days' treatment to convince you that in this remedy you have found a complete and lasting cure for all catarrhal troubles.

Lamkin—Kintner.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Roberts last Thursday evening when the latter's sister, Mary Adelaide, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Lamkins, of Franklin, became the wife of Elmer E. Kintner of Painesville, O. At 7 o'clock to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Rilla Helm of Britton, the bridal couple took their places before a bower formed of white bunting and branches of syringa and ferns. Rev. Kamm performed the ceremony in the presence of thirty relatives and friends, using the beautiful ring service.

The parlor was also trimmed from the corners of the room to the chandelier with white bunting. The two archways were masses of greenery which added to the appearance of the room. The dining room was festooned with ropes of green and white, the white wedding bells being used also. Here a two course supper was served after congratulations, the Misses Rilla Helm, Mina Payne and Mrs. Horace Lamkin assisting Mrs. Roberts in serving.

The bride was attired in a gown of white French lawn with lace trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations. Her travelling suit was brown. Mr. and Mrs. Kintner left that evening for Detroit going by boat to Cleveland, O., and will be at home at Painesville, after July 1. The gifts the couple received from their friends consisted of silver, cut glass, china and linen.

Among the guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Butrick of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Helm and Rilla of Britton, Mrs. Ed Pawson and daughter of Clinton, and Miss Mina Payne of Kalamazoo.

A dripping, mud-spattered wheelman stopped at the home of Wm. Talmage near Clarks lake on Monday and asked for a room in which to dry his clothes. The good samaratin who had seen him take what was apparently an unintentional plunge into a frog pond near the roadway, took him in and offered him the services [illegible] When the man reappeared from his temporary toilet he was identified as J. S. Goodrich of Napoleon.—Brooklyn Ex.

NOON IN TECUMSEH.

What is going on in town when the clock strikes 12.

Noon, the dinner hour, the hour of comfort, of pleasure and relaxation—the one hour in the 24 which comes to men and women of every station with greater similarity than the hour of any function in life.

Promptly as the clock strikes 12 in Tecumseh the shadows on anxious faces turn to lines of good will, and if villainous hot bread, pies, spices and other indigestibles were excluded there would be no such words as dyspepsia or indigestion in the dictionary.

But the contrary is true, and medical science has to step in and aid the man or woman who has been too busy to pry proper attention to the health.

The greatest step forward in medical discovery is Mi-o-na, which cures all stomach and digestive troubles.

In hundreds of the best homes in Tecumseh and adjoining towns the handy little tablets, so pleasant to take, yet effective, have given quick and lasting relief in digestion and that disagreeable full feeling after eating.

Mi-o-na acts very gently. Much of its wonderful power over indigestion comes from its uniform but sustaining action. The required stimulating and strengthening is given to the important organs of digestion without producing the slightest weakness or reaction.

A 50c box lasts for a couple of weeks and will ward off a dozen attacks of indigestion. C. A. Wright gives a guarantee, absolute and unqualified, with every box of Mi-o-na to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

TESTED AND PROVEN.

There is a heap of solace in being able to depend upon a well-earned reputation.

For months Tecumseh readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit.

Wm. C. Witherell, living on Chicago street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "In 1901 I gave a statement for publication telling how Doan's Kidney Pills had helped me, and today I still hold the same high opinion of them. When I first used Doan's Kidney Pills I was troubled with severe pains across my back and hips. If I attempted to stoop or straighten after stooping, sharp pains would dart through me and I would have to lie down. One time, I was laid up in bed for several days, just from my kidneys being so bad. I think the trouble was caused years ago by always being in a constant bent over position when I used to shear a great number of sheep. I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and bought a box. I received great benefit even from the first few doses so I continued using them until they had effected a cure. I am glad to say that the cure then made has proven permanent as I have not been troubled since. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills a number of times and will continue to do so."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's, and take no other.

A Letter

From J. B. Coller, who is aboard the

ORINOCO

On the Great Lakes.

Erie, Pa., June 19, 1907.

Tecumseh HERALD.

DEAR FRIENDS:—Well, it is eleven weeks Monday since I came aboard the Orinoco and I was thinking of home and friends there today so I thought you all would like to hear from us again. We are getting used to the sea, haven't been sea sick since the last letter. Let me see my last letter was written from Duluth. We loaded with wheat there, 110,012 bu. for Detroit, at two cents per bushel. On our way down we picked up a barge of coal at Marquette, also for Detroit.

After we were unloaded we went to Toledo for coal to go to Milwaukee, Wis. We had 3,750 tons at 40c per ton and the barge had 2600 tons. Upon arriving at Milwaukee we received orders to go to Escanaba for ore. We had to go light from Milwaukee with the barge as we got out of the slips, by the way, that is the only way you can get to any dock in Milwaukee is through slips. We unloaded at the Pabst slips but did not get time to test Pabst Blue Ribbon. There was a storm brewing so the captain pulled in behind the breakwaters and anchored for the night.

In the morning we started for Escanaba loaded with ore for Erie, Pa. We had on this load 2,650 tons, for which they get 70c per ton and the barge carried 2600 tons. We are paid for towing the barge, one third of its cargo which amounts to five or six hundred dollars. That helps to pay the expenses of our boat. We left Escanaba May 29 at 3:45 and arrived at Erie, Pa., June 3, at 1:55 p. m. After unloading we started for Toledo but before we got out of the bay the wind was blowing a hurricane, so we anchored until morning then started for Toledo, arriving there June 7 at 9:35 a. m.

I forgot to tell one thing that happened on our trip to Erie and that was when we arrived at Point Peele, a storm was raging so we went in shelter for 24 hours. When we got up in the morning we could count 50 boats in sight and we were the second to pull out. Erie is a very pretty place, one of the finest soldiers' homes being there. Any one wishing to see the pictures of the place can do so by going to the Coller House, as I have sent pictures of all the places we have visited to Mrs. Coller.

After loading the coal we started for Green Bay City, Wis., we were there two days, that is another pretty city. From Green Bay we went empty to Escanaba again for ore. This time our load is heavier than ever. We are drawing 19 feet and 8 inches of water. The ore we have on is 90 per cent. iron, I have some samples which I will bring home. It is the best ore that has ever been found, this is for Erie, Pa., and we expect to arrive there Saturday evening. We were delayed six hours Tuesday night on account of the fog. I tell you there is not much sleep with the fog-horn blowing every minute and three blasts at a time. We have seen many of the sights of the lakes since we left home which has done us some good.

I have got 3,470 meals and 800 midnight lunches since I came aboard the Oronoco. We have two dining rooms one for the firemen and deck hands, there are five of them and they eat in what is called the mess-room. I have to wait on them so I put their meals all on at once. Earl waits in the other room and has the captain, two mates, two wheelsmen, two watchman, chief engineer, oiler and second engineer, one of each eat at a time so it is not very hard work to wait on them. One good thing about our crew is that they are all very nice fellows. The only trouble we have is with the fireman as we have had nine different men for that job since we started out.

The captain's wife and niece of Port Huron, have been with us on this trip and I tell you it seems good to have some one to help pass the time away. At Escanaba the ore docks are something immense. There are six of them and each cost a millions to build and are nearly a mile long. In loading ore we tie up at the dock and there are great long shutes that they let down in the hatches, drive out a bolt and four carloads come down at a time. Three are several kinds of the ore. we have had four kinds to load.

The way we load coal is to tie up at the dock, they run a car load on a track then lift the car, coal and all up about 20 feet then tip the car bottom side up. It takes about five minutes to unload.

I think I have tired you trying to read this so I will close. Hoping you are all well I am as ever,

Yours truly,
J. B. COLLER.

P. S. If any one would like to drop Earl or I a line our address is Detroit, Mich., care of Marine post office of the Orinoco.

Blame

No One But Yourself if You Don't Get Well When Sick.

All we can do is give advice.
Of course that's easy.
But our advice is really worth a little more to you than most people's, for we offer to give you the first bottle of our medicine free, if it fails to help you
We could not afford to do this unless our medicine was good. Such an offer, on the wrong kind of medicine, would put a merchant prince in the poor house.
Dr. Miles' Nervine, however, as years of experience have proved, is a medicine that cures the sick.
Those whom it cannot benefit—less than one in ten thousand—we prefer to refund their money.
All we ask of you is to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for your complaint. Is Your Boy or Girl Thin or Nervous?

Parents do not seem to realize the great importance of curing nervousness in their children. They call in a doctor for a cough or a cold, but nervousness does not strike them as being serious enough. It is. A thin, nervous child rarely develops into a strong, healthy man or woman. More often nervous conditions become chronic and the child becomes a life-long, delicate, nervous invalid.

You can positively cure nervousness in your child with

Rexall Americanitis Elixir

This remarkable remedy supplies phosphorus in soluble form to the body, tones and quiets the nerves and brings them to a normal, permanently healthy condition. The first bottle will convince you of the genuine merit of this remedy. Your duty to your child should urge you to try it.

THE FAIRNESS OF THIS Rexall GUARANTEE will appeal to every parent. If Americanitis does not benefit your child, just bring us back your empty bottle and tell us so, and we'll promptly hand you back your money. That shows our confidence in this remedy. There's nothing dangerous about Americanitis. We'll give you the entire formula upon request.

DIDN'T HIT HIS MAN.

Almost a Tragedy in Pittsburg's Business Circles.

Pittsburg, June 25.—Thomas L. Harper, a prominent politician, was arrested late Monday, charged with assault upon Levi DeWolf, a well-known broker, in the latter's offices. Harper is held for a hearing.

According to the broker's employes, Harper entered the office, and after a few words with DeWolf, discharged a revolver four times. The broker was unharmed. Harper was overpowered by others in the place and turned over to the police. When searched at the police station, two revolvers, one having four empty chambers, were taken from him.

The men, De Wolf said, had been unfriendly for some time. Both are members of the Americus club, one of the larger republican organizations, and of which Harper is secretary. Harper was formerly superintendent of the American Steel Hoop Co.

Stringent Photographic Laws.

Berlin, June 25.—The snapshot photographer in Germany is threatened with extinction after July 1, owing to the great risk he will run of being mulcted in heavy fines under the new act which goes into force on that date. The right of all persons to the exclusive reproduction of their own portraits or those of their houses or belongings is by the new enactment made absolute. The law, however, permits the granting of permission by any one to a photographer, to take his photograph or that of his landscape or of his cattle or horses. But there is danger ahead for the amateur or professional who snapshots some one or something without previously arming himself with the necessary authorization. Prosecution and punishment may quickly follow. Even when requested by a friend to take a photograph of a room with its contents, which the owner may desire to use as a postcard, the danger is still great, for the room may contain pictures, and if these are recognizable in the photograph, the photographer is liable to prosecution by the artist.

Orders Militia to Make Ready.

New Orleans, June 25.—The state militia was ordered Monday, by Gov Blanchard, to hold itself in instant readiness to protect the Italians arrested in the Lamana kidnaping and murder case. This order was issued because the prisoners will probably be transferred in a few day from the New Orleans parish prison, where they are safe, to St. Charles parish where the boy was killed and where the trials must be held. This parish is a rural community with small police protection, and within such short distance of New Orleans that mobs from this city could reach there in two hours.

Accept Mrs. Sage's Gift.

New York, June 25.—The medical board of the city hospital Monday formally accepted Mrs. Russell Sage's gift of $300,000 for the formation of an adjunct to the city hospital on Blackwell's Island, to be known as the Russell Sage institute of pathology. According to the plan laid down by Mrs. Sage in making her gift, the institution is organized for the purpose of research into the problems of disease, more especially the diseases of advanced life, and the improvement of the city's poor, sick and aged in the city hospital and the city home on Blackwell's Island.

UNWRITTEN LAW

Is Defense of Ex-Judge Loving for Killing Theodore Estes.

Houston, Va., June 25.—The trial of former Judge W. G. Loving, for the murder of young Theodore Estes—the sequel of a buggy ride which Estes took with Loving's daughter—moved rapidly Monday, and when court adjourned the prosecution had rested and the defense had begun its case.

The progress in the trial was remarkable. Before adjournment of the morning session, a jury had been secured, mostly middle-aged men, and all but three of them married; eleven of them being farmer, the lone exception being a merchant; the taking of testimony began on the re-convening of court, and late in the afternoon the commonwealth rested its case, and Judge Loving, whose defense is the unwritten law, had taken the witness stand in his own behalf.

The widespread interest in the case was manifest. A large crowd was present, but perfect order was observed.

BALLOON KILLS EIGHT.

Basket First Falls, Then the Gas Explodes.

Budapest, June 25.—While endeavoring, with the assistance of several farm hands, to remove a balloon from the roof of his home in the vicinity of Debroczin, where it had fallen during the night, the owner of the house and four other persons were killed and half a dozen injured by the explosion of the gas in the bag. The basket belonging to the balloon was found 15 miles away, and in it were three persons, all dead.

Evidently the basket had become detached and fallen a considerable distance.

Noted Russian Prisoner Escapes.

St. Petersburg, June 25.—Details have been received of the escape of Peter Karpovich, the assassin of Minister of Education Bogolepoff, who, with the exception of Sasonoff, the slayer of Interior Minister Von Plehve, was the last of the famous group of terrorists still in captivity. Karpovich, whose sentence of 20 years in the mines was shortened by the amnesty decree issued after the October manifesto, had finished his term in the Akatui mines and was on his way to the penal colony of Barguzinsk to serve a further period of 14 years' banishment before he would be allowed to return to European Russia. During the journey he evaded his guards, disappeared and is supposed to have made his way abroad.

Poisoned by Ice Cream.

Morrice, Mich., June 25.—Robert and Mrs. Cohoon and their three children, Arthur, Willie and Essie, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bryant are seriously ill from eating ice cream. Mrs. Bryant and the Cohoon boys are the worst affected.

Japs Decorate Falliores.

Paris, June 25.—President Falliores was notified by telegraph Monday that the emperor of Japan had conferred on him the order of the Chrysanthemum in celebration of the signing of the Franco-Japanese agreement regarding the far east. Another Japanese order has been conferred on Foreign Minister Pichon.

AWARDED MEDALS.

President Honors Men Who Saved Lives on Railroads.

Washington, June 25.—President Roosevelt, through the interstate commerce commission, Monday awarded railroad life saving medals to Charles Arms of Clarkesville, Tenn., and Edgar E. George of Parsons, Penn.

Mr. Arms' heroic exploit was saving the lives of Mail Clerks J. G. Martin and Thomas A. Frazier and Baggageman Robert L. Morris, whose train on the Louisville and Nashville railroad plunged through the drawbridge over the Cumberland river at Clarksville, fifty feet down into the stream, which was at flood stage. The three victims mentioned clung to the top of the partially submerged cars which were being swept down the river. At first none dared go to their aid, but Arms, who was confined to his bed with malarial fever, learned of the accident, and partially clad, rushed to the river and appealed to bystanders to go with him in a boat to rescue the men. He finally pushed off alone, took off the imperiled trio and safely landed them.

George saved the life of a Polish lad, whose foot had become fastened in a railroad frog at Parsons. Unable otherwise to extricate the boy's feet, he seized the boy's body, bent it down outside the rail, forced the imprisoned leg under the engine cylinder, oil boxes and steps on the cars, which scraped their bodies, but they escaped uninjured, except for the boy's badly strained foot and leg, and slight bruises sustained by George.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

TOAZ SHOT HIMSELF.

Compton Murder Case Develops Another Tragedy.

CONSTABLE A SUICIDE.

Developments In Case So Humiliated Him That He Took His Own Life—Effort to Increase His Reputation as Sleuth Fell Flat.

Grand Ledge, Mich., June 28.—The Compton case at Charlotte has developed a tragedy. Thomas J. Toaz, music dealer here and constable for many years, early Thursday morning shot himself through the head in his home, and there is no other explanation for the suicide but the trend of the Compton case. Toaz was the officer who accumulated the "evidence" in the case. He was an honest, zealous officer, and developments in the trial at Charlotte have shown that he was too zealous. He was to have gone on the witness stand today.

The Compton case is that of the aged blacksmith, formerly of this city, recently arrested in Pennsylvania and brought here for trial for the alleged murder of William Lampman. Lampman was an old man who lived here about 15 years ago. He was supposed to have money. He was murdered in his bed by John Butcher, a town character; the proceeds of the brutal crime were about $12. Butcher confessed and went to Jackson prison. In prison lately he derived from some source the idea that if he changed his confession he would gain his liberty. He thereupon advanced a new "confession," claiming that Silas Compton, the old blacksmith, was really the man who killed Lampton. Compton had been suspected by Officer Toaz and others at the time of the crime.

Toaz tumbled into the pitfall, heels over head. There was nothing for him to gain but an increase of his local reputation as an expert sleuth through the confirmation, as he hoped, of his well-known theory that Compton was the guilty man.

That the trial thus far failed to do any such thing has likely brought much chagrin to Toaz, and being unable to bear the humiliation of the trial's probable outcome, he took his life.

Grandma Austin Is Dead.

Vermontville, Mich., June 28.—"Grandma Austin" is dead. She undoubtedly was the most famous of Michigan's old women. It is believed she was the oldest living resident of the state. She is supposed to have passed landmark No. 104 one day last March. Sarah Kirk Austin was her full name. She was born in New Jersey, where her father was a ship carpenter. She was married in 1823, and removed to Ohio. Mr. Austin died many years ago, and many years after the couple came to Michigan. Each of her birthdays of late years has been made the occasion of a reception whither half of the population of the county frequently journeyed. She was as popular as she was old. She was in pretty good health until recently, when a cancer on her neck began to affect her seriously.

Willing to Part With Child.

Battle Creek, Mich., Jun 28.—In Justice Battdorf's court Thursday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Blodgett, the former a railroad man, signed away all rights to their child, aged four months. Neighbors saw the infant was starving and notified the police, who asked Miss Bertha Babcock, serving as probation agent, to investigate. She reported filth and starvation, saying the child was almost a skeleton. The parents did not fight the police plans, being too glad to escape arrest. Laziness, not poverty, is the claim advanced against the family, the house being upkept and neglected.

Barber On a Rampage.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., June 28.—While insane Herman Dekruyter, aged 22 years, of Rudyard, fired a shot through the hotel window, startling guests, who rushed out and found Dekruyter nearby with his throat cut. If he recovers he will probably be sent to the insane asylum at Newberry. Dekruyter is a barber and has been employed at the Rudyard hotel for some time. The revolver from which the shot was fired was found on the ground in the morning. What reason he had for shooting is not known. His father, a merchant at Rudyard, is now traveling in Europe.

China Is Thankful.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 28.—The personal thanks of the emperor of China for the remission by the United States of the greater portion of the Chinese indemnity were conveyed to President Roosevelt Thursday by Sir Liang Cheng, the Chinese minister.

BLOW TO PROSECUTION.

Judge Bars Admission of Important Evidence at Loving Murder Trial.

Houston, Va., June 28.—The taking of evidence in the case of former Judge Wm. G. Loving, who was placed on trial in the circuit court of Halifax county here last Monday morning, for the murder of young Theodore Estes in Nelson county on April 22, was concluded at five o'clock Thursday afternoon. Today the court will listen to arguments of the instructions to be given the jury. The rapidity with which the trial has progressed has been most remarkable and surprising to practically all concerned.

Thursday marked a most important turning point in the case, when Judge Barksdale rendered an opinion concering the admissibility of certain evidence, the decision dealing a heavy blow to the plans of the prosecution. Attorney Daniel Harmon, for the prosecution, Wednesday announced his intention of introducing witnesses to show that the story told by Miss Loving to her father, that she was drugged and assaulted by Theodore Estes was a fabrication, and that Estes never offered any indignities to the girl, even suggesting that there might be another motive back of the killing. The defense objected to the introduction of such testimony, on the ground that it had no bearing on the case, and whether true or false, had nothing to do with the question of the insanity of Judge Loving at the time of the tragedy. Judge Barksdale, in a lengthy opinion, sustained the contention of the defense, and among the cases he cited as authority was the famous Thaw trial in New York.

After the opinion of Judge Barksdale had been rendered, the prosecution began the examination of a number of witnesses in rebuttal of the evidence introduced by the defense that Loving was insane at the time of the shooting. During the morning seven witnesses were examined. Most of these reside in Amherst and Nelson counties, and have known Judge Loving for many years. [illegible] of their testimony was that they had never heard the insanity of Judge Loving discussed before this trial, and they had always regarded him as a sane man with a mind superior to the ordinary.

The officials of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, for whom summons have been issued are: John D. Rockefeller, president; William Rockefeller, John D. Archbold and Henry H. Rogers, vice-presidents; W. H. Tilford, treasurer; G. M. Pratt, secretary; William P. Howe, assistant treasurer, and Charles T. White, assistant secretary.

The officials of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, summoned are, J. A. Moffett, president; W. P. Cowan, vice-president, and G. W. Stahl, secretary and treasurer. H. E. Filton, president of the Union Tank line, and F. A. Wan, former general freight agent of the Chicago & Alton railroad, have also been served with subpenas.

The issuance of the subpenas is the direct result of the refusal of the attorneys of the Standard Oil Co., Wednesday to supply Judge Landis with information regarding the financial condition of the company.

Fourth Casualties Begin.

New York, June 28.—In celebrating the approach of the Fourth of July, Constance Gabriel, six years of age, was burned to death in the midst of a crowd of playmates last night. Her clothes caught fire from exploding fireploding firecrackers. Soon afterwards, a horse, frightened by a giant firecracker that had been thrown at its feet, trampled 10-year-old Catherine Machono to death. A nine-year-old girl is dying in a Brooklyn hospital as a result of a firecracker accident, while a half dozen less seriously injured are being treated at other institutions.

Wife Murderer Hanged.

Columbus, O., June 28.—James Cornelius, the Canton wife murderer, who was reprieved three times by Gov. Harris, was electrocuted in the annex of the penitentiary at 12:10 this morning. No special incident marked the execution. Cornelius killed his wife Sept. 17, 1906, by crushing her skull with a window weight. She had sued for divorce.

LIMITS THE DEFENSE.

Ruling of Judge Cuts Short Testimony of Boyce.

AT THE HAYWOOD TRIAL.

Must Cut Out Isolated Instances Going to Show That Established Conspiracy Existed — Witness Denies There Was "Inner Circle" in Union.

Boise, Ida., June 28.—A ruling made Thursday by Judge Wood while Edward Boyce, for years the leader of the Western Federation of Miners, and now a wealthy mine owner of the Coeur D'Alenes, was testifying in behalf of Wm. D. Haywood, may limit materially the showing of the defense as to the existence of the counter-conspiracy against Haywood and his associates.

James H. Hawley, for the state, objected to a general question as to the policy and practice of mineowners throught the west in blacklisting union miners, and in the argument that followed, Clarence Darrow, for the defense, claimed that same latitude in proving counter-conspiracy that the state enjoyed in showing a conspiracy.

Mr. Hawley contended that the state had directly shown the existence of a conspiracy by Harry Orchard, and by so doing had laid the foundation for and made the connection of all the evidence subsequently offered on the subject. He said that the defense was trying to show a counter-conspiracy by proving various isolated instances and certain general conditions, none of which was connected with the case and for none of which a proper foundation had been laid. In ruling, the court accepted in part the contention of the prosecution and limited the proof of the defense along this line to events in Colorado and the Coeur D'Alenes connected with the case as now established.

Edward Boyce was the principal witness of the day, and his testimony was chiefly devoted to the history, purposes and work of the Western Federation. He denied the existence of an "inner circle" or that there had ever been a conspiracy in the organization to do an illegal act. The chief importance of Boyce's cross-examination was the production of a speech by him at the convention of the federation at Salt Lake in 1898; in which he said that every union should have a rifle club and every member a rifle, so that the federation could march 25,000 armed men in the ranks of labor.

Mr. Boyce would not agree with the accuracy of the quotation, but saying that the sentiment was correct, declared with spirit, when he spoke the word imputed to him he had in mind the misconduct of state troops in Colorado; the use of troops elsewhere against the federation, and the constitutional right of all citizens to bear arms, which was as much the right of the miners as the aristocrats.

May Lose His Limbs.

Detroit, Mich., June 28.—Frank Alfather, aged 15 years, of 515 Thirty-first street, lies at Grace hospital in a serious condition, as a result of his taking a hitch on a freight train near the upper Twelfth street crossing. Thursday morning Alfather went to work for the Wolverine Manufacturing Co., and at the noon hour, for the fun of it, jumped on a passing train. Both of his feet were crushed so severely that it is feared their amputation will be imperative.

HARRIMAN ARRESTED.

Railroad Magnate Too Obstreperous at Big Race.

TRESPASSED ON THE COURSE

President's Aide Took Him Into Custody—Liable to a Fine of $500—Yale Wins Great Eight-Oared Contest Over Harvard by Boat Length.

New London, Conn., June 28.—Before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a race on the Thames river, the Yale crew rowed home on an average of four strokes to the minute less than Harvard, held the big Cambridge eight even until the last half mile, when the blue let out their speed and won a magnificent contest by a scant boat length. Never once in the whole four miles did the long, graceful shells cease to lap each other. Thousands of persons board the observation train and on every kind of floating craft and those who lined the shores, sent cheer upon cheer to the old rivals as they fought out one of the grandest races in the history of boating. Yale's time for the four miles was 21:10; Harvard's, 21:13.

The race was accompanied by one disagreeable feature. This was the arrest of E. H. Harriman, the railroad magnate, by Lieut. Billard, President Roosevelt's naval aide. Lieut. Billard, who was in charge of the revenue cutters, had warned every boat owner not to follow the race. The big varsity struggle had scarcely been started when Mr. Harriman, in a powerful motor boat, started to follow the race. Lieut. Billard and Chairman Schweppe, who were aboard the regatta committee boat, the Arrow, repeatedly warned Mr. Harriman to stop his engine and get out of the course. Mr. Harriman not only paid no attention to them but took a position right alongside of the referee's boat, and held it. Off the navy yard, Lieut. Billard signalled for a launch, and tooted the revenue cutter whistle, which finally caused Mr. Harriman to look around.

"You are under arrest, sir," shouted Lieut. Billard. "You will give yourself up to this man, who will take you aboard the Gresham to await my orders."

Then it was discovered that the man in the powerful and speedy motor boat was Mr. Harriman. Chairman Schweppe, of the regatta committee, was very angry, and he shouted to Mr Harriman in tones the latter could not mistake. The millionaire levelled his forefinger at Chairman Schweppe, and yelled back:

"Young man, I will see you later."

Schweppe's friends aboard the Arrow gave Mr. Harriman a gentle laugh. Mr. Harriman saw no more of the race, but was detained as any ordinary prisoner aboard the Gresham until after the race was over, when Lieut. Billard went aboard the Gresham and released Mr. Harriman, but ordered his boat tied up at the navy yard. The incident may cost Mr. Harriman a fine of $500. This was the penalty imposed on a yacht owner at last year's race, for transgressing the rules governing the course.

He fired the stick.

"I have fired the walking stick I've arried over 40 years on account of a sore that resisted every kind of treatment until I tried Bucklen's arnica salve; that has healed the sore and made me a happy man," writes John Garrett of North Mills, N. C. Guaranteed for piles, burns, etc. by C. A. Wright, druggist. 25c.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. Doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by failing to cure by local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and so requires constitutional treatment. Hall's catarrh cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. They offer $100 for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Good manners are made up of petty sacrifices.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It conforms to the pure food and drugs law. Sold by B. J. Pulver.

Cured hemorrhages of the lungs

"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages" writes A. M. Ake of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's honey and tar, and my lungs are now as sound as a bullet. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's honey and tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us, or we find it not.

All stomach troubles are quickly relieved by taking a little Kodol after each meal. Kodol goes directly to the seat of the trouble, strengthens the digestive organs, supplies the natural digestive juices and digests what you eat. It is a simple, clean, pure, harmless remedy. Don't neglect your stomach. Take a little Kodol after each meal and see how good it makes you feel. Money back if it fails. Sold by B. J. Pulver.

Life should not be cheap, but sacred.

Bert Barber of Elton, Wis., says, "I have only taken four doses of your kidney and bladder pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's kidney and bladder pills, which are unequaled for backache, weak kidneys, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. A week's treatment for 25c. Sold by B. J. Pulver.

A prompt, pleasant, good remedy for coughs and colds, is Kennedy's laxative cough syrup. It is especially recommended for babies and children, but good for every member of the family. It contains no opiates and does not constipate. Contains honey and tar and tastes nearly as good as maple syrup. Children like it. Sold by B. J. Pulver.

W. R. Ward of Dyersburg, Tenn. writes: "This is to certify that I have used Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup for chronic constipation and it has proven, without a doubt, to be a thorough, practical remedy for this trouble, and it is with pleasure I offer my conscientious reference." Attending to your own business is the most effective way to fight competition.

A man who is in perfect health so he can do a day's work when necessary has much for which he should be thankful. Mr. L. C. He says, "Success to Foley's kidney cure." For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

F. O. Hancock, county clerk, S. J. Gier, principal of the high school and Burr Wilbur all of Hillsdale, were here to see the Mt. Clemens-Tecumseh game yesterday.

They had heard that Tecumseh was a great base ball town and thought they would come over and see for themselves. They find the report is true. On recreation park is one of the finest diamonds in the state and our people are all enthusiastic over base ball as can be seen by the standing of the Indians.

County C. E. Convention.

The Lenawee County Christian Endeavor held a convention in the Presbyterian church, Tecumseh last Tuesday and was well attended by a large number of delegates from other societies. The program as printed in last week's HERALD was carried out, and was very interesting. The reports from the various societies show them all to be growing and are very enthusiastic over the coming year's work. At 5 o'clock a supper was served by the young ladies of the Presbyterian church. In the evening an address by Rev. Carl S. Jones was very helpful and interesting.

Roscoe S. Burton of Peoria, Ill., a junior law student of the U. of M., was drowned in Bass lake Friday. He was in company with two other students. They had just completed their examinations and went to the lake to spend the day. They returned to Lakeland to take the train for Ann Arbor when Burton discovered that he had lost his pocketbook and they went back to find it. After eating a lunch they went in bathing. Burton got in deep water and was taken with cramps in the stomach. He called for help but sank before the others reached him. His body was recovered during the night Friday.—Saline Observer.

M. F. STEIN,
THE DETROIT OPTICIAN,

The eye, when properly cared for affords the keenest delight because of the pleasures we are able to enjoy through its medium When not cared for and its warnings are unheeded, it becomes an intrument of torture. Headaches, eye pains, burning, itching sensation, strained vision, nervous troubles and many bodily ills are the results accruing from over worked eyes, eyes that need help. My examination reveals all hidden troubles, and it is my province to fit the right glass to any and all defects of vision. SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.

Coffee Value

If you are paying 25c a pound for coffee, you ought to be enjoying good cup quality. The price you pay does not fix the quality you receive; different sellers give different qualities for the money.

LOWRY'S BLEND at 25c the pound, is a little bit better for the money. Years of experimenting has fixed our standard high and this coffee is now no experiment. Its increasing sale together with its ever repeating orders from old time users, is mighty convincing proof that it contains everything in the quality line that is claimed for it.

You are the judge. We ask your consideration of the evidence contained in a cup of this delicious coffee.

Don't "get along" with a coffee that doesn't suit your taste, because you think it is as good as you ought to expect for the money. Make your next order for LOWRY'S 25c BLEND.

GREEN AND WHITE WEDDING

The Marriage of

MISS FLORENCE BREWER

to

WM. F. McGLASHAN

Celebrated at St. Peter's Church Tuesday, June 25, 1907.

For several days guests have been arriving in anticipation of the Brewer—McGlashan nuptials which occurred on Tuesday last in St. Peter's church at 6 p. m. The color scheme was green and white and was carried out by the judicious use of southern laurel, smilax, white peonies and sweet elysium. Simplicity and elegance prevailed in the decorations at both the church and house where canopies were erected from the door to the street.

Sweet music filled the church for the entertainment of the guests until the organ pealing forth the beautiful strains of the well known Lohengrin wedding march, announced to the expectant assembly the approach of the bridal party, which was preceded by the four ushers. The little flower girls Nerissa Fitzsimmons and Florence Chilson, cousin and name-sake of the bride, dressed in white trimmed with val lace and carrying baskets of pink sweet peas, followed. Succeeding them came the matron of honor, Mrs. P. W. A. Fitzsimmons, carrying a large bouquet of roses, her gown being old blue chiffon over white and wearing a white picture hat crowned with roses.

Then came the fair bride leaning on the arm of her brother, H. Raynor Brewer. The tulle veil, the diaphanous folds of which enveloped without concealing the beautiful princesse gown of valenciennes lace and silk applique on net, was held in place by orange blossoms. She carried a large shower bouquet of bridal roses and wore the gifts of the groom, consisting of a coral necklace and comb of exquisite design and workmanship. The beautiful Protestant Episcopal marriage ceremony, consisting of the double ring service was impressively pronounced by Rev. Chester C. Kemp.

A reception followed at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert DeForest Lawrence, where the guests were received at the entrance to the spacious hall by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence and Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Cummins of Chicago. Mrs. Lawrence was most becomingly attired in a pearl gray silk trimmed with Irish Chantilly lace, and Mrs. Cummins wearing a cream voile trimmed with cream lace.

The guests, entering the library offered congratulations to the bride and groom. In the receiving line were Mrs. McGlashan and two daughters, mother and sisters of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis at whose wedding Mr. McGlashan was best man only a week since. Mrs. McGlashan wore a black lace gown over white silk and a very becoming hat of black and white lace. The Misses McGlashan wore white with bebe Irish lace. Mrs. Lewis wore her wedding gown, a beautiful empire dress of white liberty satin trimmed with duchesse lace.

After receiving the hearty congratulations of their numerous friends, the bridal party proceeded to the dining room which was in charge of Mrs Lavern I. Bidwell and Miss Katherine Anderson, Mrs. Seaton W. Anderson and Miss Hartbeck presiding at the coffee urns. The unique feature of the luncheon was the form in which the cream was served, marriage bells, wedding slippers and cupids in bas relief on hearts, the green and white of the color scheme persistently appearing in these. The confetti was scattered over the bride from a tiny white wedding slipper.

The going away suit was a dark blue invisible check with a jacket of the same and a hat harmonizing with it. In a blaze of red light accompanied by friends they proceeded to the station from which they departed on the 8:18 for a honeymoon trip of two weeks before proceeding to Buffalo, which will be their future home. They carry with them the best wishes of many friends who regret to lose her from their circle. The presents were numerous and elegant and will be a perpetual testimony of the affection and high esteem in which she is held.

Mrs. Chas. Cummins of Detroit, an aunt of the bride, wore a black lace gown, the corsage being relieved with white lace. Mrs. Albert Cummins of Washington, D. C., was beautifully gowned in white lace over white silk and wore a picture hat of white trimmed with pink roses. Her daughter, Miss Ruth Cummins, wore a yellow Jousi cloth gown from the Philippines and a large picture hat of brown, trimmed with brown plumes.

Mrs. Frank Chilson of Painesville, O., a gown of Alice blue Aeolian, white hat and white plumes. Miss Gertrude Clemens of Painesville, wore white trimmed with bebe lace. Mrs. Newburn of Cleveland, wore a gown of blue messaline silk trimmed with applique garlands of tiny pink roses, a white hat and white plume. Mrs. Frank Turner of Flint, wore a pale blue silk trimmed with point lace. Mrs. Truman D. McKinney wore a London smoke brocaded silk Miss Jessie Fee of Adrian, wore a princesse gown of val lace insertion and mull, and a black picture hat. Miss Anna Osborne of Memphis, Tenn., wore a most attractive and elegant princesse gown of pink crepe de chine.

The other out of town guests were, Mr. Owen Augsperger, who served most efficiently as best man, John Howell, Harry Marshall and Mr. Lewis of Buffalo, who acted as ushers with Mr. Leon Rosacrans of Tecumseh, Mr. Chas. Cummins of Detroit, Mr. James Cummins of Toledo, and Mr. Harry Dunn of Chancy, Miss.

In Memoriam.

In loving but sad remembrance of my dearly beloved mother, Margaret Ross, who died one year ago today.

Just one year ago you left us,
How I miss you mother dear
And remember all your kindness,
As I drop the silent tear.

But I know that you are happy
In the mansion of the blest,
Where there is no pain or sorrow,
In one's sweet eternal rest.

You are gone but not forgotten,
In my memory never fade,
And while life and strength is left me
I shall linger 'round your grave.

Tis sad that one I cherished,
Should be taken from our home.
But the joys that do not perish
Live in memory alone

All the years we spent together,
All the happy golden hours,
Shall be cherished in remembrance,
Fragrance sweet from memory's flowers.

Your loving daughter,
MINNIE ROSS VANBUREN.

THE NEW REMEDY

Take it now that vacation days are fast approaching.

Thousands of men and women are anxious looking forward to the vacation days that come in June, July and August—not so much for the pleasure or enjoyment as for the chance of getting rid of their ill health

To thoroughly drive away troubles of the stomach most people think they have to make a business of it with dieting, exercises, and perhaps a vacation.

But Mi-o-na stomach tablets taken with regularity, in a very few days will drive away indigestion, dizzy spells, distress after eating, headaches, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms of bad digestion and sluggishness of the digestive organs that keep people from enjoying themselves.

Day after day, at work behind desks or in a factory with poor sunlight and air, soon results in sluggishness of the entire physical and mental apparatus. The first slight symptoms of indigestion can be easily cured, but when they are allowed to increase without any help, then the stomach complaints become hard to shake off.

Strengthen the whole digestive system with Mi-o-na, and you will soon find that both stomach and bowels do their work as they should.

C. A. Wright sells Mi-o-na in 50c boxes and guarantee to refund the money if the remedy does not give complete satisfaction.

The theory that the good die young worries mother more than it should.

LITTLE POCKET PHYSICIAN.

Thousands who have been cured by Hy-o-mei call the inhaler that comes with every outfit the "Little Pocket Physician," as it is so small that it can be carried in the pocket or purse.

There is really no excuse whatever for anyone having catarrh now that Hy-o-mei is so readily obtainable. If you have any doubt about its value, C. A. Wright will let you have a complete outfit, with the understanding that unless it cures catarrh, it will not cost you a cent.

Do not delay longer the use of Hy-o-mei if you suffer with catarrh. This is a purely local disease and Hy-o-mei goes right to the spot where the catarrh germs are present, destroys them, soothes and heals all inflammation and makes a permanent and lasting cure.

The complete Hy-o-mei outfit consists of the "Little Pocket Physician" and a bottle of Hy-o-mei and costs only $1.00, making it the most economical as well as the only guaranteed treatment for the cure of catarrh. Remember that Hy-o-mei cures catarrh without stomach dosing, applying the medication and healing where the disease germs are present.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

RHEUMATISM

LAWRENCE TUSCANY.

It's quite a job to shake him off. It's hard to believe that all the pain and trouble he causes comes from such a little thing. Just a tiny bit of acid in the blood the kidneys haven't taken care of. But the kidneys aren't to blame. I used to think they were. Now I know better. It's that over worked and over crowded stomach giving the kidneys part of its work and the kidneys can't do it. I found this out with Cooper's New Discovery. It puts the stomach in shape, that's all it does, and yet I have seen thousands of people get rid of rheumatism by taking it. That is why I am positive that rheumatism is caused by stomach trouble. Here is a sample of letters I get every day on the subject.

"For a long time I have been a victim of sciatica and inflammatory rheumatism; and my suffering has been too great to describe. For weeks I lay helpless with every joint in my body so tender and sore that I could not bear to move. The slightest touch would cause me the greatest agony. Several doctors treated me but they failed entirely. I tried many remedies but nothing seemed to reach my case, so I continued to lay helpless. My kidneys and stomach were affected also. I could eat but little, digest less and gradually my strength left. I lost flesh rapidly."

"I began the use of the famous Cooper medicines of which I heard so much. To my surprise and delight I improved immediately, and after using several bottles I felt like another person. My strength and appetite returned. The pain and soreness left me and now I feel better than I have for months." Lawrence Tuscany, 1122 Aldrich Ave., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

We sell Mr. Cooper's celebrated preparations.

TESTED AND PROVEN.

There is a heap of solace in being able to depend upon a well-earned reputation.

For months Tecumseh readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit

Wm. C. Witherell, living on Chicago street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "In 1901 I gave a statement for publication telling how Doan's Kidney Pills had helped me, and today I still hold the same high opinion of them When I first used Doan's Kidney Pills I was troubled with severe pains across my back and hips. If I attempted to stoop or straighten after stooping, sharp pains would dart through me and I would have to lie down. One time, I was laid up in bed for several days, just from my kidneys being so bad. I think the trouble was caused years ago by always being in a consant bent over position when I used to shear a great number of sheep. I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and bought a box. I received great benefit even from the first few doses so I continued using them until they had effected a cure. I am glad to say that the cure then made has proven permanent as I have not been troubled since. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills a number of times and will continue to do so."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's, and take no other.

The Best Laxative for Children.

Parents should see to it that their children have one natural, easy movement of the bowels each day. Do not dose the child with salts or griping pills. They are too powerful in effect, and literally tear their little insides to pieces, leaving the bowels weakened and less able to act naturally than before. Laxative Iron-ox Tablets tone and strengthen the bowels, and stimulate all the bile organs to healthy activity. Chocolate coated tablets, easy to take, never gripe or nauseate. 10c, 25c and $1.00.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfils every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

New York Reeks With Stench of Garbage.

IT WILL SOON BE REMOVED.

Strike of Collectors Is Over and Relief Is at Hand—Conditions on East Side Are Terrible—Strike-Breakers Are Attacked.

New York, July 2.—The strike of the city garbage collectors is over, and the fears of [illegible] the result of the conditions which have existed for the past week are at rest.

A committee representing the striking drivers conferred with Mayor McClellan Monday. He promised that if they would return to work he would take up their grievances. Later the committee announced that they had decided to send all the men back to work, trusting to the mayor's promise. It was also announced that the men would work over time until the accumulation of garbage in the streets had been removed. The strikers are returning to work today.

All day Monday the health department officials put forth their utmost efforts to gain some headway against the rapidly increasing accumulations in the streets. About 250 carts were in use, but strike-breakers were hard to find and difficult to hold.

Carts Guarded.

Every cart was protected by police and a detachment of officers preceded the squads in which the carts were sent out, driving all loafers off the streets and out of the saloons and doing all possible to prevent assaults on the driver. Even on the east side, where the danger to health from the heaps of putrifying refuse was rapidly becoming very grave, hundreds of people hooted the strike-breaking drivers from the windows of tenement buildings and hurled missiles at them.

Police Sergeant William Duggan was seriously injured by the explosion of what the police believe was a bomb while escorting two carts in 116th street. The sergeant was blown several feet. He was taken to a hospital suffering from shock and lacerations.

Several of the drivers were badly beaten by strike sympathizers before they could be rescued by the police.

Heat Aggravated Trouble.

On the east side streets conditions were almost unbearable. The return of hot weather has added to the seriousness of the situation. In places the heaps of garbage practically fill the streets and traffic is interfered with. Attempts to dispose of the accumulations by burning have been largely unsuccessful.

But it is not alone the east side that suffers. The entire city is affected by odors. The health department is still struggling to make some impression on the mountainous heaps of refuse, but even if the full force returns to work, it will require several days of hard labor before normal conditions are restored.

Old Deer Hunter Dead.

Muskegon, Mich., July 2.—Rufus W. Skeels, of Holden, known as "Michigan's champion deer hunter," and a pioneer of western Michigan, died on Monday at the age of 71 years. He was a civil war veteran and is said to have been in 63 battles and skirmishes. Up to last year he went hunting every year, and had a total record of 1,000 deer killings. At the age of 14 he went to the northwestern frontier from Ohio and came to Michigan when 26.

INJUNCTION UPHELD.

Strikers Must Let Detroit Concern Alone

DECLARES SUPREME COURT.

Justice Grant Hands Down Decision in Case of Ideal Manufacturing Company Against Martin Ludwig, of the Metal Polishers' Union.

Lansing, Mich., July 2.—The injunction secured by the Ideal Manufacturing Co., of Detroit, restraining Martin Ludwig, et. al., of the Metal Polishers' Union No. 1, of Detroit, from interfering with non-union employes of the company, is upheld in opinion handed down by the supreme court Monday. The judgment of the Wayne county court in sentencing Ludwig to serve ten days in the county jail, is also approved.

In the opinion written by Justice C. B. Grant, a brief outline of the strike at the Ideal plant because a non-union man was employed, is recounted, together with the order of the circuit court directing the members of the Metal Polishers' union to refrain from interfering with the business of the concern. Reference is made to the testimony taken at the trial of Ludwig for contempt. It is stated that Ludwig said to an employe of the complainant company, who was being escorted through a crowd by policemen: "I see you are still doing your dirty work," and when asked by the officer who he meant, Ludwig pointed to the employe and said, "I mean that."

Commenting on that bit of testimony, the court says: "Further statements of the facts is unimportant. It is manifest that the attitude of the crowd composed of union men, was hostile, threatening and intended to intimidate. The claim of Ludwig and his associates that they were seeking only persuasion is the boldest subterfuge."

The court also quoted from the comment of the circuit judge and said the language used in the decision in the case of Beck vs. Railway Teamsters' Protective union, is applicable in this case, dwelling on the point that covert and unspoken threats may be as effective as spoken threats. Also that pickets are not thrown out for peaceable argument and persuasion, but are intended to coerce and intimidate.

The supreme court has affirmed the decision of the Ingham county circuit court, refusing to grant an injunction to restrain the state dairy and food commissioner from issuing a bulletin warning the public against buying certain stock food preparations of the Pratt Food Co.

The company asked for the injunction on the grounds that the act is not constitutional and also that if it is constitutional its products do not come within the terms of the statute.

The supreme court held the act good and on the question as to whether the product comes within the statute the court says that the broad language of the act covers the complainant's preparations, and the decree is affirmed.

The case was a test one and will oblige many stock food concerns to get out new labels for their products sold in this state.

SECRETS GIVEN AWAY

Former Pinkerton Stenographer Testifies for Haywood.

DETECTIVE RECORDS SHOWN

Defense Attempts to Show That Pinkerton Agency Conspired for Destruction of Miners' Union—End of the Famous Trial Approaches.

Boise, Ida., July 2.—Morris Friedman, a Russian stenographer, who left the employment of the Pinkerton agency at Denver to write a book in which he published certain correspondence of the agency that passed through his hands, was again Monday the principal figure at the trial of Wm D. Haywood for the murder of former Gov. Steunenberg.

More than half of the court's day was occupied in reading to the jury copies of the documents which Friedman took from the Pinkerton records. They were chiefly the daily reports of secret agents operating as spies among the unions at Cripple Creek, Victor Globeville, Colorado City, Trinidad and Denver, and showed a complete surveillance of the Western Federation of Miners and the United Mine Workers of America during the labor troubles in Colorado in 1903-04. Pinkerton men sat in the federation convention at Denver in 1904, reporting all proceedings.

Tried to Destroy Union.

None of the reports that were produced by Freidman and read to the jury by Clarence Darrow contained other than general reference to the collateral issues of the trial, but they were offered in substantiation of the counter charge of the defense that the Pinkerton agency conspired for the destruction of the Western Federation of Miners and the lives of its leaders.

When Friedman was handed over for cross-examination, the state endeavored to ascertain whether Friedman had any more reports or letters bearing on the general issue. It attacked Friedman on the ground that he had played the Pinkertons false had violated his pledge to them and had stolen the documents which he produced; but the witness would not admit that he had stolen the papers and would not allow Senator Borah to call him a "Pinkerton." He insisted that it was not stealing to take information that had been obtained by the fraud and deceit of secret service men, and declared that the public service which he performed in informing the people of the methods of the agency, fully justified anything that he had done.

Ex-Militiaman Testifies.

Another interesting witness was James I. Wallace, an attorney of Cripple Creek, who served with the militia, first as a private and then as a lieutenant during the strike of 1903-'04. He related several instances attending to show the misuse of the power of the militia by the mine owners; gave the criminal records of some of the gun fighters imported by the mine owners; told of the working of the card system; recited the circumstances connected with the looting of the Union stores and a newspaper office, and swore that he saw K. C. Sterling, chief detective for the mine owners, fire the first shot in the Victor riot the day of the Independence station incident.

Droll Witness.

M. E. White, an organizer for the Western Federation of Miners, was the last witness, and brought the trial participants back to good humor with the drollest kind of a tale of his arrest by the militia with all the pomp and ceremony of war time, the activities of the vermin in the bull pen and his happy release by a brother Woodman of the World, who commanded the militia.

Counsel for the defense said that they might succeed in finishing with all of their witnesses except Haywood and Moyer by the end of the week. Their plan is to reserve its draft of instructions, and the state is working up its rebuttal case, so that the end of the trial approaches.

My body's old, but that's not my fault. I am not to blame for an old body, but I would be to blame for an old soul.—Deland.

Soo Carpenters Go on Strike.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 2.—Because their demand for an increase from 33 1-3 cents per hour to 36 cents was refused, all carpenters in the Soo went on strike Monday. The men say that living expenses and doctor bills have increased so much that they can't live on the present wages. About 100 men are out.

REMARKABLE YEAR.

Government Figures Show Great Prosperity for the Country.

Washington, July, 2.—The official figures issued Monday conform closely to the unofficial statement sent out on Saturday, last, as to the government receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year 1907, ended June 29th. The year was a notable one. The total receipts for the year were 665,306,134, which exceeds by over $70,000,000, the revenues of any other year in the history of the government.

The receipts from customs for the year aggregated $333,930,124, which is $33,000,000 in excess of any other year.

The international revenue receipts amounted to $270,309,388, which is also more than ever before realized, except during the civil and Spanish war periods.

These figures not only exceed all previous records, but they show a very large increase over last year. The receipts during the year exceeded the expenditures by $86,945,542. The so called working balance now actually in the treasury is over $83,000,000, and in addition there is over $171,000,000 on deposit in the national depository banks, and at all times subject to call.

There is also in the national depository banks nearly $11,000,000 to the credit of disbursing officers and $3,723,000 of government funds in the Philippine treasury, making a total of $268,543,000. The expenditures last year amounted to $578,360,592, which is $9,633,027 in excess of those for the fiscal year 1906.

The total receipts for the month of June were $62,711,463, and the expenditures $40,816,883.

Laws Grossly Violated.

Lille, France, July 2.—The investigation made by the courts here into the clandestine emigration agencies which have been shipping weavers from the neighboring town of Roubaix to Paterson, N. J., and Lawrence, Mass., thus enabling factories of those cities to compete with the products of [illegible] and other French towns producing similar manufactures, has revealed an elaborate system recruiting skilled emigrants, destined for the American weaveries, in violation of both the French and American laws. Proceedings have been commenced against six agents at Roubaix and one at Tournai, who were found by the courts to have received substantial premiums. The defendants assert that they are not guilty of engaging in any emigration scheme in violation of the laws, claiming that they have merely been acting as agents for a steamship company, receiving $5 for each passenger sold. The arrests caused a commotion at Roubaix and Tourcoing, whence it is reported thousands of workmen have departed for America. Many are returning penniless, having been unable to secure employment.

Big Storm Hits Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., July 2.—A cloudburst broke over this city Monday afternoon, doing great damage, especially in the east side. Within five minutes, from 1:01 to 1:06 p. m., the precipitation was 45-100 of an inch. Cellars were flooded in business houses and street car traffic on the Doan and St. Clair lines was badly demoralized for two hours. The sewers were not able to carry off the flood of water and soon many blocks were flooded with backwater. The brooks and creeks which line Forest Hill, the Rockefeller estate, were early transformed into raging torrents, but according to report only nominal damage was done there.

Gen. Humphrey Retires.

Washington, July 2.—Upon his own application Brig-Gen. C. F. Humphrey, quartermaster-general of Chicago, was Monday placed on the retired list with the rank of major-general, and Maj. James B. Aleshire, assistant quartermaster-general, has been appointed to be quartermaster-general. The regular four-year term of General Humphrey expired several months ago, but he was re-appointed by the president to serve without date, although it was generally thought that the purpose was to carry the great office of the quartermaster's department to the end of the fiscal year, in order to avoid confusion in the affairs and accounts.

Felt Approach of Death.

Flint, Mich., July 2.—With the remark that she guessed her time had come, Mrs. George Bell, aged 53 years, died in the arms of her husband at Flushing Monday. Mrs. Bell retired the evening before in apparently usual health. She awoke early and complained of feeling ill. Arising to get a drink of water, she became dizzy and fell. Before medical assistance could reach her side she had died.

A wonderful happening.

Port Byron, N. Y., has witnessed one of the most remarkable cases of healing ever recorded. Amos King of that city says: "Bucklen's arnica salve cured a sore on my leg with which I had suffered over 80 years. I am now 85 years old." Guaranteed to cure all sores by C. A. Wright, druggist 25c.

A London Banquet of 1582.

A Spanish visitor to London in 1582 describes a banquet of that day. "I will tell you no lye," he begins cautiously. "I saw such kindes of meate eaten as are wont to be sene and not eaten—as a horse rosted, a cat in gely, little lizars with whot broth, frogges fried and divers other sortes of meates, which I sawe theme eate, but I never knew what they were till they were eaten." The "quaking custard" of that period was a huge dish in the middle of the table, into which, "at a private signal, the city fool suddenly leaped over the heads of the astonished feasters, who were instantly bespattered with this rich and savory mud." Undeterred, however, by this nasty behavior, the citizens not only ate plentifully of the custard, but even took some home to their wives. Nor were the women of those days backward in demanding expensive dainties for themselves, it seems, for an essayist of 1601 sarcastically asks: "Who will not admire our nice dames of London, who must have cherries at 20 shillings a pound and peascods at 5 shillings a peck? Yong rabbettes of a spanne and chickens of an inch?"

Slaves In Scotland.

Were there once slaves in Scotland? A volume on Scottish industrial and social history in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries has some passages on the subject:

"It shocks us very much to learn that the men, and even the women, who worked in the coal mines at that time—i. e., the eighteenth century—in Scotland still continued to be, as of old, little better than slaves. By a law passed by the Scottish parliament in 1606 every man who once went to work in a coal mine was bound to labor in it all his life as a "necessary servant." If he tried to run away he was tried and punished as a thief. If the land was sold on which the coal pit stood in which he worked he was sold with it like any of the machinery of the pit. In 1775 an act of parliament was passed which set free most of the pit workers, but it was not till the end of the century that this form of slavery was quite abolished."

Odd Occurrence In the Hunting Field

On the afternoon of Feb. 8, 1794, the hounds of his grace the Duke of Beaufort were in full cry. The run had been a long one, and they knew that the fox was almost spent. Suddenly the scent turned abruptly from the open, leading straight into the garden of a cottage in the little village of Castle Coombe. Those who were following wondered what had happened and were more astonished still to see the entire pack, without checking for an instant, dash through the open door into the little inn. A shrill scream was heard, and then the whipper in threw himself from his horse and gained the threshold he saw a sight which probably no fox hunter has ever met before or since. A white faced woman stood clasping a child in her arms, and right there in the cradle, from which the infant had just been snatched, eighteen couple of fierce hounds were struggling to devour their fox.

The Auto Habit.

Some delver has found in the Bible what he believes to be a hint of automobiles. It is contained in the story of the vision of Nahum, the Elkoshite, concerning the burden of Nineveh. In the account given by this seer of the military array of the Medes and Babylonians against Nineveh occurs this verse: "The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall jostle one against the other in the broad way, they shall seem like torches, they shall run like the lightning." If that doesn't describe a street full of motor cars what does? Then, again, a variant of the word "jostle," which the original Hebrew will, it is said, bear even better, is "pass swiftly, without particular purpose, to and fro." Isn't that the automobile habit?

The Cooking of Food.

There is no reason in the world why men, whether average men or men of genius, should despise the cooking of their food. They never show, or are required to show, the same contempt toward any other art, and on no other is their mental calm more completely dependent. An ill fitting coat is a worry, but not such a worry as dinners perpetually ill dressed. To many men, and especially to men whose work is sedentary or whose brains are fully taxed, food which is at once light and nourishing is an absolute necessity if they are to exert their highest powers, and food of that kind is obtainable only by care in selecting meats and good cooking when they are selected. A man should not think too much of his dinner or devote too much time to preparation for it or enjoy it too visibly when it has arrived, for all those are animal peculiarities. But to remain content with bad food, when a little more thought or carefulness or criticism would procure it in a state fit to be eaten, is only what Scotchmen used to describe as "a wasting of the maircles."—London Spectator.

Cheerful Advice.

A number of railway men were once discussing the question of accidents.

"The roads in Scotland," said one official, "used to have a bad name, indeed, in respect to accidents. No one thought of embarking on a railway journey unless he had provided himself with an accident policy of insurance.

"The famous Dr. Norman Macleod was once about to set off on a long journey through the Scotch country. Just as the train was pulling out the clergyman's servant put his head in through the window and said:

"'Ha'e ye ta'en an insurance ticket, sir?'

"'I have,' replied the doctor.

"'Then,' continued the servant, 'write ye'er name on it and gi'e it to me. They ha'e an awfu' habit o' robbin' the corpses on this line.'" — New York Times.

Think Lightly of It.

The road to home happiness is said to lie over small stepping stones. So small sometimes are the causes of our unhappiness that we wonder the consequences can be so great. One great palliative is the determination by every member of the family not to dwell on the circumstances, whatever they may be, which are alike sad to all. If it be poverty let it be cheerfully and silently borne; if it be the ill temper of grandpa try to make a joke of it. If it be something infinitely worse and also hopeless accept it bravely; do not talk of it. Try in the family circle to ignore it. Accept every little enlivening circumstance. Let in all the sun and air. Work on cheerily and hopefully, knowing that there is the ray of sunshine somewhere that has only to be looked for to be found.

LITERARY NOTES.

One cannot truthfully say that patriotism is dying out when the magazines, which are merely reflectors, show the national holidays as faithfully as they do. The Designer is up-to-date in this as in other respects in its July number. The sketch, "How the Flag came by the name of Old Glory," is of considerable historical interest. And a very graceful and well illustrated story, "The Colonel's Coming" also is appropriate for the war holiday.

No more vitally interesting article has appeared in a long time than "Brain and Body" in the July Everbody's. The author, Dr. William Hanna Thomson, a recognized authority, presents what to most of us will be an entirely new conception of the brain, facts of the greatest practical importance in mental training and he puts it in a simple, easily comprehended form unusual in a scientific writer. It is a notable contribution.

"A Great English Scholar" is the title under which Professor H. A. L. Fisher of Oxford University, writes in Putnam's for July of the late Frederic William Maitland, who had held the chair of English Law at Cambridge since 1888. Though little known to the general public, Professor Maitland was regarded by certain critics as one of the profoundest and most brilliant students who had ever turned their attention to English history.

The charming woman.

Is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires, neatness, clear eyes, a smooth skin and that sprightliness of step that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at C. A. Wright's drug store 50c.

LAKE SHORE

Tree That Gives Light.

Among freaks of nature in trees there stands conspicuous one known as the Asiatic star tree. It is enormously tall, growing to a height of from sixty feet to eighty feet, while from the ground up to a distance of about forty feet the trunk is perfectly bare. From that point there spring a number of tangled limbs, which shoot out clusters of long, pointed leaves, and it is these, grouped together, that emit at night a clear, phosphorescent light. This gives the tree a spectral appearance and is very deceiving to travelers, who frequently mistake the glow for an illuminated window of a house. The light is not brilliant, but is of sufficient strength to allow of a newspaper being read by it. It does not flicker, but glows steadily from sunset to daybreak.

July Lippincott's contains the latest automobile novel by C. N. and A. M. Williamson. Its title is, "He who stole and rode away" and it appears complete in one number of the magazine. This means that the plot is packed full of meet—not padded out to make so many pages of print. Like "Brown" in the Williamsons' early success, "The Lightning Conductor," this new hero is a gentleman chauffeur, and the girl is a "winner." The characters are real flesh and blood people and the reader is thoroughly in sympathy with plucky "Larry C'Hagan in all his exploits, which sometimee threaten to land him in jail—but eventually bring him to a state nearer Paradise.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie has written to Mr. David Homer Bates, the author of "Lincoln in the Telegraph Office" now appearing in The Century Magazine, telling Mr. Bates of his appreciation. Mr. Carnegie says: "My experience with Mr. Lincoln, that great and good man, was similiar to yours, as I had many opportunities of seeing him, my office at that time adjoining Colonel Scott's, and the telegraph office being next to mine. Mr. Lincoln came to the telegraph office as you record, and, so far as my memory serves me, your account is a faithful one of the stirring events of that historic period as related to the telegraph."

The July number of the Metropolitan magazine is very interesting and attractive from an artistic point of view. The cover design by Frederick Stoddard is unique and graceful along classic lines. The issue contains a great deal of other color work together with the usual amount of black and white, by such artists af Frank T. Johnson, Mary Arnold Louis Rhead and Ernest Haskell or B. Westmacott.

* * *

Brian Hooker, a young writer whose work has already begun to attract some attention is the author of the novelette which opens the July Smart Set. His story is etitled "Steel" and deals in an original way with a love affair on ship board. A situation of great power is revealed at the outset and the unusual method with which the author carries his story along keeps the reader's unflagging interest.

Nearly everyone imagines he is getting more than his share of hard knocks.

No man need feel hurt if people say he is not good looking.

Journalistic timliness and well-considered variety characterize the July issue of the Atlantic though stress is laid particularly on government and politics. In "The Power that makes for Peace" by President Pritchett of the Institute of Technology we have a vigorous and penetrating article and in Samuel Orth's "Government by Impulse" an essay in which American campaign tendencies are exposed.

* * *

The splendid picture in colors of an American boy triumphantly riding the American eagle, on the front cover of the July American Boy is inspiring. In the excellence and timeliness of its reading matter also, the magazine will interest and delight its readers. There are additional chapters of the fine serials by Tomlinson, Sprague and Ellis. Of the larger stories and articles are: Bennie's Fourth of July, telling of a "bound boy's" dream, in which he has "the biggest kind of a Fourth;" President Roosevelt's address on the American Boy, giving sound advice not only to the boys but their parents as well.

* * *

The July McClure's is unique in features. There are six of them and a more interesting issue of any magazine would be hard to find. "Will the 'America' Fly to the Pole?" by Walter Wellman is a fairy story of reality—and graphically describes his airship "America" and the dash he will make to the Pole next month. Ellen Terry in "When I was Married" tells of her romantic marriage to the painter, Watts, when she was not quite sixteen. She also tells of several years of her early life on the stage. Anecdote after anecdote make her memories charming.

The theory that the good die young worries mother more than it should.

Davie W. Davis, who had been a member of Doctor Tuttle's family for the past five years while completing the Clinton high school course, has accepted a position in the New York office of the Packard automobile Co., and leaves for that city Saturday night. Davie's friends, which means everybody in Clinton, while sorry to have him go are pleased that he has secured so promising a position. Roy Teaboldt, who has charge of the New York office of the Packard Co., has shown a commendable disposition to assist his Clinton boy friends to good positions under him and he has made no mistake in Davie Davis. Clinton Courier.

When Mail Carrier Kern opened the letter box at the corner of State and Division streets this morning about 8 o'clock, he was much astonished to find about half way to the bottom of the box, a gold watch and an empty pocket book. They were turned over to Chief of Police Apfel and proved to be the property of John Bringhurst, which was taken from his room on Ingalls street Wednesday night. The mail carrier says from the amount of mail that was on top of them they must have been put there between 6 and 7 o'clock last night. The watch was a very valuable one and the thief probably thought it would be hard to dispose of and so took this way of returning it, but he considerately retained the 60 in ready cash that was alleged to be in the pocketbook.—Saline Observer.

25c Coffee Value

If you are paying 25c a pound for coffee, you ought to be enjoying good cup quality. The price you pay does not fix the quality you receive; different sellers give different qualities for the money.

LOWRY'S BLEND at 25c the pound, is a little bit better for the money. Years of experimenting has fixed our standard high and this coffee is now no experiment. Its increasing sale together with its ever repeating orders from old time users, is mighty convincing proof that it contains everything in the quality line that is claimed for it.

You are the judge. We ask your consideration of the evidence contained in a cup of this delicious coffee.

Don't "get along" with a coffee that doesn't suit your taste, because you think it is as good as you ought to expect for the money. Make your next order for LOWRY'S 25c BLEND.

Your money back if you are not satisfied.

George Oakleigh, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Cheney, died at 10 o'clock Sunday evening, death being due to the rupturing of a blood vessel in the throat. The little one had been ill with the measles, but had entirely recovered as they supposed and had been around as usual on Sunday.

About 10 o'clock Sunday evening he called his mother and told her he did not feel very well. Doctors were summoned but the little one expired a few minutes after 10 o'clock. One brother besides his parents are left to mourn his untimely death. The funeral will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning from the house, Rev. Ward officiating. Burial at Fairfield.

Long live the king!

Is the popular cry throughout European countries, while in America the cry is "long live Dr. King's New Discovery, king of throat and lung remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Payne, Muro, Mass., writes "It never fails to give immediate relief or to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Payne's opinion is shared by many of the people of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throat after all other remedies have failed and for coughs and colds it's the only sure cure. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. 50c and $1. After playing ten innings of the fastest ball seen in Kalamazoo this year, Kalamazoo won from Tecumseh Sunday afternoon by the score of 2 to 1. It was a pitcher's battle from start to finish, with Maire having a shade the better of it. But four hits were secured off the local twirler and five off Railing.

Kalamazoo made the first run in the sixth, Blake getting a hit and scoring on a two-base hit by Hale. Railing made the first home run of the season on the local grounds in the eighth session, tieing the score. There was nothing doing until the tenth. Andrews struck out and Blake got second on Maire's sacrifice. Bell hit for two bases scoring Blake.

In a slow game, marked by two collisions that put Preston and Hildinger on the grass in the second and Teal and Wagner out for a few minutes in the sixth, Bay City won from Tecumseh yesterday. The collision between Preston and Hildinger came as a result of a long fly to left center by Weirich, both Indians chasing it and colliding, while Weirich made the circuit of the bases. The men returned to the game after a few minutes intermission, neither badly hurt. In the sixth Newcombe shot one just over short, both Teal and Wagner going after it, the former holding the ball, although both men were somewhat bruised in the collision.

Howlett retired at the end of the 4th, Merkle going to the box, Hildinger to first and Teal to center.

THE NEW REMEDY.

Take it now that vacation days are fast approaching.

Thousands of men and women are anxious looking forward to the vacation days that come in June, July and August—not so much for the pleasure or enjoyment as for the chance of getting rid of their ill health

To thoroughly drive away troubles of the stomach most people think they have to make a business of it with dieting, exercises, and perhaps a vacation.

But Mi-o-na stomach tablets taken with regularity, in a very few days will drive away indigestion, dizzy spells, distress after eating, headaches, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms of bad digestion and sluggishness of the digestive organs that keep people from enjoying themselves.

Day after day, at work behind desks or in a factory with poor sunlight and air, soon results in sluggishness of the entire physical and mental apparatus. The first slight symptoms of indigestion can be easily cured, but when they are allowed to increase without any help, then the stomach complaints become hard to shake off.

Strengthen the whole digestive system with Mi-o-na, and you will soon find that both stomach and bowels do their work as they should.

C. A. Wright sells Mi-o-na in 50c boxes and guarantees to refund the money if the remedy does not give complete satisfaction.

Lillie—Flewelling.

When Harry Flewelling and Miss Stella Lillie announced their intention of taking a Sunday trip to St Joe, Mich., their friends did not expect them to come back as bride and groom. That is just what they did, however, and since their return Wednesday morning both have been kept busy receiving congratulations.

It is not often that a young couple can so securely keep a secret of their intentions, but this couple kept their secret so well that no one knew anything about it until they made the announcement themselves.

The bride is a young lady with many accomplishments. She came here the latter part of last year from Tecumseh, Mich., and has made many friends.

The groom is a young man of sterling qualities, who has grown to manhood in Harvey. All speak of him in the highest terms.

It is a pleasure to chronicle the marriage of such worthy young people and the Tribune Citizen joins their friends in warmest congratulations.—Harvey, Ill., Tribune-Citizen.

Miss Carlene DeLong met with a frightful accident one day last week and narrowly escaped being killed. She put up the hammock in front of the Central House fastening the ropes to the iron pillars that support the veranda. One of the pillars was not securely fastened and as she got into the hammock the pillar fell over striking her on the temple. For a time her life was despaired of but at present writing her condition is much improved and complete recovery is confidently looked for.—Reese Review.

LITTLE POCKET PHYSICIAN.

Hyomei is guaranteed by C. A. Wright to cure catarrh.

Thousands who have been cured by Hy-o-mei call the inhaler that comes with every outfit the "Little Pocket Physician," as it is so small that it can be carried in the pocket or purse.

There is really no excuse whatever for anyone having catarrh now that Hy-o mei is so readily obtainable. If you have any doubt about its value, C. A. Wright will let you have a complete outfit, with the understanding that unless it cures catarrh, it will not cost you a cent.

Do not delay longer the use of Hy-o mei if you suffer with catarrh. This is a purely local disease and Hy-o-mei goes right to the spot where the catarrh germs are present, destroys them, soothes and heals all inflammation and makes a permanent and lasting cure.

The complete Hy-o-mei outfit consists of the "Little Pocket Physician" and a bottle of Hy-o mei and costs only $1.00, making it the most economical as well as the only guaranteed treatment for the cure of catarrh. Remember that Hy-o-mei cures catarrh without stomach dosing, applying the medication and healing where the disease germs are present.

MRS. SARAH J. WINDROM

Mrs. Sarah J. Windrom of Chicago, cousin of Zachary Taylor, twelfth president of the United States, and grandniece of Alexander Hamilton, who signed the Declaration of Independence, says:

"Vinol is a Godsend to old people. I am 78 years old, but have a hearty appetite, sleep soundly, and feel active and well today, thanks to Vinol. When I was young cod liver oil was dispensed in a greasy, unpalatable form, and it fairly gagged me to get it down. Vinol is entirely different, very palatable and nourishing to impoverished blood. It is the finest tonic and strength creator I ever used in my life."

Vinol is a real cod liver preparation, from which the useless oil has been eliminated and tonic iron added. Try Vinol on our guarantee.

Mrs. Mary Edwards of Logan street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I cannot praise Doan's Kidney Pills too highly as they have been of great benefit to me. I suffered lots from kidney trouble caused by lifting and a heavy cold. I kept getting worse until I was confined to my bed most of the time. The pains in my back and shoulders were severe and at night I was restless, the action of the kidneys being too frequent. I tried nearly every known kidney remedy but received no benefit until I tried Doan's Kidney Pills which proved to be what my condition required. The use of 3 boxes effected a complete cure and I have had no trouble since. I advise all sufferers of kidney trouble to try them."

Playing a Game of War.

Newport, R. I., July 2.—The opening feature of the war game which is to be played during the next two weeks by order of the war department, with the defense of Narragansett Bay as a center, was an unsuccessful attack last night upon Fort Adams, by a ship of the "enemy." The ship was the quartermaster's steamer, General Robert Swartout. It tried to run in under cover of darkness past the fort, but was discovered and technically put out of action by the guns of the fort. As soon as the "enemy" had been picked up by a searchlight from the fort, the call to quarters was sounded, and all the great guns of the fort were manned. The strictest discipline is to be maintained at both Fort Adams and Fort Greble during the entire fortnight of the maneuvers. During the present week, the work of the encampment will be done entirely by the regulars, but next Monday several Rhode Island national guard companies are to be detailed to join in the maneuvers.

Edwardsburg Scorched.

Edwardsburg, Mich., July 2.—At 2 o'clock Monday morning the pool room and restaurant of Freemyer & Sons was discovered to be in flames, and before the volunteer bucket brigade could be aroused the postoffice, a drug store, dry goods and grocery store and one residence had been destroyed. Every man in the village worked to save the contents of the burned buildings, and managed to keep the loss down to about $6,000. The principal street presents a desolate appearance today with smoldering ruins and an indiscriminate mass of furniture and fixtures piled high. The mail was rescued from the postoffice just as that building collapsed.

Antonio Villareal, the alleged Mexican revolutionist, who escaped from the immigration officials at El Paso, Texas, two or three months ago, while they were inquiring into his career, has been located in St. Louis. In event of his arrest, he may be deported to Mexico since he has given the government officials so much trouble.

Your Heart

May Be Weak. One Person in Four Has a Weak Heart.

One of the surest signs of a weak heart is shortness of breath after exercise. Your heart is not able to pump the blood fast enough to your lungs.

Some of the other symptoms of Heart Trouble are: Pains in the Side, Back and Shoulder; Fainting or Weak Spells; Dry Cough; Swelling of Feet and Ankles; Cold Feet or Hands.

No one can afford to allow a weak heart to go without medicine, because weak heart means poor circulation, and poor circulation means weak lungs, stomach, liver, kidneys, etc.

If, therefore, you suspect heart trouble, begin taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. The Heart Cure will do you good, as it is a splendid tonic for the blood and nerves, and will revitalize your entire system.

Finally, remember, Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold under a guarantee that the first bottle will do you good. If it doesn't—your money back.

"I was afflicted with heart trouble for three years. I would be apparently all right, and without a moment's warning would fall as though shot. The attacks were frequent, and a terrible dread possessed me, as I never knew when or where, nor under what conditions I would be attacked, and whether I would survive them. I consulted and was treated by some of the most eminent physicians of the state. Not finding relief from this source, I began taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and began to improve at once. I used ten bottles, which entirely cured me. As I have not had an attack for five years."—MRS. JOHN DRESBACK, Leipsic, O.

FOUR DROWNED.

Series of Accidents in Michigan Waterways All on Same Day.

Chippewa Lake, Mich., July 2.—Chippewa lake was the scene of what is believed to have been a double drowning here some time Monday, and the lake is being searched for the bodies of Mrs. Ethel Cutler, about 35 years old, wife of George Cutler of Ionia, and Charles P. Chambers, unmarried, aged 30, also of Ionia.

The two started out in a row boat to fish at 7 o'clock Monday morning, and at 7 o'clock last night the overturned boat was found on the beach. In the boat was Chamber's coat and trailing in the water was a fish attached to a string. The boat was discovered by Don Cutler, aged 17, son of Mrs. Cutler.

Mrs. Cutler's husband who is exalted ruler of the Elks, and a prominent Ionian, joined in the search. This is 80 miles from Ionia.

Mrs. Cutler and her son and father were stopping at the hotel here, coming here about a week ago. Chambers came Monday morning.

The lake is about 30 feet deep in most parts, and is a mile and a half across. No one has any idea of just where the tragedy occurred.

Belding, Mich., July 2.—Otto White, seven-year-old son of Mrs. James Granger, was drowned in Flat river Monday afternoon.

The lad was paddling about the river in a canoe when he went through the gates of the Richardson company and was thrown out and sank at the foot of the slash board. The body was recovered in 35 minutes. All efforts at resuscitation proved unavailing.

Alpena, Mich., July 2.—Ignace Vidowski, aged 15, was drowned in Maple Ridge township, an isolated part of the county, Monday morning. He was walking a log when he fell in. The boy worked on a farm.

Muskegon, Mich., July 2.—The body of Oscar Carlson, one of the victims of the quadruple drowning of a week ago, was found floating in Muskegon lake yesterday afternoon. It is thought the heavy thunderstorm of Sunday night brought it to the surface. Gustav Hammer is the remaining one of the quartet undiscovered.

DATES CHANGED.

M. N. G. Will Go Into Camp Two Days Later Than Previously Planned.

Lansing, Mich., July 2.—The date for the Michigan National Guard encampment at Ludington has been changed.

Col. J. N. Cox, assistant adjutant-general, makes the announcement.

The troops will start for Ludington Monday, Aug. 12, instead of Saturday, Aug. 10, as first officially announced.

Reason—The Pere Marquette railroad has suddenly remembered that it runs excursion trains Saturdays and Sundays, and thinks it hasn't cars enough to take care of soldiers and excursionists.

There are 2,500 guardsmen throughout the state, besides members of their families and their friends, who will be interested in the mutual discovery of the big guns of the M. N. G. and the Père Marquette. Those who have planned their summer vacations in accordance with the first outgivings of the adjutant-general's department will have to make a change.

Detroit, Mich., July 2.—At the Pere Marquette offices in Detroit the officials say the change of dates was made at the request of the National Guard officers and not to accommodate the railroad.

Her Way.

"What's the reason you never put things in their places?" asked the irate and methodical husband. "Why, because," replied his easy going wife, "I want them where I can find them."

Harmony Exists on Panama Canal.

Washington, July 2.—"Everything going well and harmoniously. Report of dissatisfaction and desire to withdraw absolutely false. Goethals." This cablegram, received at the war department Monday, would appear to be a conclusive contradiction of the reports recently published in this country that the army officers engaged in the work of constructing the Panama canal are endeavoring to be relieved of that task.

Either Kidnaped or Drowned.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 2.—The disappearance of Willie Burt, 16-year-old son of John Burt, puzzles the lad's parents and the police. It is believed he has either been kidnaped or drowned. He left home June 22 and has not been seen since. He said he was going swimming, but no body has been found, and boys at the swimming hole didn't see him that day. Telegrams sent to relatives where he might have gone fail to locate him.

Rexall Orderlies are pleasant tasting, vanilla flavored tablets, and children take them as eagerly as they would candy.

Typhoid fever is almost epidemic at Calumet. Michael Klobucher, aged 31 years, is the eleventh to die in a few days.

Rockland has just had a red letter day, when ground was broken for a reservoir which will be used for fire protection. A hose cart and several hundred feet of hose will be purchased.

While in the act of throwing a stone at his cows in an attempt to force them to cross the roadbed more quickly, William Hup, a farmer at Waucedah, Dickinson county, stumbled over a rail, fell across the track and before he could regain his feet was struck by the engine of an approaching ore train in the Waucedah yards, and died within 15 minutes.

The annual influx of lower peninsula college students to upper Michigan has commenced. The invaders enjoy an unequaled climate and usually sell a sufficient quantity of books and cooking utensils during the summer vacation time to pay the fixed charges for another year at college. Other college students, as is an annual custom, are employed during the resort season as waiters and porters at hotels at Mackinac Island.

James O. Stevic, for 10 years proprietor of the Coloma Courier, the only paper published in Coloma, has sold the Courier plant to Fred W. Cochrun, recently of Benton Harbor. For nine years Cochrun was foreman of the Banner-Register, at Benton Harbor, and has for the past four years been assistant editor and advertising manager of the News-Palladium, recently sold to E. W. Moore of Battle Creek.

Train Kills Unknown Man.

Detroit, Mich., July 2.—In sight of hundreds of workmen who were pouring out of the shops for their noon luncheon, an unknown man was struck by an extra Grand Trunk passenger train at the Orleans street crossing at 11:40 o'clock Monday and was literally ground to pieces. On account of the mangled condition of the body nobody in the vicinity could identify the victim. He was dressed as a workman and wore dark trousers and blue woolen socks. The other garments were ground up with the flesh. Coroner Parker was called and ordered the body sent to the county morgue. When searched the remains contained only a receipt issued to "Mr. Kelly," by Dr. J. H. Fleming, dentist, 569 Grand River avenue. Dr. Fleming remembers the man, but does not know his first name or address.

A boy may be a bit cowardly in other respects, but dyspepsia never has any terrors for him.

Thousands of people are daily suffering with kidney and bladder troubles—dangerous ailments that should be checked promptly. When a traveling man does find a hotel that suits him, he isn't backward about bragging on it.

During the summer kidney irregularities are often caused by excessive drinking or being over heated. Attend to the kidneys at once by using Foley's Kidney Cure. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle

GEORGIA'S LIMIT

By FRANK H. SWEET

Copyright, 1906, by Frank H. Sweet

THERE was unmistakable excitement on board the eastbound train that morning. It began on the platform when three rough, unshaved men in miners' costume arrived and carefully superintended the removal of their baggage to the train. Two of them had theirs consigned to the express car. The third 'lowed he wouldn't bother nobody and even refused assistance in transferring his heavy, blanket bound packages to the seat he was to occupy. After the train started there was glancing back over shoulders to see if the miners were in sight, and, if they were not, men rose carelessly and walked backward or forward through the cars until they found the objects of their search and seats as near to them as possible.

Strolling about the platform had been two men who appeared to take little interest in what was going on around them. Nevertheless, on the appearance of the miners they had exchanged significant glances and then had walked nonchalantly in opposite directions. When the conductor came through to collect tickets, ten minutes after the train started, one of them was seated directly behind one of the miners, while the other was on the opposite side of the car, behind the man who had refused to be parted from his baggage. As he took the tickets from their long white fingers the conductor scowled and glanced sharply at them and the miner in front and then shook his head grimly, as though it were no business of his.

"With your piles, of course?" jocosely added another.

This brought a general laugh.

"Do you mind telling us something about the place?" insinuated a third.

"Is there as much gold as the papers lead us to believe?" "What sort of winters do you have?" "Is there any big game?" in quick succession from various points.

The two men, who had consigned their baggage to the express car, looked about and nodded good naturedly.

"Yes; we're from Klondike," one of them answered, "me and my partner here. But we didn't bring our pile. That's back in our claim under ten feet of snow and ice. We're going for it just as soon's the weather opens in spring."

"Didn't you get anything?" asked several in tones of disappointment.

"Oh, yes," indifferently. "Thirty thousand or so apiece, back in the express car. But that ain't much for Klondike. We count on three hundred thousand. Then we're going home and settle down to be comfortable."

"Has your friend done as well as you and your partner?" asked a passenger, nodding toward the third miner, a little, sallow faced man who seemed anxious to conceal himself behind his baggage.

"Him? S'pose you ask and see. I reckon mebbe he can talk, if he don't say much.

"Say, Georgy," raising his voice as though to make it penetrate to the understanding of a very deaf person, "these gentlemen want to know about Klondike and have you made your pile."

The man looked about with a pleased, deprecatory smile.

"I 'low I have," he acknowledged graciously. "Done made it in just three months. Now I'm going home to Georgy an' have a plumb good time an' live like a lord."

THE THIRD 'LOWED HE WOULDN'T BOTHER NOBODY.

"Good for you!" cried a wet goods drummer approvingly. "But how'd you do it so quick? Find a pocket?"

"Done it by straight hard work," he declared proudly. "Down home in Georgy folks say none o' my family ever work. They 'low we're too shiftless. Now, I reckon when we all buy the old Hunter farm, where pap worked all his life, an' set pap up to be a gentleman they'll be s'prised. Yes, sir!" He threw his head back, and for one brief second looked the passengers squarely in the face, all forgetful of the two or three generations of servile "poor white trash" blood which flowed sluggishly through his veins. Then his eyes dropped as he added apologetically, "Then I'll get married."

"What?" "Really?" "Is that so?" from various parts of the car, and two ladies who had hitherto ignored his presence turned and gazed at him with kindly interest. Georgia flushed with embarrassment at such marked attention, but his sloping, apologetic shoulders began to straighten up unconsciously, and again his eyes flashed straight into the eyes of his interlocutors.

"Yes, sir, I'm going to get married," he reiterated. "Marigold an' me have been set on it ten year. Most folks in Breshtown, where I live, would 'a' been satisfied with just a shack to start with, but I always 'lowed that when we married Marigold should live like a lady an' me like a lord. That's what roused me to go west. Now we'll buy the Hunter place an' build a new house with four rooms—four rooms," lowering his voice a little and looking about the car.

"But that will only take a very small part of your money," suggested the drummer. "What will you do with all the rest?"

"Put it aside," answered Georgia promptly. "None o' my fambly ever had any money put aside."

"You must have a pile," remarked a portly man, glancing a little enviously at the bulky packages and at the same time comparing his own comfortable need for money and appreciation of it with this backwoodsman's evident primitiveness.

"A pile! Yes, sir; that's what I keep a-sayin' over to myself," agreed Georgia. "I reckon there'll be enough for all of us. None o' my fambly 'll ever need any more."

All this time the two recipients of the conductor's scowl had been apparent uninterested spectators of what was going on. One had tapped impatiently upon his window, and the other had fumbled with his newspaper. But even in their indifference they had observed that the two miners who sat together were strong, keen eyed, resolute men, apparently able to hold their own in all sorts of vicissitudes, while the man from Georgia was simple, unsophisticated and in possession of all his baggage.

Presently another significant look was exchanged, and the one who had been tapping upon the window rose carelessly and crossed over to him of the newspaper.

"Is this seat engaged?" he asked.

"No," removing a valise from the seat to the floor and then folding his newspaper as a preliminary to conversation.

"Going far?"

"To Georgia."

"Really?" in feigned surprise. "Why, I'm going there myself."

The miner in front turned eagerly and gazed into their faces, but apparently they did not notice him.

"Most inquisitive set of people in this car I ever met," one of them remarked.

"Yes, anything but boring strangers with questions, I say."

Georgia turned away, but his ears remained vigilant.

At length on one of his rounds through the car the conductor stopped beside the two men whose fingers were noticeably long and white and nervous.

"I believe your tickets ran out at the last station?" he said inquiringly.

"Yes, but we've changed our minds," one of them answered easily. "Last night I ran across this man, an old friend of mine whom I hadn't seen in twenty years. Now we're going on together for a visit to our old home in Georgia. We'll pay the difference."

"H'm!" the conductor said coldly. "Where to?"

"Breshtown, Ga."

The miner whirled with his mouth open and his eyes bulging in eagerness. As soon as the conductor moved away he blurted out:

"Doggone it, stranger, that's my place. Who mout you be?"

"Smith and Robinson. My name's Bill."

Georgia's face beamed with pleased recognition.

"Why, I know heaps o' Smiths an' Robinsons!" he cried, reaching over and shaking hands with first one and then the other. "I reckon you all are some o' the family who went west when boys. There was Tom an' Seth an' Ike an'—an'"

"My friend here is named Ike," blandly.

"Ye don't say," delightedly. "Then me an' him was old friends when we was boys. He's changed, though," looking the man over curiously, "but, then, folks do as they grow up. Well, well, I'm plumb glad!"

There was no more reserve. Georgia talked freely and was met with a cordiality that delighted his simple heart.

At last, as the shadows began to darken in the car, the train slowed up at a small unpainted building which a brakeman introduced to the passengers as Breshtown.

The men helped Georgia off with his baggage and then piloted him to a carriage which they had telegraphed ahead to have in readiness. He lived six miles from the station, he had told them, and had frankly added that the way led through a wild, almost uninhabited forest. At this their eyes had brightened hopefully, and they had assured him that it would be unnecessary for him to order a carriage. Theirs would be large enough for all three, including his baggage, and they were going directly his way to their old home.

Georgia was hilariously exuberant. He laughed and sang and cracked jokes that he remembered to have been time honored in the old neighborhood, and they sang and laughed with him until they came to a lonely place in the woods.

Then the carriage was turned quietly into the bushes, and Georgia felt the cold muzzles of two revolvers pressing against his temples.

Georgia looked at them in dazed wonder to see if they were in earnest.

"Ain't you my old friend Ike?" he demanded.

"Not much. Out west we've got names that would make you shake in your boots to hear. But that don't matter. What we've come all this way for is your money. Now pass it over quick, and no fuss."

"NOW TURN OVER YOUR MONEY," ONE OF THE MEN ORDERED.

"I won't!" cried Georgia obstinately. "I got it to buy the Hunter place an' to get married with."

"Oh, well, just as you like," said the man indifferently. "We'll kill you and then take the money. It's all the same to us. You can't help yourself."

Georgia turned white and glanced appealingly from one to the other. They were calm, smiling, but implacable. Slowly he unbuckled the belt from his waist and passed it to one of them. The man showed his teeth a little, but nevertheless opened it and counted the small roll of bills and gold pieces that it contained.

"Six hundred and seventy-five dollars," he said. Then he rolled the belt and money into a ball and contemptuously threw it into the bushes. "Now we'll get right down to business," he went on, the words beginning to hiss as they came through his closed teeth. "Give us your money."

"Once more, give us your money," the man insisted. "It is the last time we ask. Killing comes next. Open your bundles."

"But there ain't no money in 'em," eagerly. "See!" And he hurriedly cut the string from one of the packages and disclosed an assortment of bright colored dress goods and ribbons and laces. "I bought 'em for Marigold. An' this," cutting the strings of another bundle, "is full o' bead stuff an Injin fixin's. I 'lowed Marigold would like 'em. An' these other bundles," cutting the strings from one after the other as rapidly as possible, "is full o' pretty rocks an' shells an' things. Long's I had all the money I wanted I 'lowed Marigold would like 'em better'n she would more gold"—

"And do you mean to say"—speaking the words slowly and menacingly—"that you brought all this stuff from Alaska when you might have brought gold?"

"Why, of course," wonderingly. "I didn't need any more gold. The Hunter place can be had for two hundred an' a four room house raised for two hundred more, an' a mule' an' kerridge an' cow an' all the rest bought for a hundred an' fifty. That'll leave a hundred an' fifty to put aside. Plenty enough, land knows. More'n any o' my fambly ever had afore."

The rumble of a wagon could be heard coming through the woods, and a baffled, vindictive gleam came into the men's eyes. For a moment they glared at Georgia as though debating the question of a quick and signal revenge. Then the rumble grew louder, and they suddenly sprang to the ground and disappeared in the woods. When a wagon came noisily round a bend in the road Georgia was just emerging from the bushes with his belt and money. The money he slipped into his pocket, the belt he rebuckled around his waist.

"Howdy, Peke!" he called cheerily as the driver of the wagon approached near enough for recognition. "How air ye? How's the folks?"

"Hey, that you?" in mild surprise from the wagon. "When'd ye come? Oh, I'm toler'ble, an' the folkses air all well."

"An' Marigold?"

Peke grinned.

"Marigold's well too. Ast 'bout ye t'other day."

Georgia sprang into his carriage and cracked his whip.

"See ye ag'in, Peke. Hain't no time to fool now. G'lang there, you old plug, you!"

The two vehicles moved apart, and the foliage closed in between them, and soon nothing could be heard but the decreasing rumble of a wagon in one direction and the impatient, softening cracks of a whip in the other.

Fox Terrier's Points.

The fox terrier is the most intelligent of all the smaller breeds, and there is hardly a trick that he cannot learn in a very few lessons. He is usually healthy, makes the best kind of a watch dog, and his ability to catch and kill rats and other vermin is another story. In symmetry, size ... the dog must present a generally gay, lively and active appearance. The terrier, like the foxhound, must on no account be "leggy," nor must he be too short in the leg. He should stand like a cleverly made hunter, covering a lot of ground, yet with a short back, as before stated. He will then attain the highest degree of propelling power, together with the greatest length of stride that is compatible with the length of his body. Weight is not a certain criterion of a terrier's fitness for his work—general shape, size and contour are the main points, and if a dog can gallop and stay and follow his fox up a drain it matters little what his weight is to a pound or so, though roughly speaking, it may be said that he should not scale over twenty pounds. —Eugene R. Cole in Home Magazine.

A Patient Snake.

One does not often attribute the virtue of patience to a snake. "Letters From a Surgeon," however, contain an anecdote in which its existence is evident. Dr. Perry, surgeon of the Twentieth Massachusetts, wakened in camp one morning to find himself tightly held in the clutch of Dr. Hayward, his senior officer.

"Don't move, John, till I say three!" ordered the senior sharply. "Then seize my hands and spring to your feet. One, two, three!"

At the word Dr. Perry jumped, and he never made a cleaner leap. He was just in time to see a moccasin dive under the coat which he had been using for a pillow. Armed with sticks, they dragged the coat away, but saw only the hole into which the snake had glided. The surgeon had accidentally blocked the entrance to the reptile's abode, and it had lain all coiled under the back of his neck, waiting patiently for him to move so it could enter.

The Wrong Man.

"Now, my dear sir," said the life assurance agent persuasively, "I wonder if I might put before you one or two powerful reasons why you should insure your life?"

"Certainly, my dear sir," replied the victim; "fire away. I shall be delighted to listen to you."

Accordingly the life assurance man delivered a lecture of nearly half an hour's duration on the advantages of life assurance, setting forth all the reasons why his listener should insure his life immediately for a large amount. When he was done the other man said:

"Well, that's not bad, but nothing new."

"Nothing new?" asked the life assurance man. "What do you mean?"

"Oh, well," said the other, "you see, I'm a life assurance agent myself, and I wanted to see if you had any new ideas to give me."

A wonderful happening.

Port Byron, N. Y., has witnessed one of the most remarkable cases of healing ever recorded. Amos King of that city says; "Bucklen's arnica salve cured a sore on my leg with which I had suffered over 80 years. I am now 85 years old." Guaranteed to cure all sores by C. A. Wright, druggist 25c.

A memorable day.

One of the days we remember with pleasure as well as with profit to our health is the one on which we became acquainted with Dr. King's new life pills, the painless purifiers that cure headache, billiousness and keep the bowels right. 25c at C. A. Wright's drug store.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's catarrh cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires constitutional treatment. Hall's catarrh cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces, destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in it that they offer $100 for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

In the Highways and Byways

By PETER M'ARTHUR

Copyright, 1905, by Peter McArthur

TO George Morgan the return of Christmas brought no pleasure. Indeed, the advent of the season of joy had plunged him into the depths of the blues. When busy with his work he found solace for his loneliness in the successful pursuit of money, but when every one was resting he was forced to rest also, and that made him a prey to his thoughts.

As a fruit broker and manager of a cold storage plant he had amassed a considerable fortune. He knew his business from the bottom up, having begun life selling bananas from a basket in the streets of the city. Inch by inch he progressed with that steady thrift peculiar to a certain strain of Americans, and his thrift was vitalized by a spirit of enterprise. Each little business triumph had enabled him to plan a greater until he finally found himself at the head of the business. Though he met many men he was not one to accumulate friends, and, as for women, they had no part in his life.

"DID SANTA CLAUS COME TO SEE YOU LAST NIGHT?"

And yet this is hardly true. One woman there was whose memory was cherished in the secret recesses of his heart. A chance acquaintanceship had developed on his part to love, but, being unused to the graces of social intercourse and having the reputation of being a hard and grasping man, he had made but little progress. With the precipitation of a business man he had proposed marriage before she had even learned to regard him as a friend and when he was refused had returned to his work with a desperate energy that made the thousands grow beneath his hand.

But on Christmas eve his success had little value. Not even his books, for he had educated himself, could yield him solace, and the sound of merrymaking on the streets but added to his dejection.

But he could reproach no one. If others had no thought for him, for whom did he have a thought? At this question the quiet face of Ethel Dangerfield rose for a moment in his memory, but the vision was quickly brushed aside. In his gloomy introspection he plunged further back in his life, to the time when he was a lonely boy in the cold and heartless city and there was no Christmas for him. He could not remember his mother as living or his father as sober. If any one had been kind to him, then life might have been different. Suddenly he was stung by a thought, and, springing from the sofa where he was lying, he walked several times excitedly from end to end of his bachelor apartment.

"I'll do it," he finally exclaimed. "By thunder, I'll do it!"

Taking up his overcoat, he began to put it on when his eyes suddenly fell on the clock, and he stopped, with a laugh. It was already after 1 o'clock on Christmas morning, and, of course, he could not carry out his purpose. Throwing aside his coat, he resumed his walking, but with a happier expression on his countenance and a lighter feeling at his heart than he had known for many a day. At length he repaired to his little bedroom for the night, where he slept with an easy conscience.

On the following morning, when the children of all the world were rejoicing with their toys and reveling in the good cheer of Christmas, George Morgan, the wealthy fruit broker, came downtown from his apartments and picked his way carefully into one of the worst slums. There were dirty and ragged children everywhere in the streets, but all of them had something to gladden their hearts. It might be only a little rag doll or a penny's worth of candy, but still it was something.

This man knew the city too well, however, to be deceived by appearances. His boyhood had been spent in just such a street, and he knew that somewhere such a boy as he was in quest of could be found. With an alert eye he glanced down alleyways and among the garbage barrels until finally in the doorway of a tumbledown house he found the boy he was seeking.

A pathetic little figure with tearful eyes was huddling out of the reach of the biting wind. With the skill of a diplomatist Morgan proceeded with his mission. He stopped in front of the doorway and looked up and down the street several times as if searching for something. He then gave utterance to an exclamation of annoyance, which caused the little boy to look up at him inquiringly.

"Can you tell me where William Jones' clothing store is?"

Instantly the boy brightened. Here was an opportunity to earn a nickel, and he was at the side of his possible benefactor in an instant.

"It's just down de street. I kin show you where it is."

"I wish you would, my little man," and he started to walk in the direction indicated, with the little boy at his side. After a carefully timed pause, which gave his guide an opportunity to look him over with the keen sagacity of a street urchin, he asked:

"Did Santa Claus come to see you last night?"

"Naw," retorted the little arab, with an expression of defiance that only thinly veiled his disappointment.

"But you are going to have a Christmas dinner, are you not?"

"Oh, yes," replied the little man cheerfully. "Mrs. Dugan asked me to wait up for her. She does cleaning and dishwashing in one of the big houses uptown, and they always gives her something dat's left over at dinner. She's asked me to come and have a bite wid her and wid Maggie and Jack when she gits home."

"But haven't you any folks of your own?"

"Yes; I've got dad, but he's too drunk to care for what as happens to me, and I don't spect he'll git over it for two or three days."

The case was so like that of his own youth that Morgan felt a lump rising in his throat. A child always knows when he is being sympathized with truly, and the little street arab was as comfortable with his new friend as if he had known him all his life.

"Here's Jones' place," said the boy, "but it's closed today."

"Yes, but Jones lives upstairs, doesn't he?" said Morgan, who really knew the district well.

"Sure he does."

"Then we'll ring him up," and Morgan applied himself to the bell. In the meantime the little boy was wondering why his expected nickel hadn't appeared, but refrained from asking for it to the last moment.

Presently Jones opened the door, looking greasy and unkempt.

"Well, Mr. Jones," said Morgan, "here's a little boy who wants a new suit of clothes. Don't you think you could open up and sell it to him?"

"W-wha what?" exclaimed the ragamuffin.

"You see," explained Morgan, "you are going to have your Christmas dinner with me at a restaurant, and I think you would feel better if you dressed up before you went. What do you think?"

What the little fellow thought was not of the things that could be told in words, and Jones, seeing a prospect of a sale, opened his shop without urging. Picking from the goods displayed a complete outfit of warm clothing, Morgan asked if they could not get a basin of water and a towel in a back room so that their little friend could dress up. After some difficulty these necessaries and a dry, well seasoned piece of soap were produced. For the first time within his memory Bud Lester, for he had, by this time confessed his name, approached water with enthusiasm, and it was not many minutes until he stood before his benefactor thoroughly transformed. For the first time in his life he had new shoes and new clothes from his socks to his cap. Having paid

"DO YOU MIND IF I RING YOU UP AGAIN?"

the tailor, Morgan took his little friend by the hand and started toward the street, but he suddenly paused.

"By the way, Jones," he explained, "I may want to do a little more buying here this forenoon. Do you mind if I ring you up again?"

"Certainly not, sir; certainly not," said Jones, willing to do anything to oblige so excellent a customer.

"Now, Bud, tell me about Maggie and Jack. Where are they going to have their Christmas dinner?"

"They're going to have it with their mother when she gits home."

"At noon?"

"Oh, I guess they're just going to wait the same as I was going to do."

"Where are they now?"

"They're in der mother's room, and Mrs. Munsey, across the hall, is keeping an eye on them."

"Do you think we could get them to come with us for dinner?"

"Do I think it? Gee, sure they'd come!"

"Well, let us go and get them."

Presently Morgan was climbing the dark stairway to the top floor of the vile smelling, closely crowded tenement, with Bud preceding him two steps at a time.

"Hey, Mag and Jack, what d'yer think? Here's a gentleman as wants us to have dinner wid him. And look at the noo clo'es he's got for me!"

Glancing about the room, Morgan saw that it was clean, though poverty stricken, and the children were well washed, though their clothes showed evidence of much mending. They did not require so thorough an overhauling as their friend Bud, but still they needed much to make their Christmas day what it should be. Morgan found little difficulty in winning their confidence, having so eloquent an advocate as Bud, and as Mrs. Munsey looked in he explained his purpose.

"Sure, I intended taking them over myself at noon, but it's poor we are, and with many mouths to feed, and I am sure their mother will be thankful to you for giving them a treat."

Having made these arrangements, Morgan returned with his little crowd to Jones' and re-enforced their clothing with a warm coat for Jack and a cape for Maggie. He then took them to a quiet little restaurant that he knew. To their imaginations it was a wonderful place, and he was too wise in the ways of the poor to take them to any place where their surroundings might make them uncomfortable or where they would attract the notice of the other guests. The little restaurant was in the rear of a delicatessen store and was patronized only by the poorer classes. The food, however, was plentiful and wholesome, and, entering fully into the spirit of the occasion, Morgan placed his guests at a table and discussed with them with much seriousness every item on the bill of fare. By tactful questions he learned of the luxuries they most longed for and saw to it that they lacked for nothing. Little by little he learned from them their stories and became so absorbed that he did not notice a quietly dressed lady who had entered to make some purchases and while waiting to be served had noticed the happy group in the restaurant. She could hardly believe her eyes, but when she had assured herself that she was not dreaming her eyelashes became wet with tears. Moving quietly over to the group, she laid her hand on Morgan's arm. He looked up quickly, then stood up awkwardly, like a boy caught in mischief.

SHE LAID HER HAND ON MORGAN'S ARM.

"Miss Dangerfield," he stammered, "I hardly expected to see you here."

"Nor I you," she replied. "But there are some poor people here in this neighborhood that I am interested in, and I just ran down to see if they had everything pleasant for their Christmas. I found that they were in need, and I came here to buy something for them. But you?"

"The fact is," he stammered, "I was feeling lonely and did not have anywhere to go for Christmas dinner, so I just thought I'd do something foolish and hunted up these waifs and strays, and—well, we are here and having a glorious time."

"I can see that you are," she said gently to this strong, successful man whom she saw in a light hitherto undreamed of.

"But," she added, "I cannot think of you not having any place to go for Christmas dinner. Father and mother and I are alone today, and I am going to set another plate for you. We dine at half past 7."

"But," he began.

"I'll take no 'buts,'" she interrupted authoritatively, and she was a girl accustomed to having her own way. "I will not listen to any refusal. You must come." Then she added pleadingly, "You will come, won't you?"

Before he knew what he was doing he had stammered his thanks and accepted her invitation. When she had left the store his gayety seemed greatly increased, and for the little waifs the dinner turned out even more gloriously than it had promised. To them it was indeed a Christmas such as they had not before dared to dream of.

But it was not their last Christmas in high life. The following year they were invited to have their Christmas dinner in the cozy little flat uptown with a certain Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, with whom they appeared to be on wonderfully good terms.

Appreciating Wagner.

"The Ring of the Niebelungen" was first produced in London under the special patronage of King Edward VII. when he was Prince of Wales. He loyally remained in his box from beginning to end, although he confessed afterward that it was the hardest work he ever did. When Wotan came on the darkened stage to an accompaniment of discords the prince took a doze and an hour later was awakened by a double forte crash of the large orchestra. He fell asleep again, but in fifteen minutes was startled by another tremendous crash and found Wotan still singing against time. After the performance the prince told the manager in great confidence that if there was a Wotan in other Wagner operas he would withdraw his patronage.

Even the Sultan.

On one occasion when the famous Nasr-ed-din was pressed for money he went to the sultan for permission to levy a tax of a penny on every man in Turkey who was afraid of his wife. The sultan gave him leave, and at the end of a few months Nasr-ed-din returned with a hundred mules laden with gold. "But what am I to get out of all this?" inquired the sultan. "I have brought you a beautiful Georgian slave," replied the sage. "Hush!" said the sultan, glancing over his shoulder. "Don't let my wife hear!" And the wily Nasr-ed-din Hedja added another penny to his store.

The One Exception.

The topic of debate at the Poets' club meeting was, "Which of the Sexes Contributes Most to Life's Happiness?"

"I think," said a woman called upon to speak on the feminine side, "that there is no doubt that man contributes most to the life happiness of woman—that is" (upon second thought) "unless he happens to be her husband."

Not Innocent.

"Tommy, I'm going to punish you severely."

"What for, pa?"

"Now, don't try that innocence game. I know all the bad things you've done today."

"No, you don't, pa. You don't know where I hid the strap you whack me with."

Patti's First Audience.

Adelina Patti once gave the following account of her first audience: At six years of age I was a prima donna of the nursery. When I had been put to bed on my return home with my father and mother from the opera I used to make sure that they and the rest of the family were asleep, and then I would hop out from beneath the counterpane and fancy myself a great cantatrice, bowing before the plaudits of a huge audience. I admit my audience was a little apathetic, but, after all, that is not to be wondered at, for they were only a row of dolls which I had ranged on chairs before me.

Hunt For a Hangman.

The British army was once in difficulties through the lack of a hangman. Murder was committed by a soldier in the Crimea, but nobody could be found to carry out the sentence of the court martial. It was announced that £20 and a free discharge would be granted to the man undertaking the task. At last a man did volunteer. He was a newcomer to the army. On the night prior to the date fixed for the execution they locked up the hangman in a stable to keep him safe. In the morning the party at the gallows waited, but there was no hangman. He had gone mad during the night or else he was now simulating madness. The officer in command turned to one of his captains with, "Captain, you will have the goodness to hang the prisoner!" The captain changed countenance, but he pulled himself together and appealed to the sergeants with, "Which of you will hang this man?" And to spare his captain one of the men volunteered. He afterward had the satisfaction of flogging the man who had volunteered and failed.

The Way to Work.

If work has to be done the only way to escape will paralysis is to launch oneself upon the task, realizing that if it is difficult it is not likely to grow easier and that some sort of a beginning must be made. "Keep the faculty of effort alive in you by a little gratuitous exercise every day," writes a canny psychologist in his chapter on "Habit." This gratuitous exercise it is that trains the will to rule life and destiny; it is the one great secret of success. Postponing of disagreeable duties means laxness invading the will, a certain slackening of all the mental nature, an invasion of a paralytic tendency. If the will failed to obey at a given moment yesterday it is vastly less likely to obey today, whereas a daily habit of forceful inhibiting or commanding makes for that most desirable of all endowments, "a completely fashioned will."—Harper's Weekly.

Hippocratic Era In Medicine.

Richard Cole Newton declares that even in the early days of the Hippocratic era the art of surgery eschewed all forms of superstition and philosophical conjecture, attaining practical results by direct methods. At a very early age the profession of medicine was fully recognized in Greece and in many cases was generously rewarded. We read of swindlers and charlatans in those days too. Patent medicines were also sold. The Hippocratic oath, which for over twenty centuries has remained practically unchanged, is an evidence of the sagacity, the sense of professional honor and responsibility and the clear thinking of the Greeks. Hippocrates was born on the island of Cos in 460 B. C. A large collection of writings, evidently the work of many physicians, whose identity is unknown, has been ascribed to the pen of this leader. The Greeks were wonderfully brilliant in medical attainments, for they studied nature and her methods and shook themselves free from a monumental load of ignorance and superstition. The synchronous development of mind and body was the fundamental rule, both of health and education.—Medical Record.

The Discipline of Failure.

The best skating is always on thin ice—we like to feel it crack and yield under our feet. There is a deadly fascination in the thought of twenty or thirty feet of cold water beneath. Last year's mortality list cuts no ice with us. We must make our own experiments, while Dr. Experience screams himself hoarse from his bonfire on the bank. He has held many an inquest on this darkling shore of the river of time, and he will undoubtedly live to hold many another, but thus far we have not been the subjects, and when it comes to the mistakes of others we are all delighted to serve on the coroner's jury. It isn't well for us to be saved from too many blunders. We need the discipline of failure. It is better to fail than never to try, and the man who can contemplate the graveyard of his own hopes without bitterness will not always be ignored by the gods of success.—Meredith Nicholson in Reader.

Took Her Part.

Original.

"My wife is a most original woman," said Brown. "Why, when I proposed to her instead of saying, 'This is so sudden,' she said, 'Well, I think it's about time.'"

In Doubt.

On a famous rifle range there was an important team match one day, and the men were firing in pairs, one for each team, side by side. The best shot on the home team was given to aiming so long that bets were made on whether or not he had gone to sleep at the firing point. Presently he withdrew his head from the stock of his rifle, lowered the barrel and asked his opponent in a low voice:

"Did I fire or did you?"—Forest and Stream.

Coffee Value

If you are paying 25c a pound for coffee, you ought to be enjoying good cup quality. The price you pay does not fix the quality you receive; different sellers give different qualities for the money.

LOWRY'S BLEND at 25c the pound, is a little bit better for the money. Years of experimenting has fixed our standard high and this coffee is now no experiment. Its increasing sale together with its ever repeating orders from old time users, is mighty convincing proof that it contains everything in the quality line that is claimed for it.

You are the judge. We ask your consideration of the evidence contained in a cup of this delicious coffee.

Don't "get along" with a coffee that doesn't suit your taste, because you think it is as good as you ought to expect for the money. Make your next order for LOWRY'S 25c BLEND.

Your money back if you are not satisfied.

Long live the king!

Is the popular cry throughout European countries, while in America the cry is "long live Dr. King's New Discovery, king of throat and lung remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Payne, Muro, Mass., writes "It never fails to give immediate relief or to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Payne's opinion is shared by many of the people of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throat after all other remedies have failed and for coughs and colds it's the only sure cure. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Alexander—Swe t.

THE MASK OF HEALTH.

Few people are really as well as they look. Cause and remedy.

Many people in Tecumseh both men and women, who believe themselves to be in perfect health, are often in the greatest danger.

Indigestion, which is so common a trouble, is the principal cause of the greater share of the general poor health. It has misleading symptoms that seem to have no reference to the stomach, such as headache, sleeplessness, specks before the eyes, pains in the back and side, etc.

The success of physicians everywhere with the prescription that is now embodied in Mi-o-na stomach tablets has made this remedy in the last few years the acknowledged specific for the treatment of stomach diseases. The secret of this success lies in the fact that Mi-o-na is prepared expressly to strengthen the digestive organs and its use for a few days puts the whole digestive system in such shape that it can care for all of the food that is eaten without pain or distress.

Simply take a Mi-o-na stomach tablet before each meal and on retiring and it will so strengthen the stomach that you can enjoy a hearty meal without the least fear of distress or suffering. C. A. Wright gives an absolute unqualified guarantee that your money will be refunded unless Mi-o-na cures. He takes the whole risk and the remedy will not cost you a penny unless it cures you.

Card of Thanks.

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to those who so kindly assisted during the recent illness, death and burial of our beloved mother, also to those who gave such beautiful floral tributes and to the choir who sang such appropriate selections.

A German Duel.

A young officer quarreled with a friend who was a solicitor. Hot words were exchanged, and the officer struck his friend. Here the matter might have ended—there was something to forgive and regret on both sides. But the officer's regiment heard of the affair, and a court of honor decided that he must challenge the civilian. So a duel by command took place, and the young lawyer fell mortally wounded by his friend. When the officer returned home he was arrested on the information of the president of the court of honor which had forced him to fight. He was tried by an ordinary tribunal and sentenced to three months' imprisonment. The president of the court of honor knew he was urging the officer to an illegal deed when he insisted on the duel, but honor, as he understood it, must be satisfied at all cost.—Berlin Letter.

The Cigar Mouthpiece.

A rich Russian banker had been discovered murdered in his house in St. Petersburg, says a writer in the Green Bag. There was no clew, but in the room there was found a cigar mouthpiece containing part of a cigar of such an expensive kind that it was supposed the banker himself had been smoking it just before the crime had been committed. On close examination the mouthpiece was found to be worn away by the teeth of its owner, but the dead man's teeth did not fit the indentation. The servants were one by one examined, and it was then found that the hollows of the mouthpiece compared exactly to the formation of the front teeth of the cook, to whom no suspicion had been attached. He afterward confessed to the murder.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

INTERNAL PARASITES.

Cooper's New Discovery has taught me many things. Not least of which is that parasites or tape worms as they are called are responsible for an immense amount of suffering. Thousands of these creatures have been brought to me by people who have taken the New Discovery and I now know that an immense amount of supposed stomach trouble is caused in reality by one of these parasites. A man or woman may be afflicted in this manner for years and not realize the true cause of their suffering. When I first sold Cooper's New Discovery I did not know that the medicine would remove this trouble. I have since found that it invariably does so. The following letter is a fair sample of the symptoms as experienced by an individual thus affected:

NICK EMMERICK.

"I was always tired. My stomach bloated and the slightest exertion made me sick, weak and dizzy. My appetite was variable and a good night's rest was unknown. When I awoke in the mornings I had a bad taste in my mouth and a coated tongue. I heard of the wonderful benefits that were being derived from Cooper's New Discovery, and decided to try it."

"The horrible tape worm, sixty feet long that had been sapping my life away, passed from my system alive and squirming after I had taken three doses. Now I have a splendid appetite, every trace of stomach trouble has disappeared and my digestion is good. I sleep well and am gaining in strength every day." Nick Emmerick, 1344 Louis Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

We are authorized agents for the Cooper medicines. Call and let us tell you more about them.

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW.

What happiness it would bring to many Tecumseh homes.

Hard to work with an aching back.
Brings you misery whether idle or busy.
If women only knew the cause, that
Backache pains come from the kidneys
'Twould save much needless woe.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure the kidneys.
Tecumseh people endorse this

Mrs. Mary Edwards of Logan street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I cannot praise Doan's Kidney Pills too highly as they have been of great benefit to me. I suffered lots from kidney trouble caused by lifting and a heavy cold. I kept getting worse until I was confined to my bed most of the time. The pains in my back and shoulders were severe and at night I was restless, the action of the kidneys being too frequent. I tried nearly every known kidney remedy but received no benefit until I tried Doan's Kidney Pills which proved to be what my condition required. The use of 3 boxes effected a complete cure and I have had no trouble since. I advise all sufferers of kidney trouble to try them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's,—and take no other.

Tact is so much like prevarication; the clever woman always tells her fat friends she is looking thinner.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Bay City Questions Right of Aldermen to Do So.

VOTE THEIR OWN SALARIES.

Legality of Board of Safety's Right to Exist Stirs Up Lively Fight—Election of Democratic Mayor Has Changed Face of Situation.

Bay City, Mich., July 9.—The fight over the appointment of the board of safety, which was to take charge of the police and fire departments, has taken a new turn. Two of the members of the board, Charles W. Hanry, its president, and C. L. Fox, are also members of the city council and the point is now raised that they cannot hold both offices.

The council fixes the salary of the members of the board and it is claimed that it will be against public policy to vote as aldermen on the question of their salaries as members of the board of safety. Messrs. Handy and Fox are inclined to dispute this proposition and it only adds to the tangle in which the city has found itself over the act creating the board.

When the consolidation of the two Bay Cities was planned, all sorts of boards and commissions were cut out, and the control of every department left with the mayor and city council. The people had grown tired of the methods of the old commissions, and, as the city was supposed to be surely republican there was no difficulty in getting the new charter through the republican legislature.

But the city surprised the politicians by electing Gustav Hine, a democrat, mayor, and re-electing him this year. Then influential men decided that the city needed a better form of government. They first prepared a bill which put the control of the street deparment, the public lighting system and the police and fire departments in the hands of a board of safety. After consideration the street and lighting departments were cut out. The bill gave the governor the appointment of the five members of the first board, while future members were to be appointed by the council.

Finally 15 names were submitted to Gov. Warner. The governor selected five representative citizens.

Now the legality of the new law has been raised. City Attorney Houghton has decided that it is unconstitutional, and in this opinion he is backed by other good lawyers. Mayor Hine says it will take the supreme court to show him that the legislature can interfer in local matters to the extent of giving the governor power to appoint officers having control of the fire and police departments.

The board of safety, however, is going to act upon the supposition that it is a legal body, and will demand from the common council the control of the two departments. This, it is assumed, will be denied by the aldermen, but should they acquiesce Mayor Hine will not give in. He has already ordered the heads of the two departments to ignore the board until the courts have decided the matter.

Veteran Set Fire to Himself.

Jackson, Mich., July 9.—Hiram McConkey of Springport, this county, a veteran of the civil war, went into his kitchen, took a gasoline tank off the stove, went into the yard, poured the contents over his clothing and set fire to himself. His wife, looking out of the bedroom window, saw in the glare of the flames her husband burning to death, and ran out and tried to extinguish the flames with bed clothing. The man will die, the doctors say. He is thought to have been temporarily insane. McConkey has lived in Springport for 50 years and is 59 years old.

Four Hurt in Fire.

Midland, Mich., July 9.—Wilber J. Owen, proprietor of the Midland bazaar, had one eye destroyed; Dexter Anderson, druggist, had an artery in his left wrist badly cut; Eugene Willis had one foot crushed and an unknown man had a shoulder laid open by falling glass during a fire early Monday morning. The building was owned by W. L. Baker and was occupied by Britton & Smith, clothiers. The loss is about $8,000.

Self Defense Her Plea.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 9.—The trial of Nellie Lewis, charged with the murder of Martin Post in his room in the Fletcher hotel in this city several weeks ago, began in the superior court today. Finding Post in a room with another woman, Nellie Lewis climbed out on a fire escape and to the room of Post, entering through the window. It is alleged she attacked him and stabbed him several times. Post died a few days later in the hospital. The woman will claim self-defense.

SCHMITZ SENTENCED.

Judge Dunne Sends 'Frisco's Mayor to Prison.

GETS TERM OF FIVE YEARS.

Convicted of Extorting Money From French Restaurant Keepers—Prisoner Gets Terrible Scoring Before Being Sentenced.

San Francisco, Cal., July 9.—Eugene E. Schmitz, thrice elected mayor of San Francisco, Monday was sentenced by Judge Dunne to five years in San Quentin penitentiary, for extorting money from keepers of French restaurants. Before passing sentence the judge made Schmitz stand before a crowded court room, while the judge scathingly denounced him as a rascal. The audience cheered the condemnation of Schmitz and threw hats and caps in the air.

Dramatic incidents marked the sentencing of Schmitz from the time the case was called until the court was cleared. Then Schmitz issued a formal statement, protesting his innocence, and asserting that he would be a candidate for mayor this fall to seek vindication at the hands of the voters. When Schmitz was last elected he ran as an independent labor candidate against a business man supported by both parties and all the newspapers.

Schmitz is still subject to trial on four indictments for accepting bribes, but it is now thought that these cases will not be pressed.

In denouncing Schmitz, Judge Dunne said, in part:

"You were elected to position because of the confidence and great trust reposed in you by the mass of the people. You have, by your wilful criminal act, so a jury of your fellow citizens has declared broken that confidence and betrayed that trust."

Here Schmitz protested against the "lecture." Judge Dunne took no notice.

"Therefore," the judge continued, "it may be said that the penalty which the law permits in this case is insufficient to the demands of justice. It may be suggested, however, that by your conviction you will lose the respect and esteem of all good citizens and men; that you will suffer the humiliation of knowing that your career of hypocrisy, duplicity and dishonor ——"

Inclosing, Judge Dunne said:

"It is the judgment of this court that you be confined in the state prison at San Quentin for a term of five years."

Then the crowd turned loose its feelings in a cheer that rattled the windows and drowned the sharp rapping of the bailiff for order.

Runyan Indicted.

New York, July 9.—Chester B. Runyan, the defaulting teller of the Windsor Trust Co., Monday was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny. The case of Mrs. Laura Carter, in whose apartments Runyan was arrested, and to whom he says he gave $15,000, has not yet been considered by the grand jury. Mary Duncan, Mrs. Carter's colored maid, who was arrested at the time Runyan was found, was arraigned Monday and discharged.

The Rain in the Woods.

The lamentable effects of the general destruction of forests are now sufficiently recognized in all civilized countries. Such destruction invite devastating floods in mountain streams and causes the surrounding land to dry up. Forests act like vast condensing screens. They preserve a moist atmosphere about them, attenuate the force of torrential downfalls, promote a more gradual melting of the snow in early spring and protect the soil against too rapid evaporation. And yet the manner in which forests act their beneficent part is not exactly such as might be supposed. They prevent a large part of the rain that falls from reaching the soil at all. It is estimated that in European climates the forests evaporate directly or transpire physiologically four-fifths of the rain that falls upon them. Thus the forest atmosphere is no less important than the forest soil in equalizing the climatic conditions of a country.—Youth's Companion.

PUT OUT OF BUSINESS.

Steamer for Gamblers Can Operate No More.

HER LICENSE IS REVOKED.

Government Takes Summary Action on Vessel Which Has Piled Its Illegal Trade in Lake Michigan, Near Chicago—Legal Fight is Expected.

Washington, July 9.—By the revocation of the passenger certificate of the steamboat City of Traverse, the government Monday dealt a heavy blow to the alleged gambling syndicate of the city of Chicago. The City of Traverse anchors each day in Lake Michigan, near the intersection of the state lines of Indiana, Illinois and Michigan, where it is operated as a floating pool room. The efforts of Chicago authorities to suppress it have long been futile. Finally Mayor Busse appealed to the government authorities and got results.

The vessel leaves the city of Chicago each week day and proceeds to its anchorage. Returns from all the race tracks in the country are received on board the ship by wireless telegraphy, and the passengers are afforded every opportunity to wager their money on the races. In addition, it further is asserted, they may play at faro, roulette, poker or any other game of cards or with any known gambling device.

Couldn't Be Suppressed.

Efforts have been made many times by the police authorities of the city of Chicago and by the state authorities of Illinois to suppress the institution, but in every instance their endeavors have proved futile. The matter has been under consideration by officials of the department of commerce and labor for several weeks. By examination, it was disclosed that the steamer had complied apparently in every respect with the navigation laws and with the regulations of the steamboat inspection service.

In view of these conditions, it was at first regarded as impracticable for the government to intervene in an attempt to suppress the operations of those who controlled the steamer. After a long conference at the department of commerce and labor Monday, however, the parties to which were Acting Secretary Murray, Solicitor Earle, Chief Chamberlain, of the bureau of navigation, and Supervising Inspector-General Uhler, of the steamboat inspection service, a telegram was sent to John C. Ames, collector of customs at Chicago, directing him that, if the facts were as are reported, he should cancel the license of the steamer City of Traverse at once. This action involve also the cancellation of the vessel's passenger certificate as well.

The Authority.

The action of the department was taken by authority of the revised statutes, the sections referred to in the telegram providing that a license granted to any vessel is engaged in the employment for which she is specifically licensed. The only business for which a vessel can be licensed to engage in the domestic commerce of the United States, under the federal law, is for the coasting trade or for the fisheries, and the department holds that anchoring a licensed vessel off shore and maintaining her solely as a gambling house is neither of them.

It is expected by the department officials that the summary action taken yesterday will result in litigation, but they are quite prepared to maintain in the courts the righteousness and legality of their order.

Michigan Leads in Salt Output.

This is the announcement of the geological survey which has just made public statistics of the production of all kinds of minerals in every part of the country. Of gypsum Michigan produced 341,716 tons, valued at $753,378. Its closest rival is New York, with a production of 238,631 tons, valued at $749,896. The total gypsum production of the country was 1,540,535, valued at $3,837,075. The peninsula state produced 3,973,530 barrels of salt in 1906, valued at $2,018,160.

IS HE ELIGIBLE?

Duncan's Right to Become Special Inspector Is Questioned.

Lansing, Mich., July 9.—The question having been raised as to the eligibility of Rep. George W. Duncan for the job for which he has been appointed in the state labor bureau since the session adjourned, which is that of special inspector, inquiry was made at the attorney general's department as to whether Duncan can, under the constitution, take such appointment. The constitution says plainly that no member of the legislature shall accept any civil appointment from any state authority for the term for which he was elected.

Attorney-General Bird is not in Lansing. Neither is he at his home at Adrian. At the department, however, it is stated that Duncan is ineligible for any appointment from the state official until his term as legislator shall have expired, which will be Dec. 31, 1908.

Letter Carriers in Convention.

Ann Arbor, Mich., July 9.—The annual convention of the Michigan State Association of Letter Carriers was in session in this city Monday. Three sessions were held. At the close of the business session the members were taken through the university buildings, after which the late afternoon and early evening were spent in a tally-ho ride through the city parks and boulevards. The evening was devoted to a banquet at the home of Postmaster and Mrs. Prettyman. About 150 guests were present, and the evening was much enjoyed. Officers were elected for the coming year.

Insane Man Fires Jail.

Sandusky, Mich., July 9.—Fred Collins, aged 27 years, of Lexington, who was brought here violently insane Sunday morning, set fire to the jail shortly before noon, Tuesday and during the excitement which followed, made his escape. He was captured soon afterward. Collins' [illegible] coming insane has been to drown himself. The flames were discovered by other prisoners, who gave the alarm. William Barber, an old man, was quite badly burned about the head and shoulders. The jail was damaged to the extent of $200.

Court Hears Deposi'ons.

Boise, Ida., July 9.—Part of the San Francisco depositions dealing with the Bradley explosion, were read Monday to the jury that is trying Wm. D. Haywood for his life on the charge that he murdered Frank Steunenberg. The reading began directly after court opened, with Clarence Darrow and Senator Borah alternating for their respective sides, and, although they pressed ahead as fast as they could, a folio calculation made at adjournment last evening, showed that much of another day would be consumed by the affidavits. The depositions have an important bearing on the case, but they contained no interest for the crowd, and the attendance was the lightest since the trial began.

Chinese Governor Murdered.

Hankow, China, July 9.—The governor of the province of Nganhwei was murdered Sunday at Nganking capital of the province of Nganhwei, by a subdirector of police who was detailed to guard a number of officials who were to attend the distribution of certificates at the police school. The governor was about to enter the school when the sub-director of police fired several shots at his from a revolver, three bullets inflicting mortal injuries. The assassin was seized and decapitated on the spot. Before he was beheaded he confessed that he belonged to the active revolutionist organization. No further disturbances have occurred.

French Growing Restless Again.

Paris, July 9.—Dispatches from the south of France report that the situation there is again growing serious. The dissatisfaction with the new wine fraud law and the supplementary measure now under consideration by parliament, together with the arrest of thirty persons suspected of complicity in the burning of the perfecture at Narbonne, have re-inflamed the people. The mayors and other municipal officers are holding meetings and have decided to again resign their offices until the arrested persons are released.

A Mountain Joan

By Alicia Carr

Copyright, 1906, by P. C. Eastment

Tilda Dale came up into the mountains of Kentucky from Virginia while the clans of the Doanes and the Hacketts were at peace. Not a man on either side had been killed or wounded for five long years. They passed each other on the highway, they met each other in the village, and they sat almost side by side in the log church on a Sunday. They did this with knives in their belts and rifles at hand. At any moment there might be bloodshed.

The girl was not a stranger to feuds, but she was not a hater. She had the sentiment of one born amid peaceful surroundings. She had a gentleness about her that awed the grim mountaineers who had sent for her to teach the school at Chestnut Cove. The Doanes and the Hacketts were agreed on that. They had met at the schoolhouse, half a dozen on each side, each man with his Winchester across his arm, and talked it over. When they rode slowly away in different directions they had looked back at each other, but not a shout of defiance had been uttered or a shot fired. Schooling was a part of patriotism.

In a week the schoolmistress had heard the story of the feud, but she had refused to become a partisan. When a month had gone past and she was indulging in the hope that she might be the humble instrument of making the truce a permanent peace she precipitated the very calamity she was praying might be avoided. The children of the Doanes and the Hacketts were in the same classes, but they mingled no more than oil and water. Down to the five-year-old child they had heard the story of the feud, and each was a self constituted champion.

One of the Hackett boys finally resented a word from one of the Doanes, drew a pocketknife and made an attack. The teacher's screams called in James Doane, who happened to be passing, and he disarmed the Hackett boy. Doane had been away in North Carolina, and this was his first meeting with the schoolmistress. He was the Kentucky mountaineer in size and strength and lithesomeness and fearlessness, but he had a face in which there were good nature and gentleness. He had grown from youth to manhood during the truce. He had neither sought to make peace nor provoke hostilities. Having disarmed the boy, he stood staring at the girl, blushing and unable to say a word.

Next day there were mutterings from the Hacketts and chuckles from the Doanes. There were those who sought to enlarge upon the incident. Three days later, as young Doane rode to town, he passed two of the Hacketts, and they crowded him off the narrow highway. There would have been an outbreak but for the gentleness of the teacher. Her mingled tears and smiles turned the knives and bullets aside for the time. Then a foe crept in against which she could not guard.

James Doane was just past his twenty-first birthday. It was the same with David Hackett. Both young men came to call upon her with that freedom from restraint found among the primitive. Each fell in love with her ere she was aware of having created any feeling at all. When she found that the demon of jealousy had been aroused in young Hackett's breast she wanted to return to her home and let the feeling die out, but the people would not hear of it. They were taking sides again to renew the feud, yet they insisted on regarding her as a neutral figure and also on her remaining.

Down in her heart Tilda was just a bit glad of this. While she would not admit it to herself, she was learning to love the young man with the mild blue eyes and gentle face.

The dozen families at Chestnut Cove had already taken sides. The partisanship soon extended to others miles away. In a family feud you are for or against. For a man there can be no neutrality. Next came arming and mutterings and threats. All knew that these were the preface to deeds of violence. It needed an overt act and the killings would begin.

As the excitement intensified young Doane ceased his visits to the schoolmistress. She had not seen him for a week when one gray afternoon as she walked alone up the mountain side to gather the ripening chestnuts she saw him hiding behind a bowlder. Even as she stood there looking and wondering he aimed, fired his rifle and quickly disappeared among the laurels. Twenty minutes later she knew that a horse ridden by one of the Hackett partisans had been killed in its tracks.

The girl could have told, but she didn't. Even when the Hacketts charged her lover with the crime and had him arrested and confined in jail for examination she spoke no word except to him. From that hour she was thinking and planning. Her face was still gentle, but her scholars noticed that it had taken on a new look of determination, almost of heroism.

Of a certain Wednesday down in the town at the foot of the mountain James Doane was to be brought before a justice of the peace for preliminary examination. Each and every one of the Doanes was there. Each and every one of the Hacketts was there. Each partisan for five miles around was there. When the justice saw the size of the crowd that had gathered he adjourned the case from his office to the big room in what the townspeople called their city hall. It held 200 people. Two hundred were there to fill it. The sheriff at the door had asked each and every man who passed to leave his weapons behind. Not a man had obeyed. Who could say what would happen before the examination was concluded?

To humiliate a Doane the Hacketts had insisted that the prisoner be brought in handcuffed. Women had asked to be admitted, but they were kept out—all but one. There was no school that day up in Chestnut Cove. The schoolmistress had been subpoenaed as a witness, but no one knew what her testimony would be. She had come down in the buckboard of a constable. She had talked with the official long and earnestly on the way. Before going to court he had performed an errand for her. This purchase he had carried into court, with the girl at his heels, and had placed it on a table. When the girl took her place every one felt that something remarkably uncanny was at hand. The Hacketts had demanded a warrant and had a witness. He perjured himself when he said that he saw James Doane do the shooting and run away. The justice was a Hackett and the girl knew it. He smiled.

Then the girl was called to the stand to tell her story. She told it in such a straightforward way that even the Hacketts believed, but the justice shook his head. There was an uneasy stir at this, and men muttered to each other. It was then that Tilda Dale rose up and returned to her place beside the table to tear the brown paper off the purchase made by the constable. Men looked again and still again and drew in their breath. It was a keg of powder, with one head out.

The girl then took from her pocket a candle and lighted it and placed it on the desk two feet away. Not a man in that room moved so much as a foot. No one rose, no one spoke, no one looked elsewhere but straight at the girl.

"Men, I want to talk to you for a few minutes," she began in gentle tones, though every word was audible back to the door.

Then she gave a history of the Doane-Hackett feud as she had gathered the particulars. She named the killed and wounded and the living. She pictured the misery and the heartaches. She spoke in withering scorn of ambushes, of cowardice, of the burning of buildings and the maiming of animals. There had been warrants and summonses many times before. Partiality had been shown by justice, and there had been perjury without stint. She scored the Doanes as well as the Hacketts. She scored the gray haired women on either side, and no one interrupted her. The sheriff was there, but he did not advance upon her. Justice, lawyers, sheriff, the Doanes and the Hacketts were looking at that lighted candle and keg of powder.

"The man is innocent," said the girl, pointing to her lover. "At the hour named he was miles away. Besides, I was there and saw. Is he to have justice?"

No one answered. The flame of the candle was blowing in the draft of the window toward the keg. She reached out and picked it up and held it quite over the keg and said:

"Only sixteen people have been killed in this feud lasting fifty years. That is too slow work. Here are 200 of us. We are Doanes or we are Hacketts. Why not all die together and end the trouble and bring peace to a neighborhood that has been in turmoil for half a century?"

Men cringed and chilled and chattered as the candle swept back and forth over the headless keg. So it lasted for two minutes, and then the girl blew out the light and stood with folded arms.

"The prisoner is discharged!" said the justice at last.

The Hacketts tiptoed out, then the Doanes, and the Joan of the mountains was left all alone in the big room. She sat down and laid her head on the table and wept. And by and by an arm stole softly around her, and her tears ceased.

Light and Colors.

It is now the general conclusion of scientists that light is simply the result of vibrations, or waves, which occur in a hypothetical substance known as the ether, a substance supposed to permeate all space and all objects and to be coextensive with the universe. According to this theory, when the ether is caused to vibrate at a certain rate it gives rise to the sensation of light in proportion to the rate of vibration, or, in other words, the wave length. In this way the various colors are produced, red having the longest wave length and violet the shortest wave length of any of the colors—that is, there are more waves or vibrations in a given time in the case of violet than in the case of red light. Briefly, in relation to this peculiar phenomenon, the theory is that colored bodies owe their color to the fact that they exert a selective action on the waves or rays of light which fall upon them—some to pass on and so give the effect of color, while others are absorbed or destroyed.

A Driller All Right.

An Irishman looking for work took his stand in a group at the gate of a large engineering establishment. By and by the foreman came up to the gate and asked:

"Are there any drillers here?"

"Yes," said Pat, stepping forward.

He got the job at once, but he had not been working long at the machine when it broke down. The foreman, in anything but a pleasant mood, then inquired:

"Where, man, did you learn drilling?"

"In the militia," was Pat's reply.—London Tit-Bits.

More Exciting.

Tout—Has Jones quit the race track because of reform, or what? Jockey—Reform nothing! He wanted something more uncertain to bet his money on. Tout—But what could be find more uncertain than a horse race? Jockey—He's taken to betting whether or not the weather man will correctly predict the day's condition.—Florida Times-Union.

Not Cheap.

Aged Husband—You are going to ruin me with your extravagance. You don't need that cape any more than a cat needs two tails. How often have I told you never to buy anything because it is cheap? Young Wife (with an air of one who has got the better of the argument)—But it was not cheap. It cost 10 guineas.—London Fun.

In a New Light.

Fair Visitor—So you have really decided not to sell your house? Fair Hostess—Yes. You see, we placed the matter in the hands of a real estate agent. After reading his lovely advertisement of our property neither John nor myself could think of parting with such a wonderful and perfect home.

The flower we do not pluck is the only one that never loses its beauty or fragrance.—Alger.

Sweetly Said.

The influence of locality upon speech is illustrated by a reply received from a Vermont farmer and quoted in the Boston Herald. The old man had been questioned in regard to the value of an estate left by one of his neighbors. "Wasal," said he, with great deliberation, "we cal'late he'll sugar off about $50,000."

No Wedding Bells For Him.

Weary Willie (reading "ad.")—Man wanted to chop wood, bring up coal, tend furnace, take care of garden, mind chickens and children. Frayed Fagin (groaning)—Gee! Dem matrimonial advertisements make me tired.—Judge.

An Audacious Fool.

The function of the king's fool in mediaeval times was in a measure an important one, and he who filled the post had often very great influence with his sovereign. Perhaps the brightest and most astute of fools was Triboulet, the favorite jester of Francis I. It was reported that his majesty, who was of a very generous nature, had acceded to a request of Charles V., emperor of Germany, that he might pass through France on his way from Spain to the Netherlands. Putting aside all recollection of what he had suffered at the emperor's hands while a captive in Spain, Francis was preparing to receive Charles with much ceremony and splendor. Observing one morning that Triboulet was scribbling industriously upon a bit of paper, Francis inquired what he was doing.

"I have just added the name of Emperor Charles of Germany to my list of fools," answered the jester, "a sovereign who is committing the incredible folly of intrusting himself to you by passing through your kingdom."

"Folly? How if I should let him pass safely?"

"Then I shall substitute your name for his," was the audacious retort of the fool.

Won by His Victim.

Baron de Molrenhelm, a Russian diplomat, was one of the strongest figures in the political life of his country. He did not believe in conceding a point if hard fighting seemed likely to bring victory. While holding a high position in St. Petersburg his life was threatened by a conspiracy. A workman had been detailed to kill him, and after the plot was discovered he had the man brought before him. The accused was a youth who had been driven by starvation to join the revolutionists. "You do not agree with what I am doing?" said the baron in a friendly tone. The man answered defiantly in the negative. "Very well," said the intended victim, "every man is entitled to his opinion, and I think that what you want is work." He ordered the man to be freed and found him employment in his own service, where the workman remained till the day of his death a few years afterward.

Broke the Spell.

Up to the time of Grover Cleveland's election it was a popular superstition with politicians that no candidate whose name began with the letter C could be elected to the presidency. The idea arose from the fact that no man whose surname presented this peculiarity, no matter how strong he was with the people, had ever been successful at the polls. There were two Clintons, George and De Witt; William H. Crawford, Henry Clay, Lewis Cass and a number of others, who, though their prospects seemed bright indeed, met with defeat when it came to the test. Several of the C's, George Clinton and Henry Clay, for instance, were strong candidates several times, but never could "make the riffle."

Another Letter

From Long Beach, Cal., written by

W. P. STOCKING.

EDITOR HERALD:—

The HERALD has furnished me with texts for another letter to your readers. The first is taken from a California letter to the HERALD written by a Mr. Brown. His mention of Magnolia Ave. called to mind a ride my wife and I took over it six or seven years ago. At that time we were living on a ranch at Altadena, about five miles north of Pasadena.

We then had friends living at Riverside whom we decided to visit and we also decided to drive over as we had a good rig of our own. So one summer afternoon we filled a good sized lunch basket and leaving our chicks in care of a neighbor, we drove down into the lovely San Gabriel to Monrovia, a distance of about nine miles, where we visited over night with some more Michigan friends. From there we drove to Pomona, arriving there at noon and we lunched by the roadside under some large pepper trees, making tea over a small oil stove.

From here we were obliged to inquire the way and were told of two routes, the longer road would be hard over which we could make better time going the 12 miles. After driving until 3:30 p. m. we found that we had eight miles yet to make. Well, we drove until nearly dark when we struck the outer end of Magnolia Ave., eight miles from our destination. Old Norman, who was fat and heavy and not used to road journeys, was warm and tired and refused to hurry.

The first few miles were very unattractive and lonely. It was dark when we reached that portion of the avenue where the shade on either side made the darkness so intense that I had to depend on Norman to keep us in the road. It seemed as though we had driven 20 miles when we struck that portion of the avenue lighted with electricity and this added to the weirdness of the scene by the shadows thrown across the way, making the darkness on either side more gloomy. By this time Norman could hardly be urged off from a walk. We stopped at two places and inquired for a night's lodging but were refused.

Thoughtlessly I made the remark that it was a capital place for hold-ups to which my wife did not take kindly and it added to her discomfort. We met but one person during the entire distance and he was on a wheel and told us we were within two miles of the city. After driving seemingly 10 miles farther we struck the city within a block of our friend's house but we were to meet him at the Y. M. C. A. building where he was in charge of the physical director's work. We drove another half mile, driving first to a livery stable and saw our faithful horse well cared for.

Then we went to the office of our friend and thence to their home, back a half mile over the street we had driven in on. The hour was 10:30, the end of a long tiresome day, a day not soon to be forgotten by us. In the morning our friends took us for a ride of five miles over the same avenue which presented a much different aspect and of which we could most heartily say was beautiful.

My next text for this letter was the announcement of the marriage of Miss Bertha Roberts to Frank Anglemeyer. This sent my thoughts scurrying back again to my school days in Tecumseh. I knew the Roberts boys quite well, Morris in particular and also Brant who was younger. Morris was my classmate and for some time my seatmate and for a time after I left home we corresponded. My acquaintance with these boys proved to be a sort of connecting link between the closing of my school life in Tecumseh and the beginning of it in Dowagiac, Mich., in the fall of '58 under the following circumstances.

I was not acquainted with anyone in the school and of course felt like a cat in a strange garret. Entering the school room I took a seat well in front which fortunately was unoccupied. After the morning exercises the lady assistant seeing that I was a new pupil, came and spoke to me and inquired about my studies. On opening one of my books and seeing Tecumseh written in it, asked if I had attended school there recently and on telling her I had she asked if I knew the Roberts boys and on being informed that I did, she shook hands with me and told me they were her cousins.

I then took from my pocket a letter I had just received from Morris which she took and read latter in the day. From that time we were friends. Her name was Celestia Jones and her sister taught in one of the intermediate rooms. Soon after she had arranged my classes the principal came and spoke to me and seeing my name and Tecumseh he said he remembered me from an incident in our Latin class one day when visiting our school during a visit to his brother, Mr. Munson, who lived in Tecumseh.

Of course this made it much pleasanter for me and when at recess your Prof. Munson said "We have a stranger, Mr. Stocking, with us this morning and I want you to treat him as you would like to be treated were you in his place" I felt as though I had found friends and when many of the students of my age came and offered me their hands in welcome and a young man kindly invited me to sit with him on one of the back seats, a great lump came up into my throat and I could only say "thank you." I found only one black sheep in the flock.

As we were taking our places in the recitation room one morning one of them pushed the end of the seat so far back that I missed it and sat down with a thud on the floor. I gathered myself up as gracefully as I could and took my place but not smiling. The Professor saw the act and sent the fellow to his seat with instructions to remain in at recess. At noon some of the boys took him to task for it but one never had any words over it and in time became good friends. It was this same good Professor who put it into my head to become a teacher for which I owe him a grateful remembrance.

BASE BALL.

Those bad men from Tecumseh slashed into the ball at opportune times Saturday and won from Jackson, 9 to 1. Mullin was the victim of the Indian war dance, while Teal for Tecumseh, was tight in the pinches and out of nine hits permitted but one count to go over.

Score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Tecumseh	0	0	1	0	4	0	3	1	0	9	13	0
Jackson	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	1	9	4

Runs, Preston 2, Slear, Hillinger 2, Wagner, Merkle, Teal 9; Wolfe 1; two-base hits, Slear, Wagner 2, Somerlott, Railing, J. Mitchell, Teal 2; sacrifice hits, Preston 2, Slear, Wagner; stolen bases, Dorsh, Slear, Hildinger 2; first base on balls, off Mullin 4, off Teal 1; hit by pitcher, Mullin, Dorsh, Harris, Railing; first base on errors, Tecumseh 2; left on bases, Jackson 10, Tecumseh 9; struck out, by Teal 8, by Mullin 2; double plays, Wolfe to Dillon, Preston to Wagner; attendance 250.

Tecumseh won from Jackson Sunday 4 to 1, by better hitting and base running. Jackson had costly errors on hard chances, while Tecumseh in the fielding went them one better and Preston and Slear featured in cutting off drives and long hits by circus catches. Hildinger's errors at first were on difficult throws. Richardson pitched brilliantly and several of the hits were scratches. Three hits off Doty were clean cut. Tecumseh's first run had an element of comedy. Harris threw out Merkle at second, or thought he did for the third out and tore off his mask and protector and started for the bench, but Merkle circled the bases while a throw to Harris went to the grandstand. The crowd talked threateningly to the umpire for this decision, but nothing serious happened.

The Jackson score came in the ninth on Hildinger's error, followed by a cracking double by Dillon and an infield out.

Score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E

Runs, Hildinger, Wagner, Merkle 2, Hayes; 2 base hits, Dillon, Merkle, Slear; sacrifices, Slear, Wagner, Somerlott, Merkle; first on balls, off Richardson 1, off Doty 3; first on errors, Tecumseh 4, Jackson 3; left on bases, Tecumseh 10, Jackson 4; struck out, by Richardson 4, by Doty 3; umpire, Corlette; attendance 1,500.

Tecumseh again defeated Jackson yesterday in a 16 inning contest. It was a pitchers battle, Gough of Jackson striking out 16 men. Jackson scored 3 runs in the 2nd inning, Tecumseh getting 2 in the 3rd on two bases on balls, a dead ball and a hit by Somerlott. Again in the 9th Hillinger crossed the plate, tying the score. In Jackson's half of the 18th inning with two men gone, two hits scored Stewart. But the Indians came back in their half, Preston walking, Slear singled and a two base hit by Hillinger scored Preston and Slear.

Coffee Value

If you are paying 25c a pound for coffee, you ought to be enjoying good cup quality. The price you pay does not fix the quality you receive; different sellers give different qualities for the money.

LOWRY'S BLEND at 25c the pound, is a little bit better for the money. Years of experimenting has fixed our standard high and this coffee is now no experiment. Its increasing sale together with its ever repeating orders from old time users, is mighty convincing proof that it contains everything in the quality line that is claimed for it.

You are the judge. We ask your consideration of the evidence contained in a cup of this delicious coffee.

Don't "get along" with a coffee that doesn't suit your taste, because you think it is as good as you ought to expect for the money. Make your next order for LOWRY'S 25c BLEND.

Rev. Wm. H. Babbitt.

Rev. Wm. H. Babbitt died at his home in Cleveland, O., Thursday, June 27, having just passed his 82nd birthday. Mr. Babbitt was born in New Jersey and after graduating from Princeton was married Nov. 5, 1837, to the wife who for nearly fifty years has been companion and helper in all his labors.

His first pastorate was in Hoboken, N. J., where he remained 11 years. After 14 years at Glendale, O., he came to Tecumseh, where he labored until failing health compelled him to resign in May 1893, after 11 years of faithful earnest service. Two winters were spent with the church in Glenwood, Fla., hoping to regain strength, but he never again felt able to take charge of another church and removed to Cleveland.

The funeral service was held at the hour of morning service from Calvary church, the pastor, Dr. McWilliams, spoke from the text, "He was a good man, full of the Holy Ghost and of faith" and paid a beautiful tribute to his departed brother minister, saying that though Mr. Babbitt had never been pastor of the church he had been ready to help in any place, leading the prayer meeting, visiting the sick, willing to aid him in every way his health would permit and that his life had been a help and inspiration to him ever since he had known him.

Resolutions of respect were read from Cleveland Presbytery and the large attendance of mourning friends showed that there as well as here, his gentle spirit, warm hearted sympathy and loyal friendship had endeared him to all with whom he came in contact. We thank God for such a life and its lessons. The late Wm. Hayden said to the writer when Mr. Babbitt moved away, "Tecumseh can ill afford to lose such a man, his dignified and gracious presence as he passes up and down our streets is an inspiration to all." "The souls of the righteous are in the hands of God. There shall no sorrow touch them. In the sight of the universe they seem to die, but they are in peace, for so He giveth His beloved sleep."

RESOLUTIONS.

Inasmuch as God in His infinite wisdom has taken to His heavenly reward the Rev. Wm. Babbitt, who for so many years labored with us as our pastor and fellow worker. We are resolved to express publicly our sorrow and our appreciation of his long and faithful service among us and our admiration of his beautiful christian character and his many lovable and God like qualities, which were an inspiration to all to better and holier living.

We feel that we, and all who knew him are poorer for his having left us, but Heaven has a new attraction for us all. None knew him but to love and none named him but to praise. As officers of the church we desire to express the sympathy of the church and congregation, to his wife in her sorrow. Her loss is our loss, her grief, our grief.

Long live the king!

Is the popular cry throughout European countries, while in America the cry is "long live Dr. King's New Discovery, king of throat and lung remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Payne, Muro, Mass., writes "It never fails to give immediate relief or to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Payne's opinion is shared by many of the people of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throat after all other remedies have failed and for coughs and colds it's the only sure cure. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. 50c and $1. Total	10,633.34

The receipts amount to $16,466.02 exceeding the expenditures by $5,832.68, adding this amount to cash on hand July 9, '06, we have on hand $9,386.98.

The board of trustees has contracted with a corps of teachers for the ensuing year with the exception of a teacher of music and drawing, which has not been engaged. The past year was a most satisfactory one and it will be noticed that the expenses of the schools are increasing from year to year. This is due to the general increase of prices of all commodities, particularly to the steady increase in the salaries of teachers.

The amount of money on hand in the primary school int. fund is $6,000, result of the large sum received from the state last November. This was anticipated a year ago and is being used for the payment of teachers' wages exclusively, as is directed by law. The school census just taken shows that we have children of school age in the district as follows:

Males	274
Females	257
Total	531
No. in district a year ago	565

Deducting the present number shows a loss of 34.

The board of trustees recommends that it be authorized to maintain the present standing and grading of the schools for the coming school year, also that said school year shall consist of 38 weeks of school. Also, that at this annual meeting vote a tax upon the assessable property, of $1450.

HAVE YOU CATARRH?

Breathe Hyomei and relief and cure will be guaranteed.

If you have catarrh, with offensive breath, burning pains in the throat, difficulty in breathing, raising of mucous, discharge from the nose, dropping from the back of the throat, coughing spasms, etc., begin the use of Hy-o-mei at once.

Hy-o-mei is made from nature's soothing oils and balsams and contains the germ-killing properties of the pine woods. Its medication is taken in with the air you breathe, so that it reaches the most remote part of the respiratory organs, killing all catarrhal germs and soothing any irritation there may be in the mucous membrane.

The complete Hy-o-mei outfit costs but $1.00 and C. A. Wright gives his personal guarantee with each package that money will be refunded unless the treatment does all that is claimed for it.

Camp Meeting.

The Detroit and Spring Arbor districts of the Free Methodist church will hold a camp meeting in the same grove as last year near the Peninsular paper mill at Ypsilanti, Mich., July 18—28th. The ministers of the district will be assisted by Bishop B. R. Jones of Jackson, R. L. Scamehorn of Battle Creek, and others.

The stiffness due to rheumatism is never mistaken for dignity.

THE MASK OF HEALTH.

Few people are really as well as they look. Cause and remedy.

Many people in Tecumseh both men and women, who believe themselves to be in perfect health, are often in the greatest danger.

Indigestion, which is so common a trouble, is the principal cause of the greater share of the general poor health. It has misleading symptoms that seem to have no reference to the stomach, such as headache, sleeplessness, specks before the eyes, pains in the back and side, etc.

The success of physicians everywhere with the prescription that is now embodied in Mi-o-na stomach tablets has made this remedy in the last few years the acknowledged specific for the treatment of stomach diseases. The secret of this success lies in the fact that Mi-o-na is prepared expressly to strengthen the digestive organs and its use for a few days puts the whole digestive system in such shape that it can care for all of the food that is eaten without pain or distress.

Simply take a Mi-o-na stomach tablet before each meal and on retiring and it will so strengthen the stomach that you can enjoy a hearty meal without the least fear of distress or suffering. C. A. Wright gives an absolute unqualified guarantee that your money will be refunded unless Mi-o-na cures. He takes the whole risk and the remedy will not cost you a penny unless it cures you.

Many people right here in this vicinity are all run down and hardly able to drag about—don't know what ails them.

"Such people need Vinol, our cod liver preparation without oil, which contains in a palatable concentrated form all of the medicinal and strength-creating elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but from which the useless oil is eliminated and tonic iron added."

We ask every man, woman and child in this vicinity who is run down, tired and debilitated to try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.

Many people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know they need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for much suffering and ill health but there is no need to suffer when all diseases due to bad kidneys can be cured by using Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is the statement of a Tecumseh citizen.

E. H. Hyde, living on West Chicago street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I had suffered from kidney trouble for about two years. While working for the Lake Shore Ry. I was exposed to all kinds of weather and caught a cold which settled on my kidneys. The pains were severe and I could not stoop or lift anything on account of the twinges of pain in my kidneys similar to a knife thrust. I used a number of remedies which had been highly recommended but failed to receive more than temporary relief. Finally I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and received much benefit from the first box so I continued until I was cured. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to others and will continue to do so."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's,—and take no other.

Some men are unable to distinguish between good advice and a mild insult.

MICHIGAN BRIEFS.

While sitting in church, Mrs. George Robinson, aged 50 years, of Allegan, fell over in her seat, dead. She was subject to heart failure. Her husband died a month ago.

Despondent over the death of his wife, aged John C. Maxson of Coldwater, tied his hands together and tried to drown himself in a creek. His son frustrated the old man's rash plans.

Herring, the little fish for years so abundant and easily taken in tens of thousands, are a scarcity now, and absolutely unprofitable to catch. Some are inclined to think that the feed from the bottom of Lakes Michigan and Superior has changed locations and that the herring will be located again.

There are ugly stories afloat over the death of Charles Bunnel, whose body was found bruised and floating on Lilly lake. It is said physicians say Bunnell was not drowned. William Kackaway, who was supposed to have been drowned with Bunnell, has not been found, and there are rumors that he swam ashore and disappeared.

The increasing manufacturing business of Jackson has made necessary larger banking facilities, and William H. Joyce of Chicago, and Herbert R. Page of Jackson, with others, have organized a new bank. It is understood the name will be the Central. It will have a capital of $100,000 and a surplus of $25,000, and the stock has all been subscribed.

Felix Vincent, said to be one of the oldest actors in America, and the last surviving member of the old James W. Wallack's stock company, first seen in New York in 1852, is visiting his friends in Saginaw.

Capital has been interested to dam the Tittabawassee river at Midland, and it is planned to furnish some 15,000 horse power for Saginaw, Bay City and Midland. The capital stock is $1,250,000.

A Freshman.

A freshman who had entered one of the large universities and was not much accustomed to the ways either of institutions of learning or of cities was returning late one evening from a lecture. When near his lodgings he was halted by two masked men, who "held him up" in true metropolitan style. One of the men leveled the conventional revolver at the young man, while the other relieved him of his watch, pocketbook and other valuables. He made no mention of the matter to anybody at the time, but a few days later he reported it to the president of the university.

"It wasn't a great deal," he said, "but it was more than I like to lose, and I think it's an outrage to treat a boy that way."

"Why didn't you tell me of this sooner?" asked the president.

"I supposed they would bring the things back to me next morning," he answered. "It was a couple of sophomores hazing me, wasn't it?"—Youth's Companion.

Weary Watches.

"I suppose," said the watchmaker, "you do not know that watches, like human beings, sometimes don't 'go' for the very good reason that they are tired. Sometimes a watch is brought to me which is all right. Nothing about it is out of order, and it is fairly clean. When it becomes sulky and refuses to go except by fits and starts the best thing to do is to lay it aside and give it a rest. The mechanism in a 'tired' watch seems to be in perfect condition, but it won't work. The fact is that long and faithful service has thrown it slightly out of adjustment in perhaps ten different places. Scraping and cleaning and readjusting a fine watch is the worst thing that could be done to it. A month's rest will instead cause the works slowly to readjust themselves, and at the end of that time after careful oiling the watch will go as cheerfully as ever."—Washington Star.

Big Game Birds.

The capercailzie, or "black game bird of Norway," is one of the largest species of game birds in the world, being very hardy and frequently attaining a weight exceeding fifteen pounds, but when the birds are young they are easy prey of hawks. The birds are what are known as "rangers" for the reason that while in quest of food they cover a wide expanse of territory. During periods of heavy snowfall they burrow into the snow and remain until the storm subsides before venturing out again. Their food in winter consists chiefly of birch buds, and in summer they catch mice and other small animals. They are rated as members of the grouse family and in habits are much like the partridge.—Forest and Stream.

Work and Fatigue.

What fatigues the motive power is getting to work. Once the mind is fascinated and the field of consciousness restricted to a single object the brain works without exhausting itself. Let us apply ourselves for a good time to whatever we do and have several hours of sustained labor. By quitting the task to dream, to smoke a cigarette or to watch a fly one becomes exhausted.—Paris Revue.

Might Have Made a Killing.

A physician took it into his head to go rabbit shooting. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon he returned, tired out and empty handed, telling his wife that he hadn't killed a thing. Thereupon she remarked: "I told you so. If you had stayed at home and attended to your legitimate business you might have been more successful."—Chicago News.

Tricks of the Types.

A laughable error occurred in one of the large publishing houses a number of years ago. A poet had sent in a manuscript in which was the line, "See the pale martyr in a sheet of fire." The reputation of the writer was nearly ruined when the work came out with the line, "See the pale martyr with his shirt on fire."

When a favorite speaker rose and was greeted with thunderous applause his party paper came out and said, "The vast concourse rent the air with their snouts."

DECLINES TO TALK.

Ambassador Aoki Has Nothing to Say Regarding Treaty With Japan.

Wasington, July 9.—Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, declined to discuss the reports indicating an indefinite suspension of the negotiations for a renewal of the present treaty between Japan and the United States, if this government reserves the right to retain a clause in the compact permitting the exclusion of Japanese coolie labor. "That is a matter about which you must ask the state department officials," he said. "I cannot discuss any feature of it for publication."

Ambassador Aoki's attention was called to the published statement that the battleships of Admiral Evan's fleet were to be sent to the Pacific, to which he replied: "You don't hear any word of this in Japan, but in Europe and in the United States there is plenty of talk about it."

Tokio, July 9.—Asahi publishes an interview with an influential Japanese naval expert, who says:

"It would be improper to infer a demonstration in the transfer of the American fleet to the Pacific. This movement is part of a prearranged plan, and is a result of the constant growth of the American navy, and the increasing importance of Pacific interests, from the strategical point of view. No significance need be attached until at least 30 ships have been transferred to the Pacific."

The Asahi is an independent newspaper, popular among all classes, and has probably the widest circulation in Japan. It is not considered, however, to carry great weight editorially.

KNIGHTS AT SARATOGA.

Fifteen Thousand Assemble to Thirtieth Triennial Conclave.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 9.—With 15,000 knights and many thousands of visitors who do not belong to the order here, Saratoga is in gala attire. Today occurs the opening of the 30th triennial conclave of the grand encampment, Knights Templars.

This afternoon the great event of the week will take place, namely, the Templar parade, in which fully 15,000 sir knights will take part. There will be 50 bands. The parade will be reviewed by Gov. Hughes and staff, the earl of Euston of England, the personal representative of King Edward, and Grand Master George M. Moulton of Chicago.

At a meeting following the parade Governor Hughes welcomed the sir knights to New York state. Afterwards the governor will hold a reception at the Grand Union hotel.

The first meeting of the grand encampment for business will take place on Wednesday, and on Thursday the annual election of officers will be held.

On Wednesday morning at the race track the prize Templar drill corps of the United States, including representatives from Chicago, Indianapolis Milwaukee and Washington, will compete.

Standard Oil Co. Quits Fight.

Chicago, July 9.—The attorneys for the Standard Oil Co. Monday declined to submit any further evidence in the investigation held Saturday by Judge Landis in the United States district court. Judge Landis then announced that sentence will be passed on the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, which was convicted of accepting rebates from the Chicago & Alton R. R., on August 3. The limit fine for accepting the 1,462 rebates, of which it was convicted probably will be imposed upon the Standard Oil Co by Judge Landis. The testimony secured from John D. Rockefeller and others Saturday shows that the New Jersey corporation pays $40,000,000 a year in dividends to the stockholders. With its banches it makes anywhere from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 a year.

Fairbanks a Hero.

Chicago, July 9.—A special to the Record Herald from Yellowstone Park, says: Vice-President Fairbanks yesterday risked his life to save Miss Jean Waters, a waitress at the Park hotel. Seeing a young woman struggling in the water, Vice-President Fairbanks ran toward the water, throwing his coat as he sped towards the shore. With the assistance of another man the vice president dragged the girl out.

His right name is said to be Walter Edwards. The Chicago authorities have been notified.

As the result of a quarrel over the charges for repairing an automobile, R. B Houghton of St. Louis, Mo., formerly a justice of the peace, Monday afternoon shot and probably mortally wounded John Berry, president of an automobile company. Haughton was arrested. Berry gained considerable prominence as the inventor of an airship.

Dreyfus Will Retire.

Paris, July 9.—The report current in military circles that Major Alfred Dreyfus, the former captain of artillery who was sentenced on a charge of treason to imprisonment on Devil's island, was to retire accepting a pension, has been confirmed. The reason for this retirement is the ill-health of Dreyfus. He is now on leave in the country pending a settlement of the arrangements to get him a pension, and it is not likely that he will resume military duties.

Mrs. Asa Sharp, living a few miles in the country near Imlay City, is having bad luck with her husbands, two of them taking their own lives. The last drank carbolic acid, and was found in his buggy unconscious. He died soon after. The first cut his throat, four years ago.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

EDITH KEPT A DIARY.

Stands as Mute Evidence at Presley Inquest in Detroit.

WARD HER INTIMATE FRIEND.

Little Book Reveals Secrets of Her Heart—Friends Also Tell of Her Close Companionship With the Bancroft Legislator—Ward Not Present

Detroit, Mich., July 12.—Testimony of those who were close friends of Edith Presley in her lifetime, and translations from the little black leather diary which she kept in shorthand for a year before her death, revealed at the inquest in Coroner Parker's court Thursday afternoon, the strong intimacy that bound the brilliant, industrious senate proofreader and Rep. Charles E. Ward of Bancroft.

The words of those with whom she lived and associated, as well as the entries in the little volume went to prove that she cared a great deal for Ward, went walking with him, dined with him, met him, received letters from him, met him when he came to town, walked with him to trains when he left Lansing for home, visited at his home and permitted him to call at her room until her landlady refused to allow Ward's visits any longer.

In producing translations of her diary, the prosecutor brought forth strong evidence of the friendship between Miss Presley and Ward, such evidence as he was unable to get from witnesses with only hearsay or accasional conversations to rely on. By the aid of Miss Lettie Brown, legislative clerk in Lansing, and intimate acquaintance of the dead girl, he was able to show that the various persons designated in the entries by initials were Lansing people, known to Miss Presley.

Dr. Clara Davis testified that Edith Presley visited her office on January 25, January 30 and March 18, and said she was feeling all run down. Dr. Davis prescribed a tonic for her.

"I had my suspicions that the girl was not telling me all the symptoms in her case," said the doctor. "When the papers came out with the story of her death, my name was mentioned. Dr. Toles immediately called me up and said that he could testify that after the girl had been to see me she had undergone an examination by him; that he told her of her true condition, and advised her to go to the responsible party. He said she wept and wanted to know if anything could be done. He said he could neither advise anything nor recommend anyone."

"Did Dr. Toles say whom the 'responsible party' was?" asked the prosecutor.

"He did not," said Dr. Davis.

There is likely to be an adjournment in the inquest before long. As soon as the witnesses resident in Lansing have testified, the prosecuting attorney will attempt to get Ward on the stand. Ward and his wife left Thursday morning for Duquoin, Ill., where his father, John B. Ward, is dying.

In the course of the morning session, Mr. Robinson made a declaration in which he "apoligized to the world" for dragging into light Ward's alleged family troubles, but he said it had to be done. The testimony along this line was mostly from Frank Presley, who said his sister had told him the Wards did not live in harmony, and that Ward said his only happiness was in political work.

Youths Charged With Theft.

Owosso, Mich., July 12.—While Mr. and Mrs. H. Green were away on a vacation trip, Emerson Hart and Eddie and Verne Judd are said by the police to have broken into the Green home by smashing a window, and they had stolen a number of articles, including a collection of coins and a small amount of money. The police say the lads, who range from seven to ten years of age, confessed to hiding their booty in some bushes, where it was found. Warrants have been issued for their arrest.

Killed While Escaping From Fire.

Lowell, Mich., July 12.—About 12 o'clock at night fire was discovered in the McClellan laundry here. O. C. McClellan, the owner, had living rooms on the floor above the laundry, and while hurrying down stairs to escape the fire came in contact with a live electric wire and was killed. His wife in attempting to carry him out received a shock from which she was unconscious for several hours. The fire destroyed the laundry, also two adjoining buildings, one occupied by J. Hamilton as a marble shop, and the other by W. M. Reed, second-hand goods dealer. The total loss is about $12,000 and is partly covered by insurance.

PRISONER ON STAND.

Haywood Defends Self Against Every Charge Made.

MAKES ORCHARD OUT LIAR.

Positively Denied Guilt of Steunenberg Murder, and Says He Never Gave Orchard Money — Trembled When He Began Testifying.

Boise, Ida., July 12.—Wm. D. Haywood took oath Thursday as a witness in his own defense, and in a lengthy narrative of his life and work as a leader of his fellow miners, that was interrupted by adjournment, denied guilt of the murder of Frank Steunenberg and the manifold crimes charged against him by Harry Orchard.

Haywood was pale and trembled with nervousness when he left the table of his counsel and walked around to the elevated witness stand where he faced the judge and the jury and raised his right hand to be sworn. When he began to respond to Clarence Darrow's questions, his voice was low and somewhat uncertain, but within ten minutes he had regained his composure, and for the rest of the afternoon Haywood was master of his feelings.

As he told of his boyhood that began at the age of nine, and gave the history of his family, his invalid wife, who sat just to the left of the witness stand began sobbing softly.

Haywood's testimony was chiefly characterized by positive denials of the allegations made against him by the prosecution. He denied that he met Orchard until some time after the Vindicator explosion; denied that the Vindicator exploion; denied that he sent Orchard back to Cripple Creek to blow up the Independence station; denied participation in the Lyte Gregory murder, and denied suggesting or discussing the Steunenberg murder. He swore that he never gave Orchard any money at any time or place for any purpose.

He declared that he never made a threat against Steunenberg whom he regarded only as he did any politician who was swayed by capitalistic influence. He told of a number of occassions when he met Orchard in Denver in the ordinary course of his relations with the federation and George A. Pettibone, and said he saw Orchard for the last time in August, 1905, when Orchard told him he was going to Alaska. Haywood said he then chided Orchard for deserting his wife at Cripple Creek. The direct examination had not reached the connection of Jack Simpkins and the action of the federation after Steunenberg was murdered, when adjournment came.

The state completed the cross-examination of Charles H. Moyer at noon, and in dealing with his testimony directed its strongest attack against the circumstances under which the federation, at the suggestion of Jack Simpkins, came to the relief of Orchard when arrested for killing Gov. Steunenberg.

Big Extortion Scheme Nipped.

Boston, July 12.—What the government officials claim was a plan to extort $30,000 from the Salvation army was made public late Thursday, when Solomon Robitcheck, a dealer in second-hand clothing of Lowell, and Bennett Silverblatt, a Lowell attorney were brought before United States Commissioner Hayes and held in bonds of $1,000 each, on the charge of using the mails in an attempt to defraud. According to the officials connected with the office of the United States district attorney, Robitcheck either wrote or secured possession of a poem casting grave reflections on the motive and practices of the members of the Salvation army. It is alleged that a copy of the verses was sent to General William Booth, commander of the army, and was addressed to Salvation army headquarters in New York. General Booth being in London, the letter was opened by Ransom Cagbill, treasurer of the army. Enclosed with the verses was a letter in which it is alleged, the threat was made to publish the verses and sell them at five cents a copy, unless the army paid $30,000 to the sender, Robitcheck. Silverblatt, according to the contention of the government, acted as Robitcheck's attorney in the alleged negotiations.

SEVEN MINERS DIE.

Suffocated By White Damp in Abandoned Workings.

ALL THE DEAD ARE ITALIANS.

Terrible Loss of Life Is Due to Ignorance—When Men Fail to Return to Surface Others Go In and Perish—But One Body Recovered.

Hazelton, Pa., July 12.—Seven mine workers, all Italians, were killed in an abandoned slope of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Co., at Honeybrook Thursday, by deadly white damp. Three others are missing, but official confirmation as to whether they are in the mine cannot be secured.

The dead are: Jas. Lavanno, Frank Lachinko, Frank Proula, Harry Scarpola, aply Lucias, Frank Roman, Jos. Roman. The latter two are father and son.

Of the dead only the body of Jas. Lavanno, a foreman, has been recovered from the slope, because of the deadly gases.

The accident is said to have been due to the ignorance of the workmen regarding the mine gases. Two of the men had been sent into the slope to measure water by Foreman Lavanno. When the men failed to return to the surface two other men were sent into the mine to assist them. These also failed to return and two more descended. Finally Lavanno went into the workings with Frank Bowda, an experienced inside man. Bowda detected the white damp and got out safely, but Lavanno refused to leave and perished.

James Goldsmith, superintendent; William Goldsmith, a fire boss; Wm. Davis, foreman; Charles Schaer, fire boss, and Philip Harslett, a pumpman, organized a rescuing party and went into the slope, but they were driven back. Dr. J. K. Farrar of Audenried was finally lowered 160 feet into the slope and succeeded in bringing up the body of Lavanno, though he was almost unconscious when he was drawn up from the workings.

Supt. Morgans of Wilkesbarre and other officials, after an investigation refused to let any more men enter the slope until fans have been installed. This work is being done, and it is expected the bodies can be removed in a short time.

Streams of Fire Ran In Streets.

Bridgeport, Ill., July 12.—After working all day Thursday damming the streets in which ran rivers of blazing oil from the exploding tanks of an oil refinery west of the village, the citizens of Bridgeport managed to save their homes. Dikes were made to cut off the flowing flames from the residences, and the damage was confined to the refinery and its vicinity. The loss will total $150,000. Wednesday night, two large oil tanks, each containing 37,000 barrels of oil, were struck by lightning and ignited. An instant later they exploded, sending streams of flaming oil fully five hundred feet in the air. This oil ignited fifteen smaller tanks, each with a capacity of 250 barrels. A small park between the refinery and the town was all that saved the village. The blazing oil ran through the streets and bucket brigades were useless. Dikes, hastily thrown up in the streets proved the best means of combatting the flames, and every man in the village was set at work. Farmers for miles around assisted the villagers and earnest work saved Bridgeport before night fell.

Gun Explodes; One Killed.

Port Townsend, Wash., July 12.—One man killed and two severely burned, marred a reception to Governor Meade and staff at Fort Worden Thursday. As a governor's salute of 17 guns was fired from a rapid fire battery, one gun became overheated. As a charge was driven home, it exploded. Private Tobassn, 62nd company, received the full force of the charge, which blew off one arm and smashed his head. He died on the way to a hospital. Privates Gilbert and McCracken, also of 62nd company, were seriously burned, and McCracken lost one eye.

Hero of Shiloh Killed.

Oconomowoc, Wis., July 12.—Gilbert Kenyon, who saved the Union army from defeat at the battle of Shiloh, was killed by a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway train at a crossing. Kenyon, at the time of the battle, was acting as scout. He accidentally got within the confederate lines. During the night he made his escape and imparted the information of the closeness of Gen. Johnston's forces, which act, it is said, saved the Union army from defeat.

A BAD MISTAKE.

Mt. Pleasant Normal May Be Deprived of Its Appropriation.

Lansing, Mich., July 12.—The appropriation for the Central Normal school at Mt. Pleasant, passed at the late session, is void, according to Attorney-General Bird, and the school is left without funds until a special session is called.

The house passed a bill appropriating $145,000, which, when it reached the senate, was increased to $154,000. The house refused to concur in the increase and returned the bill to the senate. The senate accepted the ultimatum of the house and sent the bill back without changing the figures, supposing that the appropriation was then $145,00, as was stated in the message from the senate, the house then passed the bill. In the engrossed copy, however, the figures were left at $154,000 and the bill in that condition was signed by Gov. Warner. The attorney-general says that the bill signed by the governor never passed either house of the legislature, and is consequently null and void. Notice to this effect has been sent to the auditor-general.

BOAT CAPSIZED.

Two Men Lose Their Lives In Waters Near the Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 12.—A dispatch from Richards' Landing says James Walker and Simon Coswell, both about 35, were drowned there Wednesday night by the capsizing of their boat. Walker leaves two children. Coswell was not married.

All Are Ineligible.

Lansing, Mich., July 12.—Attorney General Bird, after a study of the constitutional provisions bearing on the subject, believes that members of the legislature cannot legally be elected to the constitutional convention. More or less circuit judges having been proposed for convention delegates, the attorney-general reports them to be also ineligible, under section 6, article 9, of the constitution. He explains that circuit judges, serving as delegates, might be called upon to fix their own salaries. He points out also that some parts of the constitution need no supplementary action by the legislature, which would place the judges in a position of serving both as lawmakers and jurists.

Suspcted of Horse Stealing.

Flint, Mich., July 12.—Three strangrs driving a black horse alleged to have been stolen in Owosso, were gathered in by the local police Thursday. They gave their names as Chas. Fuller, L. Cook and Albert Merryfield. Sheriff Watson of Shiawassee county was notified and he will take the prisoners to Owosso. The trio came in from the country with a junk wagon and had driven into the yard of a local junk dealer, when the wagon broke down. The officer were tipped off in regard to the suspicious looking strangers and the horse was identified as one taken from Owosso. The men would make no explanation and will be held to a charge of horse stealing.

Found Son's Body In River.

Detroit, Mich., July 12.—George E. Clark, of 263 Howard street, father of Lester Clark, the 10-year-old boy, who has been missing since Sunday, found his son's body in the river off First street, Thursday, only a few feet from where the boy was last seen. Ever since Lester disappeared the father has kept almost a ceaseless vigil on the water front. Lester and his brother visited the First street dock Sunday night. Lester grabbed his brother's hat and ran along the dock, thinking he would follow. This was the last seen of him alive. The father thinks the boy accidentally fell in.

Fatally Kicked by Cow.

Menominee, Mich., July 12.—While attempting to shield his cow from the onslaughts of a large dog, Stephen Lemanski was kicked in the stomach by the bovine and internally injured. Several large blood vessels were ruptured and peritonitis has set in. A consultation of doctors was held, but they believe the injuries are fatal. The man is failing fast and his relatives and friends have been summoned to his bedside.

Porter's Throat Cut by Stranger.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 12.—Charles Henderson, Pullman car porter, alleges that Pearl Howard, whom he never saw before, without warning attacked him near the Union station Wednesday night, and slashed his throat with a razor. Charles is in the hospital in a critical condition, and Pearl is in jail. Charles suspects it was a case of mistaken identity.

A wonderful happening.

Port Byron, N. Y., has witnessed one of the most remarkable cases of healing ever recorded. Amos King of that city says: "Bucklen's arnica salve cured a sore on my leg with which I had suffered over 80 years. I am now 85 years old." Guaranteed to cure all sores by C. A. MANY EXCEPTIONS.

Attorneys for Mrs. Eddy File Them Against Judge's Rulings.

Concord, N. H., July 12.—A lengthy list of exceptions to the rulings of Judge Chamberlin of the superior court in the suit for accounting of the property of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, the Christian Science leader, was filed with the clerk of the superior court here Thursday by Streeter & Hollis, attorneys for Mrs. Eddy and for Henry M. Baker, Archibald McLellan and Joshiah E. Fernald, the three trustees named by Mrs. Eddy to care for her property. It is expected that eventually the case will go to the supreme court of New Hampshire on these exceptions.

The exceptions are, in part, as follows:

To the appointment as co-master with Edgar Aldrich, of Dr. George F. Jelly of Boston and Dr. G. Alden Blumer of Providence, alienists, because they are not residents of the state of New Hampshire, and their appointment is contrary to law; because they are authorized and expected to render a decision not predicted wholly upon the evidence submitted to them by the parties, but based in part upon their technical knowledge as expert alienists; because they are not legally competent to act either as masters or referees in this case.

Mrs. Eddy also expects to the denial by the court of her motion filed June 5, 1907, that the court, sitting as chancellor in equity, should determine relative to her property interests and the proceedings against her.

ON BEST OF TERMS.

Are Japan and United States, Declare Admiral and Ambassador.

New York, July 12.—Two distinguished Japanese took occasion Thursday to declare in no uncertain terms that there were no unfriendly issues between the United States and Japan, and to decry the undue importance attributed by some to trivial incidents.

The champions of peace and friendship between the two countries were Admiral Baron Yamamoto, a guest of the city, and Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, who came from Washington Thursday morning to attend the reception and luncheon given by the Japan Society of American in honor of Admiral Yamamoto.

In the course of a formal statement, Ambassador Oaki said there is not the slightest cause for anxiety in the American-Japanese relations; and if there is any anxiety it is not because of the actual existence of any difficulty between the two countries, but because of the demagogic influence of some unwarranted press talk.

Speaking at the luncheon at the Hotel Astor, Admiral Yamamoto said, among other things, that our interests commercially and otherwise are so intimately interwoven, and the cordial relations between us of fifty years standing are of such a firm nature, that he could confidently affirm that they will never be destroyed by mere trifling incidents.

TRAFFIC IN WOMEN.

Western Japanese Protest Against Importation of Natives From Their Country.

Washington, July 12.—A vigorous protest has been received by the government from the Japanese and Korean Exclusion league, the headquarters of which are at Seattle, Wash., against what is asserted to be an organized traffic in Japanese women, who, it is alleged, are brought to this country in large number for immoral purposes.

The protest declares that wholesale misrepresentation, perjury and fraud are perpetrated on the part of immigrants and perjury and collusion on the part of the Japanese residents in this country. It is stated that the traffic is regularly organized and that women are brought into the country and sold into a system of slavery. In connection with the traffic, there is said to exist a gang of blackmailers, composed of Japanese who live on the "hush money" collected from the importers of the Japanese slave girls. It is asserted by the officers of the league that hundreds of these women are scattered among the cities and in logging and mining camps, and they are drifting gradually to cities throughout the country.

The protest is signed by C. P. Gill, president, and A. E. Fowler, secretary of the league. It will be brought to the attention of the immigration authorities.

Ticket Brokers Enjoined.

Chicago, July 12.—Fifty-four ticket brokers were temporarily enjoined from traffic in railway tickets Thursday by Judge Kohlsaat, of the United States circuit court. Seventeen suits brought by the railroads, and aiming to put the brokers out of business, have been pending for more than a year, and the injunctions issued are the result.

Sues Grand Trunk for $25,000.

Owosso, Mich., July 12.—Mrs. Nora Hopkins, widow of the late Earl C. Hopkins, a farmer, who died soon after receiving injuries by a switch engine while driving across the tracks at Durand in February, has begun suit against the Grand Trunk for $25,000 damages. She alleges negligence in failure to provide a suitable crossing alarm.

Bismarck's Mystic Number.

Bismarck, writes a correspondent in reference to our paragraph on superstition, held, with Pythagoras, that not 13, but 3, was the great and perfect number. Bismarck's associations with 3 were remarkable. He had served three masters. He had three names—Bismarck, Schoenhausen and Lauenburg. The arms of his family are a clover leaf and three oak leaves. He was concerned in three wars and signed three treaties of peace. In the Franco-Prussian war he had three horses killed under him. He brought about the meeting of three emperors and was responsible for the triple alliance. He had three children. His family motto was "In Triuitate Robur" ("Strength In Trinity"), and contemporary caricature pictured him with three hairs on his head. Three was the beginning, the middle and the end of Bismarck.—London Chronicle.

Substitutes For Tea.

English cottagers have to use the leaves of shrubs and herbs for tea, such as the black currant. Our Pennsylvania mountaineers use the Solidago odorata for tea, instead of the costly China tea. Solidago odorato is a variety of the familiar goldenrod. In Louisiana it is laregly used by the French population of the remote districts. Checkerberry or teaberry (Gaultheria repens) is a little spicy plant also used for tea.

Policeman Shot Dead.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 12.—In attempting to arrest three negroes who were affecting an entrance to the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad station at East Pittsburg shortly after midnight this morning, one policeman was shot dead and another was so seriously wounded that the physicians say he can live but a few hours. The dead: Thomas Sullivan, 36 years old. The dying: John O'Brien, 28 years old. There were no witnesses to the shooting.

Reed City Has $6,000 Fire.

Model Town Is Planned.

Negaunee, Mich., July 12.—With a force of 1,006 men already employed at its group of five mines in the Swanzey district, southern Marquette county, and with work in store for a much larger number as soon as the newer properties are opened up extensively, a model city is to be established by the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., near the present town of Princeton. The town site is already platted. The company will have water works and a sewerage system and the streets will be macadam. Diamond drilling revealed the existence of very large deposits of ore in the Swanzey field.

Failed to "Capture" Fort.

Newport, R. I., July 12.—Foggy weather which interfered with the favorable use of the searchlights at Fort Greble, aided the fleet of the "enemy" in advancing upon the fortification from the harbor late last night, in the mimic warfare which has been waged in these waters for the past five days. The torpedo planters Gen. Henry Knox and Geo. Agestead, with the quartermaster steamers George W. Rowell and General Robert Swartmout, left Fort Adams up the bay and approached within 400 yards of Fort Greble before being discovered. Immediately the mortars and rapid-fire guns at the fort began a bombardment which lasted 45 minutes. The "enemy" fleet poured in a theoretically heavy fire on the fort, but was finally repulsed and routed without being able to effect a landing.

The charming woman.

Is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires, neatness, clear eyes, a smooth skin and that sprightliness of step that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at C. A. Coffee Value

If you are paying 25c a pound for coffee, you ought to be enjoying good cup quality. The price you pay does not fix the quality you receive; different sellers give different qualities for the money.

LOWRY'S BLEND at 25c the pound, is a little bit better for the money. Years of experimenting has fixed our standard high and this coffee is now no experiment. Its increasing sale together with its ever repeating orders from old time users, is mighty convincing proof that it contains everything in the quality line that is claimed for it.

You are the judge. We ask your consideration of the evidence contained in a cup of this delicious coffee.

Don't "get along" with a coffee that doesn't suit your taste, because you think it is as good as you ought to expect for the money. Make your next order for LOWRY'S 25c BLEND.

Your money back if you are not satisfied.

Mrs. Elizabeth Beevers.

In memory of Mrs. Elizabeth Lee Beevers, who departed this life June 19 at her farm home in Raisin. The deceased was one of a family of 13 children and was born in 1823 in Sykehouse, Shropshire, England, thus making her about 85 years old.

In 1845 she was united in marriage to Benjamin Beevers and one year later, they with a little son, sailed for America and coming directly to Raisin settled on the farm where she has lived for 62 years and where they have erected a fine home. Since then eleven more children came to bless this union, two sons and ten daughters, nine of whom survive her. Mr. Beevers passed away 15 years ago. There are also 5 brothers left and 34 grandchildren.

For many years she was a faithful attendant and worker in the Ridgeway M. E. church as long as health would permit doing much toward the construction and maintainance of the same. Her life was a useful one, one spent in doing good to others for which she was dearly loved not only by relatives but by her neighbors and friends whom she counted by the score. Several years ago she suffered a stroke of paralysis but that did not keep her from being kind and cheerful.

Last October she fractured her hip and since that time has been bed ridden still no complaint, and finally she quietly passed away, as it were, asleep in Jesus. The funeral services were held at the homestead Saturday, June 22, conducted by Rev. Mott of Mayville, and were largely attended. The floral tributes were beautiful, thus showing the esteem in which she was held.

Camp Meeting.

The Detroit and Spring Arbor districts of the Free Methodist church will hold a camp meeting in the same grove as last year near the Peninsular paper mill at Ypsilanti, Mich., July 18—28th. The ministers of the district will be assisted by Bishop B. R. Jones of Jackson, R. L. Scamehorn of Battle Creek, and others.

Long live the king!

Is the popular cry throughout European countries, while in America the cry is "long live Dr. King's New Discovery, king of throat and lung remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Payne, Muro, Mass., writes "It never fails to give immediate relief or to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Payne's opinion is shared by many of the people of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throat after all other remedies have failed and for coughs and colds it's the only sure cure. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, & Son, druggists, 50c and $1. Of Tecumsen did not win the DAN McDONALD CUP

As at first announced. Later figures show that Lynville won.

Owing to an error in recording the the grades of the different associations competing in the Bible study contest for the silver cup, it has been found that the report that the Tecumseh boys had won for the third time was a mistake. The following letter received on Wednesday by Mr. Hurst from one of the International secretaries will explain the cause of the error.

Mr. F. B. Hurst,
Y. M. C. A., Tecumseh, Mich.

MY DEAR HURST:—It is utterly impossible for us to express the regret we have concerning the error in the message that went out to you that the Tecumseh boys had again won the MacDonald Cup. The error came in this fashion. The reports were all in except from one department at Lynville, Ia. Mr. Goodman's secretary discovered that they had not reported the number of boy members in their Association April 1 and therefore wrote making an inquiry. When we received their actual membership we were astonished to discover that it gave them a percentage of 188 for those winning certificates; while yours, by your latest figures, stands at 183.

Of course such errors as this will occur in the assembling of such a mass of statistics as we handle in our office, but the exceedingly unfortunate thing was that it should occur with your Association on the question of this cup. I want to ask that you use that spirit of charity that ought to characterize us in such emergencies and that you will make the fullest explanation possible to all of the friends of the Tecumseh Association. Mr. Goodman's absence on a vacation in Europe perhaps accounts for some of this mistake, and yet, his secretary has given exceeding care and the mistake is not an unusual one.

Please accept from me our very heartiest good wishes and with them genuine congratulations upon the splendid work being done at Tecumseh.

Very sincerely yours,
FRED B. SMITH.

It is only fair to say that although the Tecumseh boys have lost in this year's contest that it has been their strongest year in Bible study. Five courses were studied by the 40 boys enrolled, four of the classes being led by the boys themselves and one by C. S. Hicks. Every member worked faithfully to win and the local department should lose no credit for its effort. The Lynnville association won on its merits and not because of any lack of effort on the part of the home boys.

If you cut your finger you don't attempt to heal it by swallowing a pill or a dose of medicine.

It's just as foolish to try and cure catarrh of the nose and throat with pills, for it is a local disease and needs special local healing treatment.

The only common sense method known for the cure of catarrhal trouble is Hy-o-mei. It is breathed through an ingenious pocket inhaler so that its medicated air reaches the most remote air cells of the throat, nose and lungs, killing all catarrhal germs, soothing the irritated mucous membranes and restoring to a healty condition.

If you have catarrh, with offensive breath, burning pains in the throat, difficulty in breathing, raising of mucous, discharge from the nose, dropping from the back of the throat, coughing spasms or frequet sneezing you should begin to use Hy-o-mei at once. It will destroy all disease germs in the respiratory organs and provide blood with additional ozone.

The complete Hy-o-mei outfit costs but $1.00. So strong is C. A. Wright's faith in the power of Hy-o-mei to cure catarrh that with every dollar outfit he gives a personal guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy gives satisfaction.

"BLUE DEVILS"

Even in the present era of prosperity and good times everything appears black to those people who are suffering wretchedly from some form of indigestion. Where digestion is quick, complete and easy there is a joyous and hopeful outlook, but indigestion causes depression.

The want of a safe, effective cure for sick headache, indigestion and stomach troubles, was always felt until the prescription known as Mi-o-na stomach tablets was put up in popular form and proved its invariable success in the many forms of indigestion.

After a few days use of Mi-o-na stomach tablets the headache, dizzy feeling, drowsiness, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, nervousness, sleeplessness, distress after eating—all these symptoms of a weak stomach—will disappear and perfect digestion and a good skin will show that the vital machinery is once more running smoothly.

Mi-o-na is to be taken before each meal and it will stimulate the secretive and digestive juices and strengthen the whole of the digestive system so that the unpleasant full feeling will be absent and indigestion prevented.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold only in a neat metal box convenient for the vest pocket and cost 50 cents. C. A. Wright has seen so many cures made by Mi-o-na stomach tablets that he gives a guarantee with every box that the money will be refunded if the remedy fails to give satisfaction.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

CONSTIPATION.

I can tell a person who is constipated at sight. Their complexion is pasty or yellow. Their eyes are dull, and they look and feel sleepy. No wonder they do. The bowels are a sewer. They carry away the poisonous refuse. If they dont act the poisonous matter is absorbed by the body, and headaches, dullness, bad complexion and eventually serious troubles result.

SAMUEL BOOREN.

There is no better rule for good health than that the bowels should move every day at the same hour if possible. Regularity can be acquired by making a habit of this. Foolish people neglect this and when chronic constipation effects them they take pills every few days to force the bowels to perform their natural function. As years go on they require more and more pills. This should be stopped. Cooper's New Discovery will build up the stomach and cause the bowels to act naturally. While taking the medicine get the habit of regularity, then gradually stop taking the medicine.

"For sixteen years I have suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and chronic constipation. I had frequent headaches and always felt tired and worn out. I heard of Cooper's New Discovery and began its use. After I had finished one bottle I was wonderfully improved. Constipation gave way to a pleasing regularity of the bowels and I ate better, slept better and felt better than I had for months. It is the greatest medicine I have ever known." Samuel Booren, 1742 Munsey Ave., Scranton Pa.

Our customers who have used them say the Cooper medicines do the work. We sell them.

JOHN J. ORR.

When some people tell us they did their best we wonder what their worst is like.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.

Many people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know they need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for much suffering and ill health but there is no need to suffer when all diseases due to bad kidneys can be cured by using D an's Kidney Pills. Here is the statement of a Tecumseh citizen.

E. H Hyde, living on West Chicago street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I had suffered from kidney trouble for about two years. While working for the Lake Shore Ry. I was exposed to all kinds of weather and caught a cold which settled on my kidneys. The pains were severe and I could not stoop or lift anything on account of the twinges of pain in my kidneys similar to a knife thrust. I used a number of remedies which had been highly recommended but failed to receive more than temporary relief. Finally I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and received much benefit from the first box so I continued until I was cured. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to others and will continue to do so."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's,—and take no other.

The worst feature about losing one's temper is that it refuses to stay lost.

Heavy, impure blood makes a muddy pimply complexion, headaches, nausea, indigestion. Thin blood makes you weak, pale, sickly. Burdock Blood Bitters makes the blood rich, red, pure—restores perfect health.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. SOLONS NOT ELIGIBLE

Barred From Serving in Constitutional Convention

SUPREME COURT SETTLES IT.

Article 4, Section 18 of Constitution Cited as Authority—Kelly Fails to Get Mandamus to Compel Secretary of State to Call Primary Election.

Lansing, Mich., July 16.—Members of the state legislature cannot serve as members of the constitutional convention. This is the opinion of the supreme court handed down Monday afternoon shortly after the arguments made in behalf of Senator Andrew J. Fyfe of Grand Rapids, who wanted to serve as a delegate to the convention, had been concluded.

Coming as it did on the same day as the decision in the case of the lieutenant-governor on the primary election law clause, it made a remarkably successful day for the department of the attorney-general, who is thus upheld on both of his opinions rendered regarding important state questions.

In the opinion the court quotes section 18 of article 4, which says that no member of the legislature shall receive any civil appointment within this state and says that it is conceded that delegates to the constitutional convention are state officers. It is also pointed out that the court has held that the terms appointment and election are synonymous terms.

All of the justices except Justice Montgomery participated in the hearing of the matter and concurred in the opinion rendered.

The supreme court Monday denied the petition of Schuyler S. Olds for a mandamus to compel the commissioner of the state land office to accept certain land script for lands at the St. Clair Flats in which the state claims an equity. There has been controversy in the courts for several years over the same lands. Olds claimed he had a right to take up as much of the lands as his script called for. Several hundred dollars' worth of land are involved.

The supreme court has denied the petition of Lieut.-Gov. Kelley for a mandamus to compel the secretary of state to issue notices for a primary next month on question of retaining in the constitution the 40 per cent requirement for the nomination for governor and lieutenant-governor. The court holds that the lieutenant-governor had no right to vote to break the tie in the senate, and help pass the resolution for such a primary.

Dies in New York.

Detroit, Mich., July 16.—Sigmund Rothschild, millionaire tobacco merchant of Detroit, and head of the wholesale tobacco firm of Rothschild & Bro., 77-79 Jefferson avenue, died suddenly early Monday morning in the Hotel Savoy, New York, the news coming to Detroit at 7 o'clock by a long distance telephone message. Mr. Rothschild had returned Sunday from his annual trip to Europe, arriving on the steamer Amerika. He had left Detroit for his annual foreign tour on February 11, and had gone to Amsterdam, where the firm has an office, as well as to other points. His son, Harry S. Rothschild, head of the New York office, was with him at the end. Mr. Rothschild was found dead in his room. Dr. Brown, the hotel physician, announced death was due to heart failure.

Rain Checks Forest Fires.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 16.—A steadily falling rain of several hours last night deadened the forest fires of the upper peninsula and they will probably be extinguished if it continues. Trains which arrive report that the fires are extending 80 miles south and west. The huckleberry crop of northern Michigan will be saved by the rain and the benefits to the farmers will reach many thousands.

Boy Dies of Lockjaw.

Niles, Mich., July 16.—While firing a cap pistol on the Fourth of July, the eight-year-old son of Harry Beck, a prominent Buchanan merchant, slightly lacerated one of his fingers. The injury at that time was hardly given the second thought, so trivial did it seem. About the middle of last week the little fellow fell ill and lockjaw soon followed. He suffered agonies until death released him Sunday night.

Allegan, Mich., July 16.—Cornelius Ackersook of Hamilton, and Mrs. Janie Blank of Diamond Springs, this county, took out a marriage license here Monday. They are 82 and 78 years old, respectively, and this will be the third matrimonial venture for the bride-to-be.

GO EASY ON TOURISTS.

Uncle Sam Makes Changes in Customs Offices

IN INSPECTION OF BAGGAGE.

Rush and Hurry on Final Day of Landing at Home Ports Will Be Eliminated—Steamships Favor Secretary Cortelyou's New Plan.

Washington, July 16.—Secretary Cortelyou has announced that a new method of baggage examination will be in operation in time to greet the home-coming European traveler this season, and that it will be a radical change from the present system.

Soon after assuming office the secretary decided that the objectionable and embarrassing features of the examination should be done away with. Acting under his instructions, Assistant Secretary Reynolds has worked out the details of the new system, which will take effect about August 15.

There are two features in connection with the present examination of passengers' baggage that are especially the subject of complaint by the traveling public. One is the herding of all the passengers in the cabin of the steamship during the last hour of the trip in order to have declarations made out before a customs officer.

Such declarations, made in the rush and confusion that mark the end of the voyage, are unsatisfactory to the government officials and a certain source of annoyance to the passenger. The other feature is the oath that has been required when the declaration is made, which involves the proposition of compelling the passenger to make oath as to what foreign articles his baggage contains and immediately thereafter searching his baggage to see whether or not he has told the truth under oath. Secretary Cortelyou believes that these two features can be eliminated with no harm to the revenues and no danger to government interests.

No Mysteries in It.

The new system will change this. Declarations will be distributed to the passengers during the early part of the voyage to this country and made out by them at their leisure. The declaration will be simple and straightforward, containing nothing complicated or mysterious, and its instructions will tell the passenger to put down the different articles acquired by him while abroad, together with their cost or value.

Some time before the last day of the voyage these declarations will be collected by some officer of the ship, who will be held responsible both by the steamship company and the department for the work of seeing that such a written statement is received from each passenger.

When the customs officers board the ship in the harbor, a deputy collector will get from the steamship officer all of the declarations so made out and deliver them to the chief representative of the surveyor on the dock.

When the declaration is handed to the steamship officer, a coupon will be handed to the passenger which will be his receipt and which will contain the same official number as the declaration itself.

After the baggage is landed and properly placed on the dock ready for customs inspection, the passenger will present this coupon to the proper representative of the surveyor, secure the services of an inspector who will examine his baggage and verify the declaration previously made by him on ship board. No oath of any kind or character will be required.

The steamship companies, it is said, will co-operate heartily with the department in carrying out the system.

A relative of Henry Clay, Mrs. Frances Paca Peter, aged 91 years, died at her home near Lexington, Ky., Monday. She lived seven miles from town, and had not visited it more than 45 years. She became angry at some of the people in the city before the civil war, and vowed that she would never visit the place again. She was wealthy.

All the complications and litigation growing out of the railroad deal by which the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton and the Pere Marquette railroads acquired possession of the Cincinnati, Chicago & Louisville railroad at the time of the merger of the three roads was attempted, three years ago, were Monday amicably settled.

A memorable day.

One of the days we remember with pleasure as well as with profit to our health is the one on which we became acquainted with Dr. King's new life pills, the painless purifiers that cure headache, billiousness and keep the bowels right. 25c at C. A. Wright & Son's drug store.

EIGHT SEAMEN DEAD.

Charge of Gunpowder Explodes on Battleship Georgia.

SEVERAL FATALLY INJURED.

Exact Cause of Accident Unknown—Spark From Smoke Stack May Have Done It—Happens While at Practice in Cape Cod Bay—Vessel Is Unhurt.

THE DEAD:

William J. Thatcher, chief turret captain, Wilmington, Del.

Faulkner Goldwaite, midshipman, Kentucky.

W. J. Burke, ordinary seaman, South Framingham, Mass.

W. M. Thomas, ordinary seaman, Newport, R. I.

William F. Pair, of Brooklyn, N. Y., ordinary seaman.

Lieut. Casper Goodrich, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Boston, July 16.—By the explosion of a case of powder in the hands of a gunner in the after super-imposed turret of the battleship Georgia, in Massachusetts bay Monday, eight men were killed and 15 injured. Not one of the persons in the turret escaped injury.

The Injured:

Midshipman John Cruse, Nebraska; Frank Schlapp, North Adams, Mass., boatswain's mate, second class; Chas. Hassell, New York, gunner's mate, firt class; Orley Tagland, Richford, Minnesota, chief yeoman; John G. Thomas, ordinary seaman, Brooklyn, N. Y.; S. L. Rosenberger, ordinary seaman, Philadelphia; Edward J. Walsh, ordinary seaman, Lynn, Mass.; John O. Mallick, ordinary seaman, Cleveland, O.; John A. Bush, ordinary seaman, New York; L. O. Meez, ordinary seaman, Berea, O.; H. L. Gilbert, ordinary seaman, Southwick, Mass.; John A. Fone, ordinary seaman, Trenton, N. J.; Charles L. Elch, ordinary seaman, Frankfort, Ind.

The accident happened while the battleship was several miles off Provincetown and the men were engaged in target practice, together with other vessels of the battleship squadron of the Atlantic fleet. The powder had just been taken from the ammunition hoist to load an 8-inch gun. It was seen to be burning and in an instant it exploded in the very face of the loader of the gun. No damage was done to the vessel, as the powder was not confined, and early last evening, under orders from Washington, the Georgia sailed back for the target grounds of Provincetown.

How the powder became ignited is not known, but the theory held at the navy yard is that it was set off by a spark from the smokestack of the warship. Immediately after the accident, the Georgia headed for the Charlestown navy yard. There the dead and injured were taken ashore, the wounded men being conveyed to the naval hospital at Chelsea.

The Georgia is one of the battleships of the second division of the Atlantic fleet which has been at target practice off Provincetown for the last three weeks.

Washington, July 16.—The navy department received a number of messages reporting the explosion on the battleship Georgia in Massachusetts bay. Instructions were immediately telegraphed by Acting Secretary of the Navy Newberry, directing the hospital authorities to do everything possible to properly care for the victims of the disaster, and a telegram was sent to the ship's officers expressing condolence.

Aside from their deep concern over the injuries suffered by the unfortunate turret crew of the Georgia, the officials at the navy department were a good deal cast down when they learned of the accident, as it tended to shake the confidence in which they had rested for more than a year in the perfection of the regulations so carefully framed with a view to safeguarding human life in the turrets.

Ore Trimmers Strike.

Duluth, July 16.—Seven hundred and fifty ore trimmers on the Duluth, Missabex & Northern dock, struck Monday for an increase in pay. The men want $2.50 in place of $2.25, and night men want $2.75 in place of $2.50.

LABOR VERY SCARCE.

Northern Michigan Lumber Mill Is Obliged to Shut Down.

Newberry, Mich., July 16.—Because of the scarcity of labor, D. N. McLeod, lumbermen, of Rexton, Mackinac county, has been compelled to shut down his saw mill. Unless he can get more men he will be forced to suspend operations in the woods also.

At no time this season has he been able to get half the men he needs. He says that in his 25 years' experience in the lumber industry he has never known labor to be as scarce. Thirty-five dollars and $40 a month and board is being paid for help, the highest wages ever paid in upper peninsula lumbering.

Other operators are in the same fix as McLeod, all being handicapped by labor conditions. A similar state of affairs exists across the line in Canada. Operators are paying $35 a month for lumbermen in Quebec, something never before heard of in that country.

Street Car Kill Baby.

Detroit, Mich., July 16.—Dorothy Donnecker, three-year-old daughter of Mrs. Thomas Greenbrook, 74 Porter street, was killed by a Sherman car while playing near the house about 1:45 p. m. Monday. The child ran out on the tracks directly in front of the swiftly moving car and was carried half a block on the fender before the car stopped. Her skull was crushed by the blow and she was dead when picked up.

Brothers Get Fortune.

Tekonsha, Mich., July 16.—Jerome, Alonzo and Chauncey Mackey, farmers of Tekonsha township, have been informed that they are heirs to $10,000 each by the will of a bachelor brother, who died in Denver. The brother left here several years ago to make his fortune in the west and amassed about $250,000, most of which he willed to charitable institutions of Denver. His brothers never anticipated receiving anything.

Woman Held for Arson.

Midland, Mich., July 16.—Mrs. Sarah Mann of Jackson, accused of setting fire to the residence occupied by W. H. Blane in Larkins, is confined to the county jail with bail fixed at $400. She will have a hearing in Justice Snell's court July 31. Mrs. Mann's husband owned the house, which was insured. This is the third residence they have lost by fire.

Life Guards Exists no More.

Alpena, Mich., July 16.—The Union Life Guards, a fraternal insurance order which was organized here about 12 years ago and has been fairly successful, has consolidated with the Royal Americans of the Republic, that has a membership of about 40,000. The headquarters of the new organization are in Springfield, Ill.

MICHIGAN BRIEFS.

Fred Bixby, a well-known Michigan Central engineer, is dead at his home in Niles. He leaves a widow and one child.

The first raft of logs from Canada for Bay City for several years arrived there Monday. There are about 27,000 pieces in it.

Edward Markel, a farmer, Monday was given 90 days in the Detroit house of correction for wife-beating by a Port Huron judge.
